PERSONAL EXPRESSION

Personal expression. This is an essential quality that enables us to convey our feelings, emotions and authenticity across varied mediums. One such area where our personality can shine is in interior design and colour is often a vital starting point.

At Catalyste, we have created an experience that centres on this simple, but effective concept of colour when it comes to selecting laminates. For your favourite colour, we offer a compelling mixture of patterns and textures, so you can adorn interior surfaces with greater variety.

This concept is also showcased in our latest collection of notebooks. Available in three attractive hues, the cover of each notebook features designs from O2+ PLAY laminates.

I invite you for a session of personal expression at CATALAB, our Experience Hub in Singapore. There, you can select laminates of your cherished colour to fulfil your wish for a space that is a true extension of your unique identity.

Warmest regards,

Geraldine Tan
CEO
Catalyste

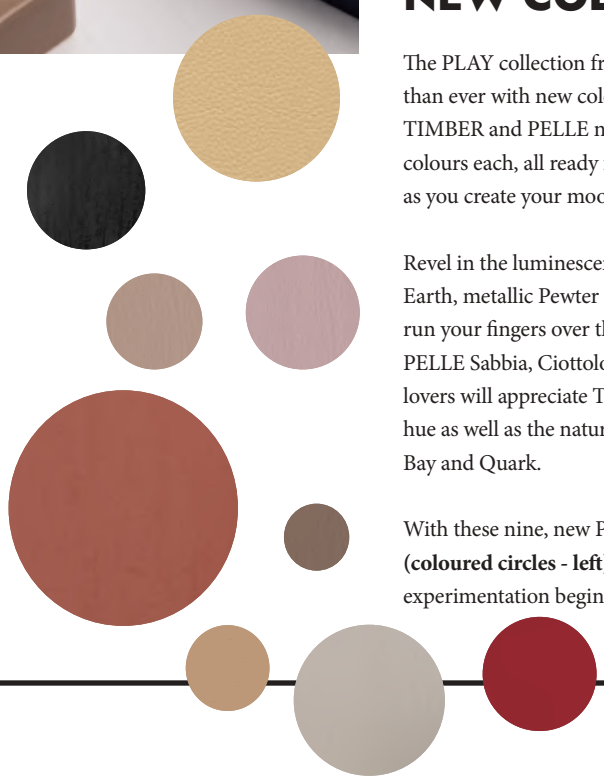

EXPERIMENT WITH NEW COLOURS

When we renovate a space, we select a colour that reflects us in personal way - like it's an expression of our inner being. Also, with a focus on the colour, it creates cohesion, achieves visual flow and makes it easier to harmonise other elements like furniture, furnishings and accessories.

Our approach for O2+ laminates is the same. Choose a colour from the VELVET, STELLAR and TITAN ranges of the MATTERS collection and an array of designs and textures are available. If you like nature, VELVET Olive's hue is used for TIMBER Husk. Those of you after a more masculine tone like STELLAR Slate but desire a livelier surface will find LUME Ore really appealing. Lovers of reddish shades and leather will find a compelling duo in STELLAR Ruby and PELLE Rubino.

Express yourself in a myriad of ways with your favourite colour, in a variety of patterns and textures, with O2+ laminates and imagine your interiors like never before.

The PLAY collection from O2+ is more playful than ever with new colours added. LUME, TIMBER and PELLE now feature three new colours each, all ready for you to mix and match as you create your moodboard of laminates.

Revel in the luminescence of LUME with reddish Earth, metallic Pewter and dark Onyx as you run your fingers over the leather-like surface of PELLE Sabbia, Ciottolo and Rubino. Woodgrain lovers will appreciate TIMBER Coral's pinkish hue as well as the nature-inspired shades of Bay and Quark.

With these nine, new PLAY laminates (coloured circles - left), let the experimentation begin!

BREAKING THE SURFACE

GLORIOUS AGED METALS

Metal that has aged over time has a unique appeal due to its patina which can vary in texture and colour.

FERRO, our newest range of laminates from O2+ pays homage to this visual, and subtly tactile, characteristic of aged metal.

Depending on the application and space, you can evoke a sense of nostalgia and timelessness, or a dash of individuality and style, like a prized art piece.

Available in rustic colours that further accentuate the ageless look and feel of these laminates from the PLAY collection, pair FERRO with other materials such as wood and glass to enhance the overall aesthetic of your interiors.

SUPER SOLIDS, AT YOUR SERVICE!

Super Solids is the name we coined for all laminates in the MATTERS collection, and we have good reasons to do so.

Solids is a common term used within the interior design community to refer to laminates with one, consistent colour only.

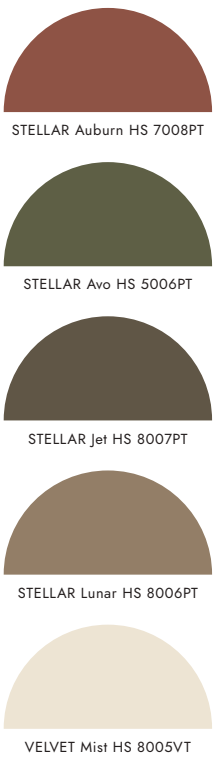

As for Super, we create our MATTERS laminates to offer superior features which are essential in today's modern spaces. In fact, even the way the laminates are made play a huge part in why they are Super Solids.

The MATTERS collection consists of High-pressure Continuously Pressed (HCPL) laminates which are made in continuous sheets. This method of production results in absolute consistency where the colour and texture of every sheet is concerned. Also, customised lengths can be fulfilled.

Speaking of length, all O2+ laminates, i.e. PLAY and MATTERS collections, are available in 8 feet (2440mm), and 10 feet (3050mm) so you can enjoy your favourite colour on higher walls, without unsightly joint lines and unnecessary wastage.

Add other advantages such as the Supermatte surface, scratch resistance, matching edgebands and the ease of curved application, and it is obvious why these laminates are truly Super Solids.

What do you like about Dekodur Distil?

Joyce Loh: I love the gold colours and unique textures because they can be used in an elegant way without looking over-the-top. The laminates also have a premium look and feel which are quite unlike what I have seen in the market.

Si Yuan: The extensive range of finishes and colours allows me to achieve a variety of interior design concepts across different residential and commercial projects. Overall, they are perfect for elevating a space, making it feel more high-end in a tasteful and refined manner.

Yu Jin: The metal laminates are so characterful that they can transform a space while still making it look timeless. Plus, they are incredibly versatile and give that extra touch of sophistication.

What is the concept behind the design?

JL: For the counter, I wanted to make it a focal point, with the curve at the end being a standout feature. To emphasise this particular section, I needed a distinctive laminate that offers a hint of shine.

SY: The owner wanted a modern and futuristic ambience, yet the space must exude elegance and warmth. Other requirements are a light, airy feel and the ability to withstand the rigours of daily usage.

YJ: The idea was to create a modern yet enduring altar design – one that would honour Buddha with a sense of elegance and reverence. I designed a curvy, wavy structure and felt that a metal laminate which reflects light, softly, would highlight the uniqueness of that form.

Why were the laminates chosen?

JL: I was captivated by all the colours that were available and eventually decided on Vegas laminates as their colour matched nicely with the other materials used in the house. Vegas Crater was chosen because of its unique pattern which really catches the eye.

SY: Steel Brushed was selected as its surface reflects light in a most beautiful way while its colour offers an alluring contrast to the softer materials in the bedroom such as wood, fabric and leather. The velvety feel of the laminate was also an important consideration.

YJ: I picked Vegas Brushed and Rose Mill as their semi-glossy finish, combined with the brushed texture, adds depth and visual interest without being overly flashy. They provide a unique balance of shine and warmth while evoking a calm yet saintly presence, perfect for a spiritual focal point.

How did the laminate contribute to the overall aesthetic of the room?

JL: Vegas Crater fulfilled my wish for a head-turning element that elevates the counter's style quotient. After, all, small details, when done right, can make a huge visual impact.

SY: Steel Brushed seamlessly integrated with other furnishings and accessories while creating a focal point that's unmistakable. The result is a refined, modernistic space that soothed and calmed. Truly, an ideal combination of form and function.

YJ: The combination of Vegas Brushed and Rose Mill gives the space a sophisticated air while providing a delicate balance of strength and softness, making the altar a worthy feature within the room.

ELEVATING CATALAB'S EXPERIENCE

CATALAB, our Experience Hub in Singapore, where visitors can pick and play with all our laminates has been refreshed to make each visit more engaging and even more fulfilling.

We have taken the "ONE COLOUR - MANY PATTERNS AND TEXTURES" concept (page 1) and applied it to our laminate displays. Now, you can view O2+ laminates with an array of textures and patterns, in your favourite MATTERS colours, arranged together on our innovative trays. Imagine how much more satisfying your experience will be?

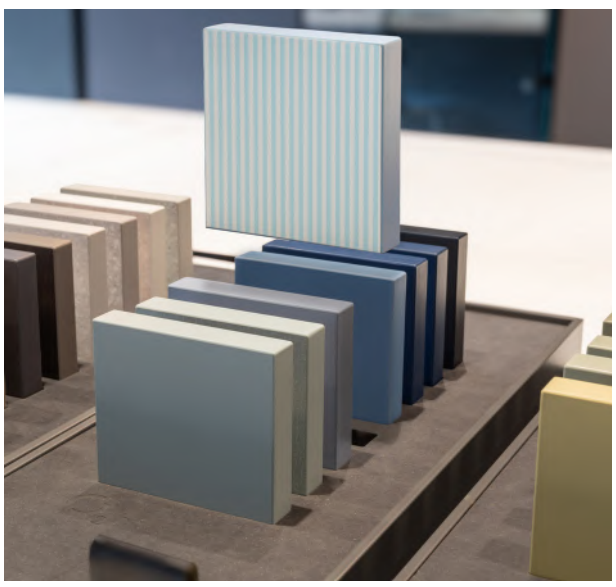

As you shortlist the laminates, our exciting moodboard trays are at your disposal so you can mix-and-match and personalise your own medley of O2+ laminates together with Dekodur Distil metal laminates. If you like viewing laminates in large sizes, we offer a selected showcase of large panels where you can admire the full effect of the patterns and textures.

When your visit is near its end, we will prepare the laminate samples you like so you can take them home for further perusal.
