A PLACE THAT FEELS LIKE YOU

Somewhere you belong.

The right match begins with a feeling. A morning on the patio. A game that turns into a conversation. A place you look forward to coming home to.

Hidden Palms brings lakes, green paths and courtyard living together behind the gates in central Palm Desert.

This is your invitation to discover the pace, the places and the everyday pleasures of Hidden Palms. Imagine your own desert routine, then come experience it with me.

FROM DATE FARM TO DESERT RETREAT

Rooted in the desert. Made for living.

PALMS, PATIOS & A SENSE OF PLACE

Before the homes, there was a date farm. Some of its original palms remain within Hidden Palms, according to the community profile published by CAI-CV in 2021.

Completed in 1980, the 211-home community was developed by Interstate Properties, Inc. Its bungalow-style residences gather in small circular clusters, connected by green spaces and meandering paths.

Attached and detached homes, garages and generous patios give the neighborhood its distinctive rhythm. The association has also described its ongoing shift toward water-conscious desert landscaping.

FUN FACT

A little Hollywood history.

The 2021 CAI-CV profile names actors Telly Savalas and Christopher Plummer among Hidden Palms' former residents.

POOL & SPA AREAS

A little movement. A little leisure.

The community's lakeside courts bring tennis and pickleball into the everyday. Current community guides list three tennis courts and eight pickleball courts.

Four pool and spa areas offer another way to spend an afternoon. Make time for a swim, a walk through the grounds, or a pause beside the water.

Ask RJ about current court access, pool hours and community rules.

Room for both.

BEYOND THE GATES

El Paseo. Encore. Repeat.

Shop. Dine. Discover.

El Paseo brings boutiques, galleries, public art and dining into one Palm Desert outing. Leave a little time to browse before you settle in for dinner.

Make a night of it.

The McCallum Theatre adds live performance to your desert calendar. Pair a show with dinner and let the evening be the plan.

See the desert differently.

At The Living Desert Zoo and Gardens, explore animals, desert gardens and nature trails. A change of scenery is part of the appeal of being here.
