

Tecnológico
de Monterrey

Mexican Architecture Summer 2027

Where tradition meets innovation

STUDY IN MEXICO

The background image shows a minimalist interior space. On the left, a wide staircase with dark steps leads upwards. The walls are a mix of light and dark pink. A large, bright pink wall is on the right. A long, narrow wooden shelf is mounted on the wall, holding a tall yellow vase, a small white object, and a small yellow object. A wooden chair is positioned in front of the shelf. A large, bright pink wall is on the right. A long, narrow wooden shelf is mounted on the wall, holding a tall yellow vase, a small white object, and a small yellow object. A wooden chair is positioned in front of the shelf. A large, bright pink wall is on the right.

Experience Mexican Architecture this Summer at Campus Querétaro!

In the heart of Mexico,
you will explore the legacy of world-
renowned architects
while engaging with contemporary design practices.

Build, discover, and
be inspired,
expanding your global perspective
through architecture,
culture, and creativity.

A photograph of three young women sitting at a table in a studio, working on a large architectural model. The woman on the left is wearing a blue shirt and glasses, the woman in the middle is wearing a white shirt, and the woman on the right is wearing a black top with denim overalls. They are all focused on the model, which consists of small white blocks representing buildings. The background shows shelves with various materials and a colorful, abstract sculpture.

A 5-week summer program in the vibrant city of Queretaro

Explore single-family housing rooted in Mexican tradition: patios, light and vibrant colors, and discover a unique perspective on Mexican architecture.

AR2009B
Single Family Home

4 Tec Credits

Through this program you will explore how to integrate social, cultural, environmental, and technical considerations into architectural design, while balancing aesthetic sensibility and functionality.

Complementing the academic experience, you will also enjoy exclusive visits to iconic and contemporary works of Mexican architecture.

Field Trips

A 3-day trip to Mexico City for exclusive visits to Luis Barragán's Studio House, Casa Prieto and contemporary houses by Goma Haus, and cultural trips in Querétaro.

Academic Visits

From timeless icons to contemporary creations, discover Mexican architecture up close.

Exclusive visits will show you how tradition, innovation, and nature come together in design.

Luis Barragán's Studio House

Built in 1948 and located in Mexico City, it was the home and workspace of Mexico's Pritzker Prize-winning architect Luis Barragán.

It is considered a UNESCO World Heritage Site and masterpiece of light, space, and color.

Pedregal House (Prieto López House)

A Luis Barragán's residential project

One of Barragán's residential projects that blends Mexican tradition with modernist design principles. Barragán designed the entire home, gardens, preserving existing native plants and worked around the iron-hard rock for which the area is famous

Goma Haus Projects

Contemporary houses

Experience contemporary Mexican architecture through visits to innovative single-family homes designed by Goma Haus. Their main focus is on integrating their projects with natural surroundings and use traditional materials and geometric forms.

Embark on an enriching Architecture journey at our campus in Queretaro, a vibrant modern city with colonial charm

Dates and Costs

Important Dates

Nomination Deadline	May 14, 2027
Application Deadline	May 21, 2027
Program Begin	June 28, 2027
Program End	July 30, 2027

Fees and Tuition

For exchange students*

$2,200USD

For independent students

$4,700USD

Note: Student nominated by partner institution. The cost of the program already reflects the tuition waiver for exchange students.

The program fee includes:

- Tuition*
- Shared bedroom in Campus Querétaro Residence Halls
- A 3-day trip to Mexico City* with exclusive visits to Luis Barragán's Studio House, Casa Prieto and contemporary houses by Goma Haus
- Cultural trips to Querétaro
- Transportation to academic and cultural visits
- Tickets to all scheduled visits and events
- Student Arrival Kit

Note: Does not include accommodation during the 3-day trip to Mexico City.

SEE YOU SOON AT TEC!

