

AUTUMN COLOURS

Autumn is a season of sparkle: long nights brightened by stories, small joys shared with family, and the promise of new beginnings.

But at Caramel, we are always one step ahead of the seasons. What you choose with us today will arrive in May, June or September 2026, when winter coats have been stowed away, children are chasing butterflies, or backpacks are packed for school again. That is the wonder of our work: planning tomorrow's smiles today.

At Caramel we build bridges between learning and laughter, between imagination and knowledge. We believe books can be both a compass and a playground: guiding children, while giving them the freedom to dream. We stand for quality that feels accessible, creativity that feels boundless, and responsibility that feels shared, with our partners, our readers, and our planet.

We know the past months have not been easy. But let's be honest: slowing down is not an option. The next generation deserves courage, persistence, and stories that light their path. That's why we need you, our partners. Together, even in challenging moments, we can keep opening worlds for children everywhere.

So, thank you – for standing with us, for believing in books, and for joining us on this journey.

And on that note, we bring you our new autumn catalogue. Because when children open our books, the world opens to them.

With gratitude and determination,

Marika
