

The missing gold medal

By Kim Bokyeong

About the Author

Hello! My name is Kim Bokyeong. I'm a first-year middle school student. I like reading books, listening to music. I wrote this story because I wanted to share the importance of work together. Thank you for reading my book. I hope you enjoy it.

Min and his friends were decorating the playground.
The gold medal, the winning prize, was on a shelf.

After decorating, the teacher went to check if the gold medal was still there.

Oh my god!
The gold medal has gone!

When everyone was surprised,
Min said calmly.

Let's find it together!

Okay!

While they were searching,
Han found a piece of paper near the shelves.

This paper came from the medal package.

Also, Han and Min found a footprint of a dog. It led to a flower bed.

Min met Coco, the school dog,
at the flower bed.

Oh, Coco has some gold dust around his mouth!

Min thought for a moment and then he said to his friends.

Let's find it in the flower bed!

A few minutes later, Min saw a gold medal in the flowers.

I found it!

The gold medal was found and given to the winner.

Min learned an important lesson: problems are much easier to solve when friends work together.

