NEWSLETTER

OCTOBER 2026

EDITOR'S NOTE

Welcome to the October edition of the CLC Projects network newsletter. Today we are happy to announce three in-person events for 2027 and in just 10 days from now Lisa and I will be at Breakbulk Asia in Singapore with a booth in the media lounge in association with our sister publication Project Cargo Weekly. We are looking forward to meeting up with all the members who will attend.

What I shared last month as shipping line contacts has now been expanded to a permanent feature on the website and the mobile app (in beta). We call it Carrier Contacts. Contacts are regularly verified as still working at the shipping line, with job title and email checked, and only verified contacts are listed. Profile photos and LinkedIn links are included where available. We also indicate which carriers have been interviewed by Project Cargo Weekly, including links to the interviews. We continue to host online one-to-one meetings on Wednesdays. They are fully booked for the rest of the year so I share below the schedule for the beginning of 2027

Zenith (Tianjin) International Logistics Co., Ltd. (ZTIL) did not stay locked to one fixed routing. The customer said one thing: get this HVAC equipment out fast. ZTIL searched three ports and three routes in parallel, purely to move the customer's cargo as quickly as possible, and locked all three in the same round, delivered in one answer:

Tianjin to Chennai + Vizag: 8 units / 717 CBM
Tianjin to Mumbai: 4 units / 70 MT / 298 CBM
Shanghai to Lázaro Cárdenas: 6 units / 68 MT / 513 CBM

Hacklin Logistics moved long and wide cargo from China to the Port of Rotterdam as breakbulk aboard a container vessel. The cargo continued by barge towards Belgium and then by truck to site. Changes to the ocean vessel schedule required close coordination of the barge, terminal and a fixed loading slot, handled jointly by the Hacklin teams in China and Finland.

Oudkerk Supports Loading of Offshore Wind Jacket and Transformer Platform from Rotterdam and Vlissingen

Oudkerk helped ensure Ranbarge 1 of Rán Offshore AS was ready on time in Rotterdam to load a jacket for the Gennaker Offshore Wind Farm in the German Baltic Sea. The jacket was loaded at Smulders HSM Offshore Energy BV with SPMTs from Mammoet, and Muller Dordrecht towed the barge to its destination. A transformer platform was also loaded at Smulders HSM in Vlissingen onto Boa Offshore's Boabarge 29 using Sarens SPMTs, with the ocean-going tug Eraclea leading and two Boluda Towage tugs assisting the first part of the journey north.

Moving together, working together. At RSC, every successful operation is built on coordination, trust and strong partnerships on the ground. This operation in Haiti is a great example of that. Working closely with RVAM HAITI S.A. Haiti, RoRo Shipping's teams coordinated the handling and discharge of a wide range of vehicles, ensuring a smooth and efficient operation from vessel to port. Because in RoRo shipping, connecting destinations is only part of the job.
