100 lbs. of fishsticks?

THAT'S a fishstick?

I can't believe I ate the whole thing!

Oh my God, a six foot fishstick!

Wanna buy some fishsticks cheap?

I told you not to look into that laser

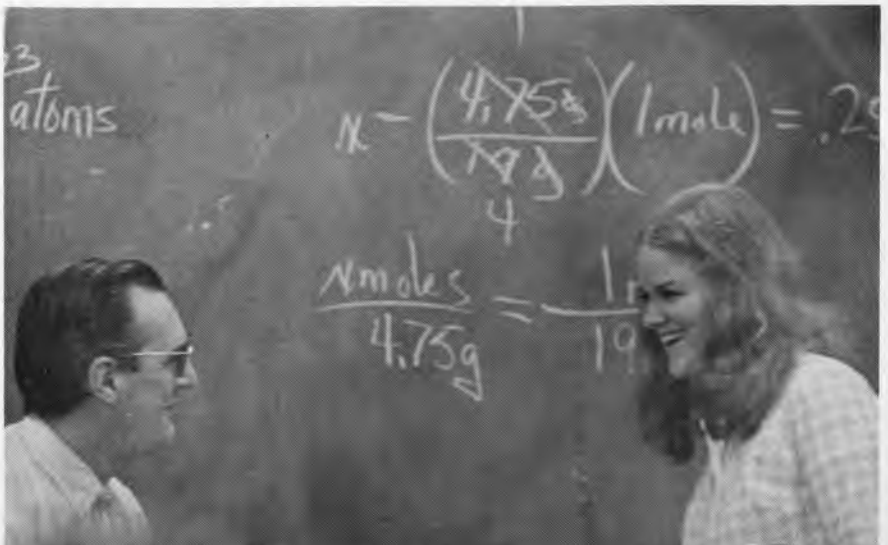
Give me that film or I'll break every bone in your body

Did you hear the one about the elf...

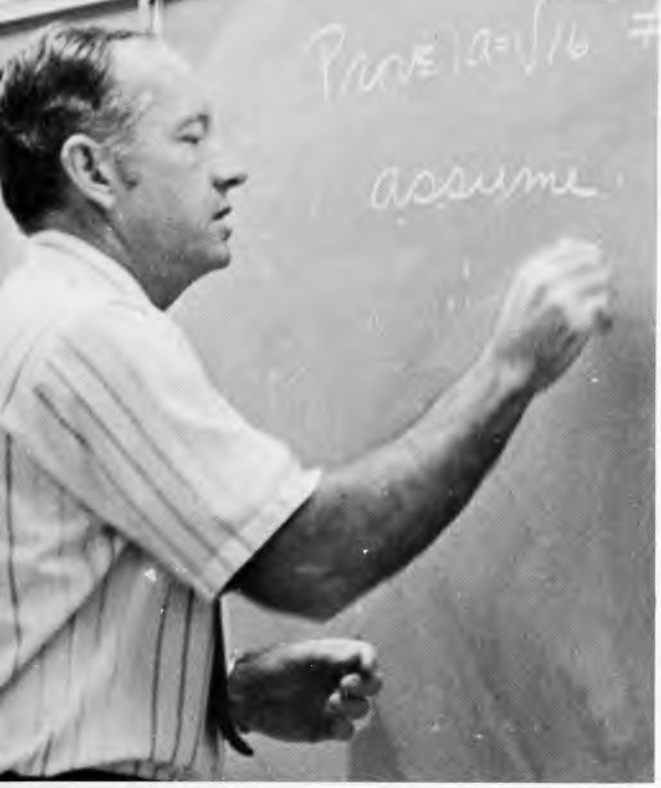


I'm in love with my coffee cup

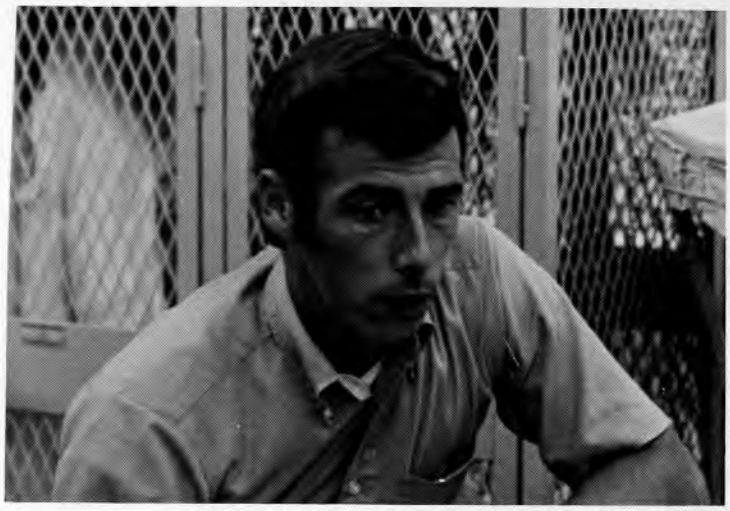
I didn't know I had a hole there!

Are you really?

I think it's still alive



Now if this doesn't work, the book is wrong



Well, their goalie has a concussion, three broken ribs and a dislocated hip...

I know I'm good looking but gees! This is ridiculous you guys!

That doesn't sound right...What page are you guys on?

It says here that we're having tacos for lunch again

Well, we could have it at my house, my parents are out of town

Here's your money back, I'm gonna have to flunk you

What was that rip?

Hi! I'd like you to meet my mother

Did you have to eat that fly?

The University! So he had passed beyond the challenge of the sentries who had stood as guardians of his boyhood and had sought to keep him among them that he might be subject to them and serve their ends. Pride after satisfaction uplifted him like long slow waves. The end he had been born to serve yet did not see had led him to escape by an unseen path: and now it beckoned to him once more and a new adventure was about to be opened to him. It seemed to him that he heard notes of fitful music leaping upwards a tone, and downwards a diminished fourth, upwards a tone, and downwards a major third, like triple-branching flames leaping fitfully flame after flame, out of a midnight wood. It was an elfin prelude, endless and formless; and as it grew wilder and faster, the flames leaping out of time, he seemed to hear from under the boughs and grasses wild creatures racing, their feet pattering like rain upon the leaves. Their feet passed in pattering tumult over his mind, the feet of hares and rabbits, the feet of harts and hinds and antelopes, until he heard them no more and remembered only a proud cadence from Newman: "Whose feet are as the feet of harts and underneath the everlasting arms."

"They never got me for the right offense"

W. C. Fields

My son invites me to witness with him a children's program, a series of cartoons, on television. Addressing myself to share his harmless pleasures, I am horrified by the unbridled violence and hostility of the imagined world he takes in stride, where human beings dressed in the skins of mice are eaten by portcullises and cowcatchers, digested through the winding corridors of organs, overshoes, boa constrictors and locomotive boilers, to be excreted in waters where shark and squid and abalone wait to employ their tenacles and jaws. It seems there is no object in this world unable to become a gullet with great lonely teeth; sometimes a set of teeth all by itself comes clacking over an endless plain after the moving mouse; and though the mouse wins in the end, the tail of one cartoon is spliced into the mouth of the next, where his rapid and trivial agony repeats itself in another form. My son has seen these things a number of times, and knows what to expect; he does not seem disturbed or anything more than mildly amused. Maybe these old cartoons refer to my childhood and not to his (The ogres in them wear Mussolini's face), so that when mice are swallowed by skeletons or empty suits of armor, when a tribe of savage Negro mice is put through a wringer and stacked flat in the cellar, he can take the objective and critical view, while I am shaken to see the giant picassoid parents eating and voiding their little mice time and again. And when the cheery announcer cries, "Well, kids, that's the end," my son gets up obediently and runs outside to play. I hope he will ride over this world as well, and that his crudest and most terrifying dreams will not return with such wide publicity.

to those who see

to those who see

So long P.C.D!
F.O.A.D.

Hopeful each morning I arise
And splash the cobwebs from my eyes.
I brush my teeth and scrape my chin
And bravely at the mirror grin.
Sternly I force myself to say,
Huzza! huzza! another day!
Oh happy me! oh lucky I!
Another chance with life to vie!
Another golden opportunity
To rise and shine in this community!
Another target for my aim!
Another whack at wealth and fame!
Almost I feel within me stir
A budding force of character.
Who knows, indeed, but what I might Perhaps have altered overnight?
Today may be the day, who knows,
That sees me triumph o'er my foes:
Gluttony, simony, and sloth,
And drawing on the table cloth;
Perjury, arson, envy, pride,
And renting tales of homicide;
Barratry, avarice and wrath
And blowing bubbles in the bath.
The differences this day may bring!
Perhaps I'll work like anything;
I'll travel to my tasks on foot,
And in the bank the carfare put,
And buy a haircut when I need it,
And if I get a letter, read it,
And if every eve improve myself
By inching through the Five Foot Shelf.
The things I want to do, I don't
And only do the things I don't.
What lordly aspirations dawn
The while I draw my trousers on!
Oh beamish morning, big with hope
And noble tasks with which to cope,
If I should fail you, do not sorrow;
I'll be a better man tomorrow.

There must be someway out of here,
said the joker to the thief.
There's too much confusion, I can't get no relief, business men they drink my wine, plowmen dig my earth.
None of them along the line, know what any of it's worth.
No reason to get excited, the thief
kindly spoke.
There are many here among us, who feel that life is but a joke.
But you and I, we've been through that.
And this is not our fate
so let us talk not falsely now, the hour is getting late all among the watchtower, princess kept the view.
While all the women came and went,
barefoot servants too.
Outside in the distance,
a wildcat did growl
two riders were approaching the wind began to howl.

In back of the real railroad yard in San Jose
I wandered desolate
in front of a tank factory and sat on a bench
near the switchman's shack
A flower lay on the hay on the asphalt highway
-the dread hay flower
I thought - It had a brittle blade stem and corolla of yellowish dirty
spikes of Jesus' inchlong crown, and a soiled dry center cotton tuft
like a used shaving brush that's been lying under the garage for a year
Yellow, yellow flower, and flower of industry,
tough spikey ugly flower,
flower nonetheless,
with the form of the great yellow
Rose in your brain!
This is the flower of the world

Who's afraid of the universe?
It's midnight on the desert or the coast or high above timberline, the Milky Way is close and the stars are singing.

Remember how we spent the nighttime counting out the stars.
Too late for the beach, too early for the bars.
All of us together would raise our glasses high

The times, oh we had some times
When the world was the color of neon signs.
Each of us and all of us killed our dreams with rye
And tried to crowd a lifetime into times gone by.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept that first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I-
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

On a wagon bound for market,
There's a calf with a mournful eye.
High above him there's a swallow,
Winging swiftly through the sky. . .

Never knowing the reason why.
But whoever treasures freedom,

"I believe that our Heavenly Father invented man because he was disappointed in the monkey."

"I have been reading the morning paper. I do it every morning-well knowing that I shall find in it the usual depravities and baseness and hypocrisies and cruelties that make up civilization, and cause me to put in the rest of the day pleading for the damnation of the human human race."

THE SOUND OF TREES

I wonder about the trees.
Why do we wish to bear
Forever the noise of these
More than another noise
So close to our dwelling place?
We suffer them by the day
Till we lose all measure of pace,
And fixity in our joys,
And acquire a listening air.
They are that that talks of going
But never gets away;
And that talks no less for knowing,
As it grows wiser and older,
That now it means to stay.
My feet tug at the floor
And my head sways to my shoulder
Sometimes when I watch trees sway,
From the window or the door.
I shall set forth for somewhere,
I shall make the reckless choice
Some day when they are in voice
And tossing so as to scare
The white clouds over them on.
I shall have less to say,
But I shall be gone.

Frost

Only those beneath me can envy or hate me.
I have never been envied nor hated; I am above no one.
Only those above me can praise or belittle me.
I have never been praised nor belittled; I am below no one.

Gibran

We are all climbing toward the summit of our hearts' desire. Should the other climber steal your sack and your purse and wax fat on the one and heavy on the other, you should pity him;
The climbing will be harder for his flesh, and the burden will make his way longer.
And should you in your leanness see his flesh pudging upward, help him a step; it will add to your swiftness.

Lori Begam leaves to Chem her brain; to Sara Jack Lalane stretch rope for when she talks too much during U.G.; to Mr. Raymond 7 medals, a red, white and blue bathing suit, and a big thank you; to her brother no excuse for being late every morning; to the Missing Linc two pairs of tennis shoes, 400 FREE dill pickle chips and 20¢ for ice cream to David; and to Manny two large rocks, one piece of bubble gum, her lab book, and a friendly smile.

Bob Casselman leaves this age of decaying morals and acquiescense to youth to Mr. Bruning; the football team and the World Champion Dallas Cowboys to lame brainey; Paradise Lost to the Yellow Rose of Texas; and my decimated political career to the Schwanzero. R.I.P.

Anne Crisp leaves her Paul Lynde impression to Jon and David; her driving ability to Rye and Bakes and everything else that's important to Mo.

Dorian Elder leaves some cookie dough, early morning water skiing adventures and enough change to call California to Jeanie; to Jon she leaves rib counting, a large bottle of Vitamin E and Sunday afternoon football games; to Annie, Pink Elephant cookies, 100 pieces of Bubble gum and ski goggles from Park City's Lost and Found; to Wendy the correct way to say "always"; to Rich "Mosca and Sufferin"; to Seawell a new varnished Playboy pin-up and two muzzles for Love and Dutchess; to Tony "Uni" and Fig Newtons, to Laura barbed wire; to Bob "Grants Mets"; to Rye 50¢ to enjoy himself; "Heavy Duty" engraved on Bakers Cutless; and to Timmons a useless set of keys to the jeep.

William K. Ender, Blender, leaves his "lack of performance" to the effort grade system; a 5x8 portrait of Mr. Bruning to Richard (or vice-versa); an alibi to W; a pair of high top black tennis shoes to the shoe salesman; his compiled book of insults to Jean; a fatal disease to Freedman; a block of dense material to Mark; and last, but not least, absolutly nothing to John Seawell. In addition to this, he does herely bequeath himself, in mind, body, and soul, to the world...with fair warning. P.S. BMH!

Laura Ganter leaves the memory of Button Boy and Swinging Horse, many exhausting parties and endless complaining; the foresight not to wear dresses to school, and seeing eye dog to Moe Zrike. A lock of her flaming red hair to Bakes and hopes of his finding a dream girl to Jon.

Paul Haycox leaves Dorian Elder 2. 2 pounds of Sodium Cyanide; and to Gary Wing speech lessons.

Kevin Henegar leaves Tim Stallcup a life-time supply of Butyl Nitrite; and one pound of strychnine laced chloral hydrate to Dorian Elder,; and a case of Alpo to the Belka hound.

Jean Heterington leaves "the rugged look" to Mark Baker; a nickname to Sam; to Radar her ability to play basketball; to Rye a gween twuck and a ride to the Y.M.C.A.; a good mood and a new joke to Blender; the yearbook to anyone INSANE enough to care; to Dorian speech lessons, a guy, a dog named Humpy and 13 years of memories; to Annie some sunshine, a pair of Rossi's, some snow and a smile; to El Marko some stilts, his camera, and understanding; to John some new moves and the request to try again in five years; to "My Cloud" the time to change; and a "thank you" to someone special.

Lisa Klein leaves Seawell's erroneous zones and socks to anyone who will take them (Mrs. English); to Bakes a lifetime supply of antifreeze; to Jeanee M. the girl's room and the gang on the bus; to Mr. Hall symbolism and what he can do with it; to Tim Latin II and the rerun of "Go Ask Alice"; and to Mo all our good times at P.C.D.

TESTAMENT OF THE SENIOR CLASS

(sarcasm intended) and everything else.

Andrew Levy leaves Mr. Bruning Spanish Literature and Iberia; to Mrs. English MY notebook; to Mr. Hall ALL my free themes; to Doc E=MC2; to Mr. Raymond a nod; to Mr. Singer [illegible] and my pitching ability; to Mr. Welch my longest highest goal kick.

Richard Lorenzen leaves his "deficiency of good taste"; to Senor Bruning; P.C.D.S. and effort ratings to the Schwanzero; and Mtobe Wewe Eskari to Kariuki and the P.P.D.

Joan Chandler Ray Bequesths to Mrs. English one Caravel bar to keep her on her diet, also a peaceful Afro - Asian class next year. To Teri Weiner I leave all my notes and a list of excuses for when she gets to college. To Sara Tancer I leave all my past boyfriends, a free day in the snow with a ski instructor, a blind date, a stack of paper for letter writing, and also a successful Senior Year with Mr. Bruning. To Rye Nelson I leave a novel about Confidence, also one sexy shoulder. To Ann Crisp I leave a year's supply of Bubble gum. To Mark Baker I leave my Jaguar with all its illnesses and also complete with Raquel Welch to tickle him at the right moments. To Sam Freedman I leave my old skis so he can break his leg and have gorgeous girls pitying him. To Maureen Zrike I leave the gilrs' bathroom, a French dictionary and a reunion with Orme. To John Seawell I leave his astrological forecast for the next 10 years. Also an open invitation... To Jon Cheney I leave my french accent and a T.V. which is always tuned to Channel 21. I leave Barb Pritzlaff her streak of luck for her getting through French IV. To the whole upper school I leave a lot of hope that they can make it until they graduate. To Mr. Raymond, I give him the relief that I have finally gone for good!

Abby Roeder leaves the names Rosco, Tar, Netta, Puddin'; etc. to Richard and Tony; the First Place Prize for the Abby Roeder Look-alike contest to Sara; and she leaves Phoenix Country Day School for something bigger.

Wendy Rusing leaves a bag of ice to Mark Baker; a replacement 'teddy' to Rye; the parties' to Maureen and a real dream girl to Jon.

Tony Ruskin leaves to Bob, Richard, Kevin, Paul and Kariuki the Villa, his Rare Vigilante Dog, the Cruiser-mobile, his two Phasers and his Tokero Ice Pipe; to Mr. Welch his copies of "How to Waste Time in Chemistry Class by Asking Time Consuming Questions" and "The Art of Stretching a Simple, Two Hour Experiment Over A Three Week Period", to Mr. Hall, his fourteen REWRITE papers; to Dorian Elder, a $.50 beer and a $20.00 dinner; to Mr. Morris, his unique achievement of 16 marks in one week; to Crunch-Face, a slow, merciless death; to Richard, his Al Mundy Blue Books, his refined driving skills, and his collection of blank doctor appointment cards.

John Seawell leaves Kim a great actor and a tube of glue for chipped paint off the Z; Mark H. his own photography studio with a pool table and the dark room assistant of his choice; Bill a pool cue of gold with ACE WEIMS printed in the handle; Mark B. a gnat swatter and a can of RAID and lots of luck; Jean a contract with a due date in five years and the keys to her special car; Lisa lunch at North Bank after she washed my socks; Annie a surgical gown and many good times; Dorian A Year and A Half and red racing glasses for her new car; Wendy a place in fifty years and a special book; Rye everything and anyone if he can hold on to them.

Teri Lynn Weiner leaves to the future of Phoenix Country Day School a person who may take the place of all my absences. To Sara Tancer, a nice jewish, adorable G. or C. or A. To Manuel Tancer, 50 Chanukah presents. To Joan Ray, a happy life and to the entire faculty a thankyou for putting up with me.

I hied me off to Arcady--
The month it was the month of May,
And all along the pleasant way
The morning birds were mad with

And all the flowers sprang up to see,

Your friend is your needs answered.

When you part from your friend, you grieve not;

For that which you love most in him may be clearer in his absence, as the mountain to the climber is clearer from the plain,

And in the sweetness of friendship let there be laughter, and sharing of pleasures.

For without words, in friendship, all thoughts, all desires, all expectations are born and shared, with joy that is unacclaimed.
