Wine Club

Welcome to the Club

After leaving a career in Human Resources, I dove headfirst into the world of wine - a passion that quickly became a calling. I earned my Certified Specialist of Wine credential during COVID, then gained hands-on experience in a vineyard & tasting room. A stint in London for the Wine & Spirit Education Trust Level 3 pushed me to my limits, but I passed with renewed confidence. It's been a winding journey, with a few HR detours, but now I'm fully immersed in wine and loving every moment. Thank you for joining the club - I can't wait to explore this world with fellow enthusiasts like you!

Sincerely, Hilary Haag

Leithakalk Wine Estate

Burgenland, Austria

We're revisiting this Austrian estate from Burgenland this month. I'm a big fan of Austrian wines, and while this is our first repeat estate, it likely won't be our last—some producers simply have an exceptional command of their terroir.

From the rolling hills of the Leitha Mountains, Leithakalk Wine Estate produces distinctive, terroir-driven wines from vines up to 60–70 years old. Their vineyards sit on prime slopes, yielding refined whites and expressive reds shaped by strict grape selection and a natural, thoughtful approach to vinification.

The estate farms about 12 acres, producing roughly 20,000 bottles per year—a tiny amount that underscores their commitment to quality. Only the best "filet pieces" of the vineyard go into Leithakalk's own wines; younger parcels are sold off. Low yields and meticulous selection remain central to their philosophy, and they firmly believe great wine is made in the vineyard, not the cellar.

Hilary's Note: "Divisive as it is, Chardonnay is a spectacular grape with so much potential in both the vineyard and winery. This Chardonnay out of Austria is unexpected which is why I chose it for this month. This isn't your oaky, buttery, mouth filling Chardonnay. This is a Chardonnay worth giving a chance."*

Eyrie Vineyards

Willamette Valley, OR

The Eyrie Vineyards was founded in 1965 by David Lett, whose vision was to establish Pinot Noir and Chardonnay in a climate outside Burgundy. After a worldwide search, he planted the first post-Prohibition vinifera vines in the Willamette Valley, laying the groundwork for one of Oregon's most influential estates.

For the past twenty vintages, Eyrie has been led by Jason Lett, who has transitioned the estate to fully no-till farming and achieved Certified Organic status. Careful attention to soil health, and vine-by-vine care support the vitality of the vineyards and the character of the wines.

The winery is a direct extension of the vineyard. Jason maintains a harmonious cellar environment, allowing long, unforced fermentations and extended aging. Neutral oak is central to Eyrie's style—twelve barrels purchased for the 1970 vintage are still in use today. Long barrel aging, evolved acidity, and minimal new oak help the wines age gracefully.

Hilary's Note: "A Willamette Valley treasure! This isn't a typical Willamette wine (Chardonnay or Pinot Noir). After learning about The Eyrie Vineyards history, practices, and ethos and trying a handful of the wines there was no doubt that I'd feature this estate in our Wine Club. Trousseau may be your new favorite grape."*

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Chardonnay

This 100% Estate Reserve Chardonnay is a pure, expressive reflection of its terroir. Planted on mineral rich soils the vines dig deep and impart structure, depth, and a distinct minerality that forms the backbone of this wine.

On the palate you'll find a burst of fruit including yellow apple, pear, and lemon. This wine is elegant with its vibrant fruit character and supple acidity. It was vinified in fine, used barrique barrels which allows the limestone driven tension to shine through with the wood gently framing the wine. This Chardonnay is captivating in its youth, but able to rest in the cellar for several years to gain more complex aromas.

Winemaker Klaus Wimmer calls himself a farmer first and a winemaker second. He believes great wine can only be made from superior grapes. In 2016 Klaus and friends decided to statrt a new venture. Thus, Leithakalk Wine Estate was born.

Perfect Pairings: Because this wine is mineral-driven and crisp, it pairs beautifully with herb-roasted chicken with lemon and fennel. If you're in the mood for seafood, try it with seared scallops in brown butter and chive—just go light on the butter so the wine's freshness stays front and center. As for me, I'd happily drink it on its own.

Trousseau

This 100% Trousseau is made from estate-grown, no-till organic grapes and fermented with wild yeast. Trousseau is an ancient variety originating in France's Jura region, and in 2012 Jason Lett planted the Willamette Valley's first Trousseau vines—marking a new chapter for the estate.

The wine opens with aromas of dark berries, loam, and baking spice. On the palate, you'll find a mix of herbal and fruit-driven notes, all carried by balanced acidity and body. Blackberry, pomegranate, and rhubarb stand out as the wine evolves in the glass. With its light tannins and precise, extended finish, this bottling shows real potential for ageability.

While Eyrie's farming is Certified Organic, Jason and the team treat that as a starting point. Aged in neutral large-format oak, the wine reflects the purest expression of the fruit. Eyrie chooses not to fine or filter this wine, allowing the most authentic version of Trousseau to shine.

Perfect Pairings: Try this wine with your next pork tenderloin or pork chop—mustard, herbs, or apple will elevate both the dish and the wine. Want to enjoy it alongside the Chardonnay? It's a great match for herb-roasted chicken with lemon and fennel. I should mention again – I'd enjoy this wine on it's own.

This month you'll find an extra treat in your bag from our friends at Marlow Provisions. Enjoy it at your leisure—on us.

Ad Ripa

Santa Barbara County, CA

Justin Willett—winemaker behind both Tyler Winery and Lieu Dit—launched his newest label, Ad Ripa, meaning "to the shore" in Latin. A Santa Barbara native, Justin began his winemaking career in 2005 with the founding of Tyler Winery, focusing on Chardonnay and Pinot Noir from the Sta. Rita Hills. His work has always centered on sustainable farming, low-intervention winemaking, and a relentless pursuit of purity of site and varietal.

In 2016, Justin began exploring Bordeaux varieties and released his first Cabernet Sauvignon under the Tyler label. That experience deepened his interest in the region's potential for Bordeaux grapes and inspired the creation of Ad Ripa. This new label allows him to fully dedicate himself to the distinct terroir of Happy Canyon, located in the easternmost corner of Santa Barbara County. Happy Canyon's warm microclimate has made it a celebrated site for Bordeaux plantings, especially Cabernet Sauvignon.

Hilary's Note: "Many of the wines I've tried of Justin Willet's I've ended up loving. This Cabernet is no exception. While the Forever Red club won't be full of Cabernet Sauvignon, I thought it would be a great idea to kick off the first month with a recognizable grape that shows what Cabernet can do."*

Chateau de Pressac

Bordeaux, FR

This château has watched over the Dordogne River and hills of Saint Emilion for more than six centuries. In French history, its name was given to a grape variety that would later become known as Malbec, a noble Bordeaux varietal. Château de Pressac was founded in the Middle Ages, served as the site of the surrender at the Battle of Castillon, and still retains remnants of its original 27 towers.

In 1775, the château was sold and formally described as a wine estate. After a change of hands a few more times in 2012, Château de Pressac was elevated to Grand Cru Classé of Saint-Émilion, recognizing the excellence of its terroir, vineyards, and wines. The estate's 41 hectares encompass the three major terroir types of the appellation: limestone plateau, clay-limestone slopes, and silty clay-limestone foothills. Committed to long-term environmental stewardship, the château has implemented a comprehensive Environmental Management System to preserve its land for generations to come.

Hilary's Note: "With such rich Bordeaux history, beautiful architecture, and it being a fantastic wine there's no doubt I would include this wine to kick off our first Forever Red month. As we move into cooler months (fingers crossed) you'll find this is the perfect wine to get you in the mood. "*

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Cabernet Sauvignon

This 100% Cabernet Sauvignon comes from Happy Canyon Vineyard and China Blue Vineyard in Santa Barbara County. Fruit from these distinct sites offers a broad snapshot of Happy Canyon's unique terroir, balancing valley-floor richness with hillside vibrancy. Both vineyards are farmed organically.

This Cabernet leans savory and old-school in style, showing structure, freshness, and a touch of minerality. Dense dark-fruit notes—blackberry, black cherry, and cassis—lead on the nose and palate, supported by herbaceous tones and a subtle menthol backbone. The wine is medium-bodied, with fine, well-integrated tannins that reinforce its classic profile. This wine spends 22 months in ½ new oak barrels before bottling.

The Ad Ripa label is a distinct project from Justin Willett, offering a fresh platform for wines that emphasize purity, structure, and a strong sense of place. Each wine under the label speaks clearly and confidently of its origin.

Perfect Pairings: With its earthy, savory depth and solid structure, a mushroom Bolognese is a natural match for this Cabernet. For something more classic, a New York Strip or Ribeye will pair beautifully. If you want a fun cheese option, try it alongside a plate of aged cheddar, Manchego, or aged Gouda.

Bordeaux Rouge

Château de Pressac is the only Grand Cru Classé in Saint-Émilion to cultivate six grape varieties—each perfectly matched to its ideal growing conditions: Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Carménère, Noir de Pressac (Malbec), and Petit Verdot.

This cuvée features five of those Bordeaux grapes, led by Merlot (77%), supported by Cabernet Sauvignon (11%), Cabernet Franc (9%), Carménère (2%), and Malbec/Noir de Pressac (1%).

Expect aromas of black cherry, plum, chocolate, licorice, and leather, with subtle spice and menthol in the background. The palate is well-balanced, showing espresso, lavender, and cedar on the finish. Acidity, tannin, and alcohol are all in harmony, resulting in a wine that is rich, balanced, and genuinely impressive.

The fruit undergoes a long maceration (3–4 weeks), is fermented in concrete, and ages for 20 months—18 of those in barrel, with half of the barrels being new oak.

Perfect Pairings: With Merlot at its core, this wine pairs beautifully with savory poultry seasoned with rosemary, thyme, and garlic—herb-roasted chicken or duck is the move. Like our Cabernet, it would also shine alongside a mushroom bolognese.

Lucy - Pisoni Family

Monterey County, CA

Lucy Wines is owned and produced by the Pisoni family, sitting alongside Pisoni Estate and Lucia as part of the official Pisoni Family portfolio. It isn't a separate company sourcing Pisoni fruit—it's a true Pisoni family brand.

The Lucy label allows the family to combine their passion for winemaking with meaningful philanthropy. Through their three standout wines, they support breast cancer research, the Big Sur Fire Department, and the Monterey Bay Aquarium. With their Pico Blanco wine, they donate one dollar per bottle sold to Ocean Conservancy. Since its inception, the Lucy family of wines has contributed more than $235,000 to these causes.

The Pisoni family has farmed in the Salinas Valley since 1952, but the shift toward viticulture began in 1982 when Gary Pisoni, son of Jane and Eddie, planted vines. Today, Gary and his sons, Jeff and Mark, continue that legacy with a deep connection to their land and craft.

Hilary's Note: "A great wine with a great cause? Sign me up. After tasting this white blend of Pinot Gris and Pinot Blanc I was impressed by its freshness, approachability, and purity. It's balanced and light on the palate and shows more character after each sip."*

VIK Winery

Cachapoal Valley, Chile

Alexander Vik set out with a singular goal: to create one of the best wines in the world. After two years of scientific research, the ideal terroir was identified. VIK Estate has been producing wine in the foothills of the Andes Mountains in Millahue, a sub-region of Chile's Cachapoal Valley. More than 327 hectares of vines are planted across 12 distinct valleys, each with its own microclimate and exposure.

The estate also features a striking, design-forward luxury hotel with panoramic vineyard views, architecture inspired by the surrounding mountains, and even an on-site cooperage.

The Cachapoal Valley is renowned for premium red wines. Cabernet Sauvignon thrives in the Andean foothills, while Carménère flourishes closer to the coast. Grapes from this region develop rich, concentrated flavors while maintaining the freshness and energy that define the valley's best wines.

Hilary's Note: "I know I've been holding out on Cabernet Sauvignon. I couldn't pass up the chance to feature this beautiful, complex, layered Cabernet from Chile this month. If you haven't explored Chile's red wines yet, I'm happy to lead the way. This one truly wows."*

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Pico Blanco

Made from 70% Pinot Gris and 30% Pinot Blanc, this white blend truly shines. The Pisoni family favors a traditional winemaking approach, focusing on purity and complexity. Grapes are hand-sorted, gently pressed, and fermented in 100% neutral barrels to preserve fruit character while building elegant texture.

The granite soils of the Santa Lucia Highlands contribute a chalky minerality and wet-stone nuance that define the wine's profile. Pico Blanco pays homage to early grape-growing in Monterey County, this showcases chosen cool-climate varieties in a blend that's both vibrant and refined.

The nose offers white peach, Meyer lemon, and honeysuckle with an enticing level of intensity. On the palate, bright acidity carries notes of minerality, lychee, lemon blossom, and ripe pear, creating a fresh, balanced finish. Native yeast is depended upon and no fining takes place with this wine.

Perfect Pairings: This wine's light yet layered profile makes it a versatile pairing partner. Try it with Monterey Bay Cioppino—loaded with fresh seafood in a spiced tomato-wine broth—or with savory Sourdough Crab Melts topped with warm crab, melted cheese, and herbs. Both dishes highlight the wine's freshness and complexity.

Cabernet Sauvignon (blend)

This blend is composed of 88% Cabernet Sauvignon, 10% Carménère, and 2% Syrah. The Cabernet provides structure and dark fruit, while Carménère adds its signature spicy character and a soft, supple mouthfeel. The small addition of Syrah deepens color, enhances savoriness, and contributes to the wine's overall depth.

On the nose, you'll find a dusty, earthy accent that's synonymous with Chilean reds, alongside dark cherry, plum, and blackcurrant. Peppercorn, clove, and nutmeg emerge in the background, joined by oak-driven notes of sweet tobacco and licorice. The palate is rich and layered, energized by striking acidity that brings freshness and lift. It's a complex, persistent wine with impressive length.

The Omega range from VIK serves as an intermediary tier between their introductory "A" series and the more intricate Milla Cala. All wines blend top fruit from VIK's unique terroir.

Perfect Pairings: This wine is excellent alongside a char-grilled ribeye topped with chimichurri, and it shines with a Chilean-style asado—smoked sausages, assorted beef cuts, and plenty of chimichurri (a perfect match for this wine). For a simple pairing, reach for aged cheddar, Manchego, or Gouda; all three complement its structure and depth.

Vietti

Marche, Italy

Vietti was founded in the late 1800s in the heart of the Langhe, perched at the highest point of the medieval village of Castiglione Falletto—where it still stands today. Over generations, the Vietti family built a brand rooted in culture, vision, and enthusiasm, establishing a legacy that carried through to the 1990s.

Today, Vietti is recognized among Italy's top wine producers. Quality, tradition, and thoughtful experimentation have shaped its reputation. Art has been central to the winery's identity since the late 1950s, culminating in the introduction of Artist Labels in 1974—one of the most influential innovations of its time.

In 2016, the Krause family purchased the estate and expanded its holdings with renowned Crus in both Barolo and Barbaresco. They remain committed to preserving Vietti's identity and values while continuing to build toward the future.

Hilary's Note: "You may know by now that the more obscure a wine is the more attracted I am to it. While Roero isn't as obscure as some, I know it is a grape not too familiar to many. I love this wines brightness, balance, and floral aromas. This bottle is, in my opinion, easy to enjoy in one sitting."*

Lieu Dit

Santa Barbara, CA

Born from shared passion and years of camaraderie, Lieu Dit (meaning "named place" in French) was founded in 2011 by friends determined to explore the deeper mysteries of wine. Justin Willett—raised in Santa Barbara and inspired after earning his B.A. from UCSB—began his winemaking career at Arcadian Winery before launching Tyler Winery in 2005. Known for small-lot Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, he also serves as consulting winemaker for Wenzlau Vineyard in the Santa Rita Hills.

Fueled by countless bottles and formative trips to France, Justin and his likeminded companion created Lieu Dit to focus on Loire Valley varieties grown in Santa Barbara County's marine-based soils and varied micro-climates. Sauvignon Blanc leads the lineup, supported by limited Chenin Blanc, Cabernet Franc, and Rosé, totaling about 2,500 cases annually. Each vintage reflects their pursuit of purity, elegance, and balance.

Hilary's Note: "We must give credit where credit is due. Cabernet Franc, a parent grape to Cabernet Sauvignon, has all the boldness and brightness with none of the pretention. Drink this wine with your next meal and a slight chill. Lieu Dit really puts themselves on the map with this wine."*

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Roero Arneis

This 100% Roero Arneis was first bottled in purity in 1967 by the Vietti family. I love this varietal—its relative obscurity makes it all the more intriguing. The grapes come from hand-harvested, select vineyards rooted in limestone- and clay-rich soils. The vines average 31 years of age and sit in the heart of the Roero region.

Roero, located in Piedmont just north of the Langhe, is known for its sandy soils, medieval hilltop villages, and distinctive DOCG wines made from native varieties. Roero Arneis is a fresh, aromatic white with floral notes, green apple, and crisp minerality.

This bottling shows bright floral, citrus, and melon aromas that continue to open in the glass. A clear mineral thread runs through both the nose and palate. Medium-bodied, fresh, and elegant, it offers enough complexity to really shine.

Perfect Pairings: From start to finish, this wine can carry a full meal. Begin with a caprese salad—fresh mozzarella and tomatoes let its minerality shine. Move on to crab cakes or scallops, where the wine's texture pairs beautifully, and finish with a light Alfredo, which the acidity cuts through with ease.

Cabernet Franc

This 100% Cabernet Franc is sourced from vineyards in the Santa Ynez Valley and Santa Barbara County, grown in sandy, clay-loam, and alluvial soils. Cabernet Franc doesn't always get the recognition it deserves. It's an important black varietal worldwide—offering structure, lift, and character without showing off.

Cabernet Franc is a resilient, expressive grape capable of producing high-quality wines across a range of climates. It's known for its distinctive herbaceous notes and subtle bell pepper aromatics. Savory in profile and versatile in the cellar, Cab Franc typically ages well for 2–10 years.

This month's wine opens with aromas of black cherry, tomato leaf, violets, and graphite. True to the varietal, the nose leaps from the glass. On the palate, expect pomegranate, plum, and dried herbs. Like last month's selection, this Cabernet Franc also shines with a slight chill.

Perfect Pairings: Enjoy this Cabernet Franc with your new go-to pairing: mushroom risotto. For a more protein-forward option, try it with pork tenderloin finished with a bourbon-fig glaze or roast duck with a sweet citrus glaze. This wine is as versatile as it is beautiful in the glass. Be sure to save some to savor after the meal.

Santa Barbara

Marche, Italy

Since its beginning, the Santa Barbara winery has focused on two core goals: reviving the Marche region's indigenous grape varieties—Verdicchio dei Castelli di Jesi for whites, and Montepulciano and Lacrima di Morro d'Alba for reds—and crafting wines with real personality that honor local tradition while appealing to an international audience.

After returning to his childhood village of Barbara in the heart of the Marche, Stefano Antonucci shifted his career from banking to winemaking. Deeply connected to his territory and fascinated by the world of wine, he transformed his family's cooperative winery into the dynamic estate it is today.

Stefano is known for his pursuit of perfection and is often described as a visionary winemaker. His captivating personality and thoughtful approach to winemaking shine through in every bottle, creating wines that remain true to Marche traditions yet resonate with wine lovers around the world.

Hilary's Note: "You may not be familiar with Verdicchio, which is exactly why I'm excited to share this wine with you. I hope you enjoy it as much as I did when I first tasted it. Verdicchio is a truly underrated grape—bright, refreshing, and absolutely perfect for keeping in your glass all summer long."*

Ver Sacrum

Uco Valley, Argentina

Eduardo Soler founded Ver Sacrum in 2012 with two friends, driven by the idea of growing and vinifying Rhône varietals in Argentina. Their winemaking philosophy centers on freshness, low alcohol, gentle skin contact, native yeasts, and honest, easy-drinking wines. It's a small but influential project built on the intention of doing something completely different from what Argentina was known for at the time.

All grapes are hand-harvested, and most are foot-crushed, with minimal intervention in both the vineyard and the cellar—no corrections, no filtration, and no pump-overs. Today, they work primarily from their small vineyard in Los Chacayes in the Uco Valley, where they've planted Grenache, Monastrell, Carignan, Mencía, Syrah, Teroldego, and Nebbiolo, and more.

Eduardo came to winemaking after reconnecting with some of Argentina's most adventurous growers. That spirit of curiosity and experimentation continues to define Ver Sacrum's identity.

Hilary's Note: "Another lesser-known varietal I'm excited to get into your glass. It's a perfect summer red—best enjoyed with a slight chill. Light, enticing, zippy on the palate, and refreshingly clean on the finish. I'm hopeful Mencía becomes a grape you'll seek out after tasting this."*

WINES OF THE MOMENT

La Vaglie Verdicchio

This 100% Verdicchio was first crafted in 1992 with the goal of breaking away from traditional winemaking approaches while still honoring the Marche region's deep history. The vines, now 25–40 years old, are hand-harvested, giving this wine both concentration and character.

It's a clean, crisp, high-acid white that stands out as a "need-to-know" Italian classic. The nose opens with floral notes, followed by citrus, stone fruit, and a subtle nutty almond touch. The bouquet is expressive, and the palate is fresh, smooth, and beautifully balanced from start to finish, with a touch of minerality adding lift.

Fermented entirely in stainless steel, this Verdicchio offers a refreshing alternative to more familiar Italian whites like Pinot Grigio. Light in body with a silky texture, it's a wine to enjoy now—an ideal partner for summer dishes and warm-weather sipping.

Perfect Pairings: Try this wine with mussels, oysters, or prawns for a perfect match—the bright acidity and clean finish make it ideal for shellfish. You can also pair it with seafood pasta like spaghetti alle vongole or a vibrant lemon risotto. Light bites such as bruschetta topped with mozzarella or burrata complement this wine beautifully.

Doña Mencia de los Andes

This is a 100% Mencía wine from Argentina's Uco Valley. Malbec is often the dominant star of the region, which is why I wanted to spotlight something new and exciting. The wine is made with minimal intervention and includes 50% whole-cluster fermentation—a choice that brings out savory, herbal aromatics.

This Mencía opens with fresh strawberry, cherry, and blueberry notes, followed by a touch of earthiness. As it evolves in the glass, you'll notice subtle oak influences of vanilla and cinnamon. Don't mistake its freshness for simplicity—this wine has plenty of layers. It carries firm tannins, a medium body, fresh acid and an overall round, satisfying palate.

This Mencia is 100% hand harvested and made from Mencia grapes from a single plot within the estate vineyard. It's aged 18 months in used French Oak barrels and 20 months in bottle before release.

Perfect Pairings: Try this wine with pork chops or pork tenderloin—the bright acidity cuts beautifully through the richness of the meat. Simple grilled vegetables with olive oil and herbs also pair well, highlighting the wine's savory notes. Mushroom dishes, lentil stews, and tomato-based pastas are excellent matches too.

Böhme & Töchter

Gleina, Saale-Unstrut, Germany

Weingut Böhme & Töchter (Böhme & Daughters) is a standout example of modern generational winemaking. Founded in 1985 and revitalized by sisters Marika and Toska—along with Marika's husband and cellar master, Sandro Sperk—the estate has transformed its identity to match the precision and purity of its wines. Their minimalist aesthetic reflects a philosophy of stripping away the unnecessary to showcase the character of their historic vineyards.

In 2022, the estate earned admission into the prestigious VDP, cementing its place among Germany's top producers. Farming about six hectares in the steep, terraced landscapes of Saale-Unstrut, the winery benefits from the region's signature Muschelkalk (shell limestone) soils, which impart the electric minerality and tension that define their wines. Of the six hectares planted, a little over two hectares are planted on those steep slopes.

Hilary's Note: "When I tasted this back in January, my first thought was 'June!'. This is a summer wine through and through, and kicking off the season with an off-dry pool sipper feels like the perfect move. It's light, bright, and acidic, with just enough sweetness to be refreshing without ever overwhelming the palate. After a day in 100+ degree heat, this will cool you down instantly."

Brittan Vineyards

Willamette Valley, Oregon, USA

Robert and Ellen Brittan purchased a 128-acre estate in the foothills of Oregon's Coast Range in the Willamette Valley. Robert, a winemaker with over 50 years of experience, left Stag's Leap Winery in Napa to pursue his dream of crafting cooler-climate Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, and Syrah. After two decades in finance, Ellen shifted careers as well, spending ten years at Rudd Winery before they moved to Oregon.

The estate's soils—glacial deposits mixed with volcanic material and broken basalt—initially supported 18 acres of vines. Nearly half have since been replanted to refine viticulture and improve clonal and rootstock selections. In 2008, another 3.5 acres of Pinot Noir were added, though the rocky, low-retention soils often require up to five years for vines to reach production. Today, the Brittan Estate Vineyard is farmed organically and certified sustainable by LIVE.

Hilary's Note: "The Burgundy of the West! This Pinot Noir offers what you want and expect from Oregon's Willamette Valley. I found nuance in this Pinot Noir that surprised my palate and excited my mind as its layers developed with each taste. Put a slight chill on this and you've got the perfect pairing for dinner or the perfect companion for a book."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Bacchus Feinherb

This 100% Bacchus varietal wine is off-dry and a perfect summer sipper. Bear with me, off-dry doesn't mean sugar bomb, but there is some residual sugar that your palate may pick up on. This wine is bursting with aromatics of pear, lemon, grapefruit, and currant with a touch of herbs. You may find hints of tropical fruit - think mango - on the palate that helps round out the finish.

Bacchus is a white wine grape created in 1933 by crossing a Silvaner/Riesling cross with Müller-Thurgau. It isn't widely available and because of that I think it deserves a little of the spotlight this summer.

Marika and Sandro operate B&T with a quiet confidence that translates directly into their wines. Their approach in the cellar is one of restraint and minimal intervention. B&T wines are crafted by utilizing wild yeasts, avoiding unnecessary additives, and fermenting with meticulous care, to offer a pure expression of their terroir.

Perfect Pairings: As much as I'd happily drop this into an ice bucket by the pool and finish it there, this wine also shines with light, zesty summer dishes. Try it with shrimp tossed in lemon and herbs, or with grilled or poached white fish. Fresh goat cheese or burrata with herbs make excellent matches as well.

Brittan Estate Pinot Noir

This 100% estate Pinot Noir opens with aromas of red currant, cranberry, boysenberry, and orange blossom. The classic earthiness of Pinot Noir is present, but here it adds depth to the vibrant red fruit rather than overshadowing it. The wine has excellent aging potential—lay it down for another decade or enjoy it with friends this summer.

Pinot Noir originated in Burgundy, France, and is famously difficult to grow. Its thin skins and tight clusters make it highly sensitive to climate, thriving in cooler regions where moderate temperatures allow the grape to develop its hallmark elegance and complexity. This is the style Robert Brittan set out to achieve.

When the Brittan's purchased the estate in 2004, it became a full-scale rehabilitation project. They replanted acres due to the challenging nature of the site, retrained vines, and spent years learning the nuances of this rugged landscape.

Perfect Pairings: Pinot Noir is one of the most versatile food-pairing wines, and the classics—roasted poultry, mushroom dishes, and grilled salmon—are all perfect matches. Try an herb roasted chicken or mushroom risotto. With its high acidity and light-to-medium body, you're almost guaranteed to find a great pairing partner.

Welcome to the Club

After leaving a career in Human Resources, I dove headfirst into the world of wine - a passion that quickly became a calling. I earned my Certified Specialist of Wine credential during COVID, then gained hands-on experience in a vineyard & tasting room. A stint in London for the Wine & Spirit Education Trust Level 3 pushed me to my limits, but I passed with renewed confidence. It's been a winding journey, with a few HR detours, but now I'm fully immersed in wine and loving every moment. Thank you for joining the club - I can't wait to explore this world with fellow enthusiasts like you!

Fabien Duveau

Saumur, Loire, France

Fabien Duveau is a young winemaker and the 8th generation of his family estate, which he took over in 2008. His vineyard sits in Chacé, just southeast of Saumur on the Loire's left bank—one of the top areas for Saumur-Champigny thanks to its deep tuffeau soils - a soft, porous, fine-grained limestone native to the Loire Valley in France formed over 90 million years ago from ancient seabed deposits. His cellar and vines border the famed Clos Rougeard.

The 20-hectare estate spans about 40 parcels of Chenin Blanc and Cabernet Franc, which Fabien converted to organic and biodynamic farming. The diversity of parcels lets him vinify by terroir, creating distinct cuvées often named after each plot. Fabien ages his wines in a 14th-century cave, where the natural coolness and humidity provide ideal conditions. He vinifies in concrete and ages in neutral oak to preserve the purity of the fruit and terroir.

Hilary's Note: "What better way to experience Chenin Blanc than from its birthplace? Fabien Duveau is doing something special in the Loire, and it shows in every bottle. From the first sip to the last this Chenin shines. I'm excited to share this Saumur with you and hope it makes you a lifelong Chenin Blanc fan."

Susana Balbo Wines

Mendoza, Argentina

Susana Balbo is a trailblazer in the wine world. She was Argentina's first female winemaker graduating with a degree in enology in 1981 in an otherwise patriarchal industry. By 1999 she had proven her talent working in wine across Argentina and decided it was time to start her own winery. She founded Susana Balbo Wines in the foothills of the Andes in Mendoza. She became known as the "Queen of Torrontes" by transforming this simple table wine into Argentina's flagship white.

Susana stands out for her innovation. In 2013, she introduced barrel-fermented Torrontés, proving the grape could age beautifully, developing notes of white flowers, citrus, and tropical fruit. And of course, her Malbecs deliver rich, velvety, beautifully balanced expressions of Argentine terroir. Her commitment to sustainability and innovation has also set new standards for the industry.

Hilary's Note: "I love Susana's wines. We carry her Crios Cabernet Sauvignon and Torrontes in store and I couldn't think of a better intro to Susana Balbo Wines than her Argentine Malbec. You'll get a sense of place and style while drinking this Malbec and I hope it encourages you to explore Susana Balbo Wines further."

Saumur “La Hunaudière”

This 100% Chenin Blanc from the Saumur region is bursting with flavor and minerality. Its vines are over thirty years old and grown in the Hunaudière vineyard in the town of Saint-Cyr. It’s fermented in both cement vats (80%) and oak barrels (20%) and spends 6 months on it’s lees.

Fabien is rooted in tradition, yet his fresh, minimalist approach brings a vibrant delicacy to his wines—eloquent expressions of what Saumur-Champigny is at its core.

Expressive on the nose, the wine opens with citrus and orchard notes. On the palate you’ll find lime, apple, and tangerine with a balanced freshness throughout. There is a mineral grip to this wine that will hopefully find you seeking out wines of similar structure.

Perfect Pairings: With a white wine like this you’ll definitely want to pair with a dish like seared scallops or mussels in white wine. Love goat cheese? This wine pairs perfectly with fresh Chèvre on toast with herbs or Crottin de Chavignol from your nearest cheese shop.

Susana Balbo Signature Malbec

This is a 100% Malbec wine hand harvested in the Paraje Altamira, Valle de Uco region of Mendoza. Susana’s Signature label is where she pushes the boundaries of winemaking. Susana’s creative approach is to seamlessly apply her human touch and enhance the grape’s character while preserving the terroir essence.

This wine, typical of many Malbecs, has an intense ruby color. It opens with aromas of blueberry and blackberry with subtle floral notes. On the palate you’ll find that same intense black fruit, violet, and licorice. A smooth body with round tannins and a sophisticated finish.

“This wine expresses all the power, elegance, and pleasure that Argentine Malbec can offer” – Susana Balbo

Perfect Pairings: This wine will pair beautifully with red meat, pork, or poultry. Try it with a grilled ribeye finished with a balsamic glaze or go classic Argentine with a beef or lamb empanada. If you’re looking for something lighter, add Manchego or Gouda to your next charcuterie board.

Robert Sinskey Vineyards

Napa Valley, California

Robert Sinskey Vineyards (RSV), founded in 1986 in Napa's Carneros region, farms roughly 200 acres of certified organic vineyards and is known for pioneering biodynamic and regenerative practices. Their integrated Wilding Farm plays a central role in their approach, supplying produce, herbs, and flowers for their culinary program while enriching the vineyard ecosystem through composting, cover crops, and natural inputs.

Sustainability guides every part of their work—from estate-grown organic fruit and biodynamic farming aligned with natural cycles to solar-powered operations. Chef Maria Sinskey's influence shapes their philosophy of crafting wines meant for the table rather than for scores, and the farm-to-vineyard connection at Wilding Farm remains one of the most distinctive aspects of their identity.

Hilary's Note: "This vineyard and winemaking team are truly exceptional. Once you understand the depth and range that white wine can offer, it's impossible to see it as just a prelude to red wine. RSV challenges Napa conventions by planting less-common varieties, resulting in this beautifully balanced and complex white blend that stands out on its own."

Leithakalk Wine Estate

Burgenland, Austria

Hailing from the rolling hills of the Leitha Mountains, Leithakalk Wine Estate creates unique and distinctive wines of Austria. With vines up to 60–70 years old, the estate's vineyards occupy prime sites along the gentle slopes of the Leitha Mountains, producing both refined white wines and expressive red wines. Each wine reflects the character of the region, shaped by strict grape selection and a careful, natural approach to vinification.

Under the Leithakalk label, six accomplished winemakers combine their expertise to create wines of remarkable distinction. Vintage and quality guide each wine's development, with extended aging on fine lees—particularly for red and top white wines—ensuring depth, complexity, and longevity. The "wine with the wild boar" has been around since 2016 and the wines continue to grow in popularity.

Hilary's Note: "This may be my first selfish Wine Club pick as I've been a fan of Austrian wine for years. Sharing Austria's native varieties through great producers is one of my favorite things, and this bottle makes it easy. Its juicy yet wonderfully restrained character is the kind of surprise that sends you down the rabbit hole of "What other Austrian wines have I been missing?"."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Libration - L2, Sun-Earth

This white blend of Pinot Blanc, Pinot Gris, and Muscat Blanc à Petits Grains takes its name from the Lagrange points—positions in celestial mechanics where the gravitational forces of two large bodies create a stable equilibrium for a smaller one.

At RSV, balance is central to their philosophy; as they describe it, they aim to craft "wine so elegant it seems to defy gravity." From the first sip, this wine made its case effortlessly. Its harmony and precision were immediately clear, leaving no question about its place in the Wine Club.

The wine opens with expressive aromas of jasmine, lemon blossom, melon, and fresh linen. Despite the subtly sweet impression of the bouquet, it is a dry wine that delivers crisp notes of Meyer lemon, lime, and peach on the palate, finishing with a refined minerality and a gentle herbaceous lift.

Perfect Pairings: With its floral and citrus notes and crisp structure, this wine pairs beautifully with dishes that complement rather than overpower its elegance. Consider citrus-herb roast chicken, spring vegetable risotto with asparagus, peas, and lemon zest, or grilled shrimp with fresh basil.

Haus Cuvee Red

The Blaufränkisch, Merlot, and Zweigelt in this blend work in beautiful harmony. Blaufränkisch brings rich black fruit and peppery spice, Merlot adds smoothness and roundness to the palate, and Zweigelt lifts the aromatics with its bright, juicy fruit.

At Leithakalk, time is an essential ingredient. Patience and intuition guide their winemaking, and each wine spends an extended period aging on fine lees, developing the complexity and layered character that define the estate's style.

This cuvée opens with aromas of blackberry, plum, and dark cherry. On the palate, those dark fruits carry through alongside subtle pepper notes. Bright acidity, a fresh mineral backbone, and fine tannins create a balanced, compelling finish that keeps you coming back for another sip.

Perfect Pairings: Pair this wine with your next pasta dish with red suauce and fresh herbs—the acidity and spice from the Blaufränkisch will meet it perfectly. If pasta isn't calling your name, try the wine with a mushroom dish like roasted portobello steaks, or lean into the Austrian vibe and serve it alongside a savory mushroom strudel.

Matthew Wallace

Napa Valley, California

Matthew Wallace's Hardin Ranch Vineyard sits in a remote corner of Napa Valley, tucked into the flats of Pope Valley. Warm days and sharply cooler nights shape this far-eastern site. Though its loamy soils naturally favor Cabernet Sauvignon, Matt Hardin—owner of Matthew Wallace Wines—chose instead to craft a Sauvignon Blanc that blends California brightness with Bordeaux-style texture and depth.

A seventh-generation vineyard manager, Hardin comes from one of Napa Valley's pioneering families. Through Hardin Vineyard Management, he oversees some of the region's most sought-after sites with a firm commitment to sustainable farming. Matthew Wallace Wines debuted in 2012, with vineyards personally overseen and planned by Hardin from the ground up. He and winemaker Thomas Brown walk each site and make harvest decisions by taste, row by row. Their connection to the land runs deep, and it shows in every drop.

Hilary's Note: "What I liked most about this wine was its restraint. It is elegant without being showy although it has every right to be. I believe this version of a Sauvignon Blanc shows much of what this grape is capable of and the beauty it holds with a combination of place, person, and climate."

Kir-Yianni

Macedonia, Greece

Kir-Yianni was founded in 1997 by Yiannis Boutaris, a leading figure in Greek wine. After leaving the historic Boutari Wine Group—established in 1879 by his grandfather—he built his own estate. Yiannis had already planted 40 hectares of Xinomavro in 1970, followed by 20 hectares of white varieties 15 years later. By 1997, the first Kir-Yianni vintage was fully vinified in the new winery.

Kir-Yianni is known for producing premium Xinomavro in Northwestern Greece. The name Xinomavro translates to 'Acid and Black' and is one of the worlds rarest noble red varieties of the area. While you can make comparisons between Xinomavro and Nebbiolo or Pinot Noir, its character can really only be described as unique. Wines from Xinomavro are very age worthy and demand attention. The philosophy of Kir-Yianni is a respect for tradition, desire to innovate, and knowledge of the wine from grape to consumer.

Hilary's Note: "This is now our second Greek wine of the Club and it does not disappoint. I've been a fan of Xinomavro for a few years now and while this is a blend with 50% of the makeup Xinomavro, I feel this wine shows the complexity and richness of this unique grape."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Hardin Ranch Sauvignon Blanc

This wine is 100% Sauvignon Blanc from the Napa Valley AVA. Ample sunlight brings out the variety's signature vibrancy, while cool nights help preserve its bright acidity. It shows plenty of character yet remains crisp and clean on the palate.

On the nose, this wine offers jasmine, honeydew, and grapefruit, while the palate brings lychee, orange oil, and honeysuckle. The fruit leaps from the glass yet stays restrained on the palate, leading to a lean, textured body with precise balance.

Perfect Pairings: The wine's citrus and floral lift makes it a natural match for herb-driven dishes and seafood. Try it with seared scallops and grilled artichokes with a squeeze of lemon. For something richer, pair it with a creamy risotto with peas and asparagus, where the wine's texture really shines.

The Fallen Oak

This blend of 50% Xinomavro, 30% Merlot, and 20% Syrah is made from the estate's best fruit. The grapes are handpicked, sorted, destemmed, and transferred to tanks unbroken, with each variety vinified separately at controlled temperatures.

The wine ages 12 months in oak, followed by 6 months in bottle before release. You'll find concentrated red-fruit aromas alongside cocoa, coffee, bread crust, and vanilla on both the nose and palate. Discreet tannins and balanced acidity elevate the wine's profile, leading to a long, spicy finish.

Perfect Pairings: This wine is remarkably versatile at the table. It pairs beautifully with red meat, hearty dishes, and rich, creamy sauces. Try it with beef ragu or braised lamb with tomatoes and herbs, or go Greek with moussaka to honor its roots.

C.H. Berres

Mosel, Germany

From Germany's famed Mosel region comes C.H. Berres, a historic estate where the Berres family has cultivated vineyards since 1510. Now led by 21st-generation winemaker Markus Berres, this Mittelmosel property blends deeply rooted traditions with a fresh, modern perspective, focusing on the purity and precision that make Mosel wines so celebrated.

After studying at Geisenheim and gaining international experience, Markus ushered the winery into a new era, revitalizing old vineyards and crafting vibrant, contemporary Rieslings. Many of their vines are old and ungrafted, planted in iconic sites, including Ürzig's Würzgarten. The result is a wine that beautifully balances heritage & innovation, delivering clarity, character & charm.

Hilary's Note: "I know Riesling isn't always the first bottle people reach for, but a beautifully made Riesling can completely change that perception. After one taste, I knew this was a wine worth sharing with you. Thoughtfully crafted and layered with depth, it's the kind of bottle that invites you to rethink everything you knew about Riesling - elegant, expressive, and truly memorable."

Owen Roe

Yakima, Washington

Founded in 1999 by the O'Reilly family, Owen Roe built its reputation on sourcing exceptional fruit from Oregon's Willamette Valley and Washington's Yakima Valley. Their philosophy has been clear: great wine begins with the vineyard. Today, the winery partners with carefully chosen sites, working closely with growers through harvest to ensure quality and true site expression.

Co-founders David and Angelica O'Reilly share a deep passion for fine wine, first shaped by cool-climate Pinot Noir and later rooted firmly in Oregon. Over more than three decades, they've crafted a diverse, critically recognized portfolio defined by balance, structure, and a sense of place, all while building a lasting family legacy that their eight children have helped shape and grow.

Hilary's Note: "This Grenache immediately caught my attention with its vibrant red fruit aromas and beautifully textured palate. I've always loved how Grenache can be fruity, earthy, smoky, and just a little savory all at once, striking a seamless balance. It's the kind of wine that's effortless to enjoy and easy to share - though you may find yourself wanting to keep this one all to yourself. "

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Berres Estate Riesling

This 100% Estate Riesling is a striking expression of the Mosel, grown on steep, multicolored slate slopes with vines, some over 90 years old, deeply rooted in this storied landscape. Hand harvested & crafted with care, it opens with a floral nose layered with white peach, nectarine, and white blossoms, offering both richness & precision.

On the palate, the wine is beautifully balanced, with vibrant acidity & pronounced minerality giving shape to its clear, focused fruit. Riesling's hallmark acidity provides lift and energy, bringing freshness and finesse to every sip. The result is a wine with depth, vibrancy, and character.

Perfect Pairings: Riesling's vibrant acidity & subtle touch of sweetness make it a natural partner for dishes with a little heat & aromatic flair. Try it with Thai green curry, spicy shrimp or chicken stir-fry, or classic pork schnitzel. Bright, expressive, & food-friendly, this wine comes alive at the table.

Sinister Hand

This Grenache-driven blend brings together Grenache, Tannat, Mourvèdre, and Syrah to create a wine that's vibrant, expressive, and easy to love. Aromas of blueberry, raspberry, strawberry, and rose petals lift from the glass, offering a bright and inviting introduction to this beautifully balanced red wine.

On the palate, this wine is layered, with lively acidity giving lift to its dark, savory fruit. Juicy raspberry and black cherry are framed by hints of vanilla and toasty French oak, while chewy tannins add structure and depth. The result is a wine with richness, energy, and character.

Perfect Pairings: This red shines with grilled lamb chops, BBQ ribs, or herb-crusted roast chicken. Want something more comforting? It's just as delicious with Trevor's Combo pizza or a juicy burger. Savory & satisfying, this is the kind of red that makes any meal feel like an occasion.

Douloufakis Winery
Crete, Greece

From the village of Dafnes on the island of Crete comes our first Greek wine. Douloufakis winery is deeply rooted in Cretan winemaking, focusing on indigenous grapes like Vidiano, alongside Vilana, Muscat of Spina, and Liatiko, with a small selection of international varieties. Their dedication to local grapes makes this wine a standout.

Founded in 1930 and now led by third-generation winemaker Nikos Doulousfakis, the winery has played a key role in reviving Vidiano, a grape that was once nearly extinct. Through organic farming and thoughtful modernization, Douloufakis helped turn Vidiano into the flagship varietal it is today. The result is a wine that's expressive, distinctive, and a beautiful blend of tradition & innovation.

Hilary's Note: "My first experience with Vidiano was unforgettable. After tasting countless wines at a trade show, this white stayed with me - and I knew it had to be part of our Wine Club. While I am excited to introduce more people to Vidiano, I wanted our members to discover it first. Rich, well-balanced, and beautifully full-bodied."

Halter Ranch Winery
Paso Robles, CA

Located on the western edge of Paso Robles, Halter Ranch is a 2,700-acre organic estate where wine growing & land stewardship go hand in hand. Only 237 acres are planted to vineyard, all certified organic, farmed without synthetic pesticides or fertilizers, resulting in grapes that truly reflect their environment and the care behind them.

Founded in 2000 by Swiss philanthropist & conservationist Hansjörg Wyss, Halter Ranch was built with sustainability at its core. Under the guidance of winemaker Kevin Sass, whose career spans over 25 years, the focus is on crafting age-worthy wines with balance and character. Through thoughtful vineyard practices, they deliver wines that feel purposeful & beautifully expressive.

Hilary's Note: "While I've long been familiar with Halter Ranch's Cabernet Sauvignon, this blend was a standout for me. Made from Grenache, Tannat, Mourvèdre, and Syrah, it's exactly the kind of layered, expressive wine I love. Bright, mouthwatering, and beautifully balanced, this Paso Robles blend keeps you coming back."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Douloufakis Vidiano

This 100% Vidiano is a true landmark wine for the Douloufakis winery, highlighting the elegance and potential of this rare Greek grape. Aromas of peach, apricot, and quince rise from the glass, layered with delicate floral notes of jasmine and chamomile, setting the stage for a beautifully expressive white wine.

On the palate, this Vidiano is full-bodied yet balanced, with lively acidity that carries the fruit through to a clean, refined finish. Rich without being heavy. It delivers depth and freshness in equal measure, making it a standout expression of this revered varietal.

Perfect Pairings: Vidiano's versatility makes it a natural match for seafood, pasta, and white meats. Try it with Sole Meunière, or pair it with pork dishes like a Cretan-style pan-fired pork and leeks. Elegant and food-friendly, this wine truly shines at the table.

Halter Ranch CDP

This Grenache-driven blend brings together Grenache, Tannat, Mourvèdre, and Syrah to create a wine that's vibrant, expressive, and easy to love. Aromas of blueberry, raspberry, strawberry, and rose petals lift from the glass, offering a bright and inviting introduction to this beautifully balanced red wine.

On the palate, red fruits and pomegranate take center stage with a lively opening and a long, layered finish. Aged in neutral French oak and concrete, the wine maintains soft, gentle tannins and a smooth texture, allowing the fruit and freshness to shine through effortlessly.

Perfect Pairings: This wine is a natural fit for a charcuterie board loaded with meats and cheeses. For a heartier option, try it with lamb osso buco or pork Milanese. Approachable, versatile, and endlessly drinkable, this blend is made to be enjoyed to the very last drop.

Can you Guess Next Month's Varietals?

White Wine: We are headed to Germany for our first-ever visit to this classic winemaking country. This modern white offers gooseberry, juicy apple, and hints of kiwi, balanced by bright minerality and clean fruit structure. Fresh yet expressive, it brings a new and exciting style to the club.

Red Wine: Back in the Columbia Valley of Washington, this red showcases everything to love about the region. With aromas of raspberry and vanilla and a palate of black cherry, spice, and subtle oak, it's bold, savory, and beautifully structured - an irresistible expression of this standout varietal.

Morgadío Albariño
Rías Baixas, Spain

From Spain's breezy Atlantic coast comes Morgadío, a fresh and vibrant Albariño that's all about place. Planted in 1984 in the Condado do Tea of Rías Baixas, these vineyards soak up gentle sunshine and grow in granite-rich sandy soils - conditions that help create wines that are crisp, aromatic, and full of personality.

Morgadío focuses on Albariño, allowing them to master this refreshing varietal. The name comes from Morgado, a term for family land passed down through generations, reflecting the winery's deep connection to tradition. The result is a wine that is easy to enjoy, beautifully expressive, and a perfect introduction to why Albariño is so loved.

Hilary's Note: "This Albariño is unlike any other I have tasted recently. It has a little more weight on the palate than those high-acid, light-body Albariños I am used to, which is why it stood out. Whether this is your first time trying an Albariño or it's a familiar varietal - this wine is sure to impress & give Albariño its good name!"

Pasanau Ceps Nous
Priorat, Spain

High in the rugged hills of Priorat, the Pasanau family has been growing grapes for generations at the base of the dramatic Serra de Monstant cliffs. Their 11 estate vineyards sit among rocky, slate-filled soils & elevated terrain, where warm Mediterranean sunshine meets cooling breezes - perfect for bold, expressive wines.

Now led by Jordi Pasanau, the estate is farmed sustainably with a thoughtful, hands-off approach in both the vineyard and cellar. Using classic Priorat grapes like Grenache, Tempranillo, and Cabernet Sauvignon, Pasanau crafts wines that are rich and powerful yet balanced - an exciting introduction to one of Spain's most celebrated wine regions.

Hilary's Note: "Talk about a beautiful Priorat! The region itself typically lends to some concentrated, complex wines, and this is no different. I am also a sucker for Grenache from any region. Still, this particular wine with its balanced flavors, layered aromas, and beautiful texture really caught my attention, and I hope it does yours!"

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Morgadío Albariño

This 100% Albariño comes from 35-year-old vineyards in Spain's coastal Rías Baixas region. Bright and expressive, it offers aromas of nectarine, pineapple, lemongrass, and a hint of sea salt, capturing the fresh, ocean-influenced character for which Albariño is known.

On the palate, this Albariño is medium-bodied, bone-dry, and refreshingly crisp, with vibrant acidity that keeps it lively from the first sip to the last. Clean, sleek, bright, and mouthwatering, it is a wine that feels both polished and effortless. Perfect for pouring on any occasion.

Perfect Pairings: Albariño truly shines with seafood like scallops, ceviche, or sushi. It also pairs beautifully with lemon-herb chicken, grilled pork tenderloin, or lighter options like Manchego, feta, or goat cheese, whether on a charcuterie board or in a fresh salad.

Pasanau Ceps Nous

This 100% Grenache showcases beautiful fruit concentration and careful barrel aging, creating a wine with both power and balance. Aromas of dark fruit and a hint of balsamic lead the way, setting the stage for a rich yet refined expression of the grape.

On the palate, cranberry and red cherry shine alongside subtle notes of vanilla, supported by smooth, polished tannins. Medium-bodied with a lingering finish, this Grenache delivers depth and elegance, with flavors that unfold gracefully through the final sip.

Perfect Pairings: Grenache pairs wonderfully with pork and poultry, especially grilled pork tenderloin or roasted chicken. It also loves savory dishes like herb-crusted lamb chops, pan-seared duck breast, and hearty stews like cassoulet. Balanced and versatile, this is a wine made for the table.

White Wine: Greek wine makes its Wine Club debut. This rare white varietal from Crete is still a hidden gem for most, offering expressive notes of peach, apricot, melon, honey, and fresh herbs. Bright and distinctive, it's an emerging Greek grape well worth discovering.

Red Wine: Back to the USA, we have a red blend making it's debut - and it's one you won't want to miss. Crafted by a standout Paso Robles producer, it showcases their signature style and dedication, delivering a red that's bold, balanced, and utterly captivating.

Welcome to the Club

After leaving a career in Human Resources, I dove headfirst into the world of wine - a passion that quickly became a calling. I earned my Certified Specialist of Wine credential during COVID, then gained hands-on experience in a vineyard & tasting room. A stint in London for the Wine & Spirit Education Trust Level 3 pushed me to my limits, but I passed with renewed confidence. It's been a winding journey, with a few HR detours, but now I'm fully immersed in wine and loving every moment. Thank you for joining the club - I can't wait to explore this world with fellow enthusiasts like you!

Cantina Terlan
Trentino Alto Adige, Italy

Founded in 1893, Cantina Terlan stands as one of Alto Adige's most celebrated cooperatives - where mountain terroir meets craftsmanship. Nestled in the foothills of the Alps, Terlan unites small growers under one shared philosophy: quality over quantity. Low yields and high standards result in wines of purity & depth.

With most of its production devoted to whites, Terlan is renowned for elegant, age-worthy wines that capture the cool alpine character of the region. The winery's meticulous approach & long tradition of cellar aging have made its bottlings among the most collectible in northern Italy. From Sauvignon Blanc & Chardonnay to Pinot Nero & Lagrein, each bottle reflects dedication.

Hilary's Note: "When I tasted Terlan's Pinot Bianco for the first time, the one word that came to mind was sophisticated. Elegant in both presentation and flavor, this wine is a perfect choice for anyone looking to explore something beyond their everyday white wine."

Donnafugata
Sicily, Italy

Founded in 1983 by Giacomo and Gabriella Rallo, Donnafugata continues a family legacy that spans over 170 years of winemaking. Rooted in Sicily, their focus is on small, high-quality productions that highlight the island's unique vineyards and sustainable practices - bringing the spirit of "Made in Italy" to the world.

The name Donnafugata - "woman on the run" - draws from Sicilian history, symbolizing courage & transformation. Gabriella Rallo embodied that legacy when she left teaching to pursue winemaking, becoming one of Sicily's first female producers. Today, Donnafugata remains a testament to innovation, resilience, and the art of crafting wines with a true sense of identity.

Hilary's Note: "My journey with Nero d'Avola began during my wine studies. Always excited to explore new varietals, I was drawn to Cabernet Sauvignon & Syrah, but Nero d'Avola's bold fruit, full body, & balanced tannins quickly made it a standout & a favorite in my tasting lineup."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Terlan Pinot Bianco

You don't often spot a Pinot Bianco (or Pinot Blanc) on the shelves - and that's part of what makes this find so special. A close relative of Pinot Noir, this grape thrives in Northern Italy & Germany, where it produces crisp, beautifully balanced white wines full of texture and finesse.

This Pinot Bianco is wonderfully crisp and mineral-driven, with aromas of green apple, pear, and lemongrass, as well as subtle hints of lime & chamomile. On the palate, notes of pear and quince take center stage, accompanied by a hint of salinity that adds depth and a refined finish.

Perfect Pairings: Light, delicate dishes let the wine's subtle charm shine. Try with a charcuterie board featuring soft cheeses like burrata or brie, flaky white fish, or seasonal salads with roasted squash, cranberries, or nuts.

Sherazade Nero d'Avola

Bold, expressive, and full of personality - Nero d'Avola is Sicily's signature red grape, and few producers capture its spirit better than Donnafugata. If you enjoy Cabernet Sauvignon or Syrah, you'll love this wines dark fruit intensity and smooth power.

This wine shows freshness & approachability with its vibrant aromas of raspberry & cherry, laced with spice & balsamic notes that draw you in. On the palate, those red fruits deepen alongside bold yet polished tannins, creating a velvety, full-bodied texture.

Perfect Pairings: This Sicilian red pairs well with flavorful dishes like tomato-based pastas, Margherita pizza, or roasted meats. It also pairs beautifully with Thanksgiving Turkey or a leftover holiday sandwich.

Can you Guess Next Month's Varietals?

White Wine: Grown across Spain & Portugal, this vibrant varietal shows stone fruit notes, bright acidity, and a touch of coastal salinity - a refreshing taste of the Iberian sun!

Red Wine: From Spain's most celebrated regions, this iconic varietal delivers ripe fruit, warm spice, and subtle earthy notes, with just the right touch of oak for a smooth, balanced finish.

WineClub

Welcome to the Club

I'm Hilary, your concierge for Trevor's Wine Club, and I'm thrilled to welcome you! My goal is to make wine fun and approachable by guiding you to new varietals and regions you might not usually explore. While some wines may feel familiar, I hope the selections ahead surprise and delight you.

Ide Wines

Sonoma County, California

Ever heard of the California Republic? Back in 1846, it was a short-lived "nation" that lasted just 25 days before California officially became part of the U.S. The man behind that brief moment of independence was William B. Ide - and his bold, adventurous spirit inspired the name Ide Wines.

Based in Beautiful Sonoma County, Ide is a small, passionate winery focused on letting the vineyards speak for themselves. They source grapes from all over Sonoma - from misty coastal hills to sun-drenched valleys - creating wines that are both elegant and full of character. Each bottle reflects the land it comes from, perfectly balanced and made to be enjoyed, not just admired.

Hilary's Note: "I am hopeful your first introduction to Ide Wines is just as memorable as it was for me. The Golden Grove Sauvignon Blanc is equal parts approachable and elegant."

Massolino

Serralunga d'Alba, Italy

Tucked away in the rolling hills of Italy's Piedmont region, Massolino is a family-run winery that has been perfecting its craft since 1896. Today, brothers Franco and Roberto Massolino carry on their family tradition, blending time-honored techniques with a modern touch.

Their vineyards sit in one of the most prized areas of Barolo, known for producing wines with structure and soul. This is where the Nebbiolo grape thrives in limestone-rich soils and cool mountain air. Each small plot offers something unique, and together they showcase elegance and depth that make this region so special. The result is a wine that is refined yet approachable - classic Italian craftsmanship in every sip.

Hilary's Note: "I I'm excited to share the Massolino Langhe Nebbiolo. This wine is drinking beautifully and really showcases what Nebbiolo has to offer."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Golden Grove Sauvignon Blanc

Meet your new favorite white wine! The Golden Grove Sauvignon Blanc bursts with bright tropical aromas of pineapple, guava, and passionfruit. On the palate, you'll taste juicy peach and nectarine, lifted by crisp, refreshing acidity that keeps every sip lively and fresh.

Unlike the grassy, citrusy Sauvignon Blancs from New Zealand, this Sonoma County version leans into lush tropical fruit and a smooth, rounded texture—making it a crowd-pleaser for any palate. Crafted for easy enjoyment, it's vibrant, balanced, and refreshing.

Perfect Pairings: This wine shines with seafood—try garlic prawns, ceviche, or grilled sea bass. It also pairs beautifully with Thai curries or garlic butter roasted chicken for a flavorful, satisfying meal.

Massolino Langhe Nebbiolo

Elegant, aromatic, and full of character, the Massolino Langhe Nebbiolo is a beautiful expression of this classic Italian grape. It shows a brilliant garnet hue with aromas of raspberry, red cherry, violet, and rose, accented by subtle hints of earth and spice.

On the palate, expect bright acidity, fine tannins, and layers of red fruit and baking spice, leading to a refined, lingering finish that invites another sip. Made with the same care as Massolino's famed Barolo, it offers depth and elegance in a perfectly approachable style.

Perfect Pairings: Nebbiolo loves rich, savory dishes like pasta with Bolognese or slow-roasted pot roast. It also pairs wonderfully with a charcuterie board, soft blue cheeses, or aged meats.

Why these wines?

After tasting a wide range of wines, I narrowed it down to the final contenders - a process that was as fun as it was challenging! Before any palate fatigue set in, I found selections that felt like the perfect start to Trevor's Wine Club. My goal was to choose wines that are exclusive to the club, approachable and easy to enjoy, yet distinctive in character. I hope you enjoy these wines as much as I do, and I am excited for all of us to continue discovering & exploring together. Cheers!

Can you Guess Next Month's Varietals?

White Wine: Our next white is from Trentino-Alto Adige, Italy. Elegant & medium-bodied with rich texture and crisp acidity, it's a unique twist on Pinot Noir - but not Pinot Grigio - and sure to delight!

Red Wine: Our next red is from Sicily, Italy and it's made from Sicily's top indigenous red grape. Full-bodied with bright acidity and firm tannins - a bold, memorable wine you'll want to enjoy again!

Vietti

Marche, Italy

Vietti was founded in the late 1800s in the heart of the Langhe, perched at the highest point of the medieval village of Castiglione Falletto—where it still stands today. Over generations, the Vietti family built a brand rooted in culture, vision, and enthusiasm, establishing a legacy that carried through to the 1990s.

Today, Vietti is recognized among Italy's top wine producers. Quality, tradition, and thoughtful experimentation have shaped its reputation. Art has been central to the winery's identity since the late 1950s, culminating in the introduction of Artist Labels in 1974—one of the most influential innovations of its time.

In 2016, the Krause family purchased the estate and expanded its holdings with renowned Crus in both Barolo and Barbaresco. They remain committed to preserving Vietti's identity and values while continuing to build toward the future.

Hilary's Note: "You may know by now that the more obscure a wine is the more attracted I am to it. While Roero isn't as obscure as some, I know it is a grape not too familiar to many. I love this wines brightness, balance, and floral aromas. This bottle is, in my opinion, easy to enjoy in one sitting."*

Lieu Dit

Santa Barbara, CA

Born from shared passion and years of camaraderie, Lieu Dit (meaning "named place" in French) was founded in 2011 by friends determined to explore the deeper mysteries of wine. Justin Willett—raised in Santa Barbara and inspired after earning his B.A. from UCSB—began his winemaking career at Arcadian Winery before launching Tyler Winery in 2005. Known for small-lot Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, he also serves as consulting winemaker for Wenzlau Vineyard in the Santa Rita Hills.

Fueled by countless bottles and formative trips to France, Justin and his likeminded companion created Lieu Dit to focus on Loire Valley varieties grown in Santa Barbara County's marine-based soils and varied micro-climates. Sauvignon Blanc leads the lineup, supported by limited Chenin Blanc, Cabernet Franc, and Rosé, totaling about 2,500 cases annually. Each vintage reflects their pursuit of purity, elegance, and balance.

Hilary's Note: "We must give credit where credit is due. Cabernet Franc, a parent grape to Cabernet Sauvignon, has all the boldness and brightness with none of the pretention. Drink this wine with your next meal and a slight chill. Lieu Dit really puts themselves on the map with this wine."*

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Roero Arneis

This 100% Roero Arneis was first bottled in purity in 1967 by the Vietti family. I love this varietal—its relative obscurity makes it all the more intriguing. The grapes come from hand-harvested, select vineyards rooted in limestone- and clay-rich soils. The vines average 31 years of age and sit in the heart of the Roero region.

Roero, located in Piedmont just north of the Langhe, is known for its sandy soils, medieval hilltop villages, and distinctive DOCG wines made from native varieties. Roero Arneis is a fresh, aromatic white with floral notes, green apple, and crisp minerality.

This bottling shows bright floral, citrus, and melon aromas that continue to open in the glass. A clear mineral thread runs through both the nose and palate. Medium-bodied, fresh, and elegant, it offers enough complexity to really shine.

Perfect Pairings: From start to finish, this wine can carry a full meal. Begin with a caprese salad—fresh mozzarella and tomatoes let its minerality shine. Move on to crab cakes or scallops, where the wine's texture pairs beautifully, and finish with a light Alfredo, which the acidity cuts through with ease.

Cabernet Franc

This 100% Cabernet Franc is sourced from vineyards in the Santa Ynez Valley and Santa Barbara County, grown in sandy, clay-loam, and alluvial soils. Cabernet Franc doesn't always get the recognition it deserves. It's an important black varietal worldwide—offering structure, lift, and character without showing off.

Cabernet Franc is a resilient, expressive grape capable of producing high-quality wines across a range of climates. It's known for its distinctive herbaceous notes and subtle bell pepper aromatics. Savory in profile and versatile in the cellar, Cab Franc typically ages well for 2–10 years.

This month's wine opens with aromas of black cherry, tomato leaf, violets, and graphite. True to the varietal, the nose leaps from the glass. On the palate, expect pomegranate, plum, and dried herbs. Like last month's selection, this Cabernet Franc also shines with a slight chill.

Perfect Pairings: Enjoy this Cabernet Franc with your new go-to pairing: mushroom risotto. For a more protein-forward option, try it with pork tenderloin finished with a bourbon-fig glaze or roast duck with a sweet citrus glaze. This wine is as versatile as it is beautiful in the glass. Be sure to save some to savor after the meal.

Santa Barbara

Marche, Italy

Since its beginning, the Santa Barbara winery has focused on two core goals: reviving the Marche region's indigenous grape varieties—Verdicchio dei Castelli di Jesi for whites, and Montepulciano and Lacrima di Morro d'Alba for reds—and crafting wines with real personality that honor local tradition while appealing to an international audience.

After returning to his childhood village of Barbara in the heart of the Marche, Stefano Antonucci shifted his career from banking to winemaking. Deeply connected to his territory and fascinated by the world of wine, he transformed his family's cooperative winery into the dynamic estate it is today.

Stefano is known for his pursuit of perfection and is often described as a visionary winemaker. His captivating personality and thoughtful approach to winemaking shine through in every bottle, creating wines that remain true to Marche traditions yet resonate with wine lovers around the world.

Hilary's Note: "You may not be familiar with Verdicchio, which is exactly why I'm excited to share this wine with you. I hope you enjoy it as much as I did when I first tasted it. Verdicchio is a truly underrated grape—bright, refreshing, and absolutely perfect for keeping in your glass all summer long."*

Ver Sacrum

Uco Valley, Argentina

Eduardo Soler founded Ver Sacrum in 2012 with two friends, driven by the idea of growing and vinifying Rhône varietals in Argentina. Their winemaking philosophy centers on freshness, low alcohol, gentle skin contact, native yeasts, and honest, easy-drinking wines. It's a small but influential project built on the intention of doing something completely different from what Argentina was known for at the time.

All grapes are hand-harvested, and most are foot-crushed, with minimal intervention in both the vineyard and the cellar—no corrections, no filtration, and no pump-overs. Today, they work primarily from their small vineyard in Los Chacayes in the Uco Valley, where they've planted Grenache, Monastrell, Carignan, Mencía, Syrah, Teroldego, and Nebbiolo, and more.

Eduardo came to winemaking after reconnecting with some of Argentina's most adventurous growers. That spirit of curiosity and experimentation continues to define Ver Sacrum's identity.

Hilary's Note: "Another lesser-known varietal I'm excited to get into your glass. It's a perfect summer red—best enjoyed with a slight chill. Light, enticing, zippy on the palate, and refreshingly clean on the finish. I'm hopeful Mencía becomes a grape you'll seek out after tasting this."*

WINES OF THE MOMENT

La Vaglie Verdicchio

This 100% Verdicchio was first crafted in 1992 with the goal of breaking away from traditional winemaking approaches while still honoring the Marche region's deep history. The vines, now 25–40 years old, are hand-harvested, giving this wine both concentration and character.

It's a clean, crisp, high-acid white that stands out as a "need-to-know" Italian classic. The nose opens with floral notes, followed by citrus, stone fruit, and a subtle nutty almond touch. The bouquet is expressive, and the palate is fresh, smooth, and beautifully balanced from start to finish, with a touch of minerality adding lift.

Fermented entirely in stainless steel, this Verdicchio offers a refreshing alternative to more familiar Italian whites like Pinot Grigio. Light in body with a silky texture, it's a wine to enjoy now—an ideal partner for summer dishes and warm-weather sipping.

Perfect Pairings: Try this wine with mussels, oysters, or prawns for a perfect match—the bright acidity and clean finish make it ideal for shellfish. You can also pair it with seafood pasta like spaghetti alle vongole or a vibrant lemon risotto. Light bites such as bruschetta topped with mozzarella or burrata complement this wine beautifully.

Doña Mencia de los Andes

This is a 100% Mencía wine from Argentina's Uco Valley. Malbec is often the dominant star of the region, which is why I wanted to spotlight something new and exciting. The wine is made with minimal intervention and includes 50% whole-cluster fermentation—a choice that brings out savory, herbal aromatics.

This Mencía opens with fresh strawberry, cherry, and blueberry notes, followed by a touch of earthiness. As it evolves in the glass, you'll notice subtle oak influences of vanilla and cinnamon. Don't mistake its freshness for simplicity—this wine has plenty of layers. It carries firm tannins, a medium body, fresh acid and an overall round, satisfying palate.

This Mencia is 100% hand harvested and made from Mencia grapes from a single plot within the estate vineyard. It's aged 18 months in used French Oak barrels and 20 months in bottle before release.

Perfect Pairings: Try this wine with pork chops or pork tenderloin—the bright acidity cuts beautifully through the richness of the meat. Simple grilled vegetables with olive oil and herbs also pair well, highlighting the wine's savory notes. Mushroom dishes, lentil stews, and tomato-based pastas are excellent matches too.

Böhme & Töchter

Gleina, Saale-Unstrut, Germany

Weingut Böhme & Töchter (Böhme & Daughters) is a standout example of modern generational winemaking. Founded in 1985 and revitalized by sisters Marika and Toska—along with Marika's husband and cellar master, Sandro Sperk—the estate has transformed its identity to match the precision and purity of its wines. Their minimalist aesthetic reflects a philosophy of stripping away the unnecessary to showcase the character of their historic vineyards.

In 2022, the estate earned admission into the prestigious VDP, cementing its place among Germany's top producers. Farming about six hectares in the steep, terraced landscapes of Saale-Unstrut, the winery benefits from the region's signature Muschelkalk (shell limestone) soils, which impart the electric minerality and tension that define their wines. Of the six hectares planted, a little over two hectares are planted on those steep slopes.

Hilary's Note: "When I tasted this back in January, my first thought was 'June!'. This is a summer wine through and through, and kicking off the season with an off-dry pool sipper feels like the perfect move. It's light, bright, and acidic, with just enough sweetness to be refreshing without ever overwhelming the palate. After a day in 100+ degree heat, this will cool you down instantly."

Brittan Vineyards

Willamette Valley, Oregon, USA

Robert and Ellen Brittan purchased a 128-acre estate in the foothills of Oregon's Coast Range in the Willamette Valley. Robert, a winemaker with over 50 years of experience, left Stag's Leap Winery in Napa to pursue his dream of crafting cooler-climate Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, and Syrah. After two decades in finance, Ellen shifted careers as well, spending ten years at Rudd Winery before they moved to Oregon.

The estate's soils—glacial deposits mixed with volcanic material and broken basalt—initially supported 18 acres of vines. Nearly half have since been replanted to refine viticulture and improve clonal and rootstock selections. In 2008, another 3.5 acres of Pinot Noir were added, though the rocky, low-retention soils often require up to five years for vines to reach production. Today, the Brittan Estate Vineyard is farmed organically and certified sustainable by LIVE.

Hilary's Note: "The Burgundy of the West! This Pinot Noir offers what you want and expect from Oregon's Willamette Valley. I found nuance in this Pinot Noir that surprised my palate and excited my mind as its layers developed with each taste. Put a slight chill on this and you've got the perfect pairing for dinner or the perfect companion for a book."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Bacchus Feinherb

This 100% Bacchus varietal wine is off-dry and a perfect summer sipper. Bear with me, off-dry doesn't mean sugar bomb, but there is some residual sugar that your palate may pick up on. This wine is bursting with aromatics of pear, lemon, grapefruit, and currant with a touch of herbs. You may find hints of tropical fruit - think mango - on the palate that helps round out the finish.

Bacchus is a white wine grape created in 1933 by crossing a Silvaner/Riesling cross with Müller-Thurgau. It isn't widely available and because of that I think it deserves a little of the spotlight this summer.

Marika and Sandro operate B&T with a quiet confidence that translates directly into their wines. Their approach in the cellar is one of restraint and minimal intervention. B&T wines are crafted by utilizing wild yeasts, avoiding unnecessary additives, and fermenting with meticulous care, to offer a pure expression of their terroir.

Perfect Pairings: As much as I'd happily drop this into an ice bucket by the pool and finish it there, this wine also shines with light, zesty summer dishes. Try it with shrimp tossed in lemon and herbs, or with grilled or poached white fish. Fresh goat cheese or burrata with herbs make excellent matches as well.

Brittan Estate Pinot Noir

This 100% estate Pinot Noir opens with aromas of red currant, cranberry, boysenberry, and orange blossom. The classic earthiness of Pinot Noir is present, but here it adds depth to the vibrant red fruit rather than overshadowing it. The wine has excellent aging potential—lay it down for another decade or enjoy it with friends this summer.

Pinot Noir originated in Burgundy, France, and is famously difficult to grow. Its thin skins and tight clusters make it highly sensitive to climate, thriving in cooler regions where moderate temperatures allow the grape to develop its hallmark elegance and complexity. This is the style Robert Brittan set out to achieve.

When the Brittan's purchased the estate in 2004, it became a full-scale rehabilitation project. They replanted acres due to the challenging nature of the site, retrained vines, and spent years learning the nuances of this rugged landscape.

Perfect Pairings: Pinot Noir is one of the most versatile food-pairing wines, and the classics—roasted poultry, mushroom dishes, and grilled salmon—are all perfect matches. Try an herb roasted chicken or mushroom risotto. With its high acidity and light-to-medium body, you're almost guaranteed to find a great pairing partner.

Fabien Duveau

Saumur, Loire, France

Fabien Duveau is a young winemaker and the 8th generation of his family estate, which he took over in 2008. His vineyard sits in Chacé, just southeast of Saumur on the Loire's left bank—one of the top areas for Saumur-Champigny thanks to its deep tuffeau soils - a soft, porous, fine-grained limestone native to the Loire Valley in France formed over 90 million years ago from ancient seabed deposits. His cellar and vines border the famed Clos Rougeard.

The 20-hectare estate spans about 40 parcels of Chenin Blanc and Cabernet Franc, which Fabien converted to organic and biodynamic farming. The diversity of parcels lets him vinify by terroir, creating distinct cuvées often named after each plot. Fabien ages his wines in a 14th-century cave, where the natural coolness and humidity provide ideal conditions. He vinifies in concrete and ages in neutral oak to preserve the purity of the fruit and terroir.

Hilary's Note: "What better way to experience Chenin Blanc than from its birthplace? Fabien Duveau is doing something special in the Loire, and it shows in every bottle. From the first sip to the last this Chenin shines. I'm excited to share this Saumur with you and hope it makes you a lifelong Chenin Blanc fan."

Susana Balbo Wines

Mendoza, Argentina

Susana Balbo is a trailblazer in the wine world. She was Argentina's first female winemaker graduating with a degree in enology in 1981 in an otherwise patriarchal industry. By 1999 she had proven her talent working in wine across Argentina and decided it was time to start her own winery. She founded Susana Balbo Wines in the foothills of the Andes in Mendoza. She became known as the "Queen of Torrontes" by transforming this simple table wine into Argentina's flagship white.

Susana stands out for her innovation. In 2013, she introduced barrel-fermented Torrontés, proving the grape could age beautifully, developing notes of white flowers, citrus, and tropical fruit. And of course, her Malbecs deliver rich, velvety, beautifully balanced expressions of Argentine terroir. Her commitment to sustainability and innovation has also set new standards for the industry.

Hilary's Note: "I love Susana's wines. We carry her Crios Cabernet Sauvignon and Torrontes in store and I couldn't think of a better intro to Susana Balbo Wines than her Argentine Malbec. You'll get a sense of place and style while drinking this Malbec and I hope it encourages you to explore Susana Balbo Wines further."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Saumur “La Hunaudière”

This 100% Chenin Blanc from the Saumur region is bursting with flavor and minerality. Its vines are over thirty years old and grown in the Hunaudière vineyard in the town of Saint-Cyr. It’s fermented in both cement vats (80%) and oak barrels (20%) and spends 6 months on it’s lees.

Fabien is rooted in tradition, yet his fresh, minimalist approach brings a vibrant delicacy to his wines—eloquent expressions of what Saumur-Champigny is at its core.

Expressive on the nose, the wine opens with citrus and orchard notes. On the palate you’ll find lime, apple, and tangerine with a balanced freshness throughout. There is a mineral grip to this wine that will hopefully find you seeking out wines of similar structure.

Perfect Pairings: With a white wine like this you’ll definitely want to pair with a dish like seared scallops or mussels in white wine. Love goat cheese? This wine pairs perfectly with fresh Chèvre on toast with herbs or Crottin de Chavignol from your nearest cheese shop.

Susana Balbo Signature Malbec

This is a 100% Malbec wine hand harvested in the Paraje Altamira, Valle de Uco region of Mendoza. Susana’s Signature label is where she pushes the boundaries of winemaking. Susana’s creative approach is to seamlessly apply her human touch and enhance the grape’s character while preserving the terroir essence.

This wine, typical of many Malbecs, has an intense ruby color. It opens with aromas of blueberry and blackberry with subtle floral notes. On the palate you’ll find that same intense black fruit, violet, and licorice. A smooth body with round tannins and a sophisticated finish.

“This wine expresses all the power, elegance, and pleasure that Argentine Malbec can offer” – Susana Balbo

Perfect Pairings: This wine will pair beautifully with red meat, pork, or poultry. Try it with a grilled ribeye finished with a balsamic glaze or go classic Argentine with a beef or lamb empanada. If you’re looking for something lighter, add Manchego or Gouda to your next charcuterie board.

Wine Club

Welcome to the Club

After leaving a career in Human Resources, I dove headfirst into the world of wine - a passion that quickly became a calling. I earned my Certified Specialist of Wine credential during COVID, then gained hands-on experience in a vineyard & tasting room. A stint in London for the Wine & Spirit Education Trust Level 3 pushed me to my limits, but I passed with renewed confidence. It's been a winding journey, with a few HR detours, but now I'm fully immersed in wine and loving every moment. Thank you for joining the club - I can't wait to explore this world with fellow enthusiasts like you!

Sincerely, Hilary Hang

Robert Sinskey Vineyards

Napa Valley, California

Robert Sinskey Vineyards (RSV), founded in 1986 in Napa's Carneros region, farms roughly 200 acres of certified organic vineyards and is known for pioneering biodynamic and regenerative practices. Their integrated Wilding Farm plays a central role in their approach, supplying produce, herbs, and flowers for their culinary program while enriching the vineyard ecosystem through composting, cover crops, and natural inputs.

Sustainability guides every part of their work—from estate-grown organic fruit and biodynamic farming aligned with natural cycles to solar-powered operations. Chef Maria Sinskey's influence shapes their philosophy of crafting wines meant for the table rather than for scores, and the farm-to-vineyard connection at Wilding Farm remains one of the most distinctive aspects of their identity.

Hilary's Note: "This vineyard and winemaking team are truly exceptional. Once you understand the depth and range that white wine can offer, it's impossible to see it as just a prelude to red wine. RSV challenges Napa conventions by planting less-common varieties, resulting in this beautifully balanced and complex white blend that stands out on its own."

Leithakalk Wine Estate

Burgenland, Austria

Hailing from the rolling hills of the Leitha Mountains, Leithakalk Wine Estate creates unique and distinctive wines of Austria. With vines up to 60–70 years old, the estate's vineyards occupy prime sites along the gentle slopes of the Leitha Mountains, producing both refined white wines and expressive red wines. Each wine reflects the character of the region, shaped by strict grape selection and a careful, natural approach to vinification.

Under the Leithakalk label, six accomplished winemakers combine their expertise to create wines of remarkable distinction. Vintage and quality guide each wine's development, with extended aging on fine lees—particularly for red and top white wines—ensuring depth, complexity, and longevity. The "wine with the wild boar" has been around since 2016 and the wines continue to grow in popularity.

Hilary's Note: "This may be my first selfish Wine Club pick as I've been a fan of Austrian wine for years. Sharing Austria's native varieties through great producers is one of my favorite things, and this bottle makes it easy. Its juicy yet wonderfully restrained character is the kind of surprise that sends you down the rabbit hole of "What other Austrian wines have I been missing?"."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Libration - L2, Sun-Earth

This white blend of Pinot Blanc, Pinot Gris, and Muscat Blanc à Petits Grains takes its name from the Lagrange points—positions in celestial mechanics where the gravitational forces of two large bodies create a stable equilibrium for a smaller one.

At RSV, balance is central to their philosophy; as they describe it, they aim to craft "wine so elegant it seems to defy gravity." From the first sip, this wine made its case effortlessly. Its harmony and precision were immediately clear, leaving no question about its place in the Wine Club.

The wine opens with expressive aromas of jasmine, lemon blossom, melon, and fresh linen. Despite the subtly sweet impression of the bouquet, it is a dry wine that delivers crisp notes of Meyer lemon, lime, and peach on the palate, finishing with a refined minerality and a gentle herbaceous lift.

Perfect Pairings: With its floral and citrus notes and crisp structure, this wine pairs beautifully with dishes that complement rather than overpower its elegance. Consider citrus-herb roast chicken, spring vegetable risotto with asparagus, peas, and lemon zest, or grilled shrimp with fresh basil.

Haus Cuvee Red

The Blaufränkisch, Merlot, and Zweigelt in this blend work in beautiful harmony. Blaufränkisch brings rich black fruit and peppery spice, Merlot adds smoothness and roundness to the palate, and Zweigelt lifts the aromatics with its bright, juicy fruit.

At Leithakalk, time is an essential ingredient. Patience and intuition guide their winemaking, and each wine spends an extended period aging on fine lees, developing the complexity and layered character that define the estate's style.

This cuvée opens with aromas of blackberry, plum, and dark cherry. On the palate, those dark fruits carry through alongside subtle pepper notes. Bright acidity, a fresh mineral backbone, and fine tannins create a balanced, compelling finish that keeps you coming back for another sip.

Perfect Pairings: Pair this wine with your next pasta dish with red suauce and fresh herbs—the acidity and spice from the Blaufränkisch will meet it perfectly. If pasta isn't calling your name, try the wine with a mushroom dish like roasted portobello steaks, or lean into the Austrian vibe and serve it alongside a savory mushroom strudel.

Matthew Wallace

Napa Valley, California

Matthew Wallace's Hardin Ranch Vineyard sits in a remote corner of Napa Valley, tucked into the flats of Pope Valley. Warm days and sharply cooler nights shape this far-eastern site. Though its loamy soils naturally favor Cabernet Sauvignon, Matt Hardin—owner of Matthew Wallace Wines—chose instead to craft a Sauvignon Blanc that blends California brightness with Bordeaux-style texture and depth.

A seventh-generation vineyard manager, Hardin comes from one of Napa Valley's pioneering families. Through Hardin Vineyard Management, he oversees some of the region's most sought-after sites with a firm commitment to sustainable farming. Matthew Wallace Wines debuted in 2012, with vineyards personally overseen and planned by Hardin from the ground up. He and winemaker Thomas Brown walk each site and make harvest decisions by taste, row by row. Their connection to the land runs deep, and it shows in every drop.

Hilary's Note: "What I liked most about this wine was its restraint. It is elegant without being showy although it has every right to be. I believe this version of a Sauvignon Blanc shows much of what this grape is capable of and the beauty it holds with a combination of place, person, and climate."

Kir-Yianni

Macedonia, Greece

Kir-Yianni was founded in 1997 by Yiannis Boutaris, a leading figure in Greek wine. After leaving the historic Boutari Wine Group—established in 1879 by his grandfather—he built his own estate. Yiannis had already planted 40 hectares of Xinomavro in 1970, followed by 20 hectares of white varieties 15 years later. By 1997, the first Kir-Yianni vintage was fully vinified in the new winery.

Kir-Yianni is known for producing premium Xinomavro in Northwestern Greece. The name Xinomavro translates to 'Acid and Black' and is one of the worlds rarest noble red varieties of the area. While you can make comparisons between Xinomavro and Nebbiolo or Pinot Noir, its character can really only be described as unique. Wines from Xinomavro are very age worthy and demand attention. The philosophy of Kir-Yianni is a respect for tradition, desire to innovate, and knowledge of the wine from grape to consumer.

Hilary's Note: "This is now our second Greek wine of the Club and it does not disappoint. I've been a fan of Xinomavro for a few years now and while this is a blend with 50% of the makeup Xinomavro, I feel this wine shows the complexity and richness of this unique grape."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Hardin Ranch Sauvignon Blanc

This wine is 100% Sauvignon Blanc from the Napa Valley AVA. Ample sunlight brings out the variety's signature vibrancy, while cool nights help preserve its bright acidity. It shows plenty of character yet remains crisp and clean on the palate.

On the nose, this wine offers jasmine, honeydew, and grapefruit, while the palate brings lychee, orange oil, and honeysuckle. The fruit leaps from the glass yet stays restrained on the palate, leading to a lean, textured body with precise balance.

Perfect Pairings: The wine's citrus and floral lift makes it a natural match for herb-driven dishes and seafood. Try it with seared scallops and grilled artichokes with a squeeze of lemon. For something richer, pair it with a creamy risotto with peas and asparagus, where the wine's texture really shines.

The Fallen Oak

This blend of 50% Xinomavro, 30% Merlot, and 20% Syrah is made from the estate's best fruit. The grapes are handpicked, sorted, destemmed, and transferred to tanks unbroken, with each variety vinified separately at controlled temperatures.

The wine ages 12 months in oak, followed by 6 months in bottle before release. You'll find concentrated red-fruit aromas alongside cocoa, coffee, bread crust, and vanilla on both the nose and palate. Discreet tannins and balanced acidity elevate the wine's profile, leading to a long, spicy finish.

Perfect Pairings: This wine is remarkably versatile at the table. It pairs beautifully with red meat, hearty dishes, and rich, creamy sauces. Try it with beef ragu or braised lamb with tomatoes and herbs, or go Greek with moussaka to honor its roots.

C.H. Berres

Mosel, Germany

From Germany's famed Mosel region comes C.H. Berres, a historic estate where the Berres family has cultivated vineyards since 1510. Now led by 21st-generation winemaker Markus Berres, this Mittelmosel property blends deeply rooted traditions with a fresh, modern perspective, focusing on the purity and precision that make Mosel wines so celebrated.

After studying at Geisenheim and gaining international experience, Markus ushered the winery into a new era, revitalizing old vineyards and crafting vibrant, contemporary Rieslings. Many of their vines are old and ungrafted, planted in iconic sites, including Ürzig's Würzgarten. The result is a wine that beautifully balances heritage & innovation, delivering clarity, character & charm.

Hilary's Note: "I know Riesling isn't always the first bottle people reach for, but a beautifully made Riesling can completely change that perception. After one taste, I knew this was a wine worth sharing with you. Thoughtfully crafted and layered with depth, it's the kind of bottle that invites you to rethink everything you knew about Riesling - elegant, expressive, and truly memorable."

Owen Roe

Yakima, Washington

Founded in 1999 by the O'Reilly family, Owen Roe built its reputation on sourcing exceptional fruit from Oregon's Willamette Valley and Washington's Yakima Valley. Their philosophy has been clear: great wine begins with the vineyard. Today, the winery partners with carefully chosen sites, working closely with growers through harvest to ensure quality and true site expression.

Co-founders David and Angelica O'Reilly share a deep passion for fine wine, first shaped by cool-climate Pinot Noir and later rooted firmly in Oregon. Over more than three decades, they've crafted a diverse, critically recognized portfolio defined by balance, structure, and a sense of place, all while building a lasting family legacy that their eight children have helped shape and grow.

Hilary's Note: "This Grenache immediately caught my attention with its vibrant red fruit aromas and beautifully textured palate. I've always loved how Grenache can be fruity, earthy, smoky, and just a little savory all at once, striking a seamless balance. It's the kind of wine that's effortless to enjoy and easy to share - though you may find yourself wanting to keep this one all to yourself. "

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Berres Estate Riesling

This 100% Estate Riesling is a striking expression of the Mosel, grown on steep, multicolored slate slopes with vines, some over 90 years old, deeply rooted in this storied landscape. Hand harvested & crafted with care, it opens with a floral nose layered with white peach, nectarine, and white blossoms, offering both richness & precision.

On the palate, the wine is beautifully balanced, with vibrant acidity & pronounced minerality giving shape to its clear, focused fruit. Riesling's hallmark acidity provides lift and energy, bringing freshness and finesse to every sip. The result is a wine with depth, vibrancy, and character.

Perfect Pairings: Riesling's vibrant acidity & subtle touch of sweetness make it a natural partner for dishes with a little heat & aromatic flair. Try it with Thai green curry, spicy shrimp or chicken stir-fry, or classic pork schnitzel. Bright, expressive, & food-friendly, this wine comes alive at the table.

Sinister Hand

This Grenache-driven blend brings together Grenache, Tannat, Mourvèdre, and Syrah to create a wine that's vibrant, expressive, and easy to love. Aromas of blueberry, raspberry, strawberry, and rose petals lift from the glass, offering a bright and inviting introduction to this beautifully balanced red wine.

On the palate, this wine is layered, with lively acidity giving lift to its dark, savory fruit. Juicy raspberry and black cherry are framed by hints of vanilla and toasty French oak, while chewy tannins add structure and depth. The result is a wine with richness, energy, and character.

Perfect Pairings: This red shines with grilled lamb chops, BBQ ribs, or herb-crusted roast chicken. Want something more comforting? It's just as delicious with Trevor's Combo pizza or a juicy burger. Savory & satisfying, this is the kind of red that makes any meal feel like an occasion.

Douloufakis Winery
Crete, Greece

From the village of Dafnes on the island of Crete comes our first Greek wine. Douloufakis winery is deeply rooted in Cretan winemaking, focusing on indigenous grapes like Vidiano, alongside Vilana, Muscat of Spina, and Liatiko, with a small selection of international varieties. Their dedication to local grapes makes this wine a standout.

Founded in 1930 and now led by third-generation winemaker Nikos Doulousfakis, the winery has played a key role in reviving Vidiano, a grape that was once nearly extinct. Through organic farming and thoughtful modernization, Douloufakis helped turn Vidiano into the flagship varietal it is today. The result is a wine that's expressive, distinctive, and a beautiful blend of tradition & innovation.

Hilary's Note: "My first experience with Vidiano was unforgettable. After tasting countless wines at a trade show, this white stayed with me - and I knew it had to be part of our Wine Club. While I am excited to introduce more people to Vidiano, I wanted our members to discover it first. Rich, well-balanced, and beautifully full-bodied."

Halter Ranch Winery
Paso Robles, CA

Located on the western edge of Paso Robles, Halter Ranch is a 2,700-acre organic estate where wine growing & land stewardship go hand in hand. Only 237 acres are planted to vineyard, all certified organic, farmed without synthetic pesticides or fertilizers, resulting in grapes that truly reflect their environment and the care behind them.

Founded in 2000 by Swiss philanthropist & conservationist Hansjörg Wyss, Halter Ranch was built with sustainability at its core. Under the guidance of winemaker Kevin Sass, whose career spans over 25 years, the focus is on crafting age-worthy wines with balance and character. Through thoughtful vineyard practices, they deliver wines that feel purposeful & beautifully expressive.

Hilary's Note: "While I've long been familiar with Halter Ranch's Cabernet Sauvignon, this blend was a standout for me. Made from Grenache, Tannat, Mourvèdre, and Syrah, it's exactly the kind of layered, expressive wine I love. Bright, mouthwatering, and beautifully balanced, this Paso Robles blend keeps you coming back."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Douloufakis Vidiano

This 100% Vidiano is a true landmark wine for the Douloufakis winery, highlighting the elegance and potential of this rare Greek grape. Aromas of peach, apricot, and quince rise from the glass, layered with delicate floral notes of jasmine and chamomile, setting the stage for a beautifully expressive white wine.

On the palate, this Vidiano is full-bodied yet balanced, with lively acidity that carries the fruit through to a clean, refined finish. Rich without being heavy. It delivers depth and freshness in equal measure, making it a standout expression of this revered varietal.

Perfect Pairings: Vidiano's versatility makes it a natural match for seafood, pasta, and white meats. Try it with Sole Meunière, or pair it with pork dishes like a Cretan-style pan-fired pork and leeks. Elegant and food-friendly, this wine truly shines at the table.

Halter Ranch CDP

This Grenache-driven blend brings together Grenache, Tannat, Mourvèdre, and Syrah to create a wine that's vibrant, expressive, and easy to love. Aromas of blueberry, raspberry, strawberry, and rose petals lift from the glass, offering a bright and inviting introduction to this beautifully balanced red wine.

On the palate, red fruits and pomegranate take center stage with a lively opening and a long, layered finish. Aged in neutral French oak and concrete, the wine maintains soft, gentle tannins and a smooth texture, allowing the fruit and freshness to shine through effortlessly.

Perfect Pairings: This wine is a natural fit for a charcuterie board loaded with meats and cheeses. For a heartier option, try it with lamb osso buco or pork Milanese. Approachable, versatile, and endlessly drinkable, this blend is made to be enjoyed to the very last drop.

Can you Guess Next Month's Varietals?

White Wine: We are headed to Germany for our first-ever visit to this classic winemaking country. This modern white offers gooseberry, juicy apple, and hints of kiwi, balanced by bright minerality and clean fruit structure. Fresh yet expressive, it brings a new and exciting style to the club.

Red Wine: Back in the Columbia Valley of Washington, this red showcases everything to love about the region. With aromas of raspberry and vanilla and a palate of black cherry, spice, and subtle oak, it's bold, savory, and beautifully structured - an irresistible expression of this standout varietal.

Morgadío Albariño
Rías Baixas, Spain

From Spain's breezy Atlantic coast comes Morgadío, a fresh and vibrant Albariño that's all about place. Planted in 1984 in the Condado do Tea of Rías Baixas, these vineyards soak up gentle sunshine and grow in granite-rich sandy soils - conditions that help create wines that are crisp, aromatic, and full of personality.

Morgadío focuses on Albariño, allowing them to master this refreshing varietal. The name comes from Morgado, a term for family land passed down through generations, reflecting the winery's deep connection to tradition. The result is a wine that is easy to enjoy, beautifully expressive, and a perfect introduction to why Albariño is so loved.

Hilary's Note: "This Albariño is unlike any other I have tasted recently. It has a little more weight on the palate than those high-acid, light-body Albariños I am used to, which is why it stood out. Whether this is your first time trying an Albariño or it's a familiar varietal - this wine is sure to impress & give Albariño its good name!"

Pasanau Ceps Nous
Priorat, Spain

High in the rugged hills of Priorat, the Pasanau family has been growing grapes for generations at the base of the dramatic Serra de Monstant cliffs. Their 11 estate vineyards sit among rocky, slate-filled soils & elevated terrain, where warm Mediterranean sunshine meets cooling breezes - perfect for bold, expressive wines.

Now led by Jordi Pasanau, the estate is farmed sustainably with a thoughtful, hands-off approach in both the vineyard and cellar. Using classic Priorat grapes like Grenache, Tempranillo, and Cabernet Sauvignon, Pasanau crafts wines that are rich and powerful yet balanced - an exciting introduction to one of Spain's most celebrated wine regions.

Hilary's Note: "Talk about a beautiful Priorat! The region itself typically lends to some concentrated, complex wines, and this is no different. I am also a sucker for Grenache from any region. Still, this particular wine with its balanced flavors, layered aromas, and beautiful texture really caught my attention, and I hope it does yours!"

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Morgadío Albariño

This 100% Albariño comes from 35-year-old vineyards in Spain's coastal Rías Baixas region. Bright and expressive, it offers aromas of nectarine, pineapple, lemongrass, and a hint of sea salt, capturing the fresh, ocean-influenced character for which Albariño is known.

On the palate, this Albariño is medium-bodied, bone-dry, and refreshingly crisp, with vibrant acidity that keeps it lively from the first sip to the last. Clean, sleek, bright, and mouthwatering, it is a wine that feels both polished and effortless. Perfect for pouring on any occasion.

Perfect Pairings: Albariño truly shines with seafood like scallops, ceviche, or sushi. It also pairs beautifully with lemon-herb chicken, grilled pork tenderloin, or lighter options like Manchego, feta, or goat cheese, whether on a charcuterie board or in a fresh salad.

Pasanau Ceps Nous

This 100% Grenache showcases beautiful fruit concentration and careful barrel aging, creating a wine with both power and balance. Aromas of dark fruit and a hint of balsamic lead the way, setting the stage for a rich yet refined expression of the grape.

On the palate, cranberry and red cherry shine alongside subtle notes of vanilla, supported by smooth, polished tannins. Medium-bodied with a lingering finish, this Grenache delivers depth and elegance, with flavors that unfold gracefully through the final sip.

Perfect Pairings: Grenache pairs wonderfully with pork and poultry, especially grilled pork tenderloin or roasted chicken. It also loves savory dishes like herb-crusted lamb chops, pan-seared duck breast, and hearty stews like cassoulet. Balanced and versatile, this is a wine made for the table.

Can you Guess Next Month's Varietals?

White Wine: Greek wine makes its Wine Club debut. This rare white varietal from Crete is still a hidden gem for most, offering expressive notes of peach, apricot, melon, honey, and fresh herbs. Bright and distinctive, it's an emerging Greek grape well worth discovering.

Red Wine: Back to the USA, we have a red blend making it's debut - and it's one you won't want to miss. Crafted by a standout Paso Robles producer, it showcases their signature style and dedication, delivering a red that's bold, balanced, and utterly captivating.

Cantina Terlan
Trentino Alto Adige, Italy

Founded in 1893, Cantina Terlan stands as one of Alto Adige's most celebrated cooperatives - where mountain terroir meets craftsmanship. Nestled in the foothills of the Alps, Terlan unites small growers under one shared philosophy: quality over quantity. Low yields and high standards result in wines of purity & depth.

With most of its production devoted to whites, Terlan is renowned for elegant, age-worthy wines that capture the cool alpine character of the region. The winery's meticulous approach & long tradition of cellar aging have made its bottlings among the most collectible in northern Italy. From Sauvignon Blanc & Chardonnay to Pinot Nero & Lagrein, each bottle reflects dedication.

Hilary's Note: "When I tasted Terlan's Pinot Bianco for the first time, the one word that came to mind was sophisticated. Elegant in both presentation and flavor, this wine is a perfect choice for anyone looking to explore something beyond their everyday white wine."

Donnafugata
Sicily, Italy

Founded in 1983 by Giacomo and Gabriella Rallo, Donnafugata continues a family legacy that spans over 170 years of winemaking. Rooted in Sicily, their focus is on small, high-quality productions that highlight the island's unique vineyards and sustainable practices - bringing the spirit of "Made in Italy" to the world.

The name Donnafugata - "woman on the run" - draws from Sicilian history, symbolizing courage & transformation. Gabriella Rallo embodied that legacy when she left teaching to pursue winemaking, becoming one of Sicily's first female producers. Today, Donnafugata remains a testament to innovation, resilience, and the art of crafting wines with a true sense of identity.

Hilary's Note: "My journey with Nero d'Avola began during my wine studies. Always excited to explore new varietals, I was drawn to Cabernet Sauvignon & Syrah, but Nero d'Avola's bold fruit, full body, & balanced tannins quickly made it a standout & a favorite in my tasting lineup."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Terlan Pinot Bianco

You don't often spot a Pinot Bianco (or Pinot Blanc) on the shelves - and that's part of what makes this find so special. A close relative of Pinot Noir, this grape thrives in Northern Italy & Germany, where it produces crisp, beautifully balanced white wines full of texture and finesse.

This Pinot Bianco is wonderfully crisp and mineral-driven, with aromas of green apple, pear, and lemongrass, as well as subtle hints of lime & chamomile. On the palate, notes of pear and quince take center stage, accompanied by a hint of salinity that adds depth and a refined finish.

Perfect Pairings: Light, delicate dishes let the wine's subtle charm shine. Try with a charcuterie board featuring soft cheeses like burrata or brie, flaky white fish, or seasonal salads with roasted squash, cranberries, or nuts.

Sherazade Nero d'Avola

Bold, expressive, and full of personality - Nero d'Avola is Sicily's signature red grape, and few producers capture its spirit better than Donnafugata. If you enjoy Cabernet Sauvignon or Syrah, you'll love this wines dark fruit intensity and smooth power.

This wine shows freshness & approachability with its vibrant aromas of raspberry & cherry, laced with spice & balsamic notes that draw you in. On the palate, those red fruits deepen alongside bold yet polished tannins, creating a velvety, full-bodied texture.

Perfect Pairings: This Sicilian red pairs well with flavorful dishes like tomato-based pastas, Margherita pizza, or roasted meats. It also pairs beautifully with Thanksgiving Turkey or a leftover holiday sandwich.

Trevor's

WineClub

Welcome to the Club

I'm Hilary, your concierge for Trevor's Wine Club, and I'm thrilled to welcome you! My goal is to make wine fun and approachable by guiding you to new varietals and regions you might not usually explore. While some wines may feel familiar, I hope the selections ahead surprise and delight you.

Ide Wines

Sonoma County, California

Ever heard of the California Republic? Back in 1846, it was a short-lived "nation" that lasted just 25 days before California officially became part of the U.S. The man behind that brief moment of independence was William B. Ide - and his bold, adventurous spirit inspired the name Ide Wines.

Based in Beautiful Sonoma County, Ide is a small, passionate winery focused on letting the vineyards speak for themselves. They source grapes from all over Sonoma - from misty coastal hills to sun-drenched valleys - creating wines that are both elegant and full of character. Each bottle reflects the land it comes from, perfectly balanced and made to be enjoyed, not just admired.

Hilary's Note: "I am hopeful your first introduction to Ide Wines is just as memorable as it was for me. The Golden Grove Sauvignon Blanc is equal parts approachable and elegant."

Massolino

Serralunga d'Alba, Italy

Tucked away in the rolling hills of Italy's Piedmont region, Massolino is a family-run winery that has been perfecting its craft since 1896. Today, brothers Franco and Roberto Massolino carry on their family tradition, blending time-honored techniques with a modern touch.

Their vineyards sit in one of the most prized areas of Barolo, known for producing wines with structure and soul. This is where the Nebbiolo grape thrives in limestone-rich soils and cool mountain air. Each small plot offers something unique, and together they showcase elegance and depth that make this region so special. The result is a wine that is refined yet approachable - classic Italian craftsmanship in every sip.

Hilary's Note: "I I'm excited to share the Massolino Langhe Nebbiolo. This wine is drinking beautifully and really showcases what Nebbiolo has to offer."

WINES OF THE MOMENT

Golden Grove Sauvignon Blanc

Meet your new favorite white wine! The Golden Grove Sauvignon Blanc bursts with bright tropical aromas of pineapple, guava, and passionfruit. On the palate, you'll taste juicy peach and nectarine, lifted by crisp, refreshing acidity that keeps every sip lively and fresh.

Unlike the grassy, citrusy Sauvignon Blancs from New Zealand, this Sonoma County version leans into lush tropical fruit and a smooth, rounded texture—making it a crowd-pleaser for any palate. Crafted for easy enjoyment, it's vibrant, balanced, and refreshing.

Perfect Pairings: This wine shines with seafood—try garlic prawns, ceviche, or grilled sea bass. It also pairs beautifully with Thai curries or garlic butter roasted chicken for a flavorful, satisfying meal.

Massolino Langhe Nebbiolo

Elegant, aromatic, and full of character, the Massolino Langhe Nebbiolo is a beautiful expression of this classic Italian grape. It shows a brilliant garnet hue with aromas of raspberry, red cherry, violet, and rose, accented by subtle hints of earth and spice.

On the palate, expect bright acidity, fine tannins, and layers of red fruit and baking spice, leading to a refined, lingering finish that invites another sip. Made with the same care as Massolino's famed Barolo, it offers depth and elegance in a perfectly approachable style.

Perfect Pairings: Nebbiolo loves rich, savory dishes like pasta with Bolognese or slow-roasted pot roast. It also pairs wonderfully with a charcuterie board, soft blue cheeses, or aged meats.

Why these wines?

After tasting a wide range of wines, I narrowed it down to the final contenders - a process that was as fun as it was challenging! Before any palate fatigue set in, I found selections that felt like the perfect start to Trevor's Wine Club. My goal was to choose wines that are exclusive to the club, approachable and easy to enjoy, yet distinctive in character. I hope you enjoy these wines as much as I do, and I am excited for all of us to continue discovering & exploring together. Cheers!

Can you Guess Next Month's Varietals?

White Wine: Our next white is from Trentino-Alto Adige, Italy. Elegant & medium-bodied with rich texture and crisp acidity, it's a unique twist on Pinot Noir - but not Pinot Grigio - and sure to delight!

Red Wine: Our next red is from Sicily, Italy and it's made from Sicily's top indigenous red grape. Full-bodied with bright acidity and firm tannins - a bold, memorable wine you'll want to enjoy again!
