NOTES FROM OUR CLIENTS

A NOTE
FROM OUR CO-FOUNDER

WHERE CLASSICAL ARTISTRY MEETS THE RHYTHM OF TODAY.

I founded Stringsational with a belief that has always stayed with me: music should make you feel something.
Having worked in orchestral environments, I have a deep appreciation for the artistry, discipline and precision behind exceptional musicianship. But as a pop singer myself, I have always been equally drawn to the energy of pop music: its groove, its phrasing and the way a familiar melody can bring people together.

I wanted to bring these two worlds closer.

At Stringsational, we believe string instruments can do so much more than create classical elegance. In the right hands, they can capture the pulse of a pop anthem, the warmth of a love song and the infectious energy that makes people want to move. It is about more than playing the notes. It is about understanding the music, feeling its rhythm and translating its character into arrangements that sound fresh, expressive and full of life.

My experience in cultural production and luxury hospitality has also shaped how I approach every event. I understand that a truly memorable experience is built on both artistic excellence and thoughtful execution: the details guests may never notice individually, but that make the entire occasion feel effortless.

That is the standard I want Stringsational to represent. From the music we perform to the way we work with you, every detail should feel considered, personal and worthy of the occasion.

Your wedding is a story only you can tell. Whether you imagine a timeless classical entrance, a favourite pop song reimagined for strings or a groove-filled arrangement that brings everyone to the dance floor, we want to help you find the sound that feels like you.

Thank you for considering Stringsational for one of life's most meaningful celebrations. It would be our privilege to bring your story to life through music.

Warmly,

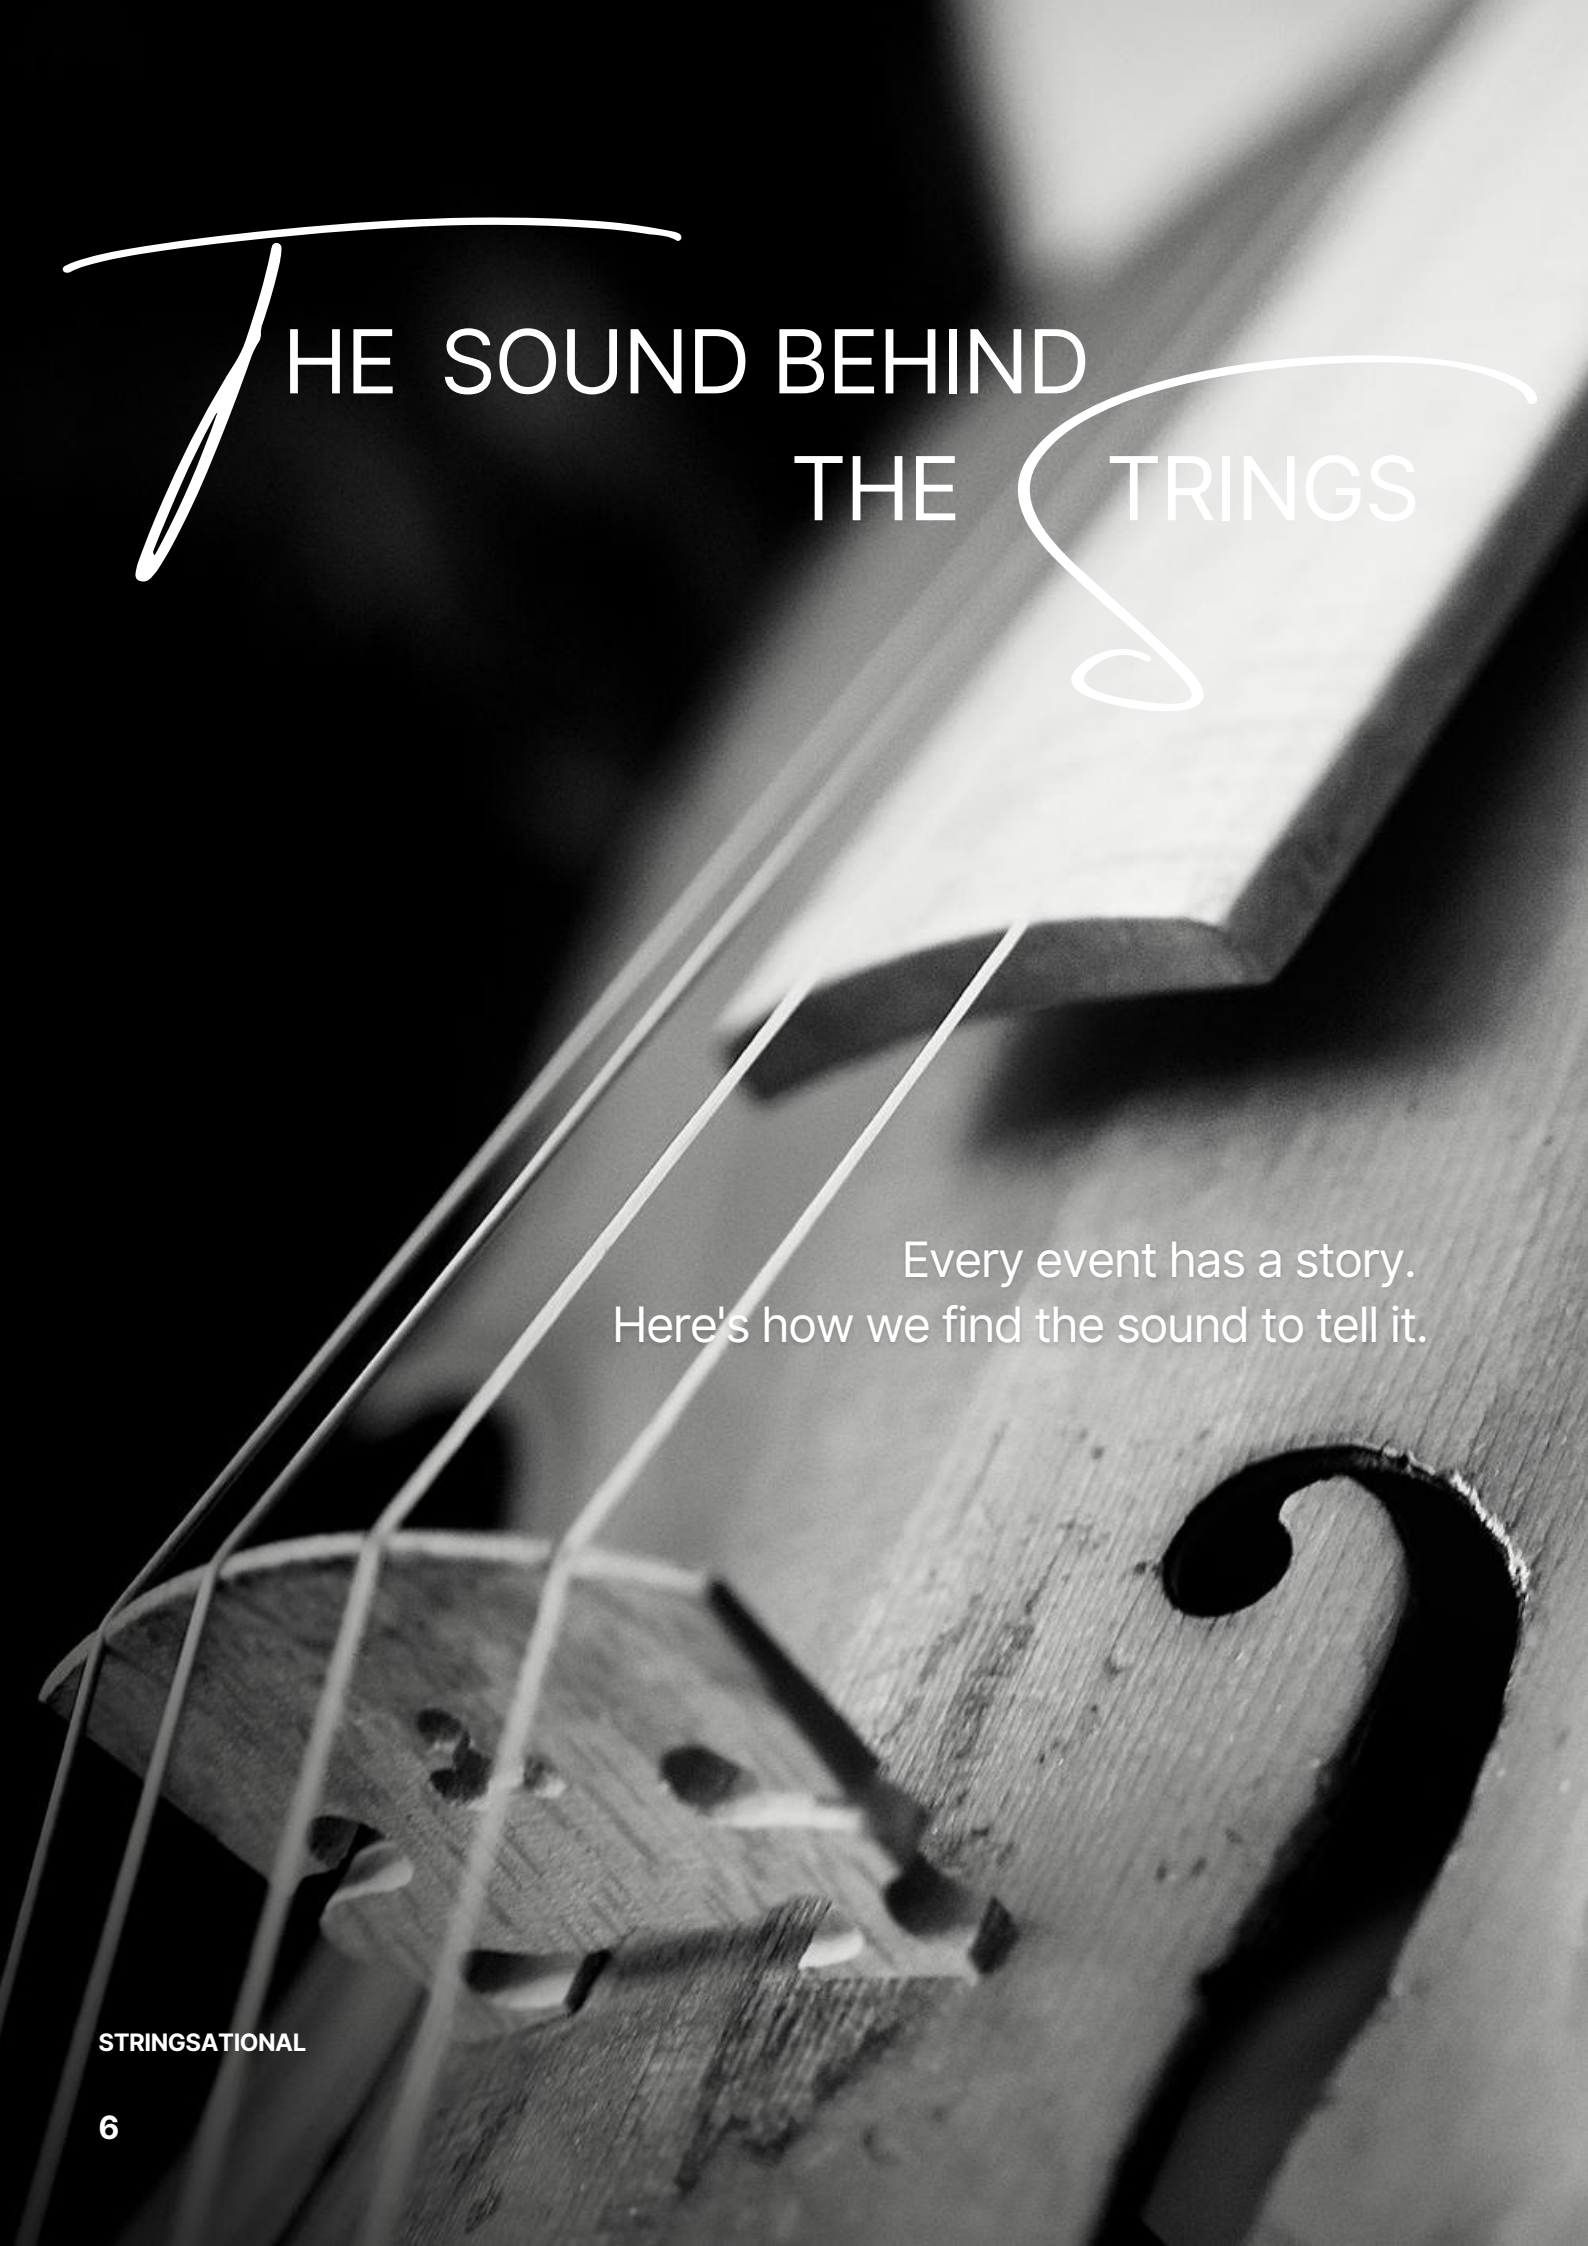

Holly L.

STRINGSATIONAL

THE SOUND BEHIND THE STRINGS

Every event has a story.
Here's how we find the sound to tell it.

We're not just a string ensemble. We're a sound that adapts to you. Whether it's four musicians or a soloist, a classical set or a full anime medley, what stays constant is the craft: classically trained, endlessly versatile, and built to bring your vision to life. Our lineup shifts depending on the occasion, but the standard never does.

We believe every event has its own rhythm, and every client deserves music that feels like theirs, not a generic playlist of strings. From elegant ceremonies to Bridgerton-themed receptions, anime and gaming conventions to corporate galas, we shape our sound around your story rather than asking you to fit ours. We've seen how the right live music can turn a themed set from decoration into an experience, the moment guests stop looking around the room and start feeling like they've stepped inside it.

That versatility didn't happen by accident. Years of formal training gave us the technical foundation, but it's curiosity for anime scores, film themes, pop reinventions, and everything in between that gave us range. We seek out players who genuinely love crossing genres, often with training that spans classical and contemporary styles, because that's where the groove comes from. We spend as much time studying a video game soundtrack as we do a string quartet arrangement, because we never know what a client will fall in love with next.

No two performances are the same, because no two clients are the same. That's not a challenge for us. It's the whole point. We're here to listen first, arrange second, and perform like it was written for you all along.

No two performances are the same, because no two clients are the same.

THE BEST MUSIC FEELS LIKE YOU

From intimate ceremonies to full-day celebrations, we shape the music around your day, not the other way round.

Whether you dream of timeless elegance, a string quartet that feels straight out of a period drama, or your favourite game or anime theme woven into the ceremony, every set is built around your story, never a standard setlist. We take the time to understand the atmosphere you want to create and the songs that mean something to you.

Half-day, full-day, or something entirely your own, we'll help you find the right fit.

What truly sets us apart is the care behind the performance. Your dedicated coordinator works with you and your wedding planner, where applicable, to align timings, musical cues and venue details with the ensemble. From the arrival of your guests to the first dance and beyond, every moment is thoughtfully planned so the music feels effortless on the day.

Planning it yourself? Your coordinator will guide you through the details and be there on your wedding day, so you won't be left relaying messages or chasing arrangements.

BALLROOM TO BRIDGERTON AND MORE...

THEMED WEDDINGS

YOUR STORY HAS A SOUNDTRACK. WE'RE HERE TO FIND IT.

Every couple has a story that goes beyond the guest list and the seating chart. Sometimes it's a show you fell in love watching together, a game you spent a hundred hours in side by side, or a world you both know so well it feels like a second home. Whatever it is, it's yours, and it deserves a place in your wedding, not tucked away as a private joke, but woven into the day itself.

That's where we come in. From the sweeping strings of a Regency ballroom to the sweeping scores of your favourite game or film, we translate the things you love into music your guests can feel. A Bridgerton-inspired reception, a string rendition of Zelda's main theme, or a Ghibli medley that only the two of you fully understand, we treat these requests with the same craft and care as any classical piece.

BALLROOM TO BRIDGERTON

Because the best wedding music isn't just beautiful, it's personal. It's the moment your guests lean over and ask "wait, is that from...?" and you get to smile, because yes, it is, and it's there because it means something to you.

Whatever your shared story is, tell us. We'll find the strings for it.

SUGGESTED THEMES

STARTING POINTS FOR YOUR STORY.

Bridgerton & Regency Romance
Sweeping strings, powdered ballrooms, and orchestral covers of the pop songs you already love, reimagined as period waltzes.

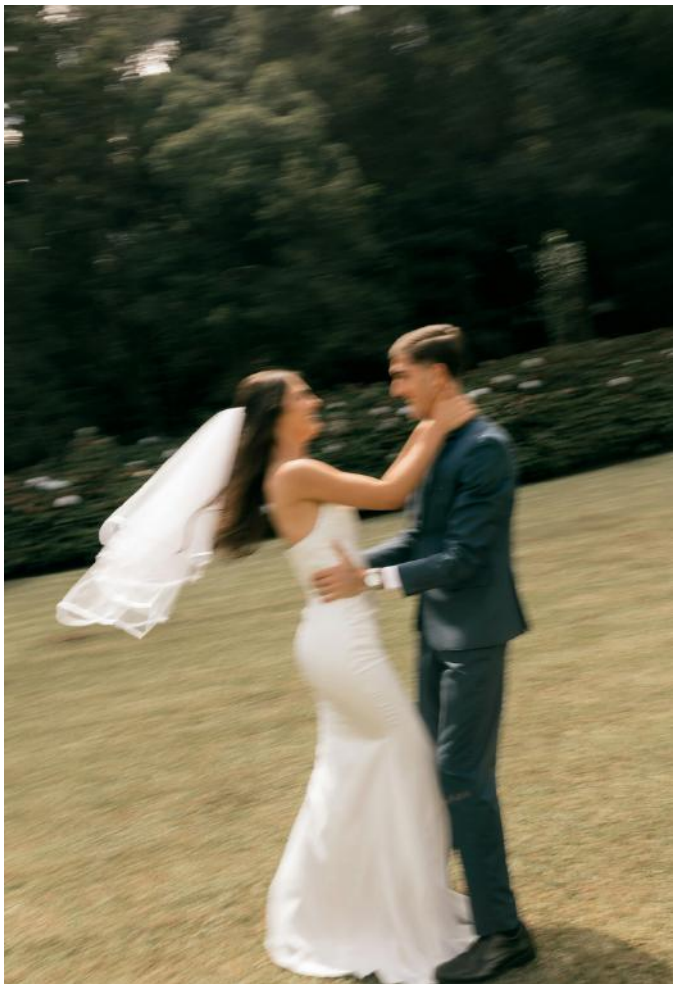

Fantasy & Fairytale
From Lord of the Rings to Harry Potter, epic, cinematic scores for couples who found each other in a world of magic.

Anime & Gaming
Pokemon themes, League of Legends soundtracks, Studio Ghibli tunes, your favourite scores reworked for string quartet showing off what made you fall in love with them in the first place.

Classic Hollywood Glamour
Old world elegance, think Frank Sinatra, golden age film scores and timeless jazz standards. Make your day to feel like a scene from a black-and-white classic.

Modern Pop & Cinematic
Swiftie here? Your favourite chart-topping songs, arranged for strings, familiar, but transformed.

Build Your Own World
Not seeing your theme here? That's the point. Tell us your story, and we'll find the music for it.

All Love Welcome

Love has never belonged to just one kind of story. Neither should a wedding.

There is no single way to fall in love, build a life together or celebrate the moment you say “I do”. And we think that's something worth celebrating.

Some love stories follow generations of tradition; others make new traditions of their own. Some couples have spent years imagining this day, while others are discovering what marriage means to them along the way. There is joy in all of it.

At Stringsational, we believe your wedding should celebrate the love you share, not someone else's idea of what that love should look like. That means music that moves you, moments that mean something to you, and a celebration in which you can be entirely yourselves — together, in every sense of the word.

Love takes many forms. It crosses boundaries, challenges expectations, finds its own language and creates its own little worlds. None of that makes a love story any less deserving of a grand entrance, a favourite song, a room full of people cheering, or a string quartet playing the soundtrack to the beginning of a new chapter.

Every love story deserves its own music. We'd love to help you find yours.
