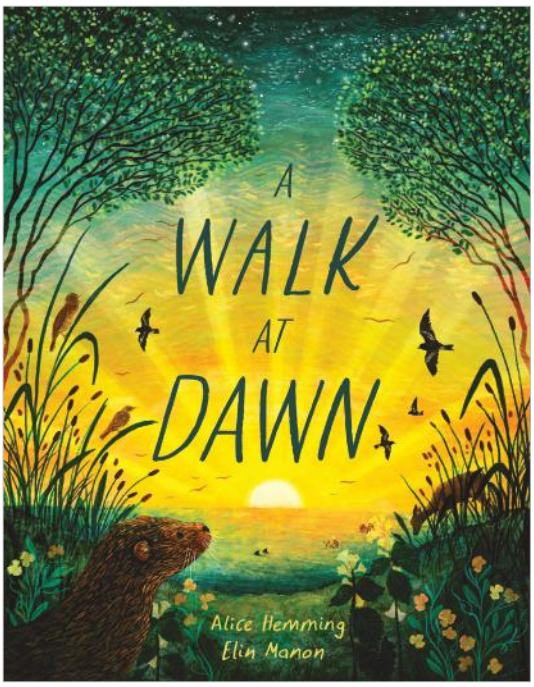
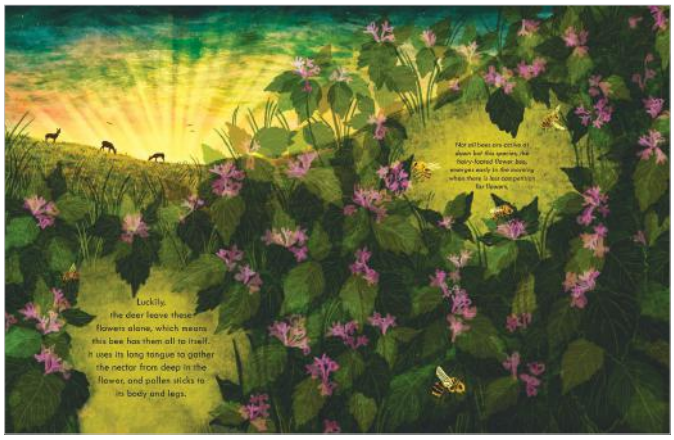
A Walk at Dawn

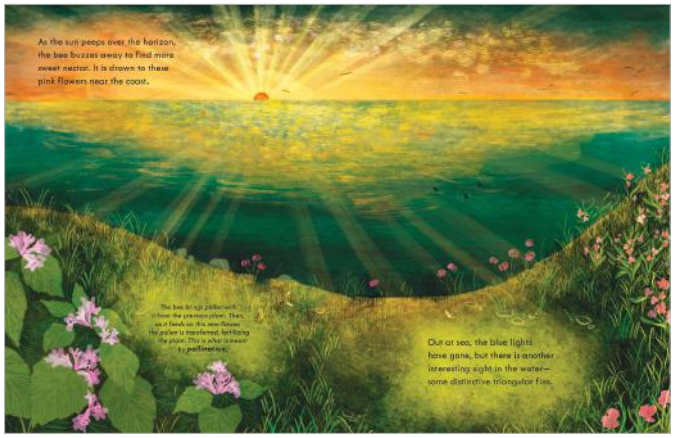
Alice Hemming (Author),
Elin Manon (Illustrator)

Take a walk-through nature at dawn and meet the mammals, birds and insects that are wide awake while most people are tucked up in bed!

- A narrative takes the reader through dawn, moving from each animal to the next in a storylike way.
- Packed with behavioural and physiological facts about the different animals throughout, including phytoplankton, storm petrels, otters and bees.
- Includes additional non-fiction content about the early hours of dawn and how we can protect our coastlines and wetlands.







ALICE HEMMING (AUTHOR) has never been at a loss for ideas. A childhood playing make-believe and working her way through the shelves of the local library helped fuel her imagination. She began her working life as a librarian and a web content editor, while all the time attending various part-time classes, in sculpture, illustration and writing. Alice lives in Hertfordshire, UK with her husband and two children. When she's not visiting schools, she works in a writing shed at the top of her garden, where she can immerse herself in the world of her stories.

ELIN MANON (ILLUSTRATOR) is an illustrator from Wales now based in Perth, Scotland, UK, after graduating from Falmouth University and living in Cornwall for 6 years. Her work is inspired by the natural world, ecology, folklore and anthropology. A passion for storytelling and the celebration and protection of our natural world has been a constant drive within her creative process.

A Walk in the Dark

Alice Hemming (Author),
Elin Manon (Illustrator)

Take a walk through nighttime nature and meet the mammals, birds, and insects that thrive while most people are tucked up in bed!

- A narrative takes the child reader from dusk till dawn, moving from each animal to the next.
- Packed with behavioural and physiological facts about the different animals throughout, including hares, foxes, owls and spiders.
- Includes a section at the back advising on protecting our night skies and how to help nocturnal animals.

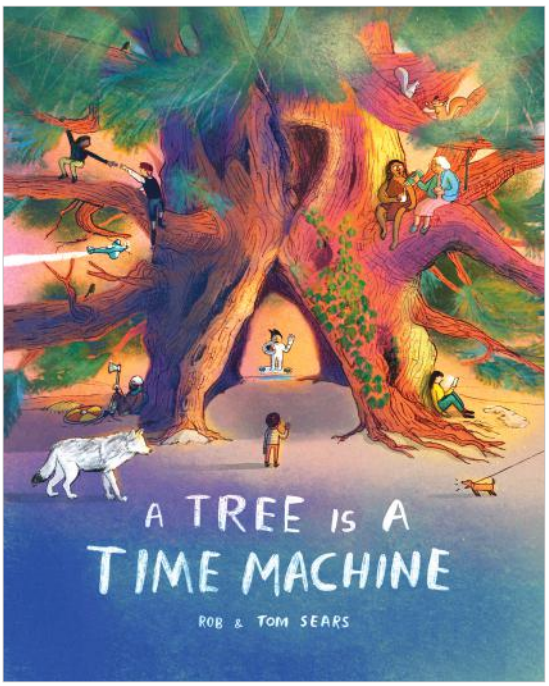
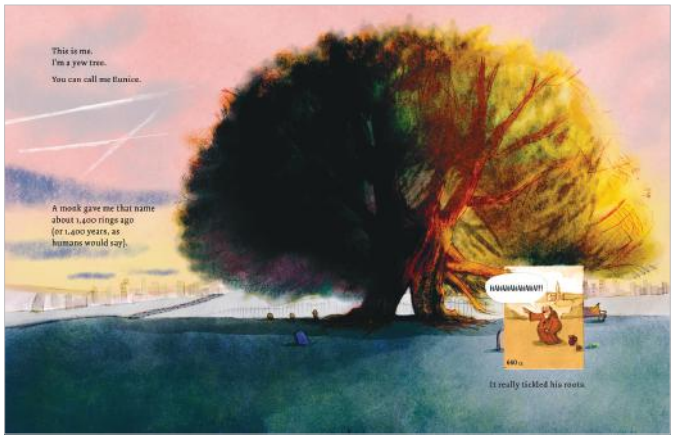
A Tree is a Time Machine

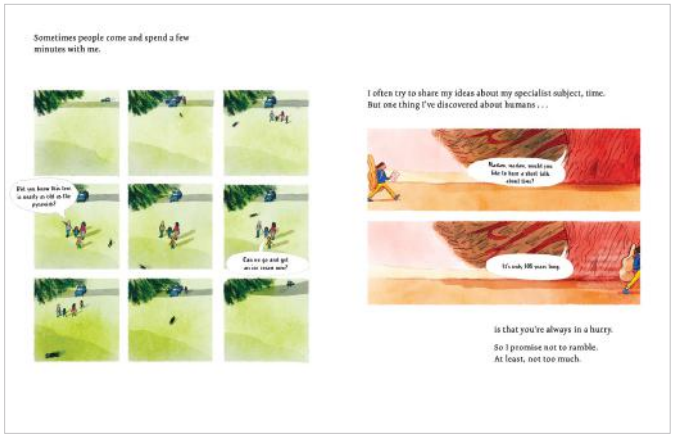
Rob and Tom Sears (Author)

Slow down and see the big picture in this warm, witty and beautifully illustrated book for children and adults inviting us to wonder at our precious time on Earth

- Straddles a few trends at once: graphic novels, trees, slow living, mental health.
- Witty and quirky approach makes the mind-bending topic of time feel really accessible.
- A gentle message about looking after our planet.







ROB SEARS (AUTHOR)

Rob lives and works in Finsbury Park in London with his cat, dog and wife. His books tend to take an irreverent and fun approach to things that we usually talk about with our Serious Voices, such as monstrous world leaders and the environmental omnicrisis we're living through.

TOM SEARS (AUTHOR)

Tom Sears is a creative director, illustrator, exhibition designer, writer and animator, based in Stroud, Gloucestershire, UK. Before he turned freelance he managed the in-house creative studio at London Zoo, designing and producing immersive exhibitions and experiences and bringing ZSL's conservation and research work to life.

The World of K-Pop

A jigsaw inspired by all things K-Pop

Chase Kang (Author),
Solji Lee (Author)

Celebrate all things K-pop with this 1000-piece jigsaw puzzle

- The popularity of K-pop has grown massively over the last few years, rapidly becoming a global pop phenomenon. 2026 is the year of the comeback, with a few legendary comebacks on the cards, including BTS, Blackpink, EXO and BIGBANG. With the return of these popular groups and the emergence of fresh talent, the genre is expected to have its biggest year yet.

- BTS have recently released a new album, marking their comeback after a 4-year hiatus. They have a large and engaged audience across the globe. They have 84.5 million followers on Spotify, and 43 million monthly listeners. The group also announced a world tour in January, selling out all 41 stadium dates (2.4 million tickets), and have rebroken the record for the most attended tour by an Asian act.

- KPop Demon Hunters has been a global phenomenon, becoming Netflix's most watched film with over 325 million views. The film has also received awards from the Grammy's, the Academy Awards and the Critics's Choice Awards, to name a few.

SOLJI LEE (ILLUSTRATOR) is a Korean illustrator based in Paris, France. She studied Illustration & Concept Art at École Jean Trubert, graduating in 2019. Since then she has applied her unique aesthetic to book covers, advertising, editorial illustration for magazines and cover art for music albums. She loves to create compositions mixing daily objects, foods, animals, plants, buildings or houses using her colourful and vivid visual language. Her inspiration comes from everything around us.

CHASE KANG (AUTHOR) is a Los Angeles-based bilingual journalist covering AAPI communities, entertainment, and K-pop. Born and raised in Seoul, she reports on how pop culture changes as it crosses borders. Her work has appeared in Rolling Stone Korea, Genius, and The Korea Times US. She has also appeared on BBC World Service, NBC News, and FOX 11. She is a 2026 Gold House Journalism Accelerator fellow, a recipient of the 2026 Gregory Yuen Yee Training Grant from AAJA-LA and the Los Angeles Times, and a panelist at the 2026 AAJA National Convention.
