Vision

AARON BRINGS A PERSONALIZED, CLIENT-FOCUSED APPROACH TO EVERY HOME HE BUILDS.

From the very first conversation, he takes the time to understand your needs, your lifestyle, and the vision you hold for your new home. This thoughtful discovery process ensures that every detail is shaped around what matters most to you and your family.

Backed by more than twenty five years in residential construction, Aaron Salvesen is proud to be a third-generation contractor. Before settling in Bend, he honed his craft building high-end custom homes alongside his father in Washington, carrying forward a legacy of craftsmanship, integrity, and pride.

Today, as both a business owner and a father, Aaron understands the importance of communication, trust, and transparency. He listens closely to his clients and personally guides them through every step of the homebuilding journey—making the process as seamless and rewarding as the finished home itself.

We have owned numerous homes on the West Coast, but the best constructed and most thoughtfully designed home was built by Aaron Salvesen and his team of professionals. We were fortunate to connect with Aaron early in the build process and provide our input. He listened to our needs, the craftsmanship was exceptional, and the project was completed on time and on budget. We highly recommend Aaron Salvesen as both a quality person and an accomplished builder.

Thoughtful Design, Tailored to You.

Aaron approaches every project with a deep sensitivity to his clients' needs, ensuring they have the knowledge and confidence to make each decision their own. His goal is simple: to make the homebuilding journey as enjoyable and stress-free as possible.

Once he has a clear understanding of your ideas, Aaron will guide you through a tour of homes and potential lots—an opportunity to explore styles, spaces, and settings that resonate with you. For clients seeking inspiration, he's equally comfortable offering creative concepts and helping shape a vision that feels uniquely yours.

After selecting a home site, Aaron designs a floor plan that harmonizes with the land and supports the way you live. Open communication is central to his process; he partners closely with you to ensure your vision is translated seamlessly into the home's design.

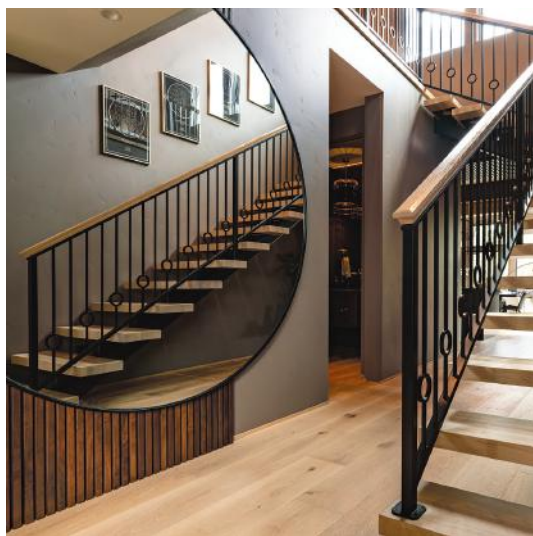

Salvesen Homes offers the flexibility to build on your preferred lot or location anywhere in Central Oregon, providing a truly customized experience from the ground up.

Aaron took the time to truly listen to us and understand the exact aesthetic we were hoping to achieve with our home build—and he nailed it. The process, from start to finish, felt personal to him, which made it easy and stress-free for us to have someone in charge of building our hopes and dreams. He was someone we could communicate with easily and who understood exactly what we were trying to achieve. We are forever grateful to have worked with him.

A modern two-story house with a mix of grey and dark blue siding. The house features large windows and a balcony with a black metal railing. The interior lights are on, and the patio area is illuminated by string lights. The landscaping includes a large tree on the left, a gravel path, and various shrubs and rocks in the foreground.

What stands out for Aaron is his attention to detail, focus on high quality craftsmanship, eagerness to get it just right, and outstanding eye for aesthetic excellence. Aaron was able to combine these qualities with a personable approach that helped guide us through the custom home building process in a way that supported our design ideas. We are just thrilled with the final product.

It's in the Details.

Salvesen Homes are designed for efficiency, comfort, and longevity—without ever compromising on the craftsmanship that defines the Salvesen name. Aaron's meticulous eye for detail ensures every home is both highly functional and beautifully refined.

As the design phase approaches completion, Aaron partners with an architect to fine-tune the plans and confirm that every element aligns with your vision. Once construction begins, he remains closely involved at every stage, personally overseeing the work and coordinating with subcontractors to ensure precision and quality.

From the first blueprint to the final walkthrough, Aaron is committed to delivering a home built with care, integrity, and uncompromising attention to detail—until the moment he places the keys in your hand.

We knew that building a custom home could be stressful, but Aaron made it enjoyable. From the initial design to the final punch list, Aaron was professional and had great attention to detail. He turned our ideas into a stunning reality. We couldn't be happier with our custom home.
