hospitality+residential

Based in the Piedmont region of North Carolina since 2001, Skram is a maker of sustainable heirloom furnishings at-scale for design-driven residential, commercial, and hospitality spaces. The company has earned an international following for an approach that emphasizes innovative design, natural materials, and extraordinary workmanship. Creative direction is by Skram founder and lead designer A. Jacob Marks.

Distinguished for their refined, innovative seating, casegoods, and tables – unique in their negotiation of proportion, line and visual weight – the Company's products have been featured in a range of residential and commercial spaces throughout the world. All Skram products are made in their entirety in the Company's solar-powered facility.

The following pages share an assortment of Skram products that demonstrate the brand's singular aesthetic. Additional products and resources are available via skramfurniture.com
