Welcome to Eat & Walkabout: Where Slow Food Meets Sustainable Travel.

At Eat & Walkabout, we invite you to slow down and savor the journey. As a fully registered and bonded Tour Operator & Destination Management Company (DMC), we specialize in creating immersive travel experiences across Spain and Portugal. Rooted in the principles of the Slow Food Movement, our tours highlight the best local flavors while promoting sustainability and responsible travel.

Led by a father and son duo, our expert food and walking guides have spent years scouting the finest routes and culinary spots, offering unique gastronomy experiences along the way. Based in Cangas, do Morrazo, Galicia, we show you a different side of the destinations we cover—the Sustainable Slow Way Food Touring!

We also design tailor-made tours for both individual travelers and travel agents, catering to markets in the United States, Canada, Australia, and the UK. Whether it's a coastal walk along Galicia's Rías Baixas or a farm-to-table experience with local winemakers, we invite you to discover the true taste of a destination with us.

Let us guide you through a world where food is savored, sustainability is respected, and every journey leaves a positive impact.

Why are the Madeira Islands Europe's Best Island Destination?

A simple answer, it is a magical place waiting to be discovered. When you step foot on the Madeira Islands it is hard not to be mesmerized by the beauty of these subtropical islands sitting in the Atlantic ocean. No matter how many days you plan to stay it never seems enough, there is so much to see and taste on this Portuguese Paradise! Madeira has stolen our hearts and palates so we have decided to feature this destination as our first special E&W True Flavour Journey!

During our 7-day journey, our experts have hand-picked experiences to best represent Madeira. Starting in Funchal, the capital of the Island, a small cosmopolitan city that faces the Atlantic and is in close contact with nature having levada trails, tropical gardens, etc. all within reach from the city centre. It is named after a sweet-smelling wild herb, traditionally known as

GASTRONOMY, WINES & SPIRITS OF MADEIRA

The gastronomy, spirits and wines of Madeira are deeply rooted in the culture, for a small archipelago it has a bit of everything! The fruits and vegetables are abundant, largely due to the extraordinary fertility of its soil combined with the subtropical climate of the island. The fish caught off the coasts, like the deep-sea fish the Espada (Black scabbardfish) or the Atum (Tuna) are two very popular fish used in many Madeiran recipes, a favourite being black scabbardfish filet with banana. A locally sourced seafood delicacy to mention are the Lapas (Limpets), sauteed in garlic and butter then with drips of lemon juice on top, are to die for! You can't taste them without the Bolo do Caco (flat bread) also with butter and garlic, a pair made in heaven. The Espetada, meat over the barbeque on laurel branch stick-skewers to get that flavour of laurel (bay leaf) in the perfectly grilled meat.

fennel (Foeniculum Vulgare), which was abundant here when the settlement was created. Later, several excellent regional products, such as sugar or wine became the main source of income turning Funchal into an important trading port in the middle of the Atlantic.

Our welcome to the island will be on a rooftop terrace bar overlooking the city of Funchal just before sunset, how does that sound? Of course, we will toast the start of our gastronomic journey with a glass of Madeira wine, which this island is famed for in the wine world. Since we are staying in the town centre everything is within walking distance to explore the charm of the old town streets and get acquainted with many cafes, bars, restaurants, etc. The seaside promenade for a late evening or early morning walk is always so relaxing. Get the best views of the city by taking the cable car to the top of Monte, then slide down the streets in a hand-made Sledge from wicker and wood by specialised craftsmen and carpenters. They are pushed by two drivers, called 'carreiros', who are dressed in typical white garments and wear straw hats. With recognised skill, they use their boots with thick rubber soles as brakes to control the sledge during the journey.

The best way to describe our journey is through all the different experiences...

A walk through the cuisine of Navarre and Aragon: eat, drink and enjoy!

Navarre and Aragon, two regions in northern Spain, stand out not only for their incredible landscapes and history but also for their unique gastronomy. A cuisine that combines tradition, local products, and a strong bond with the land. From the fresh vegetables of Navarre's gardens to the hearty dishes of Aragon, you should taste the cuisine of these two autonomous communities. In this gastronomic journey, we will also make a stop in Pamplona and Zaragoza, their respective capitals, where the culture of tapas and culinary tradition are essential.

CUISINE OF NAVARRE: QUALITY AND TRADITION IN EVERY BITE

Navarre's cuisine is based mostly on fresh and high-quality products, largely grown on its fertile land. One of the region's star ingredients is the Tudela artichoke, cultivated along the banks of the Ebro River and famous for its delicate flavour and tender texture. Furthermore, asparagus from Navarre is also very appreciated, known for its whiteness and sweet taste, typically served boiled with mayonnaise or olive oil.

Another traditional dish is the vegetable stew, a real tribute to the region's produce, such as artichokes, peas, asparagus, and green beans, all cooked and sautéed with cured ham. Do you enjoy meat? Then, the cordero al chilindrón (lamb stew) will be your favourite dish: it combines tender lamb with a sauce of red peppers, tomatoes, and onions, perfectly capturing the spirit of Navarre cuisine!

Pamplona: The capital of tapas and fine dining

Pamplona, the capital of Navarre, is well-known around the world for the San Fermín festival, but it is also a city where gastronomy plays a key role. The old town is filled with bars where you may enjoy pintxos (tapas) that are a blend of history and innovation. Among the most popular are those of txistorra, a typical sausage from the region, and the gildas, a savoury appetizer of olives, anchovies, and chili peppers.

What other typical food is a must? Pamplona is also famous for its beef steak, a tender piece of meat grilled and topped with coarse salt. And for dessert, don't forget to try the canutillos de crema, a crispy delight filled with custard cream. You won't stay hungry!

WINES OF NAVARRE AND ARAGON: FIND THE BEST PAIRING

Navarre is a wine region with a long tradition that has successfully adapted to the new times. Although historically associated with rosé wines, today the region produces a wide variety of wines, including high-quality reds. Garnacha and Tempranillo are the most common grapes, but international varieties like Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot are also cultivated. Wines from Navarre are fresh and fruity, excellent to accompany light dishes like vegetables or pintxos.

As for Aragon, there is also a deep winemaking tradition, with several Denominations of Origin (D.O.), the most popular being D.O. Cariñena. Here, Garnacha is the king grape, producing powerful and structured red wines that pair well with local cuisine. The D.O. Somontano is another outstanding region, located at the foot of the Pyrenees, producing elegant and modern red and white wines.

ARAGON: HEARTY DISHES AND ROBUST FLAVOURS

Aragonese cuisine stands out for its intense flavours and the influence of Mediterranean and mountain food. One of the most iconic dishes is the Ternasco de Aragón, a young lamb roasted in the oven and served with fried potatoes with onions, peppers and garlic (patatas a lo pobre).

Another traditional dish is the Aragonese migas, prepared with crumbled stale bread sautéed with garlic, bacon, chorizo, and grapes, a recipe that reflects Aragon's humble and rural roots. And for chilly days, nothing beats an Aragonese stew, a filling dish made with veggies, pork, chorizo, and chickpeas.

Zaragoza: Between tradition and modernity

The capital of Aragon is a city that blends heritage and innovation, which is shown in its culinary offerings. Similar to Pamplona, Zaragoza has a strong culture of tapas: The heart of tapas bars is El Tubo, an area of narrow streets in the city centre. Here you can enjoy everything from classic patatas bravas to more elaborate tapas like Ternasco or octopus prepared in the Galician style.

Zaragoza's cuisine also benefits from outside influences. One such example is the cod dish Bacalao Ajoarriero, which is of Basque origin but has been widely embraced in Aragon. And for a sweet ending, try the guirlaches (a sort of almond nougat). They are a perfect option for anyone with a sweet craving!

DISCOVER THESE DESTINATIONS FOR CURIOUS PALATES

Don't miss these two regions: It's no wonder they are a true paradise for food lovers!

Pamplona and Zaragoza, with their tapas and vibrant atmospheres, are the perfect starting points to explore traditional cuisine that will delight every traveller's palate: come and savour the wines and food of Navarre and Aragon with Eat&Walkabout. Ask our experts for a tailor-made tour to Navarre and Aragon. And don't forget to subscribe to our newsletter so you don't miss a thing!

NAVARRRE: A JOURNEY THROUGH THE NORTHERN PARADISE

Navarre, a hidden gem in northern Spain, attracts travellers with a wide variety of unique experiences where tradition merges with modernity. Often referred to as a crossroads between the Atlantic and the Mediterranean, Navarre offers a perfect combination of natural beauty, rich cultural heritage, and gastronomy. From ancient pilgrimage routes to vineyard landscapes and medieval villages, Navarre and its capital, Pamplona, delight all tourists with their unique charm!

What to Do in Pamplona: Discover the Natural Beauty of the Area

Pamplona not only stands out for its history and culture but also for its natural environment. The city is surrounded by parks and green areas that invite you to enjoy the outdoors. The Taconera Park, with its beautiful gardens and charming atmosphere, is ideal for a relaxing walk. Furthermore, the nearby Baztán Valley offers hiking routes that allow you to explore the lush nature of Navarre.

AMAZING LANDSCAPES AND OUTDOOR PLANS ARAGON

Aragon is a region in northwest Spain that seduces travellers with its rich history, landscapes, and vibrant culture. At its heart lies Zaragoza, the dynamic capital where history and modernity blend together to offer a unique experience. From the majestic Pyrenees mountains to the vast plains of the Ebro Valley, Aragon provides a diverse environment to meet any traveller's expectations.

What to Do in Zaragoza: Must-See Cultural Visits

Zaragoza is a city full of historical and cultural landmarks that reflect its rich heritage. Among its highlights are the Basílica del Pilar, an iconic Catholic pilgrimage site with Baroque architecture and frescoes by Goya, and the Aljafería Palace, an 11th-century Islamic structure that now houses the Aragonese Parliament. In the Old Town, visitors can explore La Catedral del Salvador, a masterpiece of Mudéjar architecture, and the Museum of the Forum of Caesaraugusta, offering insights into the city's Roman past. Other notable spots include the medieval El Puente de Piedra and the Zaragoza Aquarium, ideal for family outings.

GASTRONOMIC GREEN SPAIN TOUR IN ASTURIAS, CANTABRIA & BASQUE COUNTRY

 Coming Soon

 Asturias, Cantabria
& Basque Country

 12 Days / 11 Nights
August/September 2026/2027

DISCOVER THE FLAVORS OF ASTURIAS

A journey into the natural beauty of Asturias wouldn't be complete without savoring its rich culinary heritage. Known for its wild coastlines, lush mountains, and the ancient town of Oviedo, Asturias offers a true taste of rural Spain. You'll experience traditional Asturian dishes like fabada asturiana, a hearty bean stew, and sample their famous cider, often poured from a great height to enhance the flavor. This land of rugged beauty promises to deliver not only spectacular scenery but also an authentic taste of Spanish tradition.

In Oviedo, the capital of Asturias, you'll step back in time as you wander through cobblestone streets lined with historical landmarks. Visit the grand Gothic cathedral, a symbol of the city, and explore medieval squares that capture the essence of Asturian history. Oviedo's cuisine is as impressive as its architecture, with quaint restaurants serving up dishes crafted from local ingredients, ensuring every meal is a reflection of the region's culinary pride.

SAVOR THE AUTHENTICITY OF CANTABRIA

Cantabria's lush green valleys and dramatic coastlines provide the perfect backdrop for a culinary adventure rooted in tradition. Known for its seafood, Cantabria's coastline is a treasure trove of fresh, flavorful fish. From the famous anchovies of Santoña to the region's rich stews like cocido montañés, every dish captures the essence of Cantabria's strong connection to both the sea and the land. This region offers a perfect mix of hearty rural fare and coastal delicacies, providing a truly authentic experience.

In Santander, the region's capital, you'll be treated to a vibrant mix of history and modernity. This bustling port city is a gastronomic hub where you can enjoy the freshest seafood alongside stunning views of the Bay of Biscay. Whether you're savoring locally sourced octopus in a charming seaside restaurant or enjoying quesada pasiega, a traditional Cantabrian dessert, Santander's food scene offers a perfect balance of tradition and innovation.

BASQUE COUNTRY'S GASTRONOMIC PARADISE

Basque Country is known globally for its culinary innovation, making it a highlight for food lovers. From traditional txakoli wine to the famous pintxos, Basque cuisine offers a sophisticated blend of flavors. The region's dedication to sourcing the best local ingredients and its emphasis on culinary excellence make every meal an experience to remember. Whether you're visiting a local market or dining in a Michelin-starred restaurant, Basque Country will delight your taste buds with its bold and imaginative dishes.

In the world-renowned city of San Sebastián, food is a way of life. As you stroll through the old town's vibrant pintxos bars, you'll taste miniature works of art that reflect the city's passion for food. With more Michelin stars per capita than any other city in the world, San Sebastián is at the cutting edge of global cuisine. Here, you'll find yourself indulging in a perfect mix of modern gastronomic delights and time-honored Basque traditions, making it an unmissable stop on your culinary journey through northern Spain.

AZORES ISLANDS A FOODIE PARADISE (TERCEIRA & SAO MIGUEL)

Terceira &
Sao Miguel

7 Days / 6 Nights

2026/2027 (Dates to be released)

Coming Soon

The Azores Islands comprises of 9 scenic, volcanic islands deep in the Atlantic Ocean over 1,360 km west of mainland Portugal. São Miguel is the largest island famous for its volcanic crater called Sete Cidades and Fogo (Fire) Lagoons in the centre of the island and its most beautiful sight. You'll also encounter geysers, hot thermal waters and volcanic lakes. In the hot springs locals make the dish "Cozido das Furnas" slowly cooked in a giant pot full of meats (pork, sausage, chicken and beef) and vegetables. The south-eastern most island of Santa Maria has fantastic white, sandy beaches and a landscape dominated by vineyards.

The islands of Terceira, São Jorge, Pico, Faial and Graciosa (referred to as the Central Group of Azores) is where you can see whales and dolphins. On Terceira, the city of Angra do Heroísmo is an UNESCO World Heritage Site famous for its festivals. Faial Island is the "Blue Island" thanks to the cool blue of the hydrangeas plant. Its marina is one of the most busy and famous in the world and it's colourful murals are the work of yachtsmen to give them protection on their trip. The extinct Capelinhos volcano, which is like a lunar landscape is also a must see. Next to Faial Island is Pico Island where there is the highest mountain in Portugal which rises out of the sea (Ponta do Pico). The island has vineyards planted in black volcanic earth, a unique historical feature and key to the island's development resulting in its UNESCO World Heritage status. On São Jorge, the most scenic of the islands, the main sights are the Fajãs (geological, coastal feature) and its cheese, a unique specialty with a flavour not unlike Cheddar. Graciosa, the graceful "White Island", is an agricultural island full of vineyards that contrast with its strange windmills.

Finally there's the Western group of Azores including Flores island. The beauty of its flowers, the natural waterfalls and lakes carved out by volcanoes is spectacular. The island of Corvo is the smallest and most northern island of the Azores. It has a broad, beautiful crater at its centre, and attracts many species of migratory birds from both Europe and America.

WINES OF ALENTEJO AND ALGARVE SOUTHERN PORTUGAL

Alentejo & Algarve

8 Days / 7 Nights
March & October
2026/2027

Discover the Charm of Lagos, Algarve

Lagos, situated in the western Algarve, is a destination where natural beauty meets rich cultural heritage. Known for its stunning coastline, Lagos offers some of the most beautiful beaches in Portugal, including Praia Dona Ana and Praia do Camilo, both framed by golden cliffs and crystal-clear waters. The rugged Ponta da Piedade cliffs are a must-see, with their dramatic rock formations and hidden grottos, perfect for exploring by boat or on foot. Beyond its natural allure, Lagos is a city steeped in history, with its ancient city walls, historic churches, and the 17th-century Ponta da Bandeira Fort offering glimpses into its past as a prominent maritime hub.

The charm of Lagos extends into its vibrant culinary scene. The old town, with its narrow cobblestone streets, is full of traditional Portuguese restaurants and bars where visitors can enjoy the region's renowned seafood. Dishes such as grilled sardines, octopus, and the famous cataplana—a seafood stew cooked in a copper pot—are local favorites. For those interested in the city's historical roots, the Slave Market Museum, one of the first in Europe, provides a sobering insight into the city's role in the Age of Exploration. Whether you're drawn to its breathtaking landscapes or rich cultural history, Lagos offers an unforgettable blend of relaxation & discovery.

Immerse yourself in the Flavors of the Traditional Food and Wine

Discover the gastronomy and wine of the Algarve, a paradise for food and wine lovers. The region boasts a rich culinary tradition, from fresh seafood caught in the Atlantic to a surprising variety of local wines. Indulge in delicacies like clams, oysters, and gooseneck barnacles, often prepared grilled or in a pan. Signature dishes such as Razor Clam Rice, Feijoada de Buzios (Beans with Sea Snails), and the traditional Ameijoas na Cataplana (Portuguese Clams and Sausage) showcase the high-quality seafood of the region.

The Algarve is also renowned for its award-winning wines. With vineyards bathed in nearly 3,000 hours of sun each year, the region produces distinctive wines, including bold reds, fresh whites, and elegant rosés. The Vinhos do Algarve region features four protected designations of origin: Lagoa, Lagos, Portimão, and Tavira. Be sure to try the local Negra Mole wine paired with regional almonds and figs for an authentic taste of the Algarve. Don't miss the annual Portimão Wine Tasting festival, held at the Santa Catarina Fortress, where wine and food enthusiasts gather to celebrate the region's best offerings.

Food Tour Discovering the Flavors of the Galician Gastronomy

On this food tour we will start our journey from the stunning fishing city of Vigo located in Galicia, Spain with a boat trip across Vigo Bay one of the most important and beautiful bays of the Rias Baixas. A bay with a lot of history where epic battles occurred and where you will be able to enjoy the amazing views of the Cies Islands, Rande Bridge and the dramatic coastline of O Morrazo.

The ferry boat trip will take around 20 mins until we get to the port of Moaña, a charming seafaring village with a long fishing tradition. Learn about the important tradition in seafood production, with Sustainable Mussel Bed Farms (Bateas), where mussels and even other types of species are cultivated like; scallops, oysters, etc... The Mussels of Moaña are a must-taste, which we will have the privilege of making with our chef!

We will take a relaxed walk along its promenade, admiring amazing sculptures like; O Físgón the town's iconic statue that represents a fisherman practicing a fishing art with a "Fisga" (trident) used years ago in Moaña. Apart from all that, there are also beautiful golden beaches like the popular Xunqueira beach, gardens and of course not forgetting about the Market Square where the weekly market and local festivities are held which we will visit to take a look at what has been caught in the Plaza de Abastos de Moaña!

Best Food & Wine Tour we have ever experienced in Europe: 10-day Lisbon, the Algarve and Alentejo Tour

I met Sean (the owner) during Covid lockdown time when the only way to travel was virtually. I usually plan and book our European vacations myself, but I was so impressed with Sean that we reached out to him and his company Eat & Walkabout to help us plan our month in Portugal in November 2023. Sean and Tiernan organized a series of food and city walking tours, hotels and private transfers in Lisbon, the Algarve and Alentejo regions and Evora. Each tour was led by a very personable and knowledgeable English speaking local guide who adapted their tours to our interests and abilities.

The private transfers with English speaking drivers (who were also tour guides along the drive) were always prompt and professional and took extra time and care to ensure we reached our destination safely. One driver even helped us overcome the stress of the entry security system at our Vrbo and another driver escorted us (and our luggage) to the security area in the frantic Lisbon airport.

Eat & Walkabout made our travelling easy! We simply provided some general guidance about our interests and timelines and Sean and Tiernan crafted an itinerary that was perfect for us.

We are sure that it is because of the expertise of E&W (and not luck) that all our guides, hotels, car rental arrangements, and transfers on this trip were the best we have ever experienced in Europe.

Our 1st Family Vacation in Portugal: Lisbon & The Silver Coast

The beaches of the Silver Coast are amazing. Can't say enough good things. Comporta is the Hamptons on the come-up. We visited so many places... Nazare, Peniche, and Ericeira are all special. Sintra and Cascais are as advertised. Sintra has some incredible castles. The food and the culture of the towns really stand out.

I thought (Tiernan) provided us with a top-notch A-level service. Our experience was wonderful. We booked too many tours, so we revised the schedule on the fly. At least a 10-day trip is a must. Great for people watching over a vinho verde with the wife while the kid sleep, but not a must-see.

The travel experience: Lodging by City/Town: I thought all the lodging we stayed in were excellent. Each had their different vibes, charm, and appeal. We are a family of 3 with a young daughter. I thought the prep work done to have experiences specifically for her worked out well. This was our favorite tour: In Lisboa Tuk-Tuk: Tomas-(Our driver/guide) (College student, mid to late 20s, he did a great job) We highly recommend (Tiernan) for your vacation planning needs. Be specific, it will help you shape your experience. Lots of communication upfront before you travel, helps you hone in the experience you want.

The restaurants are wonderful. The food is amazing in PT. Next time we will go north to Porto, Braga, and the like along with the two places we love the most in the country... so far... Ericeira & Cascais.

Great time in Vigo

Great tour with Tiernan. Met us right off our cruise ship and walked us all around Vigo. The tastings were excellent and he was a perfect guide!

An amazing rainy day in Galicia

In June my husband and I took a tour in Cangas with Sean. While we booked the coastal hike and lunch tour, the weather had other plans. Sean was in constant contact with us and proposed an alternative itinerary due to the weather. We walked the town a bit and then he and his son took us on a driving tour of the surrounding area. This was followed by an amazing lunch. Sean was incredibly knowledgeable about the area and its history, as well as the wine of the region. We learned so much and truly enjoyed the day. Overall, it was one of the best things we did on our trip to Galicia. We are already thinking about what kind of tour we can do with Sean the next time we travel there. If you want a personalized experience be sure to book with them!

Full day private food tour that surpassed all our expectations

My friend and I had a full-day private gastronomy and sightseeing tour of Cangas and the surrounding countryside. Arranged by Sean and his son Tiernan, it was an great experience. The behind-the-scenes access and local knowledge shown by the guides made it a very worthwhile tour. They were so friendly and attentive to our needs. I really liked the private tour of the fishermen's auction house and being able to participate in a Tapas judging competition. We loved the stories about the history of the Cangas area and the hike to the ancient Celtic village. I fully recommend Eat & Walkabout Tours to anyone looking for a unique private tour.

Class act outfit

This was our second trip to Spain planned by E & W. In our first trip we went to Galicia and Andalucía. In 2022, we went to Cataluña. In the years in between we referred family and friends to E & W. Everyone was very impressed. In Cataluña we went to Tarragona, Girona, Tossa de Mar and Barcelona. All hotels and private tours were exceptional.
