Good afternoon everyone and a very warm welcome to Goldington Road for the opening home fixture of our Elior Champ Rugby campaign.

It is a campaign that kicks off with the league in a positive and optimistic frame of mind. With promotion and relegation a settled issue for the moment, clubs have the goal of being crowned champions and being the best club in England. The league will be more competitive than ever, and there is a feeling that all the hard work being done to improve standards throughout, and to attract more attention in the media, is paying off.

Our trip to Worcester last week was a huge disappointment, a dominant and very efficient Warriors display over the 80 minutes, allowed us very little opportunity. After a great pre-season display against a very strong Bath side, we travelled optimistically, but it drives home the fact that this is the start of a totally new season.

Today's encounter against Chinnor will be the first opportunity for the boys to bounce back and play some positive and effective rugby in front of our home crowd. It is an important game for us and Chinnor will be tough opponents. They made the play-offs last year and are a well-coached and organised outfit.

In common with all other clubs, they will have recruited strongly and will be a tough proposition. We welcome Nick, Tom and their colleagues, coaching staff, players and supporters here this afternoon.

Off the field, you will have seen our newly launched Save Our Scrum crowdfunder as we look to preserve our most historic building. We are asking for the support of our wider #BluesFamily to keep the doors open next season.

There are lots of ways you can help support, with further details available on P11 of today's programme, or via the club website. Thank you for continuing to back your club – your support does not go unnoticed.

Come On You Blues.

Welcome from the ASSISTANT COACH

TEAM TALK

Good afternoon everyone and welcome back to Goldington Road as we prepare for our first home Elior Champ Rugby fixture of the new season against Chinnor.

We are very pleased to welcome Nick Easter, his coaching team and playing squad here to Bedford for this afternoon's clash, which I'm sure will be another highly competitive one between two sides looking to entertain those in the ground and watching along online.

As a coaching staff, we won't hide away from the fact that it was a bitterly disappointing way to start the season at Worcester last weekend. We didn't put enough of our game on the pitch and were well beaten in the end by a very impressive side.

One game won't define our season, however, and we have the opportunity today to try and put things right and give you, our #BluesFamily, a performance that we want to be remembered by.

The lads have worked incredibly hard in training this week, having identified some of the key areas that we need to get right today and moving forwards through the season.

There has been a great attitude from everyone and I'm sure that will be reflected out on the field.

Chinnor are an incredibly strong team, and deserved more from their opening clash with Ealing last weekend. They, like ourselves, have retained a large majority of their group from last season and you only have to look at our recent meetings to see how close and hard fought it will be.

You can make a massive difference in helping get us over the line. We didn't give you enough to sing about last weekend and yet you continued to get behind us and back us all the way. All I can ask is for more of the same again today.

Welcome back to Goldington Road. A very warm welcome to all supporters of our wonderful club.

Our home remains the envy of many, and seeing Goldington Road host the final back in May was pretty special. To see our beloved club put on such a show, with so little notice and to such great effect, was something of which we should be immensely proud. I continue to bump into people who tell me what a fantastic day it was.

But sport is a cruel mistress. She has little interest in past glories when judging you in the present. Last weekend's trip to Sixways was a stark reminder. We know we don't traditionally start campaigns particularly well, but the way Worcester dealt with us underlined just how this season will be a hard day's night.

I think it would be unwise to predict too much; every weekend is going to surprise, frustrate and, hopefully, delight us. So we will have to come together, dust ourselves off and go again.

The away support at Sixways was strong, and I can't see that changing. Trips to Rotherham, Nottingham and Blackheath will no doubt attract plenty of Blues supporters, and I can only suggest letting the BBSC know as early as possible if you intend to join them. Per person, is there really a better way to support Bedford Blues?

A very warm welcome today to Chinnor, their players, officials and supporters. We are developing a real affinity with the Oxfordshire club, and I hope today's game is another great contest.

Rugby has a wonderful way of creating friendships in unexpected places. You arrive as opponents, share a few pints afterwards and, before you know it, here, there and everywhere, there are familiar faces.

Finally, it would be remiss of me not to give Clubber TV another push. Some Blues supporters cannot make every fixture, and many have told me how much they have enjoyed the coverage Clubber provides.

As a broadcaster, we continue to listen to feedback and work hard to help put Champ Rugby forward in the best possible light.

For now, though, let's concentrate on today. Enjoy the rugby, enjoy the company, make some noise and, hopefully, here comes the sun.

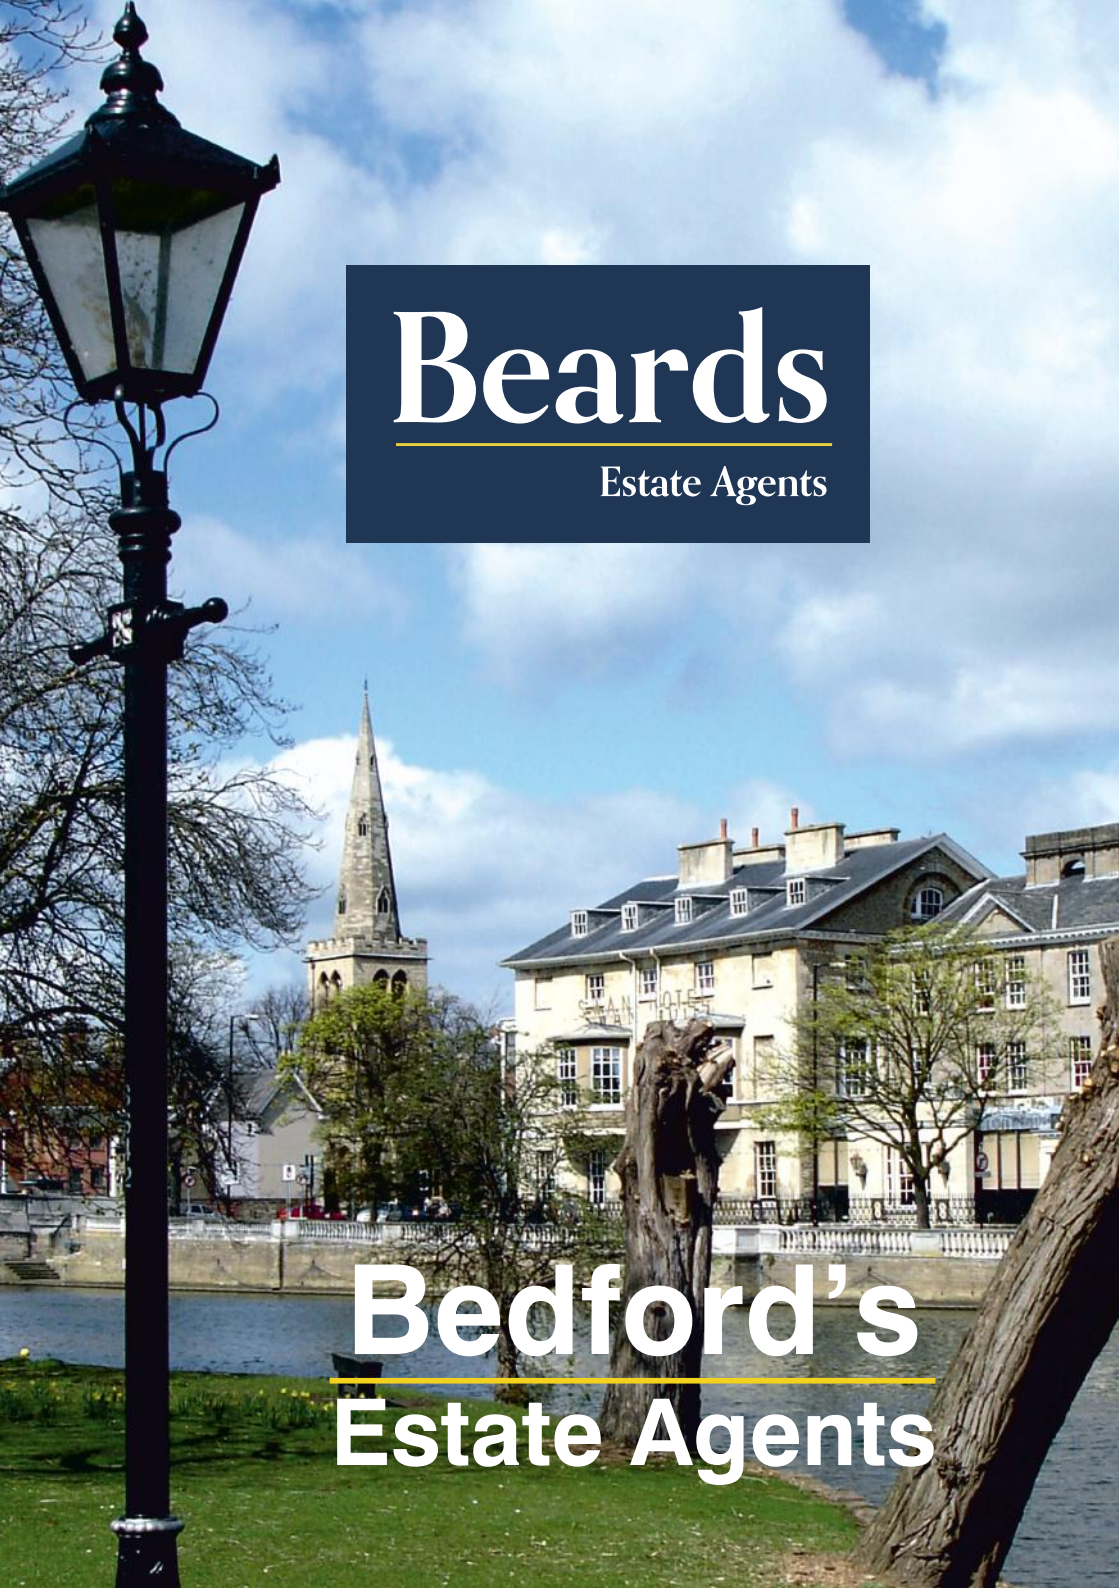

Come On You Blues!

Bedford Blues Women

FRIENDLY SUCCESS HEADING INTO NEW LEAGUE SEASON

Bedford Blues Women concluded preparations for a first-ever campaign at Championship Two level with a morale-boosting 34-12 success at Abbey Reading RFC last Sunday.

The team's only warm up fixture, they were missing several key personnel, but you wouldn't have known it as they controlled the game from the first whistle and grinded through the gears during the game to lead to a smart victory.

Claire Cranfield continues to set the tone for the team, she scored four, while Katharine Simpson and Angel Boateng also dotted down as part of a six-try showing that will stand the team in great stead for tomorrow's league opener in Sheffield.

Tougher tests will come throughout the league season, but this was about as good as it could get in terms of a confidence booster, with many positives and a couple of bits to work on.

Cranfield said: "Last season we put in a great shift, we worked really hard, and nothing's going to change heading into Champ Two either. As a team, we're really excited for what's to come."

CHINNOR

Chinnor head to Goldington Road for just the third time in history this afternoon with both teams harbouring ambitions of replicating their exploits from 2025/26, when both teams reached the post-season play-offs.

Nick Easter's charges will be looking to change the history books this afternoon because there has never been an away victory secured by either side against the other, with only home wins evidenced in recent seasons – including here at Goldington Road back in May.

The Villagers, as they are affectionately known, have been a revelation in the second tier since their promotion two years ago, and have added an extra dimension to the league in that time.

They are an extremely important part of the Oxfordshire community with five senior sides taking to the field every weekend, plus a thriving mini & juniors section right the way through the age grades. And a senior women's side who were actually drawn against our very own Blues Women in cup competition last year.

Despite just four previous encounters throughout history, there is quite a lot of familiarity between the pair with many notable alumni shared; Tom Cruse was in the coaching departments of both clubs previously, while players such as Oli Curry, Fred Tuilagi and Kieran Curran have won both jerseys.

Looking further back, Chinnor were formed in 1962, and have been on the rise ever since. They'd been in the promotion picture pretty much ever year since ascending to National One for 2018/19, finally getting the job done two years ago with a destructive campaign.

On the occasion of their third journey to Goldington Road, we welcome all those associated with Chinnor and hope they have a fantastic time at our traditional rugby club.

TWO TO WATCH

Forward

Jamie Campbell

SECOND ROW

Jamie Campbell has been a revelation since joining the Chinnor engine room at the start of last season, dominating the lineout statistics for the league in 25/26 and starting off again in fine fettle last weekend.

Featuring in all of their league fixtures since arrival, Campbell averages 78 minutes per fixture such is his durability and importance to the team. Taking more lineout steals than anyone else in the past 12 months, he's going to be a key threat at the set-piece today.

Part of Chinnor's brilliance in recent times has been their consistency of selection, meaning Campbell has played pretty much every game alongside Conor Brockschmidt in the second row. They have formed a lethal partnership and will cause problems.

Joining the Villagers from Edinburgh last year, he made a sparing number of appearances for the United Rugby Championship side having joined their academy in 2021/22. He has also featured for Biggar RFC and Southern Knights, gaining some Scotland U20 caps along the way.

Back

Luke Carter

SCRUM HALF

A highly dependable operator, club captain Luke Carter surpassed the 100-appearance barrier for Chinnor last season, as he closes in on 250 overall in his career – the majority of which in Elior Champ Rugby.

Joining Chinnor following the COVID-19 pandemic, Carter has been a mainstay in the team ever since and was a vital component in their promotion from National One in 2023/24.

Prior to this spell in Oxfordshire, he appeared more than 50 times for Ealing, while also counting Rotherham, Hartpury University and Rosslyn Park as his former clubs.

An interesting battle with Alex Day is set to ensue with Carter's game also based around control and good game management. His understanding of the game and measured approach make him a steady influence for Chinnor and a player Blues will need to manage, particularly in key moments.

SAFETY MATTERS

All persons attending fixtures at Bedford Rugby Club in possession of tickets for the Main Stand should note that in order to comply with the conditions of the Club Safety Certificate certain restrictions have to be imposed on occupants of seats within this stand:

No smoking is permitted in any part of the stand. No bottles, cans or glasses can be taken into the stand.

OTHER AREAS

In addition to the above it should be noted that bottles and glasses are not permitted in any part of the ground except inside the bars, therefore drinks will continue to be served in plastic containers on matchdays.

EVACUATION PROCEDURES

All spectators should note that in the unlikely event of an evacuation becoming necessary, an announcement will be made over the public address system immediately proceeded by a warning klaxon sound, informing them of areas that are to be evacuated. As this announcement is being made stewards will open emergency exits and gates, all of which are clearly indicated. Safety stewards will then direct spectators as to which route they should use to leave the ground. In order that any evacuation is conducted as quickly and safely as possible all spectators are requested to comply with the instructions of Safety stewards.

Match tickets should be retained in the event of an evacuation should the game be rescheduled for another date.

As Bedford Blues prepare to host their first league game of the new season, back row powerhouse, Tui Uru talks desire to put on a strong showing in-front of the club's loyal #BluesFamily.

TUI URU

The Gilbert Big Interview

8 TUI URU

Let's start by talking about this afternoon's game, Tui. What sort of test are you expecting from Chinnor?

This is a great opportunity to right our wrongs and try to put a marker down. Chinnor are not a team to be messed around with, though, and they've shown in the past few years what a good side they are – making the play-offs last year.

We have to go in with the right mentality and prove to ourselves that we're here to do the business.

Week to week, we'll highlight some of the key aspects of our opponent, but we won't change our own gameplan too much, we focus on ourselves more so.

We've highlighted this week that teams will be looking at our maul defence from last week and trying to exploit that. Alun Walker is a huge player for them, and he'll try and make the maul a huge asset for Chinnor.

They've got the Champ Player of the Year from last season in Will Cave and some key players in the backs too. But we'll look at ourselves and who we have to negate those threats.

You mentioned the maul, and that's an area of the game Worcester excelled in last weekend with three tries from it. Take us into the intricacies of that facet of the game and how do we quickly turn it around?

There are laws that get introduced all the time so that causes changes as well, but it's just about how we focus on our detail and getting into the nitty gritty of everyone's roles within the maul and trying to fix the mistakes.

We have to be honest with ourselves because we don't get a lot of time to practise, and we need to get positive habits around it.

I think at Worcester it was a mixture of both, we weren't quite there defensively but they also really pushed the limits of the laws and did that well to get away with it.

We didn't adapt to their plan as fast as we should have done, our intensity wasn't right. Even with our attacking mauls, they stopped us with some questionable ways, and credit to them for pushing that.

> "Last week's performance has put fuel on the fire, and we just want to go out there with some pride."

While there will be obvious frustrations overall with the performance at Worcester, I'm sure there's an inherent desire from within the playing group to get right back out there and try to get back to winning ways?

This is huge. We've taken it on the chin as a squad, looked at ourselves quite hard throughout training this week, and identified what kind of team we want to be this season.

We recognise that it's not going to happen just like it did last season, teams have improved in this off season, and everyone is competitive. Last week's performance has put fuel on the fire, and we just want to go out there with some pride.

Fight for every game, the next game is always the most important, but we've been in this position before and come out the other side.

Ultimately, on our day, we are one of those sides that can compete for the top two, three places in the table. We hope our fans haven't got too disheartened after last week, we know what we need to iron out, and we'll be back stronger today.

The Worcester fixture was the first round of action to implement the new bonus point system in Elior Champ Rugby. It's a system you're more used to than others – what are your overall thoughts towards it?

Perhaps when the games are getting close you might think about the bigger picture and whether you can get an extra point on the table. But generally, we just continue to do our job and keep the scoreboard ticking over in anyway you can.

It brings some interesting maths into the league, but it doesn't bother me too much – I had the system when I was out in France and I think it'll benefit the game, even if it takes a little while to get used to.

Context will be massive into exactly what we'd do given certain scenarios and chasing the three tries clear or just consolidating the victory. In the long run I think it will suit us because of the way we play, our style, we try to entertain and hopefully that results in points.

NEIL COCHRANE

HOOKER
2011-13. 60 APPEARANCES, 15 TRIES.

Neil's introduction to rugby was quite late.

He writes:

'I played football until I was 15 (not very well!) and it was peer pressure from my friendship group that introduced me to rugby at school.

There were no family links to rugby as we were very much a football house growing up. Although a late starter, I soon found out I was significantly better at rugby than football.'

Neil took up rugby at Boroughmuir High School, initially playing at centre before moving to the back row. He was spotted by the U16s State School Scotland Rugby Union Team, which led to an academy place with Edinburgh Rugby. In 2003, Neil was called up to the Scotland U21s, captaining the team between 2004-05.

Neil joined Rotherham Titans in 2005 and spent three years there, making 83 appearances, scoring 70 points, and was voted Player of the Year in his final season.

From there, he joined Doncaster Knights in 2008, where he was voted Player of the Year in 2010, before he signed for Bedford in time for the 2011-12 season.

Neil continues:

'When I joined Bedford, Mike gave me the opportunity to change to hooker, for which I was very grateful.

I always admired the way Bedford played with such freedom. If I was able to apply the same skill set for hooker that I had as flanker, my thoughts were it could really help the team. It could be like having four back rowers on the pitch!

Bedford provided a fantastic environment to express yourself. We liked to play hard on and off the pitch! We had a great bunch of boys in our squad, and there was a good mix of experience and young players like Josh Bassett and 'Sonic ' Ali Price.

'Boults' was great, as I stayed with him at the start of my Bedford journey. There were so many memorable games - semi-final v Nottingham when we secured second position in the 2011-12 RFU Championship and the play-off finals, home and away, against Newcastle the following season. Jersey away that season - great night out!

Katie, my wife, had moved to England with me and Annie, our eldest, was born in Bedford.

After a short spell at Wasps, I moved back to Scotland to play for Edinburgh for four years before retiring in 2018. In my final season, I managed to get into the Autumn International and Six Nations squad, but sadly never got the chance to play.

NEIL AND KATIE

I decided to hang up my boots and start my career in commercial building surveying. I had a good opportunity to gain experience with SDC Builders Ltd when I was at Bedford. I was on their Management Trainee Programme, which gave me a good insight into the building environment.

We now live in North Berwick in East Lothian. We moved here in 2020 during the pandemic. It is a great place for kids to grow up with plenty of beaches and golf courses. I played a few games for North Berwick when I was coaching them between 2021-23.

However, I have since stepped away from rugby as I now provide a taxi service for the kids for all their weekend activities. In my spare time, I still enjoy exercising, paddle-boarding, the gym and running.

We now have three children. Annie is 14, Lottie nine, and Brodie seven. Brodie's passion is football, and he has been invited to start training with Hibs and Rangers (pre-Academy). Lottie is keen on Drama and Musical Arts. Annie's interests include Volleyball, Horses and, of course, her phone.

Sending best wishes for the 2026-27 season to everyone at Goldington Road!'

19 Sep 2026 | Sixways

It was a disappointing start to the new Elior Champ Rugby season for Bedford Blues as they fell to defeat against Worcester Warriors at Sixways Stadium.

A tough outing, with a smattering of positives contained within, as Mike Rayer's men were punished for being slightly off in all facets.

When Blues did put together some phase play, they looked capable of causing problems, and rewarded midway through the second half with a lovely bit of handling to set Lucas Titherington away for the line.

But frustration was the name of the game as Blues couldn't capitalise on the scoreboard any further, and were left to lick their wounds on opening weekend.

STATS CORNER

BEDFORD BLUES

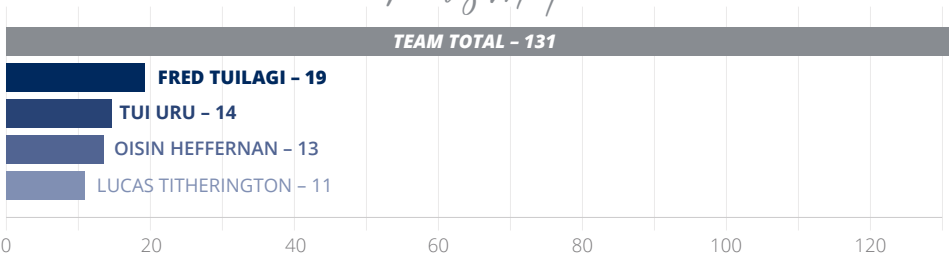

A difficult afternoon in Worcestershire as Bedford Blues fell to defeat on opening weekend against the reigning champions, leaving Sixways Stadium without a point on the Elior Champ Rugby table.

One performance the team will be desperate to put right this afternoon with a response in-front of their home supporters.

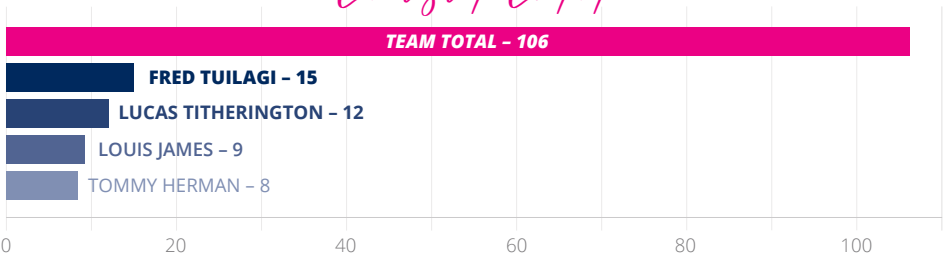

Here's what we learned last weekend at Sixways Stadium...
