Joe and Denise Abmont are the husband-and-wife team behind Abmont Realty Group's extraordinary success. As Partners and Associate Brokers with Amherst Madison Real Estate Advisers, they bring over 20 years of combined expertise serving clients throughout Idaho's Treasure Valley.

The Abmonts' journey to Idaho began with their own relocation from California. After extensive research, they chose Eagle as their home—an experience that gives them unique insight into what families need when relocating.

Denise Abmont, an Associate Broker, specializes in relocation services and has transformed her personal moving experience into expertise that helps families make confident decisions about their Idaho move. Her extensive knowledge of Treasure Valley schools, neighborhoods, and community resources makes her an invaluable guide for clients.

Joe Abmont brings a natural talent for relationship-building and a background in business ownership that helps him connect authentically with clients. When not helping families find their dream homes, Joe enjoys Idaho's great outdoors—hunting, fishing, and sharing his love of the area with clients.

Together, they lead a dedicated team committed to communication and genuine relationships. Their proven track record—600+ homes sold and 200+ five-star reviews—reflects their unwavering dedication to client success.

GETTING HERE & GETTING AROUND

From daily commutes to weekend escapes, here's how to navigate life in the Treasure Valley.

AIR TRAVEL

Boise Airport (BOI) is served by seven major airlines (including Alaska, Delta, Southwest, United, American, Frontier, and Allegiant) offering nonstop flights to 26 destinations and easy one stop connections to more than 350 cities worldwide.

QUICK FACTS:

10 minute drive from downtown Boise

New terminal expansion opening soon

Nearby regional airports in McCall, Sun Valley, and Twin Falls make mountain getaways quick and convenient

AVERAGE COMMUTE TIMES:

Boise → Meridian: 15–20 min

Boise → Eagle: 20–25 min

Nampa → Boise: 30–35 min

Caldwell → Boise: 35–40 min

Kuna → Meridian: 10–15 min

Tip: Peak traffic runs 7:30–9:00 a.m. and 4:30–6:00 p.m., but major highways flow smoothly outside those times.

GETTING AROUND TOWN

Whether you're heading downtown or exploring the foothills, travel here is refreshingly easy.

PUBLIC TRANSIT:

Valley Regional Transit (VRT) serves much of Ada and Canyon Counties with local bus routes, commuter lines, and paratransit services.

CYCLING & WALKING:

The Boise River Greenbelt spans more than 25 miles through Boise, Garden City, and Eagle — linking parks and neighborhoods along a beautiful riverside route.

FREEWAYS:

I-84 connects east to west, Highway 55 leads to mountain towns like McCall and Cascade, while Highway 21 winds through Lucky Peak toward Idaho City and the Sawtooth Mountains.

TRANSPORTATION OPTIONS:

Uber and Lyft are widely available, with bike and scooter shares in downtown Boise, and rental cars easily picked up at the Boise Airport.

NEW RESIDENT ESSENTIALS

DRIVER'S LICENSE & VEHICLE REGISTRATION:

Complete both within 30 days of establishing Idaho residency. Visit your county DMV office or schedule an appointment online for faster service.

HOMEOWNER'S EXEMPTION:

Did you know Idaho offers a $125,000 exemption on the taxable assessed value of your primary residence? Apply through your county assessor's office once your home is owner occupied.

12 REASONS TO LOVE THE TREASURE VALLEY

CLEANLINESS
Our streets are clean! Unlike a lot of cities in America, our community prides itself on exceptionally tidy streets. This collective effort to preserve cleanliness contributes to the city's overall aesthetic and livability, making Boise an attractive place for both residents and visitors.

SAFETY
It's incredibly safe. Year after year the Boise area continues to receive top rankings for our country's safest cities. The overall sense of security felt by residents and visitors is a testament to our low crime rate and community culture.

TRAFFIC
Traffic is considerably less than most metropolitan areas. Which gives you more time to enjoy our beautiful community. Depending on where you live and work, you can easily get to where you need quickly, not hours of bumper to bumper traffic.

FREEDOM
Idaho is celebrated for its expansive sense of freedom, characterized by its wide open spaces and a lifestyle that values personal independence and self reliance. The state's less restrictive approach to regulations and its embrace of outdoor and recreational activities contribute to a strong sense of liberty and freedom.

PROXIMITY TO NATURE
Boise is uniquely positioned amidst breathtaking natural landscapes, with mountains and forests encircling the city, offering quick access to the great outdoors. The city's proximity to these natural wonders means that residents can easily immerse themselves in a variety of outdoor activities within a 30 minute drive.

ACTION
Despite not having a large population or major sports teams, there's a vibrant buzz of activity. With an array of concerts, minor league and collegiate sports events to our thriving restaurant and bar communities, there is always something to do.

FAMILY FUN
Our area is a paradise for family fun, offering a plethora of activities that cater to all ages, from interactive museums and parks to outdoor adventures. The city's family friendly atmosphere is enriched by its array of festivals, zoos, and recreational areas, making it perfect for creating cherished memories.

THRIVING JOB MARKET
With a growing tech industry and a diverse range of other employment opportunities, Boise presents a robust job market. Companies are increasingly choosing the Treasure Valley as a location, creating more jobs. Idaho is a very business friendly state, enticing start ups with less restrictive regulations.

ARTS & CULTURE
Enjoy a vibrant community filled with art galleries, theaters, and live music venues that showcase both local and international talent. There's hundreds of arts and crafts courses to choose from that are perfect for all ages.

PHILANTHROPY
The Treasure Valley has a long history of giving in our valley. From business moguls to everyday people, Idahoans continue to practice benevolence in their business and personal practices. And it's very easy to get involved!

FOUR INCREDIBLE SEASONS
Each season brings excitement with a unique amount of activities and reasons to be outside. From the lush, flower filled springs and vibrant, sunny summers to the colorful autumns and picturesque winters, the Treasure Valley provides a year round showcase of nature's diversity & entertainment.

BOISE AIRPORT
It's one of the simplest and easiest airports to navigate. Which makes weekend getaways or visiting family and friends out of state a breeze. You can get through security quickly and safely and also have several dining options & shops.

FUN FACTS ABOUT

THE VALLEY'S RICHES

The Boise area is called The Treasure Valley because of its historical and agricultural significance, as well as the richness of opportunities it offers. The name dates back to the 1950s, when local business leaders sought to promote the region's economic potential and vibrant communities.

AGRICULTURAL ABUNDANCE

Fertile soil and irrigation from the Boise River have made the valley one of Idaho's most productive farming regions. Potatoes, onions, hops, and sugar beets thrive here, fueling the local economy and the state's agricultural identity.

ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITIES

What began as a farming hub has grown into a diverse regional economy. Today, technology, education, healthcare, and outdoor recreation anchor a workforce known for innovation and quality of life.

NATURAL BEAUTY

Mountains frame the valley on every horizon, with the Boise River running through its heart. Locals enjoy year round access to trails, lakes, and ski slopes—proof that natural beauty truly is one of Idaho's greatest treasures.

LIFE IN IDAHO

COMMUNITY & CULTURE

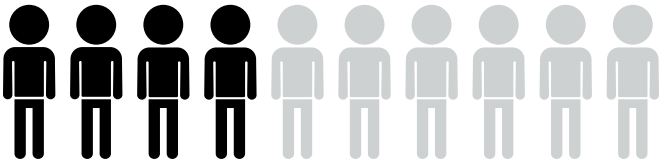

The Treasure Valley's name also speaks to its strong sense of community and vibrant neighborhoods. Residents value local events, walkable downtowns, and a spirit of friendliness that defines life in the West.

PRONUNCIATION IS KEY

Most visitors pronounce Boise as BOY-ZEE. The locals' way—BOY-SEE—is part of what makes this city feel like home. At Boise State football games, the roar of "BOY-SEE!" rolling through the blue turf stadium captures that shared pride perfectly.

BY THE NUMBERS

TREASURE VALLEY POPULATION: ~900,000

STATE POPULATION: ~2,001,600

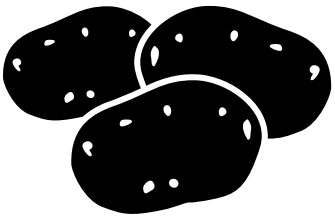

HIGHEST POINT:
BORAH PEAK - 12,662 FT (CUSTER COUNTY)

LOWEST POINT:

Boise, Idaho, is known for its sunny climate. On average, Boise enjoys about 206 sunny days per year. The city's semi-arid continental climate brings four distinct seasons: warm to hot summers, cold winters, and mild springs and falls—all with low humidity that makes temperature extremes more comfortable.

A COMFORTABLE CLIMATE

One of the key features of Boise's climate is the low humidity, which makes temperature extremes more tolerable. In the summer, the dry heat is less oppressive than in more humid regions, and in the winter, the cold is a dry chill rather than a damp one. Precipitation in Boise and the Treasure Valley is relatively low, with most rain falling in spring and light snow in winter. The area's dry, sunny climate supports outdoor activity year round—from skiing and snowboarding in winter to hiking, biking, and water sports in summer.

LIFE IN EVERY SEASON

Boise's weather also brings plenty of variety throughout the year. Residents enjoy crisp fall colors, bright winter days, and a long stretch of pleasant spring sunshine. Changing conditions rarely disrupt daily life, allowing locals to stay active outdoors and appreciate Idaho's natural beauty in every season.

OUTDOOR WINTERIZATION TIPS

- Blow out sprinkler systems and water features to prevent freezing damage.
- Disconnect and drain hoses before temperatures drop below 32°F.
- Clean gutters and downspouts to prevent ice buildup and protect your home's exterior.

WELCOME TO BOISE

Sunset ignites the heart of Downtown Boise

Boise is a vibrant and rapidly growing city nestled in the heart of the Treasure Valley. Known for its blend of charm, energy, opportunity, and overall quality of life, it's a place that feels both welcoming and full of momentum. With its stunning natural surroundings, flourishing economy, and a community that makes everyone feel at home, it's no wonder people from all walks of life are drawn here.

As Idaho's capital and largest city—with a population of around 240,000—Boise strikes a perfect balance between offering big city amenities and maintaining a friendly, easy to navigate vibe.

OUTDOOR LIVING

Outdoor enthusiasts will find their paradise here. The Boise River flows gracefully through the city, offering opportunities for kayaking, paddleboarding, or simply soaking in the scenery. Running alongside it is the iconic 25 mile Boise River Greenbelt, a picturesque pathway perfect for walking, jogging, or biking while enjoying the natural beauty of the area.

The nearby Boise Foothills add even more adventure with miles of trails for hiking and mountain biking, all with breathtaking views of the valley below. From floating the river in summer to skiing at Bogus Basin in winter, Boise makes outdoor recreation a year round part of life. And when it's time for a mountain escape, Highway 55 offers a quick and scenic route to Idaho's resort towns, perfect for a day trip or weekend adventure.

CULTURE, DINING & ENTERTAINMENT

Boise is also a vibrant hub for arts, culture, and entertainment. Stroll through the lively downtown area, where historic charm meets modern flair. Discover a thriving food scene, local boutiques, art galleries, and an array of nightlife options.

Catch an event at the Boise Centre or enjoy a performance under the stars at the renowned Idaho Shakespeare Festival. From First Thursday art walks to live music and community festivals, there's always something happening to inspire and entertain.

THRIVING ECONOMY & OPPORTUNITY

Economically, Boise is buzzing with opportunity. The city boasts a dynamic job market fueled by industries like technology, healthcare, education, and manufacturing. Major employers such as Micron Technology, Albertsons, and St. Luke's Health System play a key role in driving growth and innovation throughout the region.

Combine that with a growing startup culture, strong local universities, and a relatively low cost of living, and it's easy to see why so many professionals and entrepreneurs choose Boise to build their careers, and their lives.

NEIGHBORHOODS, SCHOOLS & LIFESTYLE

Boise's neighborhoods each offer their own unique personality while sharing the city's signature friendliness. Downtown Boise draws those who love being close to the action, surrounded by restaurants, entertainment, and city events.

The North End charms with tree lined streets, historic homes, and easy access to the foothills. Southeast Boise and Harris Ranch blend suburban comfort with proximity to the river and outdoor spaces, while The Bench is known for its central location and diverse, welcoming community.

Families also appreciate the city's excellent schools within the Boise School District, which offers strong academics and a deep sense of community involvement.

A CITY THAT FEELS LIKE HOME

Whether you're drawn to urban convenience or wide open spaces where sunsets stretch across the horizon, Boise offers the best of both worlds. It's a city where community and opportunity come together, and where more and more people are choosing to call home.

What surprises most newcomers is how quickly Boise feels familiar, from the friendly hellos around town to the sense of pride that runs through every neighborhood. It's a city that welcomes you to stay awhile.

NORTHEAST BOISE

Northeast Boise is a picturesque and distinguished neighborhood where the Boise River meets the foothills, creating a setting of natural beauty and elegance. At its center lies Warm Springs Avenue, a historic boulevard lined with stately homes that showcase the city's architectural heritage. The area offers convenient access to miles of trails and open spaces, making it a favorite for those who love the outdoors. With its peaceful atmosphere and close proximity to downtown's cultural and civic amenities, Northeast Boise strikes the perfect balance between tranquility and convenience, remaining one of the city's most desirable places to live.

NORTH END

The North End of Boise is a charming and historic neighborhood just minutes from downtown. Known for its tree lined streets, distinctive older homes, and the vibrant Hyde Park filled with local shops and cozy cafés, it's a place full of character and charm. Its close proximity to the foothills offers residents an ideal blend of outdoor adventure and city convenience. Locals love spending time at Camel's Back Park, a peaceful escape perfect for picnics, hiking, and open air recreation. The North End's welcoming atmosphere, friendly neighbors, and traditions like cruising down Harrison Boulevard to admire its beautiful homes and rich history make it one of Boise's most treasured neighborhoods.

BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

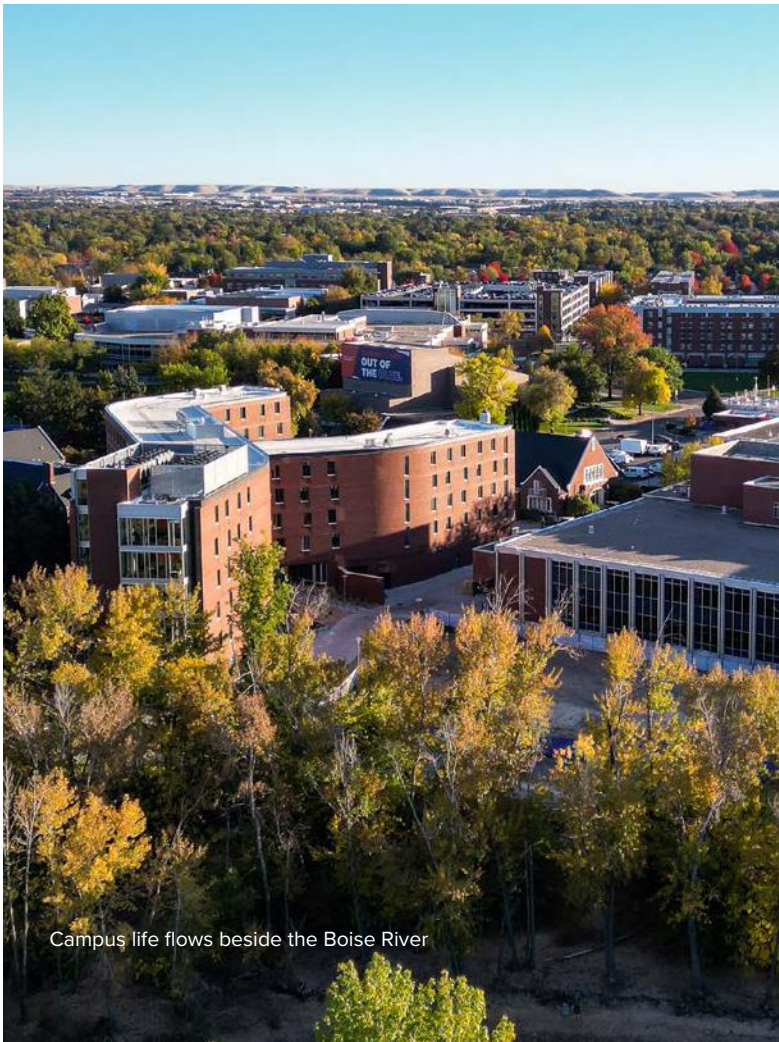

Nestled along the Boise River, Boise State University offers a scenic campus that inspires both academic and athletic excellence. Its iconic blue turf, known affectionately as "The Blue," has become one of the most recognizable symbols in college football. The university's lively spirit and strong sense of community pride are felt throughout the city. Game days aren't just events—they're a shared tradition that unites students, alumni, and fans in cheering on the beloved Boise State Broncos.

DOWNTOWN BOISE

Downtown Boise is the vibrant heart of the city, where modern office towers meet cultural landmarks and a thriving dining and entertainment scene. This lively district blends urban parks, innovative businesses, and local shops along walkable streets filled with energy and creativity. From year round events and live music to the natural beauty surrounding the skyline, downtown embodies Boise's forward thinking spirit and close knit community, offering the perfect place to experience the city's vitality.

Creativity sparks at Jack's Urban Meeting Place (JUMP) in Downtown Boise.

Life moves at an easy pace in Bown Crossing

BOISE BENCH

The Bench perched above the city center, is a historic and diverse neighborhood known for its distinctive topography and open views. With charming midcentury homes, mature trees, and a relaxed residential atmosphere, it offers a unique blend of character and convenience. Locally owned shops and restaurants add to its appeal, while the area's close proximity to downtown, the Boise Airport, outdoor attractions, and freeway access creates an ideal mix of suburban tranquility and urban connection. Residents appreciate its walkable streets, welcoming pocket parks, and the lively mix of longtime locals and new arrivals that give the neighborhood its warm and inviting character.

SOUTHEAST BOISE

Southeast Boise is a vibrant community where natural beauty meets modern convenience. At its center is Bown Crossing, a favorite spot for dining, shopping, and gathering with friends. Residents enjoy easy access to the Boise River and Greenbelt, enhancing the area's outdoor appeal. Nearby, the highly sought after Harris Ranch neighborhood features beautiful homes, a serene setting, and close proximity to local dining and amenities. It's also home to Micron Technology, one of the world's leading semiconductor companies, adding a spirit of innovation to its relaxed, welcoming vibe. Just minutes away, Lucky Peak Reservoir offers boating, swimming, and year round adventure, making Southeast Boise a perfect blend of recreation, opportunity, and everyday comfort.

SOUTH BOISE

South and Southwest Boise are well established areas that continue to evolve, blending rural charm with the convenience of suburban living. Close to downtown and the airport, this part of the city offers an ideal balance of accessibility and space. Expanses of open land and agricultural pockets mix with modern neighborhoods, creating a distinctive setting that feels both peaceful and connected. Residents also appreciate the convenience of having Boise's Costco nearby, making everyday errands easy and accessible. Known for its spacious lots and welcoming atmosphere, South and Southwest Boise provide a quieter pace of life while keeping residents within easy reach of the city's amenities and opportunities.

NORTHWEST BOISE

In Northwest Boise, nature isn't just a backdrop — it's part of daily life. Residents enjoy a seamless mix of urban convenience and outdoor adventure, with hiking and biking trails winding through the foothills and easy access to the Boise River Greenbelt. The area's appeal is enhanced by scenic golf courses and nearby country clubs, offering a balance of leisure and comfort. Highway 55, which begins here, provides a quick and scenic route to Idaho's mountain towns and weekend getaways, making outdoor escapes part of the lifestyle. Set against the foothills, Northwest Boise also provides quick connections to downtown and the surrounding open spaces. The neighborhood features a blend of architectural styles, where historic homes and modern designs coexist, creating a community that feels both established and full of life.

WEST BOISE

West Boise is a lively suburban center that combines residential comfort with a variety of shopping, dining, and recreation options. Home to Boise Towne Square Mall, local restaurants, and outdoor adventure retailers, it's a convenient destination right off the freeway. Residents value the area's short commute to downtown Boise, Meridian, and Eagle, making it an ideal location for accessibility and connection. Welcoming neighborhoods and numerous parks provide plenty of space for relaxation and outdoor activity. A highlight of the area is Hyatt Hidden Lakes Reserve, a peaceful 53 acre wildlife sanctuary with scenic pathways and beautiful valley views.

WELCOME TO GARDEN CITY

Catch a wave or watch the action on the Boise River

WHERE CREATIVITY MEETS THE RIVER

Just minutes from downtown Boise, Garden City is a vibrant and diverse community that perfectly blends urban energy with relaxed, riverside living. Though compact in size, this city stands out for its creative culture, entrepreneurial spirit, and deep connection to the outdoors.

Situated along the Boise River, Garden City offers easy access to recreation at every turn. Its scenic stretch of the Boise River Greenbelt invites residents and visitors to bike, walk, or jog beneath the trees while enjoying peaceful river views. The water itself calls to adventure seekers with opportunities for kayaking, fishing, and even river surfing. And with the Boise Foothills just minutes away, hiking and mountain biking are never far from home. Sports fans can also catch a game with the Boise Hawks, the city's beloved minor league baseball team—especially popular on Friday nights when fireworks light up the sky.

A HUB FOR ART, FOOD, AND INNOVATION

The creative spirit of this riverside community shines in the Live Work Create District, a formerly industrial area that has evolved into a thriving center for local artists, makers, and entrepreneurs. Here, you'll find art studios, craft breweries, coffee shops, and unique boutiques tucked into re-imagined warehouse spaces. Chinden Boulevard hums with energy, lined with restaurants, tasting rooms, and shops that give the city its signature mix of character and charm.

Wine lovers will feel right at home, too. This stretch of the Treasure Valley has become a destination for Idaho wine tasting, with an impressive collection of urban wineries and tasting rooms offering local pours just steps apart. New developments like The Dixon by LED Boise add a modern touch to the area, reflecting its ongoing growth and creative energy. Across the city, the atmosphere remains relaxed, friendly, and inventive, with a strong sense of community and collaboration.

COMMUNITY AND LIFESTYLE

Life here moves to the rhythm of local creativity and connection. A full calendar of events keeps the community buzzing, from the Western Idaho Fair and performances at the Visual Arts Collective to live music at the Sapphire Room inside the Riverside Hotel. Each event captures the city's laid back energy and makes it easy for newcomers to feel at home.

Housing options range from sleek riverside condos to quiet suburban neighborhoods, accommodating a variety of lifestyles and budgets. And with downtown Boise just a short drive or bike ride away, residents enjoy convenient access to top tier schools, quality healthcare, and city amenities without losing the intimate charm that makes this city so welcoming.

The Western Idaho Fair is a highlight of every summer in Garden City

A tasting experience to slow down the day

LIFE ALONG THE RIVER

With its blend of artistic spirit, outdoor beauty, and easygoing lifestyle, Garden City offers a way of life that feels both vibrant and down to earth. Whether you're drawn by its thriving arts scene, riverside trails, or entrepreneurial energy, this small city delivers a big sense of possibility, making it a truly unique Idaho destination where creativity and connection come naturally.

WELCOME TO MERIDIAN

Julius M. Kleiner Park

The Village at Meridian

WHERE SUBURBAN ENERGY MEETS SMALL TOWN WARMTH

Located in the heart of the Treasure Valley, Meridian is one of Idaho's fastest growing cities and a shining example of suburban comfort blended with urban convenience. Just west of Boise, about 10 miles from downtown, it is the state's second largest city, known for its welcoming atmosphere, family friendly amenities, and strong sense of community.

Meridian's appeal lies in its balance: close enough to Boise for quick commutes and city access, yet far enough to offer a quieter, more spacious lifestyle. As you travel farther west, neighborhoods open up, the scenery becomes more rural, and the pace feels a little more relaxed, making it easy to find the perfect fit between convenience and breathing room. Families are also drawn to the city's highly rated schools within the West Ada School District, one of Idaho's largest and most respected.

A GROWING HUB OF OPPORTUNITY

Meridian's thriving economy continues to attract new residents and businesses alike. Major industries such as technology, healthcare, education, and retail are on the rise, creating abundant career opportunities close to home. The St. Luke's Meridian Medical Center, one of the city's largest employers, serves as a regional healthcare anchor and continues to expand its facilities and services to meet the needs of the growing population.

New mixed use areas such as Ten Mile Crossing blend offices, restaurants, and recreation, making it easier than ever to live, work, and play all within city limits. The addition of Kiln Meridian, a modern coworking and flex office community, has also energized the area by supporting small businesses, remote professionals, and start ups with creative workspaces and networking opportunities.

RECREATION, ENTERTAINMENT & LIFESTYLE

Residents enjoy a network of parks, walking trails, and community centers, along with premier destinations like The Village at Meridian, a lively outdoor shopping and dining hub featuring upscale retailers, entertainment venues, and beautiful fountains that host year round events.

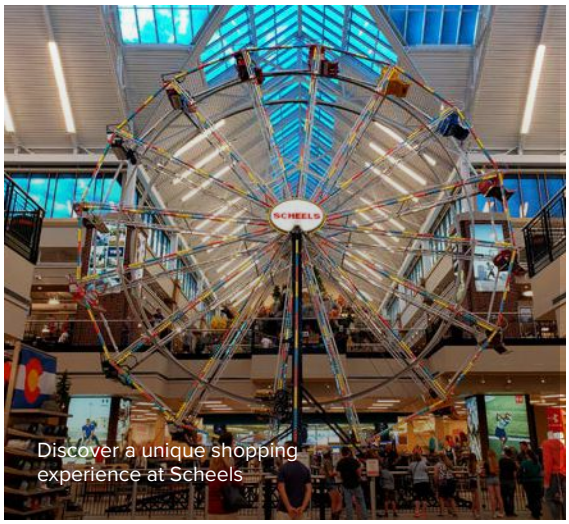

Nearby, Scheels offers a one of a kind retail experience with interactive sports simulators, an aquarium, and everything from outdoor gear to local fan favorites. In northern Meridian, Costco and nearby shopping centers provide convenient access to everyday essentials and dining options.

A major highlight in the city's park system is the planned Settlers Park expansion, which will add a new community center, additional trails, and recreation space to one of Meridian's most beloved gathering spots. Families also flock to local favorites like Roaring Springs Water Park, Wahooz Family Fun Zone, and the Meridian Speedway for year round fun and entertainment.

COMMUNITY AND LOCAL CHARM

Downtown Meridian, also known as Old Town Meridian, is the heart of the city's character. This walkable district blends small town charm with modern vibrancy, offering local restaurants, boutique shops, and a growing nightlife scene with bars, live music, and community events centered around Meridian City Hall.

Traditions like Meridian Dairy Days celebrate the city's agricultural roots, while the Initial Point Gallery showcases local artists through rotating exhibits. Meridian's neighborhoods are known for their safety, cleanliness, and pride of ownership. Housing options range from starter homes to inviting communities, appealing to families, young professionals, and retirees alike.

A PLACE TO CALL HOME

With its exceptional quality of life, expanding recreation options, strong economy, and welcoming spirit, Meridian continues to be one of Idaho's most desirable places to live. Whether you are looking for a place to raise a family, launch a career, or enjoy your next chapter, Meridian offers the ideal mix of opportunity, community, and comfort, making it an outstanding place to call home.

WELCOME TO EAGLE

Good food and daily essentials are right around the corner

ELEGANCE SURROUNDED BY NATURE

Tucked along the Boise River, Eagle is a picturesque city that perfectly balances luxury, natural beauty, and small town charm. Located about 15 miles northwest of Boise, it's known for its exclusive riverfront estates and some of the most sought after homes in the Treasure Valley, Eagle is where refined living meets Idaho's relaxed, scenic lifestyle. The city's gated communities, tree lined streets, and waterfront properties exude sophistication, yet the atmosphere remains friendly and welcoming. Eagle's appeal lies in its ability to blend upscale living with the serenity of the outdoors. Residents enjoy privacy, open space, and stunning views without sacrificing connection or community.

DOWNTOWN CHARM & LEISURE

Downtown Eagle radiates warmth and refinement. Its walkable streets feature boutique shops, locally owned restaurants, and inviting cafes, all surrounded by a blend of modern and historic architecture that creates a timeless, welcoming atmosphere.

The city's restaurant scene is developing quickly, bringing more fine dining options and an elevated flair that complements Eagle's refined yet relaxed lifestyle. The nearby Eagle Luxe Reel Theatre and surrounding shopping center add to the city's convenience, offering entertainment, dining, and shops with a little something for everyone.

For those who love recreation with a touch of luxury, Eagle features several golf courses and country clubs, where leisure and social life come together. Whether it's a morning round of golf, an afternoon spa visit, or an evening of fine dining, Eagle makes everyday living feel like a retreat.

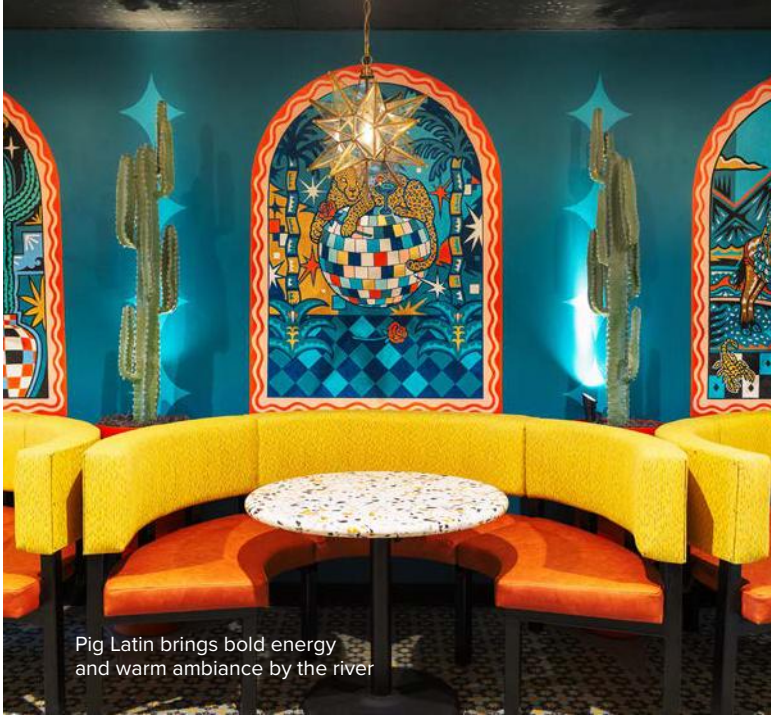

OUTDOOR BEAUTY & ACTIVE LIVING

Eagle is deeply connected to Idaho's natural landscape. Eagle Island State Park, spanning 545 acres along the Boise River, is a local favorite offering swimming, paddleboarding, fishing, and miles of trails for hiking, horseback riding, and disc golf. Families gather here for picnics and summer fun, while bird watchers and outdoor enthusiasts appreciate the park's peaceful river views.

The Boise River Greenbelt weaves through Eagle, providing miles of scenic paths for walking and biking. Meanwhile, the Ada Eagle Sports Complex and Bike Park keeps the community active with facilities for BMX riders, skateboarders, basketball players, and mountain bikers. Many of these trails connect to the larger Ridge to Rivers system, giving residents direct access to the region's vast network of foothill adventures.

COMMUNITY, CULTURE & CHARACTER

Despite its upscale reputation, Eagle maintains a genuine small town feel. It's a city where neighbors know each other and community pride runs deep. Events like the Eagle Fun Days Festival, Eagle Night Rodeo, Saturday Market, and local art fairs bring residents together throughout the year. The Eagle Performing Arts Center and Eagle Arts Commission further enrich the city's cultural landscape, offering performances, exhibitions, and opportunities for local artists to shine.

Eagle also appeals to equestrian enthusiasts and those who appreciate a touch of the rural lifestyle. Spacious properties, scenic pastures, and farm friendly neighborhoods coexist with luxurious estates, offering a unique mix of refinement and rustic charm. Add in top rated schools and well maintained parks, and it's easy to see why Eagle continues to be one of the Treasure Valley's most desirable places to live.

A REFINED WAY OF LIFE

For those seeking a lifestyle that blends elegance, comfort, and community, Eagle delivers. It's a place where luxury meets nature, and where sophistication and warmth exist in perfect balance, set against the breathtaking backdrop of Idaho's Treasure Valley.

WELCOME TO STAR

Waterfront homes overlook the Star Fishing Pond

TRANQUILITY, GROWTH & NATURAL BEAUTY

Tucked between open farmland and the Boise River Valley, Star offers the best of both worlds, peaceful small town living with easy access to urban conveniences. Located about 20 miles west of Boise, this charming town combines small town character with modern comfort, offering an inviting mix of open space and everyday convenience.

OUTDOOR LIVING & OPEN SPACES

Star's natural setting is one of its greatest treasures. Rolling farmland, tree lined riverbanks, and expansive views create the perfect backdrop for life outdoors. The area's network of trails welcomes horseback riders, joggers, and cyclists alike, while the Boise River offers year round fishing and recreation. Just north of town, Firebird Raceway draws racing fans from across the region for nearly nine months of high speed excitement. With Idaho's mountains and ski resorts just a short drive away, adventure is always within reach no matter the season.

HOMETOWN CHARM & LOCAL CONNECTION

Star's downtown area captures the essence of Idaho living, friendly, relaxed, and full of local character. Neighborhood restaurants, cafés, and small businesses bring a sense of connection and convenience to daily life. Seasonal celebrations like the Star Fall Festival and Christmas Bazaar fill the town with energy, bringing residents together for music, food, and festive traditions.

PARKS, FAMILY LIFE & LIVABILITY

Star's parks and green spaces make outdoor time easy to enjoy. Families gather for picnics, playground fun, and sports in safe, beautifully maintained settings. The community's family oriented atmosphere, combined with low crime rates and scenic surroundings, has made Star a top choice for those seeking space, safety, and a close connection to nature.

HOUSING, ACCESS & OPPORTUNITY

Housing in Star reflects its balanced blend of country charm and modern growth. From comfortable suburban neighborhoods to spacious country estates and new developments, the town offers homes that fit a wide range of lifestyles and budgets. Its close proximity to Highway 16 connects residents directly to Emmett, known for its local U-pick orchards and scenic countryside. Ongoing expansion of Highway 16 will soon link directly to Interstate 84, a major improvement that will enhance regional travel and accessibility to Boise and Meridian.

A quiet glimpse of country living

A PEACEFUL PLACE TO BELONG

Star embodies the quiet beauty and neighborly warmth that define Idaho's Treasure Valley. With its inviting landscapes, family friendly lifestyle, and easy access to both outdoor adventure and city amenities, Star is a place where life moves at just the right pace, a town that truly lives up to its name.

WELCOME TO KUNA

A welcoming mix of shops in the heart of town

COUNTRY SPIRIT, MODERN ENERGY

Kuna captures the essence of Idaho's rural charm while embracing the growth and opportunity of the Treasure Valley. Located about 18 miles southwest of Boise, this friendly and fast growing community offers the perfect blend of peaceful country living and easy access to city conveniences. Open skies, welcoming neighbors, and a genuine small town spirit define life here, where the pace is relaxed and the views stretch for miles.

Kuna's roots are grounded in agriculture, but its energy is unmistakably forward looking. From family owned farms to new neighborhoods and local businesses, the city is growing while holding tight to its small town spirit. It's a place where tradition and progress coexist beautifully, offering a slower pace of life that's increasingly rare yet deeply appreciated.

NATURE, ADVENTURE & WIDE OPEN SPACES

Outdoor adventure comes naturally in Kuna. The city is surrounded by some of Idaho's most stunning scenery, offering endless ways to explore and unwind. Just south of town, Swan Falls Dam along the Snake River is a favorite for fishing, picnicking, and taking in sweeping canyon views. Nearby, the Morley Nelson Snake River Birds of Prey National Conservation Area is home to one of the densest populations of nesting raptors in North America—an awe inspiring sight for bird lovers and outdoor enthusiasts alike.

Closer to town, the Indian Creek Greenbelt provides a scenic route for walking, jogging, and biking through peaceful landscapes. For a one of a kind adventure, the Kuna Caves invite visitors to experience Idaho's volcanic past through a series of underground lava tubes, a hidden gem for the truly curious.

HEART OF THE COMMUNITY

Downtown Kuna reflects the city's warmth and welcoming nature. Main Street is lined with local restaurants, shops, and cafés that bring neighbors together in true small town fashion. Each summer, Kuna Days fills the streets with parades, live music, and fireworks, celebrating community pride and connection. Seasonal farmers markets, pumpkin patches, fall festivities, outdoor concerts, and family events keep the calendar full and the atmosphere lively year round.

Small town charm with big city amenities close by

GROWTH & OPPORTUNITY

As Kuna continues to grow, it remains one of the Treasure Valley's most inviting and well balanced communities. New developments offer a variety of housing options—from cozy starter homes to spacious properties with room to roam—while maintaining the open space and country charm that define the city. The arrival of the Meta (Facebook) Data Center marks Kuna's emergence as a regional hub for innovation, bringing new opportunities while preserving its agricultural heritage.

A SIMPLER WAY OF LIFE

In Kuna, balance comes naturally. It's a community where families, professionals, and retirees alike find room to breathe, connect, and thrive. With its scenic surroundings, strong values, slower pace of life, and convenient proximity to Boise, Kuna offers a lifestyle that's both relaxed and full of promise—a place that feels unmistakably like home.

WELCOME TO NAMPA

Lake Lowell is a favorite spot for fishing and summer boating

TRADITION, GROWTH & CONNECTION

Nampa perfectly blends Idaho's agricultural heritage with the energy of modern growth. As the third largest city in the state and one of the fastest growing in the nation, Nampa has managed to expand while staying true to its roots, a welcoming city where neighbors still wave hello and local pride runs deep. Located in Canyon County, just 20 miles west of Boise, Nampa offers residents a balanced lifestyle with affordability, opportunity, and a strong sense of place.

OUTDOOR RECREATION & NATURAL BEAUTY

Life in Nampa comes with plenty of room to roam. With more than two dozen parks throughout the city, outdoor spaces are part of the daily rhythm here. Just south of town, Lake Lowell offers boating, fishing, swimming, and picnicking beneath wide Idaho skies. Surrounding the lake, the Deer Flat National Wildlife Refuge is a haven for bird watchers, hikers, and horseback riders, providing endless ways to explore the region's natural beauty.

DOWNTOWN CHARACTER & CULTURE

Downtown Nampa, centered around 2nd Street South, pairs historic charm with a growing creative energy. Locally owned boutiques, coffee shops, restaurants, and breweries fill the streets, giving the district a lively, walkable atmosphere. The Nampa Train Depot Museum, a beautifully restored landmark, anchors the downtown area and highlights the city's rich railroad and agricultural heritage.

Residents and visitors alike enjoy local attractions like Labyrinth Escape Games, an immersive escape room experience that adds a touch of adventure to downtown entertainment. The mix of small businesses, arts, and activities gives the area a sense of discovery and community connection.

Just a few miles away, the Ford Idaho Center hosts major concerts, trade shows, rodeos, and sporting events, serving as one of the premier entertainment venues in the Pacific Northwest. The annual Snake River Stampede Rodeo, ranked among the nation's top professional rodeos, brings excitement each summer, while the Nampa Festival of the Arts celebrates local talent and craftsmanship.

INDUSTRY, INNOVATION & OPPORTUNITY

Nampa's economy continues to grow, supported by a strong mix of agriculture, manufacturing, and business innovation. The city remains a cornerstone of Idaho's agricultural industry, home to major producers like Sorrento Lactalis, one of the world's largest manufacturers of concentrated milk, and the historic sugar beet factory that shaped Nampa's early economy. Today, new industries and entrepreneurs are finding opportunity here, drawn by Nampa's strategic location, skilled workforce, and business friendly approach.

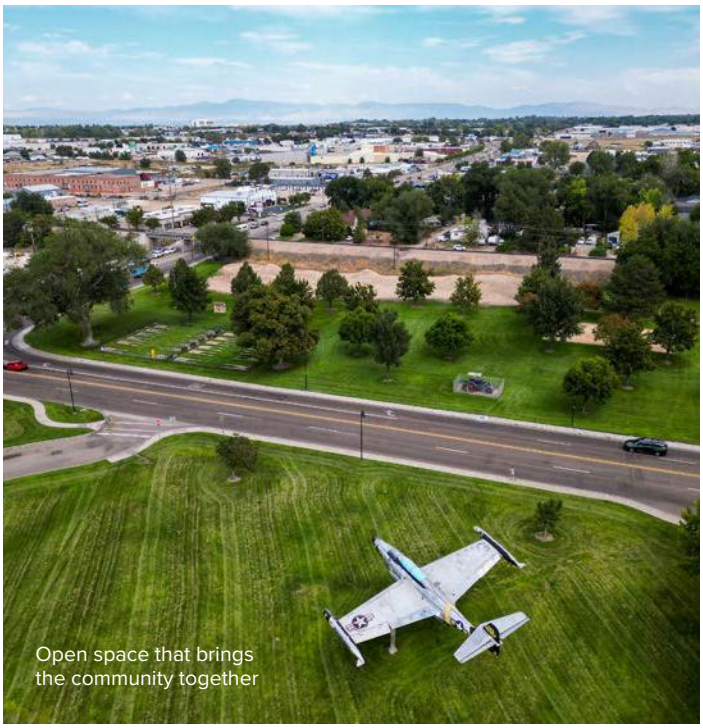

Both the Saint Alphonsus Medical Center and St. Luke's Nampa Medical Center provide full service facilities, ensuring residents have access to top quality healthcare close to home. The city is also home to Northwest Nazarene University, a respected private Christian university that enriches the community through education, innovation, and cultural engagement.

NEIGHBORHOODS & LIFESTYLE

Nampa offers a variety of housing options designed for every stage of life, from comfortable starter homes and modern subdivisions to rural properties with wide open views. Neighborhoods are known for their friendliness, well maintained parks, and open spaces that invite connection. Residents also appreciate the convenience of

Nampa Train Depot Museum

Costco, a favorite local stop for shopping and essentials that serves as a community hub for the growing west side. The city's affordability and livability make it a popular choice for families, professionals, and retirees alike.

THE HEART OF CANYON COUNTY

Nampa is a place that honors its heritage while embracing its future. With its affordable living, active lifestyle, and growing opportunities, it continues to attract those looking for a grounded yet forward moving community. Set against the backdrop of Idaho's sweeping farmlands and mountain views, Nampa offers the best of both worlds, a city that feels vibrant, authentic, and unmistakably home.

WELCOME TO CALDWELL

Community energy fills Indian Creek Plaza

HERITAGE, GROWTH & WESTERN CHARM

Caldwell is where Idaho's rich agricultural heritage meets a lively and modern way of life. Located in Canyon County, about 28 miles west of Boise, this growing city combines small town warmth with easy access to shopping, dining, and entertainment. With its revitalized downtown, deep rooted traditions, and position at the heart of Idaho's wine country, Caldwell offers a lifestyle that's both relaxed and full of possibility.

WINE COUNTRY & SCENIC SURROUNDINGS

Caldwell is the gateway to the Snake River Valley Wine Region, one of Idaho's most celebrated destinations. Rolling vineyards and award winning wineries stretch across the hillsides, offering tastings, tours, and events that showcase the area's distinctive terroir. Whether you're sipping a crisp Chardonnay on a sunny patio or exploring the scenic countryside, Caldwell's wine country delivers an experience that's both refined and inviting.

Beyond the vineyards, outdoor adventure abounds. Lake Lowell, just south of the city, is a favorite for boating, fishing, bird watching, and lakeside picnics. To the south, the Owyhee Mountains provide rugged trails for hiking, camping, and exploring Idaho's wild beauty, perfect for weekend escapes and open air adventures.

DOWNTOWN ENERGY & LOCAL CONNECTION

Caldwell's downtown has experienced a remarkable transformation in recent years, becoming one of the Treasure Valley's most vibrant gathering places. Centered around Indian Creek Plaza, this lively district features restaurants, shops, and year round events that bring people together. In the summer, the plaza buzzes with live music, farmers markets, and festivals; in winter, it transforms into a sparkling ice skating rink surrounded by twinkling lights.

Nearby, the Caldwell Farmers Market showcases fresh produce and handmade goods from local growers and artisans. The historic charm continues along downtown's tree lined streets, where restored buildings now house boutiques, cafés, and galleries that reflect the city's creative spirit.

HERITAGE & CELEBRATION

Caldwell's agricultural legacy runs deep, and it's proudly celebrated every year at the Caldwell Night Rodeo, a nationally recognized event that brings the community together for five days of rodeo action, western traditions, and family fun. The city's historic Steunenberg District offers another glimpse into Caldwell's past, with beautifully preserved homes and landmarks honoring the pioneers who helped shape the region.

A peaceful walk along Indian Creek

It's also home to The College of Idaho, the state's first private liberal arts college, which adds educational excellence and vibrant student life to the community.

NEIGHBORHOODS & LIVABILITY

Caldwell's housing market offers a mix of affordability, character, and new growth. From charming established neighborhoods to modern developments on the city's edge, homebuyers will find plenty of options to suit their needs and budgets. Parks and green spaces like Indian Creek Park provide easy access to recreation, while the city's convenient freeway access makes commuting across the Treasure Valley simple and efficient.

A TASTE OF IDAHO LIVING

Caldwell embodies the best of Idaho living, welcoming, connected, and surrounded by natural beauty. From its celebrated wine country and thriving downtown to its strong sense of tradition and steady growth, Caldwell offers a lifestyle that's full of charm and opportunity. It's a city where every season brings something new to enjoy, and where life feels distinctly, and delightfully, Idaho.

WELCOME TO MIDDLETON

Acreage living offers space to breath and unwind

HISTORIC ROOTS, PEACEFUL LIVING

Middleton, Idaho, offers the perfect balance of rural tranquility and modern convenience. Located about 32 miles west of Boise, this charming town in Canyon County is the region's oldest settlement, rich in history and surrounded by scenic farmland and open skies. Its small town character, natural beauty, and welcoming atmosphere make it a favorite for those seeking a slower, more peaceful pace of life.

NATURE, SPACE & SERENITY

Middleton's landscape is defined by wide open fields, meandering creeks, and views of the Boise River and foothills. The setting provides endless opportunities for outdoor enjoyment, from fishing and hiking to bird watching beneath expansive Idaho skies. Evenings here often end with sunset views and a sense of calm that's increasingly rare to find.

DOWNTOWN CHARM & LOCAL TRADITIONS

At the center of town lies Downtown Middleton, where locally owned shops, cafés, and restaurants create a warm and familiar atmosphere. Seasonal events like the Harvest Festival bring neighbors together for parades, live music, and family fun, celebrating Middleton's agricultural roots and close connections. Throughout the year, the downtown area remains a gathering place where local businesses and residents keep the town's traditions alive.

PARKS, FAMILY LIFE & RECREATION

Middleton's parks are a cornerstone of daily life. Foote Park and Hawthorne Park offer green spaces for recreation, play, and community gatherings. Families enjoy picnics, concerts, and seasonal celebrations such as Fourth of July fireworks, Easter events, and festive winter displays. These parks serve as the heart of local activity, fostering connection and outdoor enjoyment for all ages.

Nearby parks offer a great way to escape into nature

RURAL CHARM, MODERN ACCESS

While Middleton feels a world away from the rush of city life, its convenient proximity to Interstate 84 ensures easy access to nearby communities like Nampa, Caldwell, and Boise. Housing options range from beautifully restored historic homes to newer neighborhoods designed with open layouts and mountain views. Many properties feature large lots, garden spaces, and the kind of peaceful surroundings that define Idaho's rural lifestyle.

WHERE TIME MOVES GENTLY

Middleton embodies what so many seek in Idaho living—space to grow, a genuine sense of belonging, and a connection to nature and history. With its friendly atmosphere, pastoral beauty, and easy access to urban amenities, Middleton offers a lifestyle that's as relaxed as it is rewarding. It's a town that invites you to slow down, stay awhile, and truly feel at home.

WELCOME TO EMMETT

Orchards offer plenty of fresh fruit to pick in Emmett

THE VALLEY OF PLENTY

Tucked within the lush Payette River Valley, Emmett is a peaceful retreat surrounded by fertile farmland, rolling hills, and mountain views. Located about 30 miles north of Boise, this inviting town offers a lifestyle rooted in simplicity, connection, and natural abundance. Known for its friendly atmosphere and timeless charm, Emmett provides the best of Idaho living, close enough to the city yet far enough to feel like a world apart.

HARVEST HERITAGE & LOCAL FLAVOR

Emmett's identity is deeply tied to its agricultural roots. Often called the "Valley of Plenty," the area's rich soil has supported generations of local farmers and continues to produce a bounty of crops each year. Visitors can enjoy U-pick orchards throughout the valley, offering fresh cherries, peaches, apricots, and berries each season. This legacy comes to life each June during the Emmett Cherry Festival, a beloved multiday celebration filled with parades, live music, food vendors, and hometown fun. It's an annual reminder of the valley's bounty and the pride residents take in their community's traditions.

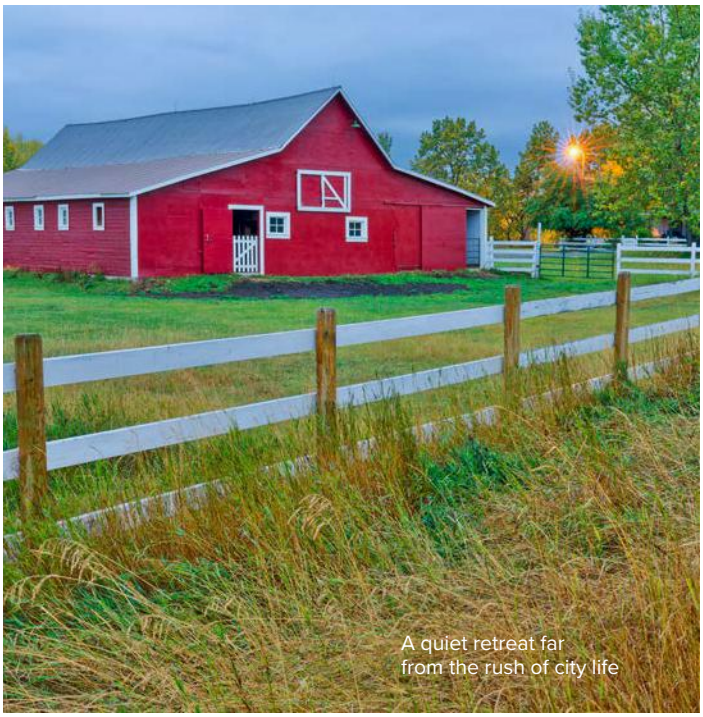

SCENIC ADVENTURES & OUTDOOR ESCAPE

Nature surrounds Emmett in every direction. The nearby Black Canyon Dam on the Payette River offers excellent fishing, boating, and picnicking, while the surrounding foothills provide trails for hiking, mountain biking, and horseback riding. During winter, nearby mountain slopes invite snow sports enthusiasts to ski, sled, and explore. Whether it's a quiet walk along the river or a weekend camping trip, the area's outdoor beauty is always close by.

A WELCOMING DOWNTOWN

Downtown Emmett captures the essence of small town Idaho. Its Main Street features a charming mix of locally owned shops, cafés, and family run restaurants, many housed in historic buildings that tell the story of the town's past. Seasonal events such as the Gem County Fair and Rodeo, the Harvest Festival, and the Downtown Street Fair bring color and life to the streets throughout the year. Each gathering reflects the pride and connection that define life in this close knit community.

HOME & EVERYDAY LIVING

Emmett's housing landscape offers both character and value. From classic homes on tree lined streets to modern developments and rural properties with acreage, options here cater to a wide range of lifestyles. The cost of living remains attractive compared to larger nearby cities, drawing families, retirees, and professionals who appreciate space, affordability, and a strong sense of belonging.

A TRUE GEM OF IDAHO

With its fertile fields, scenic surroundings, and enduring traditions, Emmett lives up to its place in Gem County. Residents enjoy a peaceful rhythm of life supported by local healthcare, schools, and businesses, all set against a backdrop of stunning natural beauty. For those seeking authenticity, open skies, and genuine connection, Emmett is a quiet treasure waiting to be discovered.

WELCOME TO MOUNTAIN HOME

Mountain Home Air Force Base serves as a cornerstone of the region

HERITAGE, GROWTH & THE HIGH DESERT LIFESTYLE

Set against the wide open landscapes of southern Idaho's high desert, Mountain Home offers a distinctive blend of small town comfort, military pride, and outdoor adventure. Located about 40 miles southeast of Boise, it provides the perfect balance between peaceful living and convenient access to the capital's amenities.

A PROUD MILITARY CONNECTION

Mountain Home's identity is deeply tied to Mountain Home Air Force Base, home of the 366th Fighter Wing. Since the 1940s, the base has been a cornerstone of the community, shaping the city's culture, economy, and sense of purpose. In 2025, the Department of Defense announced the addition of a Qatar Emiri Air Force training facility, strengthening international partnerships and expanding local opportunities. The base's influence extends far beyond its gates, creating a strong bond between service members, families, and local residents that defines the city's character.

OUTDOOR FREEDOM & HIGH DESERT BEAUTY

Surrounded by sweeping desert vistas and rugged canyons, Mountain Home is an outdoor enthusiast's paradise. Locals enjoy golfing at Desert Canyon Golf Course, hiking and sandboarding at Bruneau Dunes State Park, home to North America's tallest single structured sand dune, and boating or fishing at nearby CJ Strike and Anderson Ranch Reservoirs. The surrounding foothills and open spaces invite hiking, camping, and stargazing under some of Idaho's clearest skies.

DOWNTOWN LIFE & LOCAL EVENTS

Mountain Home's downtown reflects the city's friendly, grounded nature. Historic buildings now house cafés, family run restaurants, and small businesses that serve as gathering places for locals. The city's signature celebration, Air Force Appreciation Day, is one of Idaho's largest parades and a proud annual tribute to the men and women stationed at the base. Throughout the year, additional festivals and local markets add to the rhythm of small town life, creating a sense of connection and continuity that residents cherish.

DEVELOPMENT, OPPORTUNITY & WHAT'S AHEAD

While Mountain Home remains true to its roots, new growth is reshaping the city's horizon. The nearby Mayfield Springs project, located along I-84, is expected to bring more than 2,000 new homes to the region, signaling continued residential expansion and investment. Two tribal resort casino proposals are currently under consideration near Mountain Home. One, backed by the Shoshone-

Rural life in Mountain Home often includes moments like this

Bannock Tribes, envisions a 157 acre destination featuring a hotel, gaming floor, and entertainment complex. A competing project proposed by the Shoshone-Paiute Tribes, in partnership with the Coeur d'Alene Tribe, outlines a similar concept along the I-84 corridor. If approved, these developments could significantly boost tourism, create jobs, and elevate the region's profile.

HOUSING, LIFESTYLE & LIVABILITY

Mountain Home's housing market remains among the most affordable in the Treasure Valley, offering a range of choices from established neighborhoods to new construction. Its lower cost of living, safe streets, and proximity to outdoor adventure make it a natural fit for families, professionals, and retirees alike. The city's steady infrastructure improvements and business friendly climate are helping it transition from a quiet service town to a growing residential hub.

A COMMUNITY ON THE RISE

Mountain Home's appeal lies in its balance of tradition and transformation. With a proud military legacy, a strong sense of connection, and major new developments on the horizon, the city is poised for an exciting future. Whether you're drawn by open landscapes, a welcoming atmosphere, or the opportunity to be part of a community on the rise, Mountain Home captures the spirit of Idaho, resilient, grounded, and full of promise.

TOUR & TASTE

Sit back and relax on a guided wine tour through the Sunnyslope Wine Trail and enjoy the views between each stop. Local guides share stories about the land, the grapes, and the people behind the pours, turning every tasting into a glimpse of Idaho's winemaking culture.

LOCAL BREWERIES

From ciders to stouts, beer fans can find many breweries to choose from

Grab your friends and hop on the bike bar

The craft beer culture continues to grow, blending creative brewing with community spirit. Across the Treasure Valley, more than forty breweries and cideries create a mix of established favorites and fresh new names. Many feature outdoor patios, food trucks, and live music, offering a welcoming taste of Idaho's laid back lifestyle.

10 Barrel Brewing: A lively downtown hangout serving a full menu alongside its rotating lineup of Northwest style beers. Guests can sip favorites indoors or on the rooftop patio overlooking the city.

Barbarian Brewing: Known for bold and experimental creations, this brewery pours everything from barrel aged sours to hazy IPAs. Its Garden City and downtown taprooms are relaxed, social spaces perfect for trying something new.

Bear Island Brewing Company: A family run favorite offering inventive small batch beers brewed with local ingredients and served in a welcoming Boise taproom.

Boise Brewing: A community supported operation where locals can actually own a share of the brewery. The taproom near downtown hosts events and pours a reliable mix of year round and seasonal favorites.

Brown Beard Brewing: Two Boise taprooms known for bold pours, live music, and rich barrel aged flavor, offering a friendly space to settle in with friends and enjoy the local craft scene.

Clairvoyant Brewing: A laid back, neighborhood spot known for its creative beers and easygoing vibe. It is a local staple with a warm crowd and frequent live music.

Cloud 9 Brewery: Idaho's only certified organic brewery offers a menu built around locally sourced ingredients, with six house taps and rotating seasonal releases.

Highlands Hollow Brewhouse: The city's oldest microbrewery continues to serve handcrafted ales paired with hearty comfort food in a cozy lodge style space near the foothills.

Lost Grove Brewing: A sustainability minded brewery that blends good beer with good causes. The modern taproom often hosts music nights, fundraisers, and food trucks.

Mother Earth Brew Co.: Based in Nampa, this brewery crafts a wide selection of lagers and ales distributed throughout the region, with a laid back local taproom for sampling.

Payette Brewing Company: One of Idaho's largest and most beloved breweries, featuring a spacious taproom, large outdoor lawn, and an ever changing tap list that showcases both flagship and limited releases.

Powderhaus Brewing: Inspired by the mountain lifestyle, this brewery focuses on bold, adventurous beers enjoyed best after a day outdoors. Its cozy woodsy taproom channels Idaho's rugged charm.

Sockeye Brewing: A long standing Boise favorite known for its classic IPAs and well balanced ales. With two taprooms and a strong local following, it has become a cornerstone of the regional beer scene.

Voodoo Brewing: A laid back craft taproom in Boise offering inventive beers, seasonal cocktails, and a menu of comfort favorites like burgers and pizza, perfect for gathering with friends.

GIVING BACK TO OUR CHARITIES

Camp Rainbow Gold

Rake Up Boise

There's a spirit of connection that runs deeper than friendly smiles and neighborhood block parties. Community is not just a concept, it's a way of life. Residents here take pride in giving back and helping their neighbors thrive. Spending their extra free time volunteering at a local food bank, mentoring youth, or diving into a conservation project along the Boise River.

From Boise's bustling network of nonprofits to small town service clubs, opportunities to get involved are everywhere. Newcomers often find that volunteering is one of the fastest ways to feel at home and one of the most rewarding ways to experience Idaho's values of generosity and togetherness.

LOCAL INVOLVEMENT

Service often starts with neighbors helping neighbors through simple acts of kindness that ripple through entire communities. As teams of volunteers from local businesses, schools, churches, and civic groups come together to support seniors, veterans, and residents in need, two of the region's most loved traditions showcase that giving spirit year after year.

PAINT THE TOWN

Since 1982 this program has united volunteers to paint homes for neighbors who are unable to maintain their exteriors. It is a colorful display of teamwork and community pride that brightens homes and hearts across the valley.

nwboise.org/paint-the-town

RAKE UP BOISE

Each fall, volunteers gather to rake leaves and lend a helping hand to those who need it most. The event has grown into a beloved tradition, bringing people together through simple acts of service that make a big difference.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Getting involved is not just about giving your time, it is about investing yourself in the place you live. In the Treasure Valley, service connects new residents to established local rhythms, helps build strong networks, and can make relocating feel like less of a change and more like coming home.

Whether you volunteer once a year or become a regular contributor, community involvement gives you roots, a sense of purpose, and an insider's view into what makes the region so vibrant.

OTHER WAYS TO GET INVOLVED

- Join a monthly cleanup of the Boise River Greenbelt or a local park through the Idaho Conservation League.
- Mentor a youth or support a teen leadership program with the One Stone initiative.
- Volunteer for a one time event like a community run, food drive, or pop up outreach.
- Start your own micro service group: pick a project such as neighborhood yard work, senior check in visits, or garden tutoring, and invite neighbors, coworkers, or friends to participate regularly.

WELCOME TO

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Idaho's great outdoors invites everyone to slow down, explore, and reconnect with what matters most. From mountain peaks to river valleys, the state's landscapes offer endless ways to adventure, unwind, and make memories in every season. Whether you're hiking a quiet trail, casting a line at sunrise, or simply breathing in pine scented air beneath a sky full of stars, Idaho's natural beauty has a way of turning every moment into an experience you will never forget.

A peaceful day on the water

Serene water adventures await on mountain lakes

BACKPACKING

For those seeking solitude and adventure, Idaho's backcountry reveals miles of rugged mountain trails and pristine wilderness. Trekkers can explore the Sawtooth Range, Hells Canyon, and countless alpine lakes along routes ranging from gentle overnights to multiday challenges. Well marked paths and wide open spaces invite travelers to slow down and connect with the land. Every journey rewards hikers with quiet moments, stunning vistas, and a true sense of Idaho's wild heart.

BIRD WATCHING

The Gem State's varied habitats make it a haven for bird enthusiasts. From mountain meadows to riverside wetlands, Idaho hosts an array of species throughout the seasons. Bald eagles soar above shimmering lakes, while warblers and finches fill the forests with song. With each outing comes the chance to glimpse herons, ospreys, and even the elusive peregrine falcon, turning every sighting into a moment of wonder.

CAMPING

Few places rival Idaho when it comes to sleeping under the stars. Campers can pitch tents beside mountain lakes, deep in pine forests, or near winding rivers perfect for fishing and swimming. The state's campgrounds range from backcountry escapes to family friendly sites with full amenities. With wide open skies and endless trails nearby, camping here turns every outing into a memory that lingers long after the fire fades.

FISHING

Idaho's rivers, lakes, and reservoirs promise exceptional fishing in every direction. From the famed Henry's Fork and Silver Creek to Lake Pend Oreille and the Snake River, anglers can cast for trout, bass, or salmon in clear, cold waters. Conservation efforts keep these waterways thriving, making each trip both sustainable and rewarding. Whether it is fly fishing at sunrise or spending an afternoon by a quiet stream, Idaho delivers a fishing experience like no other.

HIKING

Trails lead explorers through alpine meadows, forested canyons, and breathtaking summit views. From short scenic strolls to challenging mountain climbs, there is a path for every level and pace. Well maintained routes and stunning backdrops invite locals and newcomers alike to wander off the beaten path. Each hike offers its own reward, fresh air, open skies, and the sense of calm that only nature provides.

HORSEBACK RIDING

Exploring on horseback offers a timeless way to connect with its sweeping landscapes. Trails wind through rolling foothills, aspen groves, and open valleys dotted with wildflowers. Popular destinations like the Sawtooth National Recreation Area and City of Rocks feature breathtaking rides suited for all experience levels. From quiet morning rides to all day treks, it is an adventure that captures the state's western spirit beautifully.

A mountain biker's paradise with trails for every thrill

Whitewater rafting is a must for adventure seekers

HUNTING

Across Idaho's diverse terrain, hunting remains a proud tradition and a deep connection to the land. The state's forests, valleys, and plains support abundant wildlife from elk and deer to waterfowl and upland birds. Guided hunts and well managed seasons ensure both safety and sustainability. Whether seasoned or new to the sport, hunters here find not just the pursuit of game, but a genuine respect for Idaho's wild places.

MOUNTAIN BIKING

With trails that weave through forests, hills, and mountain ridges, Idaho stands out as a premier biking destination. Riders can enjoy everything from smooth single track loops to rugged downhill routes with sweeping views. A thriving biking community keeps the trail network in top shape, hosting rides and events throughout the year. Every turn brings new scenery, fresh challenges, and a reminder that Idaho is built for adventure.

OFF ROADING

Exploring by ATV, dirt bike, or four wheel drive reveals a side of the state few ever see. Vast dunes, forested trails, and alpine roads stretch across untamed terrain that calls to thrill seekers. Popular routes near St. Anthony and the Boise National Forest deliver heart pounding fun and unforgettable scenery. Whether cruising with friends or venturing solo, off roading here captures the pure freedom of the open trail.

ROCK CLIMBING

Idaho's dramatic landscapes provide endless opportunities for climbers to test their strength and skill. The City of Rocks National Reserve offers world class granite routes, while the Sawtooth Range pairs alpine beauty with technical challenge. From bouldering to traditional climbing, each ascent rewards courage with sweeping views. The feeling of accomplishment at the summit is something that stays with you long after the climb is done.

SKIING & SNOWBOARDING

Winter transforms the mountains into playgrounds of fresh powder and open slopes. Resorts like Bogus Basin, Brundage Mountain, and Sun Valley welcome skiers and snowboarders of all levels. Beyond the lifts, cross country trails and backcountry routes offer peaceful escapes amid snow covered pines. When the peaks glow pink at sunset, every day on the mountain feels like a celebration of the season.

WHITEWATER RAFTING

Few adventures capture Idaho's spirit quite like navigating its rushing rivers. The Payette, Salmon, and Snake Rivers deliver thrilling rapids balanced by calm stretches perfect for soaking in the scenery. Experienced guides lead safe and exciting trips, often combining rafting with riverside camping or natural hot springs. Companies such as Cascade Raft and Kayak, Sawtooth Adventure Company, and Wilderness River Outfitters make it easy to experience Idaho's waters in unforgettable ways.

ICONIC SKI RESORTS

Idaho ski resorts offer endless winter fun

Idaho's mountain resorts offer four seasons of beauty and excitement, where every trail, summit, and chairlift tells a story of adventure. From the powder filled slopes of the Boise Mountains to the alpine charm of Sun Valley, these destinations invite both thrill seekers and families to make the most of every season. When the snow falls, skiers and snowboarders find pristine runs and stunning views. As the sun returns, the mountains come alive with hiking, mountain biking, concerts, and golf under open blue skies. From the first run of winter to a summer morning on the trail, Idaho's ski resorts capture the best of the state's outdoor spirit all year long.

BOGUS BASIN

Just 16 miles from Boise, Bogus Basin offers a beloved local escape for winter and summer fun. This nonprofit resort spans more than 2,600 acres of skiable terrain with night skiing, a tubing hill, and plenty of family friendly space for all skill levels. When the snow melts, the mountain transforms into a playground for hiking, mountain biking, concerts, and yoga with sweeping views of the Treasure Valley.

BRUNDAGE MOUNTAIN RESORT

Located 117 miles from Boise near McCall, Brundage Mountain is celebrated for its deep powder and diverse terrain across 1,500 acres. Visitors can enjoy well maintained runs, snowmobile tours, and backcountry access surrounded by panoramic mountain views. In summer, chairlifts carry hikers and bikers to mountain trails that wind through forested slopes.

SOLDIER MOUNTAIN

About 112 miles southeast of Boise in the Sawtooth National Forest, Soldier Mountain offers a welcoming, family friendly experience. With 2,000 acres of terrain and renowned backcountry skiing, it provides the perfect balance of adventure and relaxation. When the snow recedes, the mountain opens for hiking and biking, creating a peaceful summer retreat.

SUN VALLEY RESORT

Roughly 154 miles from Boise, Sun Valley remains Idaho's most iconic ski destination and a cornerstone of mountain culture. Winter visitors enjoy world class skiing, Nordic trails, and a lively après ski atmosphere surrounded by stunning alpine scenery. In summer, the resort's golf courses, trails, and cultural events draw guests from across the country, continuing its legacy as Idaho's crown jewel.

TAMARACK RESORT

Set 102 miles north of Boise, Tamarack combines mountain luxury with endless recreation. Skiers and snowboarders carve across varied slopes with views of Lake Cascade, while summer brings mountain biking, ziplining, and kayaking on the nearby water. The resort's concerts, dining, and golf at Osprey Meadows make it a vibrant year round destination for every kind of traveler.

EXPLORE

OUR TRAILS

There is no better way to experience Boise than on its trails. These winding paths reveal the heart of the Treasure Valley, where city views meet rolling foothills and quiet forests. Every turn offers a new perspective, from the Boise skyline to the scent of sage after rain and the sound of the river below. Whether you have an hour or a whole day, Boise's trails promise an easy escape into nature's rhythm.

CAMELS BACK HULLS GULCH LOOP

Explore this 3.9 mile loop trail near Boise, an inviting route that blends accessibility with scenic variety. With an elevation gain of 465 feet, it generally takes about one and a half to two hours to complete, making it perfect for a morning or evening outing. Popular with hikers, bikers, and birdwatchers, it offers peaceful moments during quieter times of day. Open year round, it showcases the changing colors of every season, offering an easy escape close to the city.

CAMELS BACK TRAIL LOOP

Enjoy this 1.7 mile loop within Hulls Gulch Reserve, a moderate hike that rewards you with sweeping views of Boise and the Treasure Valley. The route typically takes between thirty minutes and one hour, gaining 324 feet in elevation before reaching its scenic summit. Parking can be limited at the trailhead, but additional spaces are available nearby at Camels Back Park. It's a short, satisfying route that captures the essence of Boise's foothill beauty.

CERVIDAE PEAK

A local classic for seasoned hikers, this 4.5 mile out and back trail climbs steeply for 1,883 feet, offering a heart pounding workout and panoramic summit views. Expect the full trip to take around three and a half to four hours, depending on pace. Located about 17 miles from Boise, it begins past Spring Shores Marina before rising toward the ridge line. From the top, enjoy sweeping vistas of Shafer Butte, Thorn Creek Butte, and Pilot Peak, best explored from late spring through early fall.

FREDDY'S STACK ROCK TRAIL

This 11.6 mile loop near Boise is a favorite among hikers, birdwatchers, and horseback riders. Plan for about five to five and a half hours on the trail as it winds through wooded terrain and open ridgelines with 1,335 feet of elevation gain. The best months to visit are April through October, when wildflowers dot the slopes. Dogs are welcome but must remain leashed. Those who reach the summit are rewarded with an incredible view of the valley below.

HULLS GULCH INTERPRETIVE TRAIL

A 6.5 mile out and back hike that offers a moderate challenge and a rewarding glimpse into Boise's natural landscape. It usually takes three to three and a half hours to complete, with 1,138 feet of elevation gain along the way. The route winds past a seasonal creek, small waterfalls after rain, and stands of pine and wildflowers. The trail begins on a hillside before dipping into the gulch itself, where steep canyon walls rise dramatically on either side.

KEPROS MOUNTAIN TRAIL

This 9.4 mile route near Boise promises a vigorous climb and wide open views. Expect to spend about five to five and a half hours on the trail, gaining nearly 1,978 feet in elevation. It's a favorite among runners, hikers, and birdwatchers, especially between April and June when the conditions are ideal. Leashed dogs are welcome, and while the route is challenging, the panoramic rewards at the top make every step worthwhile.

POLECAT LOOP TRAIL

A local favorite year round, this 6.1 mile loop near Boise offers moderate terrain with an elevation gain of 748 feet. Most hikers complete it in about two and a half to three hours, enjoying rolling foothills and open landscapes filled with wild sage and grassland views. Ideal for hiking, biking, and horseback riding, it's a friendly, social trail where you'll likely meet fellow outdoor enthusiasts.

RED CLIFFS NATURE CENTER TRAIL

This 3.1 mile loop features a gentle climb of 482 feet and typically takes about one and a half to two hours to complete. Starting from the base of the Red Cliffs, the route ascends steadily before leveling out into a relaxed downhill return. With its balance of challenge and comfort, the trail makes an excellent choice for families or anyone seeking a shorter hike with plenty of scenic rewards.

TABLE ROCK TRAIL

A must do for locals and visitors alike, the Table Rock Trail spans 3.9 miles and climbs 882 feet to one of Boise's most iconic viewpoints. Plan for about two to two and a half hours to reach the summit and return. The route passes a historic quarry and leads to the striking cross monument overlooking the city skyline. The exposed terrain offers little shade, so early morning or cooler months are best for this rewarding climb.

THE BOISE RIVER GREENBELT

The Boise River Greenbelt is one of the Treasure Valley's most beloved features, stretching more than 25 miles and connecting parks, neighborhoods, and local destinations along the Boise River. This scenic pathway runs from Lucky Peak all the way to Eagle, creating a continuous green corridor through the heart of the city. It offers both residents and visitors a peaceful retreat where nature and community come together.

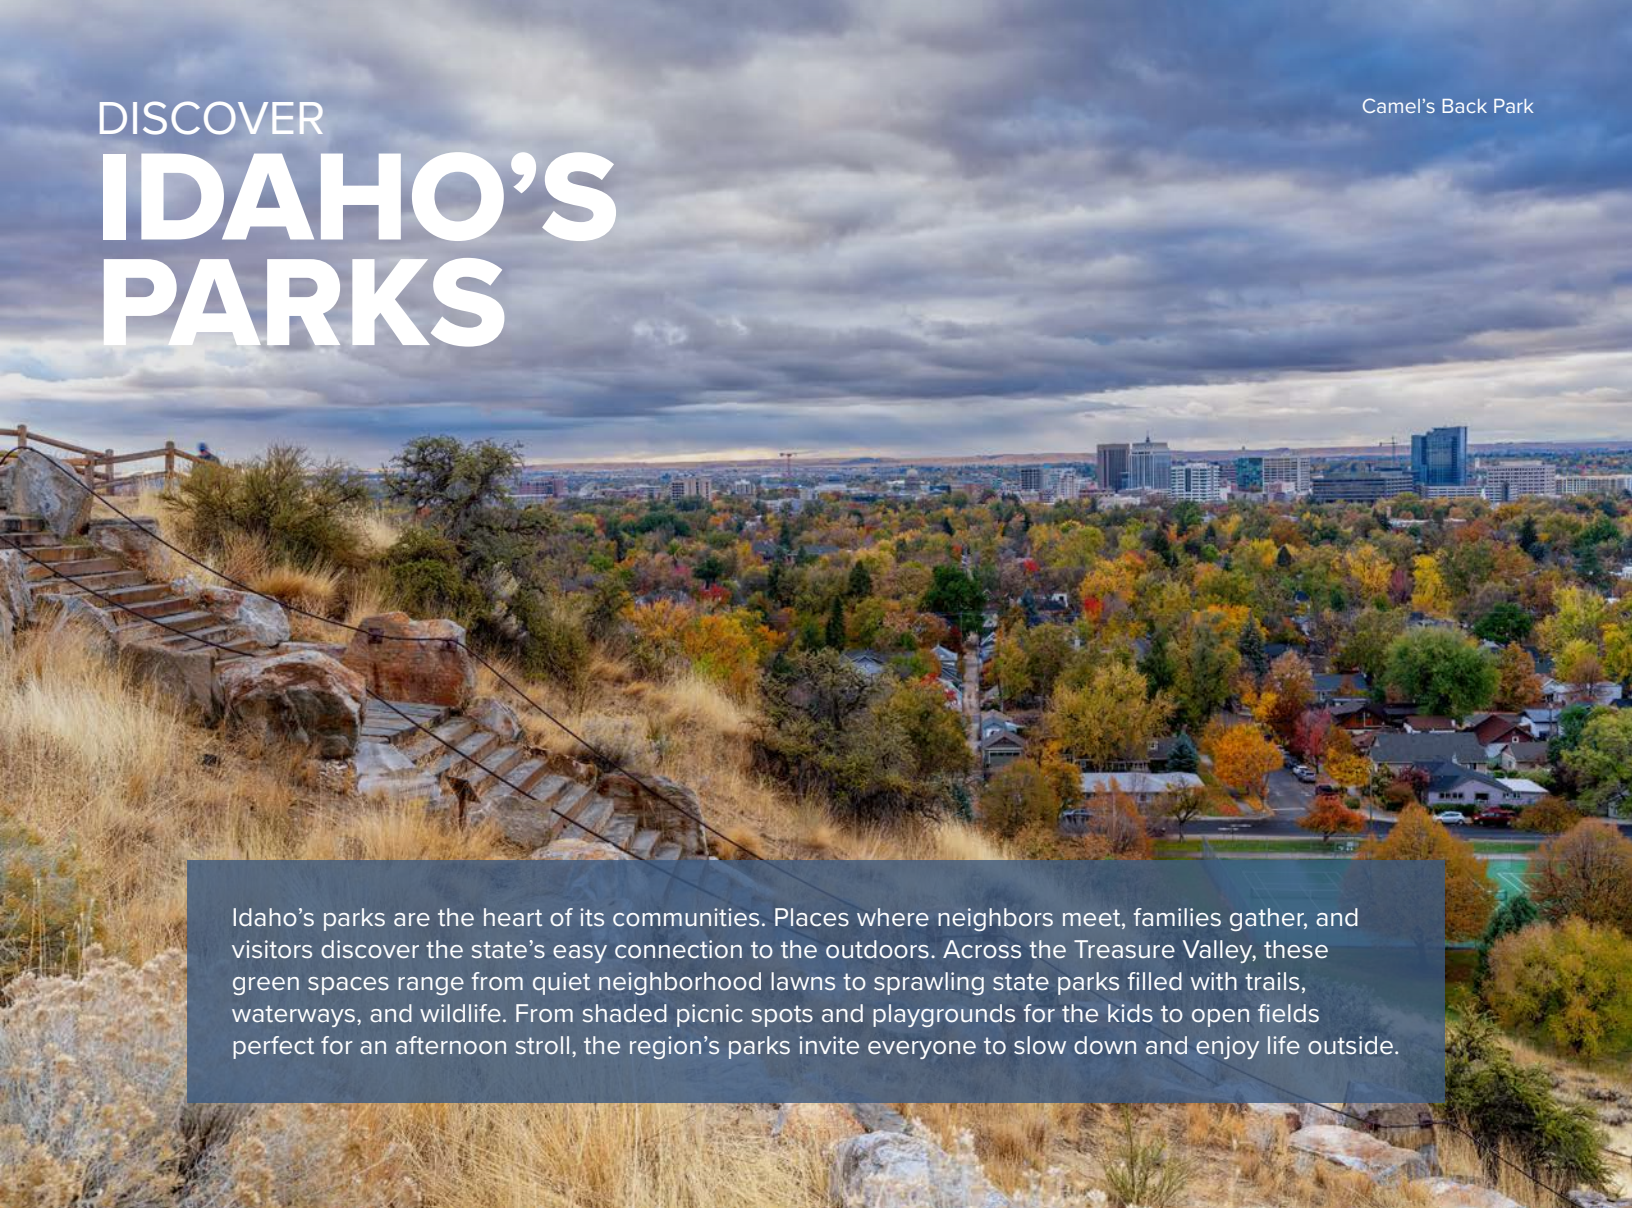

Lined with trees and wildlife, the Greenbelt weaves through Boise's most picturesque landscapes. Walkers, runners, and cyclists share its smooth pathways, while birdwatchers and anglers find quiet moments along the river's edge. It is more than a place for recreation; it is part of Boise's rhythm, where a simple stroll can turn into a full day of discovery.

ACCESSING THE GREENBELT

Access points are plentiful throughout Boise, Garden City, and Eagle, making it easy for everyone to enjoy this treasured space. Major entry points include Sandy Point Beach near Lucky Peak, Barber Park, Bown Crossing, Parkcenter Boulevard, Julia Davis Park, Ann Morrison Park, Veterans Memorial Park, Esther Simplot Park, and Quinn's Pond. Many areas provide parking, restrooms, and nearby amenities, allowing families and outdoor enthusiasts to explore comfortably at their own pace.

HOT SPRINGS

Idaho's hot springs are a peaceful place to unwind

Idaho is home to some of the most inviting natural hot springs in the Northwest, each offering its own mix of relaxation and adventure. Tucked among forests, rivers, and canyons, these geothermal treasures make for the perfect year round retreat. From rustic backcountry pools to resort style soaking spots, each destination captures the spirit of Idaho's wild beauty and laid back charm.

BURGDORF HOT SPRINGS

Nestled within the Payette National Forest, this historic retreat combines rustic charm with natural serenity. Guests can stay in log cabins and enjoy steaming pools surrounded by pine trees and mountain air. In winter, access is limited to snowmobile travel only, adding a true sense of adventure, while summer brings easy travel along Warren Wagon Road. Located about 3 hours from Boise, it's a timeless favorite for soaking under the stars.

GOLD FORK HOT SPRINGS

Just 2 hours from Boise near Donnelly, this peaceful spot features mineral rich soaking pools surrounded by forested hillsides. The setting is both family friendly and relaxing, with amenities like changing rooms, restrooms, and a snack bar on site. Warm water, soft light, and scenic views make it an ideal place to unwind in every season.

KIRKHAM HOT SPRINGS

Found along Highway 21 near Lowman, about 1 hour and 45 minutes from Boise, this popular spot is known for its steaming pools and natural warm waterfall. Visitors can relax along the Payette River, explore nearby trails, or camp under the stars. The easy access and friendly atmosphere make it a must stop for locals and travelers alike.

MIRACLE HOT SPRINGS

Near Buhl, about 1 hour and 40 minutes from Boise, this tranquil destination offers a mix of private soaking pools and open communal baths. Guests can stay overnight in cozy cabins or camp under desert skies while enjoying the warm mineral water and peaceful surroundings. It's a rejuvenating escape with views of the Snake River Canyon just beyond.

PINE FLATS HOT SPRINGS

Set along the scenic Payette River, about 1 hour and 30 minutes from Boise, this hidden gem offers a cliffside soak with mountain views and a gentle sense of solitude. A short walk reveals a mix of open and tucked away pools, including a natural hot waterfall. Its balance of adventure and relaxation makes it a favorite among outdoor enthusiasts.

THE SPRINGS

Only 50 minutes from Boise in Idaho City, this mountain retreat blends natural beauty with a touch of comfort. Visitors can choose between private soaking pools or the main geothermal pool, all surrounded by tall pines. With an on site inn and food and beverage service, it's a serene setting for unwinding after a day in the mountains.

TRINITY HOT SPRINGS

Tucked in a quiet canyon near Featherville, about 2 hours from Boise, this peaceful hideaway features natural mineral pools framed by rugged mountain scenery. The clear water, crisp air, and stillness of the valley create a deeply restorative experience that captures the heart of Idaho's wilderness.

TIPS FOR VISITING IDAHO'S HOT SPRINGS

1. CHECK ROAD AND WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Many hot springs are in remote or mountainous areas where access can vary seasonally. Before you go, check Idaho Transportation Department updates or local ranger stations, especially in winter when snow can limit access.

2. GO EARLY OR MIDWEEK FOR A QUIETER SOAK.

Popular springs like Kirkham and Gold Fork can get busy on weekends and holidays. Visiting early in the day or during the week often means a more peaceful experience.

3. BRING WATER AND SNACKS BUT PACK THEM OUT.

There are often no trash services at natural sites, so practice "pack it in, pack it out." Keeping Idaho's landscapes pristine helps everyone enjoy them for years to come.

4. MIND THE TEMPERATURE.

Hot spring water can vary from comfortably warm to scalding. Test the water before entering, and avoid submerging your head in natural pools to stay safe and healthy.

5. RESPECT THE NATURAL SETTING.

Stick to existing trails, avoid soaps or shampoos in the water, and keep noise low to preserve the tranquil atmosphere.

6. LEAVE PETS OUT OF THE POOLS.

Dogs are welcome at many recreation areas but should never enter hot spring water. It can be harmful to them and affects the delicate mineral balance of the pools. Keep them leashed nearby and pack out any waste.

7. PLAN AHEAD FOR LIMITED FACILITIES.

Some sites, especially remote ones like Kirkham or Pine Flats, offer few amenities. Bring towels, sandals, and dry clothes for after your soak.

8. BE WILDLIFE AWARE.

Deer, elk, and other animals often share these areas. Observe from a distance and store food securely when camping nearby.

9. ENJOY THE SEASONS.

Hot springs are a year round delight. Snowy winter soaks feel magical, while spring and fall bring milder temperatures and colorful scenery. Just dress appropriately and check access conditions.

QUICK TRAVEL

EXCURSIONS

Beyond the Treasure Valley, Idaho's mountain towns offer a true taste of the state's wild beauty and small town charm. Each destination has its own personality, from historic mining communities and riverside retreats to alpine resorts and lakeside escapes. These make perfect day trips or weekend adventures throughout every season. From campsites under the stars to cozy cabins that feel like your home away from home. Close enough for a short drive yet far enough to feel like another world, these scenic destinations are where everyday life slows down and Idaho's mountain magic takes over.

CASCADE

Located 78 miles north of Boise, this friendly town in Valley County is surrounded by towering mountains and sparkling lakes. It is known for Lake Cascade State Park, where visitors enjoy fishing, boating, and camping throughout the year. Cascade also provides easy access to the Frank Church River of No Return Wilderness, making it a natural hub for outdoor adventure.

DONNELLY

A 94 mile drive from Boise leads to this quiet town nestled in the Long Valley between Lake Cascade and Tamarack Resort. In winter, it becomes a lively base for skiing and snowboarding, while summer brings opportunities for boating, hiking, and mountain biking. With its rustic charm and annual Huckleberry Festival, Donnelly blends relaxation and recreation in true Idaho style.

GARDEN VALLEY

Just 52 miles from Boise, this picturesque valley follows the winding Payette River through pine covered hills and rugged canyon views. The area is beloved for its rafting, hiking, and natural hot springs, along with a thriving arts scene and welcoming small town atmosphere. It is an easy escape for those seeking nature, adventure, and a slower pace of life.

IDAHO CITY

Only 40 miles northeast of Boise, this former gold rush hub is rich with frontier character and living history. Visitors can stroll past preserved 19th century buildings, explore local museums, and unwind in nearby hot springs. Idaho City also serves as a gateway to the Boise National Forest, offering access to hiking, camping, and scenic drives through the pines.

MCCALL

A scenic 109 mile route north of Boise leads to this alpine town on the shores of Payette Lake, a favorite for four season recreation. Winter brings skiing and snowboarding at Brundage Mountain, while summer draws boaters, hikers, and anglers to the lake and surrounding trails. McCall's friendly spirit and signature Winter Carnival make it one of Idaho's most beloved mountain destinations.

STANLEY

Tucked 133 miles northeast of Boise, this small mountain town sits at the heart of the Sawtooth Mountains. It's surrounded by pristine wilderness and glacial lakes, including the iconic Redfish Lake. A favorite destination for hikers, campers, and river rafters, it offers stunning views in every direction. Stanley's peaceful charm and alpine setting make it the perfect place to disconnect and experience Idaho's wild beauty.

SUN VALLEY

155 miles east of Boise, this mountain retreat blends natural beauty with a touch of sophistication. Known for world class skiing and a vibrant cultural scene, it offers just as much allure in summer with hiking, biking, and outdoor concerts under the stars. Sun Valley's mix of adventure and elegance makes it a timeless Idaho favorite.

WORTH THE DRIVE ADVENTURES

When the road calls, Idaho answers with destinations that redefine adventure. From hidden waterfalls and alpine lakes to stargazing deserts and scenic byways, these nearby escapes are every bit as unforgettable as they are accessible. Every stop along the way reveals something extraordinary, reminding travelers that the heart of discovery is often found right here in Idaho.

ANDERSON RESERVE

Tucked in the quiet hills of Sweet, this destination dining experience pairs refined cuisine with rustic Idaho charm. The on site restaurant, butcher shop, and market showcase locally sourced ingredients, offering visitors a memorable meal that celebrates the region's flavors. Less than an hour from Boise, it's a favorite getaway for food lovers seeking something both elevated and down to earth.

Don't Miss: The Cigar Silo — a converted grain silo offering a curated cigar selection and lounge space, adding a one of a kind touch to this countryside destination.

BRUNEAU DUNES OBSERVATORY

Located within Bruneau Dunes State Park, this unique destination invites guests to explore Idaho's night skies through powerful telescopes and guided programs. The observatory offers one of the best stargazing experiences in the Northwest, surrounded by desert silence and sweeping sand dunes. Only about 1 hour and 15 minutes from Boise, it's an unforgettable evening under the stars.

COEUR D'ALENE

About 7 hours from Boise, this lakeside resort town in northern Idaho pairs mountain views with clear blue water. Visitors can enjoy boating, paddleboarding, hiking, or a relaxing stroll along the lakefront boardwalk. With its inviting downtown, waterfront dining, and small town sophistication, Coeur d'Alene captures the perfect balance of recreation and relaxation.

CRATERS OF THE MOON NATIONAL MONUMENT

Less than 3 hours southeast of Boise, this striking landscape of ancient lava fields feels like stepping onto another planet. Visitors can hike, explore lava tubes, or simply take in the vast, quiet beauty of Idaho's volcanic past. Its otherworldly terrain and star filled skies make it one of the state's most awe inspiring destinations.

HELL'S CANYON SCENIC BYWAY

Stretching through Idaho's western border, this route leads travelers into the deepest river gorge in North America. The winding drive offers panoramic viewpoints, hiking access, and opportunities for jet boat tours along the Snake River. Whether you stop for photos or spend the day exploring, the byway delivers unforgettable views at every turn.

JUMP CREEK FALLS

Just over an hour from Boise near Marsing, this 60 foot waterfall rewards visitors with a refreshing spray and a scenic canyon backdrop. The short trail is family friendly yet filled with striking views, making it a popular spot for an easy adventure. It's proof that even quick trips can uncover some of Idaho's most beautiful surprises.

Twin Falls

REDFISH LAKE

Set against the jagged peaks of the Sawtooth Mountains in Stanley, about 3 hours from Boise, this alpine lake is pure Idaho postcard perfection. Kayakers, swimmers, and hikers all find something to love, while the nearby lodge and trails make it a great weekend base. Sunlight on the water and mountain reflections create moments that linger long after the drive home.

SHOSHONE FALLS

Known as the Niagara of the West, this powerful waterfall near Twin Falls plunges 212 feet, surpassing even the height of its famed eastern counterpart. Visitors can take in the view from scenic overlooks, picnic nearby, or visit in spring when the water flow is at its peak. Only about 2 hours from Boise, it's one of the state's most breathtaking natural wonders.

SILVERWOOD THEME PARK

Only 30 minutes north of Coeur d'Alene, this family favorite offers roller coasters, water rides, and a full day of fun in a park surrounded by forested hills. It's the largest theme park in the Northwest, combining small town hospitality with big thrills. The excitement makes the drive from Boise more than worth it for families and adventure seekers alike.

TWIN FALLS

Centrally located in Idaho, about two hours southeast from Boise, Twin Falls blends natural beauty with small city charm. The Snake River Canyon and Perrine Bridge frame incredible views and outdoor adventure, while nearby Shoshone Falls adds a stunning highlight. For thrill seekers, the bridge is also one of the few places in the U.S. where BASE jumping is legal year round.

FLEXIBLE EDUCATION WITH HOMESCHOOL

Homeschooling in Idaho offers families exceptional flexibility and freedom to shape an education that reflects their child's interests, pace, and goals.

With no state requirements for notification, curriculum, or testing, families have complete control over how and what their children learn. This independence allows every homeschool experience to be as creative and individualized as the students themselves.

Although the law imposes minimal oversight, many families choose to record attendance, curriculum, and student work to ease transitions or satisfy other state regulations. Homeschooled students in Idaho may also participate in public school courses, sports, or extracurricular activities depending on their local district's policies.

Whether you're just beginning to explore homeschooling or looking to expand your existing program, Idaho's environment offers freedom, opportunity, and support to create a learning journey that works for you and your family.

MERIDIAN

Meridian offers a robust and diverse educational environment, featuring high performing public schools, private institutions, specialized STEM programs, and innovative charter options. Below is a detailed overview of the educational opportunities available in the area.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Meridian is part of the West Ada School District, the largest school district in Idaho and home to 36 elementary schools, 13 middle schools, and 13 high schools. The district serves more than forty thousand students and is known for its academic achievements, wide range of programs, and commitment to student success.

ACCOLADES AND STATISTICS:

West Ada schools continue to offer strong academic programs and a variety of learning pathways for students across the district.

Graduation rates in West Ada remain above statewide averages, reflecting the district focus on college and career readiness.

Students have access to a wide selection of Advanced Placement courses, dual credit options, and career technical education programs that support academic growth and future goals.

Many schools in Meridian show solid performance on statewide assessments and provide resources designed to help students succeed at each grade level.

NOTABLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS:

Renaissance High School:

- Recognized as one of the top high schools in Idaho.
- Offers International Baccalaureate programs along with Advanced Placement and dual credit courses.
- Known for strong college preparation and a wide range of academic pathways.

Paramount Elementary School:

- Highly regarded for strong academic performance and active family involvement.
- Incorporates creative teaching practices and effective use of classroom technology.

Victory Middle School:

- Known for its focus on STEM learning and its variety of extracurricular opportunities.
- Offers advanced coursework that helps students build skills for the transition to high school.

STEM SCHOOLS

Meridian continues to expand its STEM education opportunities through public schools and charter options, giving students hands-on experiences in science, technology, engineering, and math.

Barbara Morgan STEM Academy:

- Focuses on hands on STEM learning for elementary students.
- Named in honor of astronaut and educator Barbara Morgan.

Renaissance High School:

- Offers the full International Baccalaureate Diploma Program along with advanced coursework that supports STEM related interests.
- Recognized for strong IB achievement and a rigorous academic environment that prepares students for college and future careers.

PUBLIC CHARTER SCHOOLS

Meridian is home to several innovative public charter schools, providing families with unique educational options tailored to specific learning styles and interests.

TOP CHARTER SCHOOLS:

Compass Public Charter School:

- Offers a rigorous academic program with a strong emphasis on character development.
- Known for its smaller class settings and individualized instruction.

Gem Prep Meridian:

- Blends online and in person learning to support a variety of student needs.
- Helps students build college readiness through an innovative and flexible approach.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Meridian's private schools cater to families seeking smaller class sizes, faith-based education, or specialized curriculums.

TOP PRIVATE SCHOOLS:

The Ambrose School:

- A classical Christian school emphasizing a liberal arts education.
- Focuses on character development and moral leadership.

Cole Valley Christian Schools:

- Offers a Christ-centered curriculum for grades K-12.
- Known for its academic rigor and strong community values.

Challenger School - Meridian:

- Focuses on independent thinking and foundational skills in math and reading.
- Prepares students for lifelong learning through a structured program.

KEY STATISTICS:

Student-Teacher Ratio: Meridian public schools offer classroom environments that support individual attention and student engagement.

Graduation Rates: High schools in the West Ada School District continue to maintain graduation rates that perform above statewide averages.

Diversity: Schools in Meridian serve a diverse student body and offer programs that support multilingual learners along with inclusive education practices.

EXTRACURRICULAR AND SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Meridian schools offer a wide range of extracurricular opportunities, including strong music and arts programs, competitive sports teams, and active STEM clubs. Programs such as robotics competitions, debate teams, and other enrichment activities help students explore interests and build skills beyond the classroom.

CONCLUSION

Meridian offers families a comprehensive and well supported education system that includes strong public schools, engaging STEM programs, diverse charter school options, and respected private institutions. Schools across the area focus on helping students develop the knowledge, confidence, and skills needed for success in college, careers, and life. With its wide range of learning opportunities and a community that values education, Meridian remains an attractive choice for families who prioritize meaningful academic experiences and supportive school environments.

MIDDLETON

Middleton, located in Canyon County, offers a range of educational opportunities through its public schools and charter options, designed to meet the diverse needs of its students. At the center of the area education system is the Middleton School District, which emphasizes academic growth, community involvement, and extracurricular enrichment. Below is an overview of schools in the area.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Middleton School District serves approximately 4,000 students and is known for its supportive learning environment and community focused approach. The district includes elementary, middle, and high schools that prepare students for college, careers, and beyond.

ACCOLADES AND STATISTICS:

Graduation Rate: Middleton High School continues to maintain strong graduation rates that perform above statewide averages.

Standardized Test Scores: Middleton schools provide supportive learning environments and offer resources that help students build skills in core subjects.

Technology Integration: The district uses classroom technology and digital learning tools to enhance instruction and support student engagement.

NOTABLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS:

Middleton High School:

- Offers Advanced Placement and dual credit courses in partnership with local colleges.
- Provides career technical programs in areas such as health sciences, welding, and business, along with strong athletics and performing arts opportunities.

Middleton Middle School:

- Prepares students for high school through honors classes and electives in STEM, the arts, and leadership.
- Supports student involvement in extracurricular activities including robotics and music programs.

Middleton Mill Creek Elementary School:

- Focuses on early literacy and foundational math skills.
- Known for strong family involvement and a welcoming school environment.

STEM AND CAREER TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Middleton continues to expand STEM learning opportunities that help students build skills in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.

Middleton High School:

- Supports a robotics team that participates in regional activities.
- Offers courses in engineering, computer science, and environmental science.

Middleton Middle School:

- Provides hands-on STEM electives and clubs that focus on coding, design, and problem solving.

PUBLIC CHARTER SCHOOLS

Middleton has limited charter school options within city limits but is close to several charter schools in Canyon County and the wider Treasure Valley.

NEARBY CHARTER SCHOOL OPTIONS:

Sage International School Middleton:

- A tuition free public charter school offering an International Baccalaureate education for students in grades K through eleven, with plans to expand to K through twelve.
- Emphasizes inquiry based learning and supports students in developing curiosity, critical thinking, and problem solving skills.

KEY STATISTICS:

Student-Teacher Ratio: Middleton schools offer classroom environments that support individual attention and student engagement.

Post-Graduation Success: Graduates of Middleton High School continue on to college, technical training, or the workforce with a solid foundation for future success.

Enrollment Growth: As Middleton grows, the district continues to expand its facilities and programs to meet the needs of students and families.

EXTRACURRICULAR AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Middleton schools encourage participation in extracurricular activities and community events, helping students develop well rounded skills.

Athletics: Middleton High School teams compete in sports such as football, basketball, track, and volleyball.

Arts: Music, theater, and visual arts programs are offered at both the middle and high school levels.

STEM Clubs: Students take part in coding, robotics, and science activities that build creativity and problem solving skills.

Community Events: Schools host family nights, carnivals, and volunteer opportunities that strengthen connections between families and educators.

CONCLUSION

Middleton provides a supportive and enriching educational environment for students and families. With strong public schools, access to nearby charter and private options, and programs that encourage STEM learning and career readiness, the community helps students build the skills they need for future success. The emphasis on community involvement, extracurricular activities, and engaging instruction makes Middleton a meaningful choice for families who value education.

EMMETT

Emmett, located in Gem County, offers a small yet dedicated educational system serving students from prekindergarten through high school. While smaller than neighboring communities, the area schools prioritize academic growth, community values, and personalized attention. Below is an overview of the schools in the area.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Emmett Independent School District supports the community through a cohesive network of elementary schools, a middle school, a high school, and alternative education options.

ACCOLADES AND STATISTICS:

The district continues to support students through programs that encourage steady academic growth.

Emmett High School students show strong performance in core subjects and benefit from resources that help build skills in mathematics and English Language Arts.

Smaller class sizes and a student teacher ratio that supports individual attention contribute to meaningful teacher student connections throughout the district.

NOTABLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS:

Emmett High School:

- Offers Advanced Placement (AP) courses and dual-enrollment opportunities through partnerships with local colleges.
- Known for strong programs in agriculture education, reflecting the community's rural roots.
- Home to competitive athletic teams, including football, basketball, and track and field.

Shadow Butte Elementary School:

- Provides a supportive environment for students in kindergarten through grade five.
- Emphasizes literacy and foundational skills that help prepare students for future learning.

Emmett Middle School:

- Helps students transition to high school through a focus on academic growth and skill building.
- Offers elective courses in the arts, technology, and leadership.

STEM AND SPECIALTY EDUCATION

While Emmett does not have a dedicated STEM academy, local schools incorporate STEM focused learning through classroom initiatives and partnerships within the community.

Emmett High School:

- Provides STEM related courses in computer science, engineering, and agricultural sciences.
- Offers robotics and coding clubs as after school activities.

Elementary STEM Activities:

- Teachers introduce hands-on science experiments and classroom technology to spark early interest in STEM.

PUBLIC CHARTER AND ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

Emmett has limited charter school options within the city, but the district offers alternative pathways that support students with diverse learning needs.

Black Canyon High School:

- An alternative high school that provides a flexible curriculum for students who may not thrive in a traditional setting.
- Focuses on credit recovery, individualized instruction, and career readiness.

ONLINE LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES:

The district supports virtual learning through the Idaho Digital Learning Alliance, giving students access to courses and formats outside the traditional classroom.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Emmett offers a small selection of private school options for families seeking faith based or alternative education experiences.

NOTABLE PRIVATE SCHOOLS:

Gem State Adventist Academy:

- A Christian school serving grades 9–12 with a curriculum that emphasizes spiritual growth, academic excellence, and leadership.
- Features small class sizes and extracurricular activities, including sports and music programs.

Cherry Gulch:

- Therapeutic Focus: Cherry Gulch is a private therapeutic boarding school in Emmett, Idaho, offering a clinically oriented program with individual and group therapy for boys in grades 5–9.
- Individualized Attention: With a 5:1 student teacher ratio, Cherry Gulch combines academic rigor and therapeutic services, including equine assisted therapy, on a 220 acre ranch.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND EXTRACURRICULAR OPPORTUNITIES

Emmett schools encourage community involvement through events such as seasonal carnivals, family nights, and service projects. Extracurricular activities include:

Athletics: Emmett High School offers sports including football, volleyball, wrestling, and track.

Arts Programs: Band, choir, and visual arts classes are available at the middle and high school levels.

Agricultural Programs: The local Future Farmers of America chapter is active and reflects the agricultural traditions of the community.

KEY STATISTICS:

Enrollment: The Emmett School District serves approximately 2,500 students across its schools.

Teacher-Student Ratio: Public schools maintain a ratio that supports individualized attention and strong teacher student connections.

Post-Graduation Success: Graduates of Emmett High School continue on to college, technical training, or the workforce with a solid foundation for future opportunities.

CONCLUSION

Emmett offers a supportive and close knit educational environment that emphasizes academic growth, community values, and personalized attention. While the city options are smaller in scale compared to larger communities, Emmett schools provide a strong foundation for lifelong learning through public schools, private institutions, and extracurricular programs. With a focus on rural traditions, practical education, and student success, Emmett is a meaningful choice for families seeking a nurturing educational experience.

THANK YOU FROM YOUR LOCAL REAL ESTATE EXPERTS

ABMONT REALTY GROUP

Thank you for spending time exploring the Treasure Valley! It is a place where vibrant city life and quiet open spaces come together in a way that feels both welcoming and full of possibility. From the energy of Boise to the charm of the surrounding cities, each community holds its own personality, its own pace, and its own way of helping you feel at home.

Whether you picture yourself planting roots in the city, choosing a home close to nature, or tucked away on acreage, the Treasure Valley offers a lifestyle shaped by variety and connection. Idaho is known for its high quality of life, and that spirit is reflected in warm neighborhoods, miles of open space, quiet trails, and the local traditions that make each area unique. There is truly something here for everyone to enjoy. If questions come up as you explore your options, or if you would like insight into the communities that best match your goals and lifestyle, your local real estate expert is here to help.

Connect with Denise and Joe Abmont, Abmont Realty Group at 408-891-8727 for thoughtful guidance as you continue discovering where your Idaho story could begin.
