KATHY KORDALIS
is a Leiths-trained chef, food stylist, recipe writer, recipe tester, and cookbook author with extensive experience in the food industry. Born into a Greek family in Sydney, Australia, she comes from a family involved in olive oil production and grew up around Mediterranean food culture. She now lives in London with her English husband and draws on Australian, Greek, and Mediterranean influences in her work with a light and accessible approach.

Over 75 evocatively beautiful recipes that reflect the rhythms of Greek cooking. Greek food is simple, honest, and made to be shared, shaped by the rhythm of daily life and built on everyday ingredients like olive oil, vegetables, bread, and cheese. It's a way of cooking that values ease over effort and flavor over complexity. This book brings together recipes inspired by tradition, gently adapted for the way we cook and eat today—shorter cooking times, flexible ingredients, and methods that fit into modern kitchens, while still holding on to the flavors and spirit of the originals. From the Everyday, which focuses on simple, nourishing meals you can cook any day, to Mezze, built around small dishes meant for sharing, each chapter captures a different rhythm of Greek cooking. Homeland brings in hearty, rustic food rooted in tradition, while the Garden highlights seasonal produce at its freshest. The Coast chapter leans into lighter, coastal flavors and Sunday slows things down with comforting family meals made for gathering. Sweet Things rounds things off with desserts that feel homey and generous and the Coffee House chapter adds coffee, drinks, and small bites that fit into everyday life.

- In addition to the thousands of independent outlets and street vendors serving gyros and Greek-style kebabs, Greek cuisine's soaring popularity has seen a swathe of US restaurants opening up.
- The popular Taste of Greektown festival is held in Chicago in August and is generally considered to be the biggest celebration of Greek food in the Midwest.

URSULA FERRIGNO
is an acclaimed food writer and chef. She trained at the Auguste Escoffier School of the Culinary Arts and has taught at leading cookery schools in both the UK and Italy, including the celebrated Leith's School of Food and Wine. She has toured the US, running classes in all Sur la Table stores, is consultant chef to Caffè Nero, and has made many appearances on BBC TV. The author of more than 25 cookery books, Ursula has also written for Olive, BBC Good Food, The Observer, and Taste Italia.

Bring the sunshine flavors of this popular Mediterranean island into your own kitchen with this delicious collection of recipes. Discover the unique fusion of flavors that Sicilian food has to offer and add a touch of Italian flair to your cooking. Sicily is a beguiling place and its prominent position has led to repeated conquests over the centuries, which has left an extraordinary cultural legacy and a reputation as the melting pot of the Mediterranean. The island's unique food is bright, earthy, and suffused with the intensity of the Sicilian sun. Here you'll discover authentic recipes for the best food Sicily has to offer, including antipasti, vibrant salads, light soups, and pasta dishes. Delicious meat and fish recipes include Sarde a Beccafico (stuffed sardines) and Abbacchio alla Cacciatovia (pan-fried spring lamb with herb and anchovy sauce). Sicilians notoriously have a sweet tooth and are among the best dessert-makers in Italy. Indulge in Pistachio Gelato, Cannoli (pastry tubes filled with sweetened ricotta), and possibly Sicily's most famous export, Cassata.

• Independence, Louisiana (known locally as "Little Sicily" due to the heavy Sicilian immigration in the late 19th and 20th centuries) hosts the Independence Sicilian Heritage Festival in March each year.

• Italy has topped the polls as Europe's most popular tourist destination for 2026, standing at 51.2%, ahead of Spain at 42.8% and France at 32.9%, according to the Ministry of Tourism for Italy.

• Sicily is renowned for its street food scene, with popular dishes being arancini, panelle (chickpea fritters), and Sicilian pizza.

• Ursula has an impressive 11K following on Instagram (@ursulaferrigno).

Stylish, picture-perfect, and delicious, macarons are the ultimate chic sweet treats. Adaptable to any color scheme or flavoring, these delicate little fancies make the perfect gift or centerpiece for a smart afternoon tea. This gorgeous book gives you step-by-step instructions on how to master the basic macaron recipe so that you always get a crisp exterior, chewy cookie, and delicious filling. Flavors to enjoy include salted caramel, pistachio, lemon, cappuccino, cherry and chocolate, malted milk chocolate, and raspberry and passion fruit. Once mastered, you can try your hand at the beautiful decorated macarons, from pandas to flowers and Chinese lanterns. These stunning and playful designs will delight and thrill at any occasion.

- These chic treats are positioned perfectly for the trend towards bite-sized but indulgent desserts.
- Consumers are gravitating towards crunch and creamy fillings, and macarons fit the bill perfectly. "What truly makes a treat indulgent for today's consumers is a combination of contrasting textures. A mix of soft, chewy, crunchy, and crispy textures offers a satisfying and adventurous experience." Puratos.
- Macarons have enduring, trend-proof appeal: the term "macarons" has a monthly search volume of 165k in the US.

Enjoy creative recipes that go far beyond maple syrup and whipped cream. Instead, you'll discover an exciting mix of sweet and savory delights designed for brunches, lunches, dinners, snacks, and indulgent desserts. For gym buffs, there are protein-rich pancakes to fuel a workout, or a rainbow-spectrum of super-food-stuffed pancakes into which you can whisk your five-a-day. Filling yet healthy oats, buckwheat, or chia seeds are ideal for starting your day in a more nutritious way, and foodies can indulge in the latest food trends in pancake or waffle form. There are also plenty of savory twists—try carrot, chickpea, and turmeric pancakes with a lemon spiked dressing, creamy mushroom-filled socca-pancakes, or huevos rancheros waffles; the perfect light meal for one or two. Drizzled with sauces, stuffed with fillings, or made with fruit or vegetable bases, these modern pancakes and waffles are flipping fantastic.

• Breakfast foods are lauded as a growing trend in 2026: "What is often billed as a rushed bowl of cereal is actually one of the fastest-growing areas for restaurants to tap into." [Great British Chef, Jan 2026]

• The savory recipes also tap into the trend for maximizing protein and nutrients in every meal. Supermarket chain Trader Joe's "Protein Pancakes" won a 2026 customer choice award for best new product.

Enjoy freshly cooked falafel at home in this collection of more than 65 recipes for falafels, plus sauces, pickles, salads and easy flatbreads to complete any meal. Falafel are now a household staple, and have swiftly become one of the most popular fast foods. It's not hard to see why: they also fall into that wondrous overlapping category of being crave-worthy and satisfying, as well as nutritious and fairly low in fat. What's more, they are a brilliant source of protein, are rich in fiber, and are often made with added vegetables, nuts and seeds, lentils, or grains. Try the Fennel & Lemon Scented Falafel or Juicy Brown Rice Faux-lafel. Find Crunchy Sesame Falafel or Falafel Croquettes or enjoy snacks such as tasty Mediterranean Seed Falafel. Whip up a drizzle such as Home-made Tahini Sauce, as the perfect complement to your hot, freshly cooked patties. Finally, make tangy quick pickles, crisp herby salads, and easy flatbreads so you can serve your freshly cooked falafel with all the trimmings and enjoy it at its best.

- Falafels are endlessly versatile—the perfect portable snack, delicious in a wrap or salad, or served as part of a mezze meal or sharing platter.
- Full of fiber, protein, and vitamins, a falafel wrap filled with plenty of salad is a better choice nutritionally compared to many other fast food options.
- Falafels are now so popular that McDonald's in Egypt has a falafel sandwich, called the "McFalafel," on their breakfast menu!

An eloquent and gorgeously illustrated guide to the foundational elements of interior design, and how they can be put together to make a beautiful home, featuring photography from the tastemakers of British design. The Language of Home explores the idea that a finely-tuned symphony of form and function opens up a true dialog with our home, allowing us to fully connect with the spaces we inhabit. Whether old or new, historical or contemporary, period or post-war, large or compact, every home operates to its best potential once the often-overlooked basics—from focal points to furniture arrangements—are given due consideration. Every chapter throws the spotlight on a different element, from exploring the importance of light, to introducing color and how to elevate a home's unique features. This book unites inspiring photography provided by some of Britain's leading designers and photographers with incisive writing that breaks down the key tenets behind homes that are both beautiful and practical.

• An incisively written guide that is accessible for anyone interested in designing a beautiful home, while offering seasoned decorators a fresh perspective.

• An established interiors journalist, Emma J. Page has written for some of the most important titles in interiors, including Homes & Gardens, The World of Interiors, Architectural Digest, and The English Home.

• Emma is the author of London Interiors (Lannoo Publishers, ISBN 9789401485258) and London Shopfronts (Hoxton Mini Press, ISBN 9781914314025).

In this follow-up to The Sensory Home, award-winning stylist and author Pippa Jameson explores how to bring sensory design and styling outside for relaxed, wellness-focused outdoor spaces that feel as good as they look. The Sensory Outdoors is a design book for anyone who wants their garden or outside space to feel as comfortable, calming, and emotionally supportive as the inside of their home. Whether you have a city balcony, a compact terrace, or a generously proportioned garden, this book helps you style your outside like an interior: layering furniture, textures, color, light, and flow to create restorative spaces focused on wellbeing. Rooted in sensory design, this concept focuses on understanding a space's emotional atmosphere. Just as The Sensory Home redefined how we feel indoors, this book brings the same care and attention to outdoor spaces, treating them as sensory environments where we can rest, reflect, and socialize.

- The Sensory Outdoors is not a gardening book, but rather a guide to styling outdoor spaces with the senses in mind.

- Pippa Jameson was awarded a Silver Medal at the RHS Chelsea Flower Show for her immersive houseplant studio.

- Sensory design is an enduring and growing trend within interiors. "Increasingly, home design is going beyond aesthetics toward spaces that actively engage the senses—creating environments that feel as good as, or better than, they look. This concept is called sensory design," Better Homes and Gardens.

HILARY ROBERTSON
is a well-known interiors stylist and journalist with an illustrious client list that includes Sunbrella, Canvas, Ochre, Crate & Barrel, West Elm, Elle Decoration, Vogue Living, and the Telegraph Magazine. Hilary is the author of Monochrome Home, Nomad at Home, and Inside Stories, all published by Ryland Peters & Small. She lives in Brooklyn and Hudson, New York with her husband and son.

Materials are the foundation of every great interiors scheme, and each brings its own unique qualities. However, with so many to choose from, finding the right materials for your home can be overwhelming. In Materialist, renowned stylist Hilary Robertson first considers the beauty of Stone, Wood, Concrete, Plaster, Ceramic, Fabric, and Tile—their distinctive traits, the variety of finishes available, and how they can transform your home. Hilary then steps inside 15 remarkable interiors, all defined by the creative and expressive use of materials. Emerald-green zellige tiles add bohemian flair to a Moroccan riad. In London, an interior designer has blended the original architecture of her Victorian villa with Brutalist raw oak and concrete surfaces. And a writer's eco-friendly retreat in New York's Hudson Valley uses plywood, cork, corrugated metal, and even straw in its innovative construction. Filled with amazing photography, Materialist is an inspiring guide to the building blocks of home.

• Vogue lists burl wood furniture (Google searches have increased 5,000% in a month), textile wall hangings, and tactile metalwork as key interiors trends for 2026.

• Good Housekeeping heralds the end of stark, impersonal interiors in 2026. "Expect to see richer, more tactile finishes, patterns, and layering: beautifully stained woods, hand-crafted tiles, rich fabrics, and patinated hardware that bring soul to a space."

• Monochrome Home (ISBN 9781849756136), Nomad at Home (ISBN 9781788792455), and Inside Stories (ISBN 9781788797009) have combined sales of over 80,000 copies.

A-list interior designer Kathryn M. Ireland opens the door to her inviting home in California and reveals the insider secrets of her creative process. Built for a silent-film star in the 1920s, the Spanish Revival house in Santa Monica holds many stories. Kathryn sought to preserve the building's architecture and honor its remarkable history as a gathering place for writers, musicians, and creatives. She began by salvaging many of its original features, then created her signature layered look with fabrics alongside art and furniture from her former homes—a hand-painted bed from India, an Arts and Crafts desk from London, a Suzani wall hanging. Throughout the book, Kathryn explains her approach to decorating via moodboards, sketches, floorplans, and photographs, and shares expert advice on subjects such as buying antiques and hanging art. Tricks of the Trade is a reflection of everything Kathryn has learned over more than 30 years, born from a lifelong love affair with textiles, color, and the way fabrics bring rooms to life.

- Kathryn M. Ireland is consistently named one of Elle Decor's A-List designers and has been included on AD's list of the 20 Most Famous Interior Designers Working Today.
- Kathryn is also an experienced teacher who shares her interiors insights at design retreats and bootcamps in Los Angeles and France. This book makes her creative process accessible to all.
- Layering fabrics, art, and antiques is Kathryn's signature style, and Good Housekeeping highlights "refined layering"—"creating your own original look through careful curation of decorations, materials, and colors you love over time"—as a major trend for 2026.

The homes Ros Byam Shaw tours in Perfect French Country are, in the words of their owners, nothing short of "paradise." Get inspired by these dreamy houses that combine traditional rustic elegance with modern comfort and a big dose of French chic. In Perfect French Country, Ros celebrates the rustic, relaxed lifestyle of rural France at its finest, with house tours of a dozen idyllic properties, from a Normandy chateau to a farmhouse in Provence. Here is the legendary French sense of style in its home environment: kitchens paved in worn terracotta, living rooms where elegant sofas are upholstered in soft linen, patios furnished with curly metal chairs. Here are ancient beams and stone fireplaces, paneling, and shuttered windows—and a way of life reflected in the comfort and patina of rooms that are pretty, practical, and effortlessly chic. Let Perfect French Country inspire you to create your own slice of French paradise whether your home is in Cannes or Connecticut.

- This book is part of the "Perfect" series, all by Ros Byam Shaw, which have combined sales of over 21,000 copies.

is a former editor of ELLE Decoration with many years' experience in interiors. Currently, she is lifestyle editor of Grazia magazine and homes and interiors writer for Good Housekeeping. She also writes for a number of contract magazines. Rachel lived in France for 10 years, where she renovated an Art Deco manor house. She now lives in Dorset, UK.

In this beautifully illustrated guide, Rachel Loos provides accessible advice for incorporating art into every part of your home. There is a perception that art needs to be expensive, selected with objectively impeccable taste, and "correctly" displayed—this expert guide dispels those myths. In the first chapter, Rachel asks: What Is Art? She explains the difference between prints, limited-edition prints, and original works, which include vintage paintings and fine-art photographs. Rachel then explores How to Start a Collection, including tips on matching art to the mood of a room and buying on a budget. How to Frame Your Art and How to Hang Your Art cover everything you need to know about putting art on your walls, even in unlikely spaces. Finally, in Art Is Not Just Paintings, Rachel considers how to display objects that you may not think of as art, such as decorative plates, hats, or finds from nature. In each chapter, experts and art lovers open the doors to their own homes and offer insights gleaned from years of collecting, combining, and curating works of art.

• "The idea that original art is out of reach for most people is losing ground—fast. Across the contemporary art world, a significant shift is underway … It is one of the defining trends of 2026—and it is reshaping how galleries, fairs, and collectors think about the value of art." Agora Gallery, New York.

• The current backlash to AI-generated art and content is leading homeowners to prefer more tailored, tactile, and personal interiors.

• Trends toward maximalism and layered color and pattern, as well as a preference for nostalgic forms and colors, make artwork particularly relevant in decor at this moment.

passion for interiors, antiques, and vintage was sparked in early childhood, when she traveled to antiques fairs and house clearances with her father to hunt for hidden treasure. For twenty years now, Lucy has been running The Country Brocante, which hosts yearly vintage and antiques fairs set to the backdrop of some of England's most idyllic countryside scenery. Now drawing more than twenty thousand visitors every year, the fairs are a staple of the UK vintage and antiques circuit. Lucy lives in West Sussex, UK in an old cottage with her two children.

English country meets French vintage in Lucy Haywood's pretty take on cottagecore style. Learn how to select colors, decor, and furniture to bring this rustic, shabby chic feel into your own home, and get inspired by stunning Country Brocante interiors. Lucy Haywood is the creator of The Country Brocante, which holds home and lifestyle fairs in idyllic rural surroundings. In Vintage Country Style, she introduces her pretty and accessible signature look into the home, fusing two classic and enduring decorating traditions: English country style and French-inspired vintage decor. There's plenty of classic French brocanterie—old textiles, vintage furniture, and decorative pieces—alongside lifestyle brands, gardenalia, handmade textiles, cottage-garden flowers, and pretty homewares. Combining a how-to guide to putting together a Country Brocante home with tours of inspiring interiors beautifully decorated in vintage country style, this book is perfect for anyone wanting to bring cottage chic into their home.

JOANNA THORNHILL
(joannathornhill.co.uk) is an interiors shoot stylist, writer, trend forecaster, tutor, and design consultant, who has worked for numerous magazines, publishers, brands, and private clients. She lives in Walthamstow, London.

Inject some style into your living space without breaking the bank. This handy guide presents clever decor hacks that will let you turn your space—whether a rented apartment, your first step on the property ladder, or your dream house—into a cozy and chic home. Whatever their size, the homes featured here reveal the stunning effects of using space creatively and include clever storage solutions that can double up as unique displays. Plus, learn how simple upcycling offers affordable furnishing options while avoiding unnecessary waste, making your interiors eco-friendly, too. Whatever your living situation—renting with little freedom to decorate or make alterations, house sharing with only a small space to call your own, a first-time buyer with limited funds for renovation, or even simply time-poor and looking for quick fixes—Home for Today offers both inspiration and practical advice, and shows how a home that looks good and shows off your personal style is within your reach.

• More people are renting and staying in rented homes for longer, and therefore likely to be looking for easy, low-cost decor solutions: "Renters accounted for nearly 80% of total household growth in 2025, supported by active new development pipelines and continued constraints in the homebuying market," Arbor Realty Trust.

• Upcycling is a hot trend at the moment, both as a budget-friendly decorating trick in a difficult economy, and as a means to creating more personalized interiors. "Upcycling items like old trading cards into décor makes collections feel more creative and personal," according to a trend report from Pinterest.

Learn how to select, care for, and beautifully style indoor plants, and get inspired by tours and stunning photography of Hilton Carter's own Jungle by the Falls, alongside other lush planty interiors. As the owner of over 300 plants, Hilton feels strongly about the role of plants in one's home—not just for the beauty they add, but also for health benefits: "Having plants in your home not only adds life, but changes the airflow throughout. It's also a key design element when styling your place. For me, it wasn't about just having greenery, but having the right variety of greenery. I like to see the different textures of foliage all grouped together. You take a fiddle leaf fig and sandwich it between a birds of paradise and a monstera and... yes!" You will be armed with the know-how you need to care for your plants, decide where to place them, propagate, find the right pot, and most importantly, arrange them so that they look their best. Combine sizes and leaf shapes to stunning effect, grow your own succulents from leaf cuttings, create your own air plant display, and more.

EMMA HARDY
is a keen gardener and an equally keen crafter. Emma's books for CICO include Easy Sewing for Kids, Quick & Easy Sewing, Small Summer Gardens, and Learn to Sew and Embroider. Married with two daughters, Emma lives in south London, UK.

Whether you have a sprawling garden, a small backyard or a modest balcony, Urban Wildlife Gardening shows how simple changes can create a vibrant habitat. Filled with expert advice, planting inspiration, and easy-to-follow projects, the book explores how to attract pollinators and helpful garden visitors through thoughtful planting and sustainable gardening practices. Discover when to prune shrubs or mow the grass and when to leave well alone, how to deal with weeds, how to create a pond for tadpoles and frogs, and how to deter unwanted visitors such as slugs. The choice of plants is also important—enjoy expert advice on shrubs that provide berries as food for birds, tall plants that attract bees and dragonflies, trees with nesting areas for birds, flowers that provide pollen for bees, and night-scented plants that attract moths and bats. Encouraging, accessible, and packed with practical ideas, this is more than a gardening book—it's a guide to creating a space where nature can thrive.

• Garden Design highlighted native plants as one of the fastest-growing gardening trends, with experts reporting "skyrocketing" demand as gardeners look for eco-friendly ways to support local ecosystems and pollinators.

• Gardening is closely linked to wellbeing trends. "While people are still short of time, there is a definite rise in the number of people who are using gardening as a way to relax and unwind," Homebuilding & Renovating.

ALICE PECK
is a writer and editor living in Brooklyn, New York. Drawn to finding the sacred in everyday things and especially nature, she is the author of Mindful Travel, Walking with the Seasons, and Tree Wisdom, all published by CICO Books. She is also the editor of many books about mind and spirit, psychology, consciousness, and meditation. Follow her on Instagram @BeMoreTree.

Take a healing journey through the sky—from the clouds to the stars—to help shift perspective and rediscover spiritual and emotional balance. This is not a book about astronomy (although there are stars), or spirituality (although there is awe), or self-help (although you may feel changed). It is to remind us to look up to regain perspective and rebalance the mind and body. Each chapter explores a passage through the sky, beginning with what is nearest and perceptible (the clouds) and opening into the vast and seemingly beyond reach (the Sun, Moon, and stars). Short Sky Practices—like The Yoga of Moongazing—follow the chapters, promoting further reflection. The sky is something shared by everyone, and all human life is shaped by celestial cycles. Taking time to connect with the sky through observation provides a source of calm and shows that to look up is not only to see, but to go deeper into being.

- The book ties in with the digital detoxing trend, which promotes taking time away from screens and devices to combat overstimulation and anxiety.
- Time spent outdoors has been scientifically proven to reduce stress, help regulate mood and energy levels, and even increase longevity.
- NASA's Artemis mission has sparked social media interest in astronomy and the moon, specifically the "moon trend" on TikTok.
- The author is based in Brooklyn, New York.

In today's fast-paced, always-on world, more people than ever are struggling with brain fog—that frustrating feeling of mental fatigue, poor concentration, forgetfulness, and lack of motivation. This empowering wellness guide offers a practical and achievable roadmap to restoring mental clarity, improving focus, and feeling energized again from the inside out. Combining wellness strategies with easy-to-follow lifestyle advice, Reset explores the key pillars of cognitive wellbeing: nutrition, sleep, movement, and mindset. Discover how the foods you eat can either fuel or drain the brain, how restorative sleep supports memory and emotional balance, and how exercise can improve mental sharpness, energy, and resilience. Alongside these physical foundations, the book will also help you develop a healthier mental outlook, reduce stress, and build habits that support long-term wellbeing. Packed with actionable tips, simple routines, and realistic guidance, this is not about perfection or quick fixes—it's about creating sustainable daily changes that lead to lasting improvements. Whether you're feeling overwhelmed, exhausted, distracted, or simply not like yourself, this guide is sure to help you take meaningful steps toward renewed wellbeing.

• Research in the US found that brain fog is increasingly affecting people under 40, with the number of affected individuals aged 18–39 doubling over the past decade. [Neurology, 2023]

• Taps into the current interest in self-care. 32% of US adults engage in daily self-care activities, while 43% practice self-care at least once a week [YouGov, July 2024], and there are 16.5 million posts with #selfcare on TikTok.

• Rest has become a priority: "sleepmaxxing" and "therapeutic laziness" are among TikTok trends on the subject.

LOIS BLYTH
was a writer of self-help and lifestyle books, including Thank You: A Little Book of Gratitude, published by CICO Books.

Learn the art of contentment, improve mental wellbeing, and help banish anxiety with this essential guidebook of weekly activities and reflections. Lois Blyth helps you to unlock the secrets of developing a happy brain through self-reflection and giving back to the world. Lois details the science of happiness and how positive thinking can heal and even extend life. Simple activities, one for each week of the year, aid retraining your neural pathways to alleviate worry and anxiety, and amplify joy. Taking on just one activity a week feels achievable and, once you've spent seven days thinking in a different way or doing something new, you'll find that it soon becomes a habit. Beautiful journal pages follow each activity, allowing space to reflect on your experiences.

• The 2026 World Happiness Report revealed a global digital-wellbeing crisis, emphasizing the need for more social interactions and time away from screens.

• Longevity is a huge trend. According to a 2019 study, positive people have an 11–15% longer lifespan, and are more likely to live to 85, compared to those with a negative outlook.

• With global unrest dominating the news, there has never been a better time to counteract negativity through self-reflection and developing greater empathy toward others.

• A 2014 study showed that journaling as a mindfulness practice reduced stress by an average of 70%, in addition to enhancing emotional regulation and self-awareness.

is the author of several books, has been involved in healing for more than 30 years, and works as a couples therapist. Cassandra has spent many years practicing meditation, including time in Cairo, Egypt, with a Sufi meditation group. She lives in London, UK, with her family.

Begin the path to finding your inner peace and spiritual empowerment with 52 beautiful and inspiring mandalas—one for every day of the week—plus daily meditations. Mandalas are symbolic maps of the cosmos and the inner self. The circle represents the universe, while the center is the focus of personal development, healing, and growth. In Mindful Meditations & Mandalas, expert Cassandra Lorius explores their origins and meanings, helping you to choose a mandala that reflects your mood, intention, or spiritual focus. Through meditation on each mandala's central theme, she offers practical techniques for achieving greater calm, clarity, and inner strength. Beginning with an introduction to the history and symbolism of mandalas, the book explains how to meditate with them, use them for contemplation, and create your own personalized mandala. It also features 52 beautifully illustrated mandalas, each designed to inspire reflection on a different thought, emotion, or aspiration.

- An accessible introduction to two popular themes on social media: #mandala has 16.7 million tags on Instagram and #meditation has 65 million tags.
- Meditation has become a mainstream hobby, tying in with the current trends for nervous system regulation, longevity, and digital detoxing.
- According to a 2025 study by Mindfulness Box, approximately 275 million people meditate around the world.

MARY LAMBERT
is a bestselling author of 10 books, including Clearing the Clutter, which sold over 220,000 copies worldwide. She is a well-known Feng Shui and decluttering consultant, and runs numerous workshops, both in the UK and internationally. Mary has appeared on local radio and in Spirit & Destiny, Woman & Home, The Guardian, Sunday Express, Evening Standard, and The Mail. She lives in Shoreham-by-Sea, West Sussex, UK.

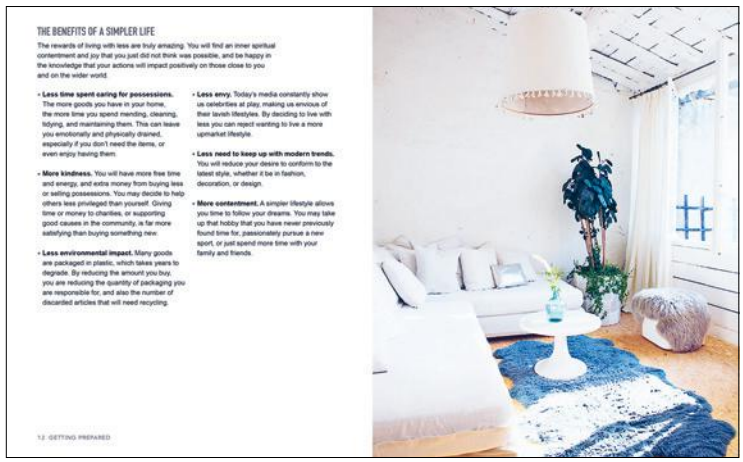
An easy guide to banishing clutter in your home to find contentment. Many people believe that the more they own, the happier they will be. However, the opposite is often true, and people become weighed down by their possessions. Decluttering expert Mary Lambert explains how being surrounded by fewer items and having a more ordered living space can liberate the mind, body, and spirit. The challenge starts with an inventory of your personal possessions before setting goals to let go of items one category at a time, from clothes and shoes to electricals and hobby materials. Mary then moves on to household clutter, emphasizing the benefits of buying fewer things and choosing quality over accumulating throwaway items. By the end of the process, you'll feel lighter, freer, and less burdened by possessions.

• Decluttering has seen a surge in popularity following the success of Marie Kondo's Netflix series "Tidying Up with Marie Kondo."

• Scientific research has revealed that reducing clutter considerably lowers stress and anxiety levels.

• Sleepmaxxing is a growing trend, and in a 2025 study, 67% of participants reported getting better sleep when their bedrooms were tidy and 27% said it helped them to feel more relaxed.

• Overconsumption is a hot discussion topic, and this book promotes a more environmentally sustainable life and supports people's overall desire to simplify and streamline.



THE BENEFITS OF A SIMPLER LIFE

The rewards of living with less are truly amazing. You will find an inner spiritual contentment and joy that you just did not think was possible, and be happy in the knowledge that your actions will impact positively on those close to you and on the wider world.

- Less time spent caring for possessions. The more goods you have in your home, the more time you spend mending, cleaning, tidying, and maintaining them. This can leave you emotionally and physically drained, especially if you don't need the items, or even enjoy having them.
- More kindness. You will have more free time and energy, and extra money from buying less or selling possessions. You may decide to help others less privileged than yourself. Giving time or money to charities, or supporting good causes in the community, is far more satisfying than buying something new.
- Less environmental impact. Many goods are packaged in plastic, which takes years to degrade. By reducing the amount you buy, you are reducing the quantity of packaging you are responsible for, and also the number of discarded articles that will need recycling.
- Less envy. Today's media constantly show us celebrities at play, making us envious of their lavish lifestyles. By deciding to live with less you can reject wanting to live a more upmarket lifestyle.
- Less need to keep up with modern trends. You will reduce your desire to conform to the latest style, whether it be in fashion, decoration, or design.
- More contentment. A simpler lifestyle allows you time to follow your dreams. You may take up that hobby that you have never previously found time for, passionately pursue a new sport, or just spend more time with your family and friends.

12 GETTING PREPARED

goal 3: jewelry, cosmetics, and miscellaneous items

TIME TO COMPLETE: 1½ MONTHS

Your third goal is sorting out jewelry, cosmetics, and other miscellaneous bits and pieces. I love my jewelry so have made it my indulgence, but I am still going to sort through every piece and make sure I still love and wear it, or I will pass it on. Again, this goal has a shorter completion time because there are fewer items you need to go through.

A stunning necklace, bracelet, or ring makes you feel special, but today it is all too easy to buy cheap costume jewelry on a whim, and then rarely wear it. So if your jewelry box and hanging trees are overflowing, you may need some time to look through everything and decide what to keep. If you have some gold pieces that you never wear, selling them can be a good option (see page 68) since gold usually fetches a high price. You may come across items you have been given as presents that stimulate happy memories, or make you feel emotional, but hard as it is, try to put emotion aside. As with everything else, focus on what you love wearing, and which pieces make you feel good. Don't forget to include all your watches.

With cosmetics, the aim is to end up with just one makeup bag for all the eye shadows, eye pencils, liquid liners, blushers, brushes, mascaras, nail varnishes, creams, and lotions that you use regularly. Get rid of all those clogged-up old cosmetics, as well as any that are stored elsewhere. Don't forget to sort through your moisturizers and perfumes or aftershaves.

Keep focused by working through your jewelry and cosmetics in this order.

Jewelry

1 Necklaces/pendants
2 Bracelets/anklets
3 Earrings
4 Watches
5 Miscellaneous jewelry

Cosmetics

6 Eye shadows/creams
7 Blushers and brushes
8 Touch-up creams/foundations/powders
9 Mascaras
10 Eye pencils/liners
11 Lipsticks/glosses
12 Moisturizers/serums
13 Nail varnishes
14 Miscellaneous items plus nail scissors, tweezers, and eyelash curlers
15 Fragrances

REFINING YOUR COLLECTION

With this goal I suggest using a couple of small boxes (something like a shoe box) for your jewelry. Label one "Thrift (charity) store and friends" and label the other "Jewelry to sell." Have a junk bag labeled "Cosmetics, lotions, and fragrances to throw out."

Work through your inventory (see pages 40–43), going through your "can go" list, "don't knows," and your "must have" items, although in this section you may have left it until now to make final choices.

Once you have reduced your jewelry collection down to the few items you truly love and treasure, consider having them cleaned or cleaning them yourself to bring some true sparkle and joy into your life.

Learn the art of metal embossing with expert designer, artist, and crafter Clare Youngs. Metal embossing—also known as repoussé—is the decorative technique of creating raised or recessed 3D designs on thin metal sheets. Perfect for beginners and more experienced makers alike, there are 35 projects for every occasion, from ornate holiday decorations and tree toppers to a fall-inspired leaf garland and Valentine's Day tokens. There are makes for the home, too—think striking mobiles and lanterns—as well as wearable treasures such as brooches. A budget-friendly craft, metal embossing requires few specialist tools and can be done using upcycled materials, such as foil trays. As well as a guide to the basic techniques, you'll find easy-to-use templates that make each project accessible. With just a few basic tools, you can get lost in creating unique, detailed ornaments.

- Clare Youngs has 255,000 followers on her Instagram @clareyoungs.
- Cost of living friendly, metal embossing doesn't require expensive tools or materials. Beginners can use ballpoint pens and upcycle old aluminum containers.
- Metal embossing is a growing craft trend. On Instagram, #metalembossing already has more than 18,000 posts, and #repoussé has 11,500 posts.

HANNAH STURROCK'S love of cross stitch began in childhood—snuggled up on a sofa with her mother and grandmothers, she learned how to stitch and found joy in craft. She rediscovered that joy decades later, after the arrival of her two children. Seeking that same sense of peace, creativity, and mindful focus that cross stitch had given her as a child, she started designing her own contemporary patterns. In 2013, she founded the company Bobo Stitch, becoming a proud purveyor of cross stitch kits. Hannah lives in Surrey, UK with her family.

Set screens aside and discover the simple joy of cross stitch, perfect for beginner crafters. Hannah Sturrock's 30 designs offer a modern take on this traditional craft, with striking patterns, vibrant colors, and innovative materials, including soluble canvas and glow-in-the-dark embroidery floss. Discover five chapters of fabulous ideas. For a Beautiful Baby includes an adorable barnyard scene picture, while For Big Kids features a fantastic comic-book style cross-stitched cell phone case. In For a Special Occasion, add an extra handmade touch to presents with stitched gift tags, and create a Christmas toy sack that will be treasured throughout the years. A flower hessian tote and a stunning floral finch pillow appear in For a Nature Lover. Finally, For the Home takes cross stitch to a new level, decorating walls with washi tape birds and stitching velvet ribbon onto woven chair seats.

is an expert in origami and all forms of papercrafts. She and her artist husband, Takumasa, were based in the UK for many years and worked there to promote Japanese arts and crafts, but have now returned to Japan where she was born. Mari is the author of several books, including Origami for Children and Origami Garden, as well as paper blocks such as Japanese Origami, Origami Planes, and Origami Butterflies, Birds, and Bees (all published by CICO Books).

The therapeutic effects of origami are well known in Japan—the focus required for the folds naturally encourages a state of mindfulness, while completing a model brings a sense of joy and satisfaction. Mari Ono is an expert in Japanese papercrafts, and in The Mindful Art of Japanese Origami, she reveals how a little time dedicated to the craft can reduce stress, improve concentration, and help overcome negativity. Bring the paper to life with a classic crane (tsuru), butterfly (cho), frog (kaeru), or doll (hina-ningyo). Create decorative florals such as the cherry blossom (sakura), rose (bara), and bluebell (tsuriganeso). Organize your stationery with a custom envelope (beniire), trinkets tray (komonozara), or card holder (saifu). The book includes 35 beautiful projects inspired by Japanese culture and 61 pieces of origami paper, with 30 that you can color in yourself.

- Origami appeals to all ages and demographics. No expensive tools are required and all of the paper is provided.
- Origami has been found to reduce stress and anxiety. The repetitive motions and focus required during the folding process create a sense of calmness and relaxation. [facts.net, May 2024]
- A national poll found that 46% of US adults engage in creative activities to improve mental health. Among those, 19% specifically cited crafting as their preferred method to relieve stress and anxiety. [The American Psychiatric Association, 2024]
- According to the Pinterest Hobbies Trend Report 2026, searches for origami projects have increased by 199% since the previous year.

If you enjoy large-scale knits that you can really sink your fingers into, or appreciate the bigger stitches and open texture you can achieve by knitting with your arms or fingers, then you will find plenty of exciting inspiration in expert knitter Laura Strutt's collection of 35 chunky makes. Breaking free from the constraints of normal-sized needles, No-Needle Knits makes the best use of the unique texture and scale of no-needle knitting, with designs both for the home and to wear. There are gorgeous arm-knitted scarves and throws, a simple stool cover, a stylish gilet, and a shawl you can knit in under an hour. Using finger knitting, you can quickly create place settings, a bath mat, and even a necklace. There's also an illustrated step-by-step guide that demonstrates how to do all the usual stitches and techniques using just your arms and hands, from plain garter stitch to moss stitch, increasing and decreasing, and knitting with two or more strands of yarn at a time.

• According to Livingetc (2021), oversized, comfortable furniture and furnishings are rising in popularity due to the increase in people working from home.

• Arm and finger knitting is familiar enough to appeal to hobby knitters, but new enough to appeal to those interested in trying something new; 4 out of 5 crafters want to try a new craft. [Craft Report, 2022]

• Global market demand for "chunky yarn blankets" grew by 39% between 2021 and 2024, while "DIY weighted blankets" increased 22% and "home décor crafting" increased by 31%. [Market Reports World, May 2026]

is the author of several bestselling knitting books, including Knitted Animal Hats, Knitted Scarves and Cowls, Beanies and Other Knitted Hats, Knitting Stashbusters, Easy Knitting for Beginners, and Cute Knitted Animal Scarves, Socks, and More, all published by CICO Books. Fiona lives just outside London, UK with her husband.

Expert knitter Fiona Goble may have learned to knit as a child, but she knows exactly what it's like to be starting out—you have the yarn, you've bought the needles, but when you look at a knitting pattern, it all seems like gobbledygook. To avoid this, she's put together Get Started with Knitting, a book designed to make learning to knit easy and enjoyable. You'll start off mastering the basic stitches and learning how to read a pattern, as well as some simple techniques such as casting on and binding off, and increasing and decreasing. Following that are 25 great projects, all using the simple stitches and techniques that you have just learned about. There are chunky scarves and cowls that knit up really quickly using big needles, beanies and bobble hats that can be made in a weekend, and bunting and a pillow cover that even a novice can knit in no time. Once you start knitting, you won't want to stop, so put those new skills to use and create a whole range of fantastic things to wear or for the home.

• Knitting remains a popular hobby in the US: more than 90% of yarn buyers knit at least weekly, with 60% knitting every day. [Craft Industry Alliance, 2025]

• Taps into the retro hobbies trend: as of 2025, the TikTok hashtag #knittingforbeginners had accumulated 13.3 million views, while #knitting accumulated 3.6 billion views overall.

• The perfect companion to Get Started with Crochet (ISBN 9781800656697).

has worked on two sides of publishing, first in sales, and then as an author. His many books include introductions to Germany and Russia for National Geographic. He was also a contributor to The Greatest Books You'll Never Read. Henry lives in North London, UK.

Sometimes the setting of a novel is as important as the story—where would Dickens be without London, or Edith Wharton without New York? Who can read Jamaica Inn and not want to visit Bodmin Moor, or enjoy Alexander McCall Smith's No. 1 Ladies Detective Agency and not wonder whether perhaps Botswana should be on your bucket list? Covering every corner of the world, from the most visited cities of Europe to the rural outposts of Australia, there are classics by famous authors, alongside works by newer writers. Some are a native of the country featured, while others are an outside observer, recreating the attraction of the unknown. Whether you have already decided on a destination and want to get a feel for the place, or you are just looking for ideas for your next getaway, Around the World in 80 Novels is full of inspirational reads that will fire your imagination and have you reaching for your suitcase.

- Literary travel is trending. According to Skyscanner, "almost half of travelers have booked, or would consider, a trip inspired by literature."
- Publication timed to coincide with World Book Day.
- Books are having a moment: Wuthering Heights (featured here) and Heated Rivalry are just two recent adaptations that have dominated the box office, while social media hashtag "#BookTok has developed into one of the most important drivers in the international book market," according to a statement by NielsenIQ and Media Control (quoted in The Guardian).

MARCUS BARNES
is a music journalist, creative career coach, and intrepid explorer of festivals and festival culture. He has traveled the world to immerse himself in events such as Burning Man (US), Glastonbury (UK), Igloofest (Canada), and Supersonic (India). His work has been published in The Guardian, The Independent, Mixmag, and Resident Advisor, and he is the author of global record shop guide Around the World in 80 Record Stores (Dog 'n' Bone Books). Marcus is based in South London, UK.

Festival culture is now an integral part of many people's lives, from the teenagers of the world to the more discerning boutique festival-goers. What started as small gatherings in the 1960s soon permeated into global culture, from parties held in the British countryside to raves in darkened warehouses in Berlin and concerts held on cruise ships in the Caribbean, and continues to grow, with new parties starting every year. Festivals have become embedded in the lifestyle of many people around the world and this guide gives some insight into the many parties that have sprouted up from the US to Canada, Iceland, Japan, Australia, and everywhere in between. Offering a comprehensive look into the most famous raves on planet Earth, this definitive guide includes the history of each festival, along with its location, music policy, and quotes from people who have played at them, all wrapped in handy, bite-sized chunks of information. So join us as we go Around the World in 80 Festivals.

• The book is very accessible to all audiences, providing details on who has played, how to get there, and an expense rating.

• The popularity of festivals is steadily growing: there were 2,840 music festivals recorded in 2024, up from the 2,660 in 2023, and the 2,308 in pre-pandemic 2019. [JamBase, Dec 2024]

• America's festivals attract audiences in the hundreds of thousands: in 2025, Coachella had 750,000 visitors across its two weekends. [Statista, Apr 2026]

The perfect gift for Valentine's Day, engagements, weddings, and anniversaries. Enjoy a carefully curated collection of quotes about love in all its forms, accompanied by stunning contemporary photography. This fantastic compilation of wise and powerful words, combined with beautiful photos, is a great gift for anyone, and is even simply a delightful reminder to yourself to appreciate the love in your own life. From the funny to the charming, the emotional to the enlightened, there is something here to suit everyone, even love cynics.

The inspirational quotes and pearls of wisdom include:
"Whatever our souls are made of, his and mine are the same." Emily Brontë
"Love will draw an elephant through a key hole." Samuel Richardson
"But to see her, was to love her; love but her, and love for ever." Robert Burns

- Publication timed to be ready for Valentine's Day and beyond into the spring and summer for engagement parties and weddings.
- In the same format as Empowering Mantras for Awesome Women (ISBN 9781782498537), which has sold over 51,000 copies.
- Fits into Anthropologie's Spring 27 directive of "vintage-inspired love notes."
