Minjun is a boy
who likes to run.
He likes to run.

One day, I listen to the news that runs at school.
Minjun wants to participate.

Minjun practicing, Minjun sees his friends are much faster than him.
Minjun starts to lose
his confidence.

Minjun practices many times, but it doesn't get faster easily.
Eventually, I want to go give up the competition.

I see a child learning to ride a
bicycle in the park.
The child keeps getting up even when he falls.

Minjun is encouraged by seeing a child who doesn't give up.
I'm starting to practice running again.

On the day of the running competition, Minjun does not give up until the end and runs to the finish line on his own.

Although Minjun did not win first place, he sets his own record. He realizes that if he tries, he can grow.
