Swadeshi since 1906 our legacy lives on

In the dawn of India's awakening, The Bombay Store opened its doors. It was a stage overflowing with tales of artisan mastery.

Founded by luminaries like Shri Lokmanya Bal Gangadhar Tilak and Sir Jamsetji Tata, the first outlet wasn't just a store; it was a manifesto for celebrating India's spirit through self-reliance.

The first store at Sir PM Road hosted our former Honourable Prime Ministers Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and Indira Gandhi, echoing the resonance of Swadeshi.

Over the past 120 years, it has represented the ethos of Swadeshi – products handcrafted by real artisans from the villages of India, using local materials, perpetuating traditional crafts passed down over centuries – and selling these products at affordable prices.

Inspired by Indian folk storytelling, Vankatha blends Gond-inspired artistry with graceful peacocks, forest landscapes, celestial skies, and hand-illustrated motifs. Rich midnight hues, earthy details, and delicate patterns create a mystical celebration of nature, craftsmanship, and Indian heritage.

Madhubani 2.0

Rooted in Bihar's timeless traditions, Madhubani art brings together intricate patterns, vibrant natural colours, and expressive storytelling inspired by India's rich heritage. Bring home the Madhubani collection and infuse your décor with handcrafted artistry, tradition, and soulful Indian charm.

Royal Jharokha

Framed by royal jharokhas, the elephant, camel, and horse symbolize strength, journey, and loyalty. Inspired by Rajput and Mughal courts, the theme reflects regal pride and architectural grandeur.

Elephant Floral

Our Elephant Floral collection brings together the grandeur of elephants and the charm of floral motifs. Featuring symbolic elephant designs intertwined with delicate florals in soft pink and white, this collection exudes elegance and serenity.

Origins dating back thousands of years, Ajrakh hails from the desert regions of Kutch, Gujarat. The printing is done by hand with hand-carved wooden blocks. It is distinguished by its signature colours - Indigo & Maroon.

Piece of India

Every design is a piece of a city. Its people, its culture, and the rhythm of daily life. From loud festivals to quiet evenings at home, we've captured the mood and heart of each place with love and care.
