NATIONAL CARERS WEEK
12-18 OCTOBER 2025

Identifying and supporting young carers

Why is it important to identify young carers?

It is estimated that there are 235,000 young Australians aged 12 to 25 who are in an unpaid caring role for family or friends.

As professionals that work with young people, this information will assist you to identify and support young carers.

Young carers often juggle school, employment, and their caring responsibilities, including providing emotional and advocacy support, assisting with medication, physically supporting with showering and other personal care tasks, household chores, and looking after siblings.

These additional responsibilities make young carers far more susceptible to social isolation, financial and educational disadvantage, unemployment, and poor physical and mental health. Since the beginning of 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated this further with young carers balancing online learning, increased caring commitments, and reduced social and community engagement opportunities.

When young carers are supported, acknowledged and respected in their own right they are able to achieve and participate more actively at school and in their community. This is critical in ensuring that young carers have every opportunity to thrive at school and beyond.

Supporting young carers will not only improve outcomes for these students, but can also help to improve school attendance, engagement and attainment levels.

What are some signs that a young person is a carer?

There are several signs that a young person may have caring responsibilities. These signs can also be indicators of other circumstances and it is important not to make assumptions. It is a good idea to use this as a guide to start a conversation that can lead to additional enquiry and support for each young person.

The following factors are signs that can assist in identifying young carers:

- Punctuality: arriving late to school or handing in assignments late with no clear explanation
- Stress: exhibiting signs that they are stressed or overwhelmed
- Isolation: appearing to be isolated from others or may be experiencing bullying
- Low attendance: frequently missing days from school with no clear explanation
- Minimal parental involvement or engagement: parents or guardians of the student do not attend parent teacher interviews or school meetings regularly
- Attention: not focusing or engaging during class and other activities
- Academic performance: underperforming or inconsistent performance
- Fatigue: difficulty concentrating and referencing being tired regularly

How can my colleagues and I identify young carers?

Identifying that a young person has caring responsibilities is an important step in supporting the young carer. Young carers can be in both primary school and secondary school.

Many young people with significant caring responsibilities do not see themselves as a 'young carer'. This is an important consideration for professionals when identifying young carers.

There are a number of ways schools and organisations can raise awareness, educate communities and support people to identify themselves and others as young carers, these include:

- Data collection during school enrolment, program referral or activity registration forms
- Celebrating National Carers Week and hosting activities that raise awareness and start conversations
- Hosting young carer specific events during key times like Youth Week or NAIDOC week
- Starting conversations with young people and their parents/guardians who have the signs of a young carer
- Display posters and materials from Carers Australia and the National Carer Network at your school or organisation
- Promote the Young Carers Network and Young Carer Bursary in your newsletter or on social media

What can I do after I have identified a young carer?

- Identify a staff member that the young person feels comfortable with
- Initiate an in-depth conversation with the young person and or their family (if appropriate) in a safe and confidential place
- Record if a young person is a young carer in your case notes within your internal IT system or within your internal record keeping procedure
- Provide resources that may be useful for the young person in a private setting
- Refer the young carer and/or their parent or guardian to the Carer Gateway

CONNECTING CARERS
IN THEIR COMMUNITY

The 'Connecting Carers in their Community' grants program is supported by the Victorian Government.

Are you an unpaid carer for a family member or friend?

We're here to support you.

If you're caring for someone close to you—whether it's a parent, a child with a disability, a sibling with mental health needs, or a loved one with a chronic health condition—it's easy to put their needs before your own. Our services are designed to help ease the load and support your wellbeing too. Here's how we can help:

- Qualified, experienced staff to support the person you care for—at home or in the community
- Provide information about social and recreational activities, including brunch groups, movie outings, and other social events
- Help connecting with other services that you or your loved one may need
- Assistance with daily tasks like housework, grocery shopping, and gardening
- Simple home modifications, such as installing handrails
- Transport support
- Respite care options to give you a well-deserved break

You're not alone - we're here to support you on your caring journey.

Carers Resources

Organisation	Description	Link
	Caring for someone at the end of their life is a very important role. People who do this help the person they care for and that person's family and friends. They also help the community by reducing the pressure on our health care system. Carers are vital members of the Australian community and we are so thankful for what they do. Caring for someone who is dying can be very difficult. Often, people are caring for someone who is very close to them. This makes the end of life very emotional, which can be hard to cope with. Relationships can change significantly, and the caring role can become much more intense at this end of the caring journey. The Australian Government has funded three CarerHelp projects. The third CarerHelp Rural Connect project started in 2023 and will be completed in 2026. The aim of this funding is to develop resources for rural carers and offer rural carers a once off online education and support sessions with a health professional.	carerhelp.com.au
	Carer Gateway is an Australian Government program providing free services and support for carers. The Australian Government works with a range of health and carer organisations across Australia, known as Carer Gateway service providers, to deliver services to carers no matter where they live in Australia.	www.carergateway.gov.au
	Carers Victoria is the statewide voice for family carers, representing and providing support to carers in Victoria.	www.carersvictoria.org.au

WE SELL FOR LESS

Toys for Joy

Toys for Joy is a recycling program for toys, and is the first of its kind in Australia. The program's goal is to reduce landfill by recycling eligible preloved toys. Toys for Joy collection bins are available in every BIG W store.

To get involved, customers can simply drop their eligible preloved toys into the Toys for Joy chest. The donations then get passed on to our recycling partners who sort the toys into their different types.

Toys that are suitable for another life are given to the Salvation Army for them to sell in their stores. Remaining toys that can be recycled under the scheme are, where possible, recycled into their raw materials so they can be used to make new products. For example, suitable toys or parts of toys may be converted into yarn to make carpets and underlay. Some plastic toys or plastic parts may be eligible to be converted into substitutes for aggregate that is used in building projects.

Check out their webpage to see how it works.

(Please note, not all toys can be recycled. We can't accept - books, board games, wooden toys, play dough, paint and slime, pens, pencils, crayons or paint brushes, oversized toys such as bikes, scooters, skateboards, or sports toys such as soccer goals.)

Blister Pack Recycling

Blister packs are made from a combination of materials like plastic and aluminium which cannot be separated through household kerbside recycling.

Pharmacycle is the solution to this wicked problem.

Welcome to the largest and only end-to-end recycling program for blister packs in Australia.

Click on the following videos to explore how a blister pack is broken down into key parts that can be used by our partners, allowing us to give each blister pack a second life.
