Phoenix Country Day School

Songbook 2006

...and that which cannot remain silent."

- Victor Hugo

Welcome

"Be true to your school" ~ The Beach Boys

... to the 2006 Phoenician! We are very honored to present to you the PCDS Songbook, a compendium of the music that fills our days at school and of the melodies that follow us from the Lower School playground, to the Middle School courtyard, to the Upper School quad, and to the athletic fields, auditoriums, and classrooms that comprise our campus.

We hope that whether this year be your first, last, or one of many, this book allows you to remember and reflect upon another wonderful year at Phoenix Country Day School.

-The Editors

*"When some loud braggart tries to put me down
And says his school is great
I tell him right away
Now what's the matter buddy
Ain't you heard of my school
It's number one in the state"*

First Friday

"Welcome back to that same old place that you laughed about..." ~ Welcome Back Katter

First Friday allows students to reunite with their old friends and plan for the year ahead. Already settled in from two days of school, First Friday is an acknowledgement of the community and a chance for the entire school to come together. This year, students from the Lower, Middle, and Upper Schools gave poetry presentations and the kindergarteners walked into the gym with their senior partners, as is the tradition.

1. Mr. Campbell gives his first address as Head of School.
2. Seniors Kaity Tse and Daniel Haddock pose with their kindergarten buddy, Cola Buskirk.
3. Eighth-grader Mackenzie Persen reads a poem as Middle School head Ms. Olson looks on.
4. Dathan Hamann and Blake Moorad lead the seniors and kindergarteners across the bridge and over to the gym.
5. Emerson Reiter represents the Upper School as he reads a poem.
6. The poetry readers from the Lower School, Jacob Bain, Lucy Johnston, and Jacob Stern, recite for the crowd.
7. Lower School students watch the festivities from the bleachers.

Blue and Gold Day

"You know you make me wanna shout..." - The Isley Brothers

On Blue and Gold Day, PCDS students from all divisions come together for a day of activities, fun, and school spirit. From diving and volleyball to jazz and the Boat Regatta "El Grande," students participate in any number of activities. The traditional eagle and fireworks are but two expressions of our powerful school spirit.

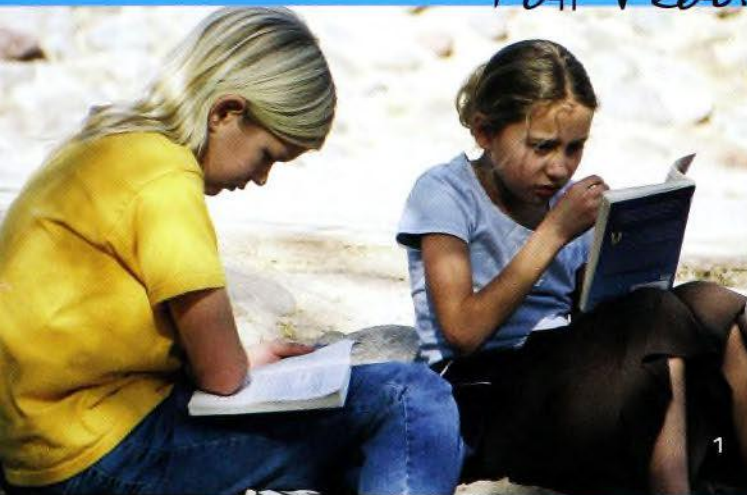

1. Middle School students honor retiring Middle School head Mr. Crabb, who will now teach math.
2. Asher Landay and Kylie Huckleberry navigate their boat to a second-place finish.
3. The PCDS Eagle inspires the crowd during the Blue and Gold Day Activities.
4. Lower School students push Upper Schoolers Eric Eisner, Nick Barranco, and Dan Haddock during the scooter race.
5. The Upper School girls' cheer squad does a routine for the crowd.
6. The Varsity Jazz Band entertains with their melodious tunes.

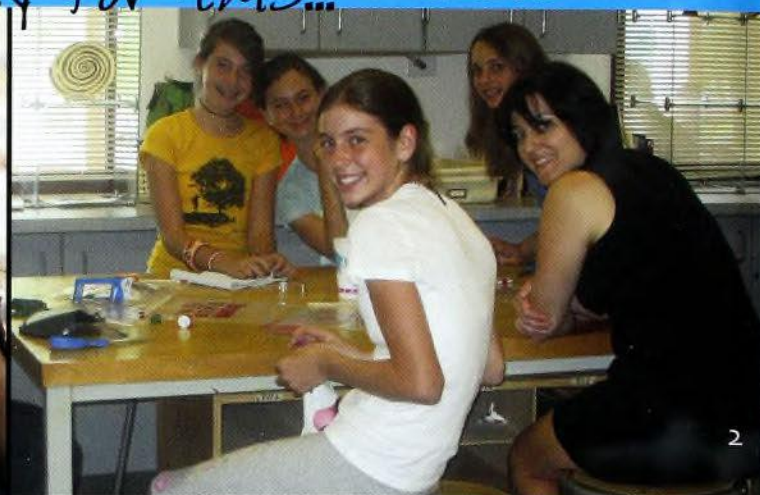

"Y'all ready for this..." ~ Technotronia

1. Rachel Onken and Morgan Schwartz concentrate on some recent literature.
2. Ms. Marsden, Savaria Drumm, Bailey Keogh, Lauren Sheffield, and Meryl Woods take a break from their artwork.
3. Greg Adrian glances inquisitively at the Middle School kiosk for new information.
4. Eric Eisner, James Yurka, and Ian Krupar meditate alongside their laptops during a free period.
5. Rae Aaron, Kyah Cohen, Sabrina Witfil, Katie Hanneman, Kate Dickerson, Amelia Montooth,

Davis Bratton, Mackeznie Bradford, Emma Lavella, Elizabeth Farkas, and Meryl Ax cluster around the round table at lunch.

6. A group of juniors poses for the camera piggyback-style during lunch.
7. Nayela Velez-Cruz, Clay Cashman, and Philip Rody look over a recent assignment.
8. Megan Donovan, Lizzy Jeans, and Caitie Hodgson smile on a much-appreciated bench during lunch.

Chengdu Exchange

A Chinese experience...

"The opportunity I had to teach at the Chengdu Experimental Foreign Languages School during the 2005 school year was an incredible life experience. Being selected for this experience was unique because I was replacing a teacher who had become ill; my unpreparedness made this undertaking a pioneer venture. Immersion into a new cultural milieu was a special learning opportunity. And my introduction to a different teaching and learning environment was especially satisfying. The value of this exchange program cannot be measured. The PCDS community is so fortunate to be part of this very special cultural and academic program."

-Chuck Flail

1. Mr. Flail poses with Mr. Xiao, Headmaster of the Chengdu Experimental Foreign Languages School (CEFLS).
2. A smiling Ms. Chen gets into the spirit of the most American of holidays: Halloween.
3. PCDS teachers Mr. Flail, Mrs. Thomas and Mr. Martin are out on a sightseeing tour of the cultural splendor of the city of Leshan with CEFLS teachers Ms. "Sunny" and Mr. "Stonex."
4. Ms. Chen and Upper-School Head Mrs. Thompson stand proudly with their respective flags.
5. Mr. "Stonex," Mrs. Thomas, Mr. Flail, Mr. Martin, Ms. "Sunny," and Ms. Buettner; PCDS Director of External Affairs, are on a trek at Leshan, where they visited the giant statue of Buddha.
6. Mr. Flail and Mr. Martin are dwarfed by the colorful signs in a shopping area in Chengdu.
7. Mr. Peng, Mrs. Shen, Mr. Martin, Ms. Buettner, Mr. Xiao, Mrs. Thomas, Mr. Flail, and Mr. Song gather at the front of the school.
8. Ms. Chen and Middle-School students Joshua Huckleberry, Jann-Michael Greenburg, and Rachel Franks display their Halloween costumes.
9. Lower-School students Drew Hosmar, Maddie West, Sophie Arregoces, Jessica Sherman listen as Ms. Chen discusses Chinese culture.
10. Mrs. Thomas and Ms. Chen enjoy a lunch during one of the Middle-School trips.

Exchange Program

"Reaching out for that hand to hold..." ~ Kate Bush

An American experience...

"A teacher of English in China for 9 years as I have been, it is still quite a different experience to teach history lessons in an independent school in the USA! Of course the differences between the two education systems surprise me more than any other thing, like various food, much hotter weather and a higher standard of living in this country. At PCDS, besides academic subjects that prepare students for college, the school also teaches them how to cooperate, how to respect people and how to create their own new ideas.

"With the help of such a linguistic environment, my oral English got improved obviously. Teachers at PCDS exchange ideas of not only language class but also history teaching with me. As you can imagine, teaching contemporary China in the 10th grade is considerably difficult. Choosing suitable material from more than 30 published books and making it our own packet is such hard work, and it is just for the first half of the course! However, my favorite memories are of the same course in the 10th grade, especially the final project, which of course remains the highlight of my stay. At the end of the course, students are required to finish a written report or a presentation. They can choose any topic on modern China that appeals to them and collect information in every possible way. In this way the sophomores get a chance to understand a mysterious country both culturally and politically.

"Learning from others is of great help to one's own development. Since not everyone can get a chance to go out and see a new country in person, I am more than honored to open a door to China for my American students and also, when back, to open another one to the States for my Chinese students! That's the essence of our exchange program in my opinion."

"Reach out, you'll be amazed what you find..." ~ Incognito

The desire to reach out to the community is a common value shared by students, faculty, staff, parents, and trustees alike. As a school, PCDS is committed to helping the greater good, particularly through its flagship program, Project Excellence, which brings academically talented inner-city children to PCDS for academic enrichment. New programs are begun all the time, all with the goal of lending a helping hand.

1. Visiting Teach for America teachers, members of a national corps of outstanding recent college graduates who commit two years to teaching in educationally inequitable schools, gather outside Burch Hall for a picture.
2. Guy Gamble and Aaron Baumann smile in the cart as they play a round of golf at the Eagle Open at Mountain Shadows Golf Club, an annual event that benefits Project Excellence.
3. On the putting green, Wally Brown and his friend Cody Conran practice their burgeoning golf skills while supporting the community-outreach efforts of PCDS.
4. The PCDS Eagle holds up a sign urging families to donate to the annual Turkey Drive at Thanksgiving time.
5. Upper School Chemistry teacher Mr. Wilkins spends his Saturday at PCDS doing his well-known "gummy-bear experiment" with young Project-Excellence Scholars.
6. Member of the Alliance for Teacher Excellence Rose Hammerl works toward completing her project in digital storytelling.

Division Heads

Mr. Campbell Head of School

The PCDS Songbook--the music of a life of study and play. We are indeed fortunate to be in this orchestra of learning and understanding. Each day the conductors face the brilliant and eager musicians and raise their batons, and together we play the songs of PCDS.

*"May God bless and keep you always,
May your wishes all come true,
May you always do for others
And let others do for you.
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung...
...May you grow up to be righteous,
May you grow up to be true,
May you always know the truth
And see the lights surrounding you.
May you always be courageous,
Stand upright and be strong,
May you stay forever young,
Forever young, forever young,
May you stay forever young."*

- Bob Dylan

My favorite song: "Forever Young," by Bob Dylan

Mrs. Thommen Head of Lower School

As a young girl, I was intrigued with the musical The Sound of Music. I adored the movie, absorbed the book, and desperately wanted to be lovely Maria with the gift of song surrounded by the Alps, delightful children, and love. I even chose the name Maria as a given name: Barbara Joan Maria Burton. However, the beautiful voice never came to me, and the white-capped mountain peaks never appeared. Yet the most important part of my dream did come true: I am surrounded by children and love in my professional life each day. Children are the true sounds of music. Under the direction of music teacher Carla Cose-Giallella, the Lower School students help us celebrate the sounds of music each day. In their daily music classes and special performances that always warm my appreciative spirit, I am aware of how "my heart will be blessed with the sound of music" as they inspire me "to sing once more." Thank you, boys and girls, for making my dream come true!

My favorite song: "Music of the Night,"
by Andrew Lloyd Webber

Ms. Olson

Head of Middle School

I think music is the most powerful time machine that we possess. Play the song "We are the Champions" by Queen, and I am instantly transported to senior year in high school. I am driving my Dad's red Firebird crying and singing the words with my best friends after our unexpected loss in the basketball region finals. Play "Color My World" by Chicago, and I am dancing at homecoming sophomore year. Play "Celebrate Me Home" by Kenny Loggins, and I am sitting in my freshman dorm room at Northwestern studying for my first set of college finals and missing my family. Music has the incredible ability to help us remember some of the best (and sometimes worst) times in our lives. The music you all know and love today will someday sound as corny to your kids as these songs sound to you now, but they will be a powerful milepost in your life and, amazingly enough, you will always remember the words. Allow music to touch your life and it will change you. Keep listening and it will keep you connected to the most important parts of yourself and your past.

My favorite song: "Brown-eyed Girl," by Van Morrison

Mrs. Thompson

Head of Upper School

One Thursday in January, Kera McClelland's voice rang through Dorrance as she surprised everyone by bursting into a Stephen Sondheim song during her senior speech. The lyrics she sang from Into the Woods remind us (just as Kera's speech did) of the importance of remembering the special times:

*"If life were made of moments, even now and then a bad one,
oh, but, if life were only moments, then you'd never know you'd had one."*

- Stephen Sondheim

The pictures on these pages capture your moments from the 2005-2006 school year. Enjoy them!

My favorite song: "Layla," by Eric Clapton

Senior Dedication

"I want to thank you..." ~ Dido

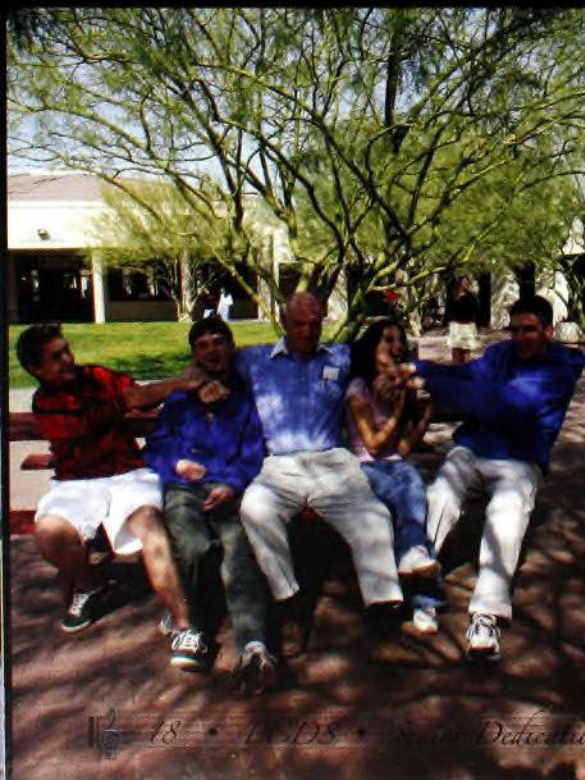

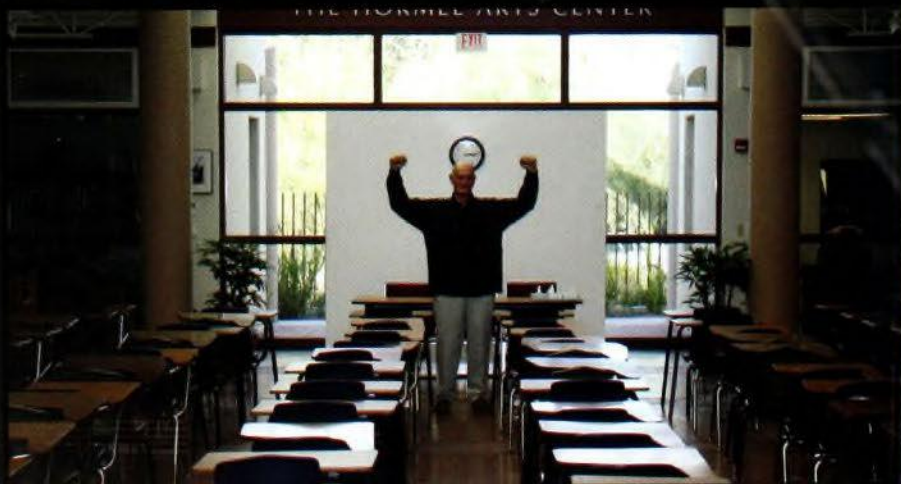

Dear Mr. Hendrickson, Sr.,

It is with great pleasure that we, the Senior Class of 2006, dedicate this yearbook to you. The finest of gentlemen, you stand for everything that is fair and honorable. Like a caring grandfather, you have watched us grow through the joys and pains of high school. You have been there for us, making sure that we are safe and putting smiles on our faces. In the classroom, you have taught us anatomy; in the quad, you have taught us how to live our lives. Your own story is one of inspiration and admiration. The accomplishments you have achieved are innumerable; if we as a class may touch half as many people in our lifetimes as you have, we will indeed be fortunate. You have adopted us into your family, and we can only hope that this small token might illustrate our thanks for all that you have done.

Sincerely,

The Class of 2006

Construction

November 2005

Two years after construction in the Upper School concluded, the Middle School is undergoing its own renewal. The Kendrick Center, which opened March 1, 2006, is a seventh- and eighth-grade classroom building. A gift of trustee Ken Kendrick and his wife, Randy, the center includes state-of-the-art science labs and the John W. Crabb Garden. Also part of the renovation is the planned remodeling of Building K, which currently is the temporary home of grades three and four. As the Middle School closes the latest chapter of its renovation, the Lower School will experience a similar change. The Lower School has moved into the newly refurbished Dutcher Hall, in which they will be spending most of next year while the Lower School campus is undergoing construction. When the work ends on the Lower School, it will mark the end of an ambitious, multi-year endeavor designed to ensure the educational leadership of the school for the twenty-first century.

"I will remember you..." ~ Sarah McLaughlin

Toni Clarke Lower School

Mrs. Toni Clark started her career at PCDS 25 years ago by teaching kindergarten. After many years in kindergarten she became the lower school science teacher. Finally, for the last 1 1/2 years she has been the third grade teaching assistant. During these years she worked under five heads of the lower school and four heads of the school. She has been a very dedicated, creative, and caring teacher who genuinely loved children and her job. She is a gentle person who is a good listener, caring friend, and is well-respected by her peers. She shared her creative, artistic talent with her students in many ways. During the time she was the science teacher she learned to pick up snakes and feed tarantulas, lizards, skinks, and toads. Her warmth and love of others was evident through her chairing the Sunshine Committee for many years in the lower school. She also hosted many gatherings for the lower school in her beautiful home. Outside of school she enjoys crafting, golf, bridge, and traveling. Toni is a true example of good things coming in small packages.

- Karen Johnson

Jewell Nisbet School Nurse

For 15 years, Jewell Nisbet has been dispensing bandages and kindness from her office in the Lower School. When she announced recently that she will retire as soon as a replacement can be found, she explained that she wants to spend time with her family and help her husband take care of his health.

"I love the students and all the people at PCDS. I am sad to leave," she said.

In addition to raising eight children, Mrs. Nisbet served for many years as a registered nurse in hospital and industrial settings before coming to PCDS. She completed a B.S. in nursing during her years of service at the School.

- Joan Risley

Carol Dalton Lower School

Kindergarteners for 23 years have Flourished under her guidance and love.
In all that she did she was always a cut above.
Never running out of patience and always with a smile
Dedicated to the profession, she always went the extra mile.
Energetic and tireless, teaching the 3 R's year after year
Really... she's the BEST from her students you will hear!
Goodbye to Mrs. Dalton will be hard for those who knew her well Amazing and talented, her students will tell. But,
Right now PCDS wants to wish a fond farewell as she goes on her way
To pursue new hobbies and spent time with her granddaughter each day.
Everyone - big and small - who was privileged to have her a part of their life each day knows that Never can she be replaced.

We'll miss you Mrs. Dalton, but
With you much love and happiness
And hope that PCDS will always
In your heart stay!

- Lee Edwards

Bob Hendrickson Upper School

Bob Hendrickson, better known as "Hendi," has played the roles of teacher, coach, and surrogate grandfather throughout a career of nearly fifty years. Since coming to PCDS in 1987, he has coached basketball and golf, served as Dean of Students, taught Anatomy and Physiology, advised the Student Senate, and directed the Upper School's community-service efforts. He always makes us feel like special, unique individuals, telling us, "of all the people I know, you're one of them." Much beloved for his friendly smile, his quickness with a joke, his ability to growl like a bear, and his tireless devotion to his students and athletes, "Hendi" has kept track of our attendance, taught us, coached us, organized service projects, reminded us in countless ways how to be better people, and given us his guidance and love during our PCDS years. As his students and his colleagues, we will all miss him.

Lower School

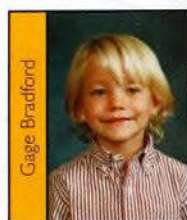

"A whole new world..." - Aladdin

The PCDS Lower School is packed with fun learning and exciting activities. Swinging on the monkey bars with friends, studying multiplication tables, learning about their country and world, and participating in after-school activities such as Scouts and Chess Club are just a few aspects of school that students participate in every day. Lower Schoolers make many new friends and catch the first glimpses of the exciting opportunities that lay ahead and of the many possibilities to apply knowledge learned in the classroom. In addition to serving as an academic and personal foundation, the Lower School provides students with a chance to reach out to the PCDS community. From walking in with the seniors on the first day of class to reading with their Middle School buddies, and from initiating community service fund-raisers to learning about the various ways to interact with other parts of the PCDS family, students spend their years in the Lower School exploring new activities and making lifelong friends.

Lower School Activities

"All I wanna do is have some fun..." - Sheryl Crow

Lower School activities are a chance for students to branch out and try new and exciting things. With community-service opportunities, field trips, special school events, and a variety of clubs at hand, Lower School students can explore life outside the classroom.

From Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, whose activities emphasize friendship and the value of community service, to after-school swimming and tennis, where students can demonstrate their athletic and teamwork abilities, the Lower School extracurricular activities help students acquire new skills and self-esteem. Students in the Lower School also celebrate holidays such as Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Grandparents' Day, where tradition and spending time with family members make these days memorable.

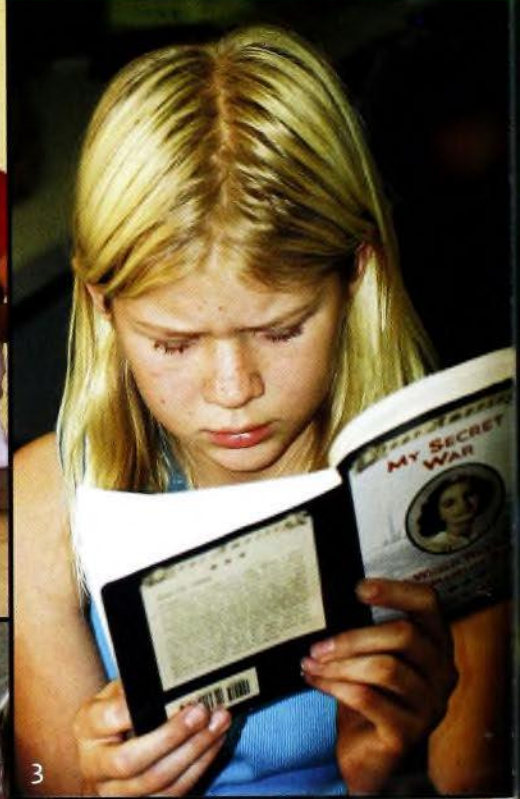

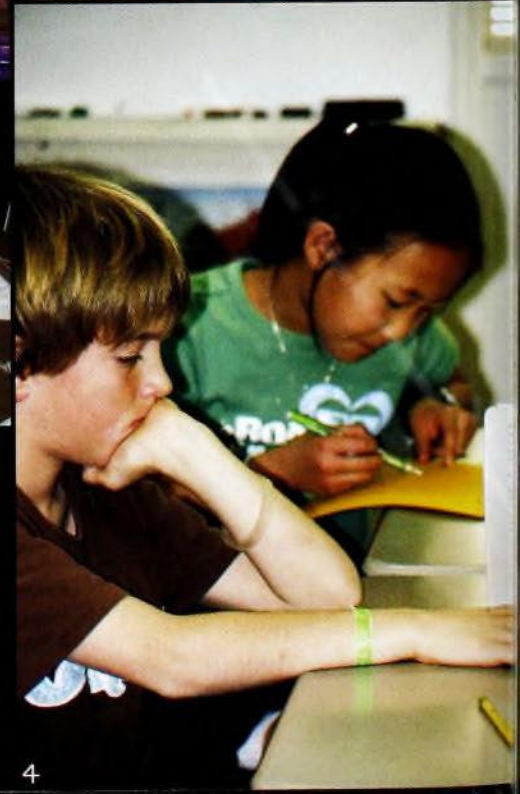

The Lower School has a strong relationship with the Middle and Upper school from the fifth-grade reading buddies to the Upper School students that help to tutor in the Lower School. And the kindergarteners and the seniors have formed special bonds through their lunches together and the senior-led tours of the Upper School, where one day these Lower School students might find themselves.

After-School Swim

Under the guidance of Coach Majeski, young swimmers perfect their strokes and cool off after a day in the hot summer sun.

Swim Exhibition

"I'm gonna soak up the sun..." - Sheryl Crow

Every year, Lower Schoolers head to the pool for their annual Swim Exhibition to display their talents in the water.

1. Juliet Farkas and Rica Chan sunbathe in between races.
2. Nearby, Tyler Witt gets ready to jump in the water and begin his race.
3. Coach Majeski helps Annalise Bracher out of the pool after her race.
4. Friends Grant Lillard, Aashay Sanghvi, and Jake Ghelfi take a break from their swimming to watch their classmates compete.

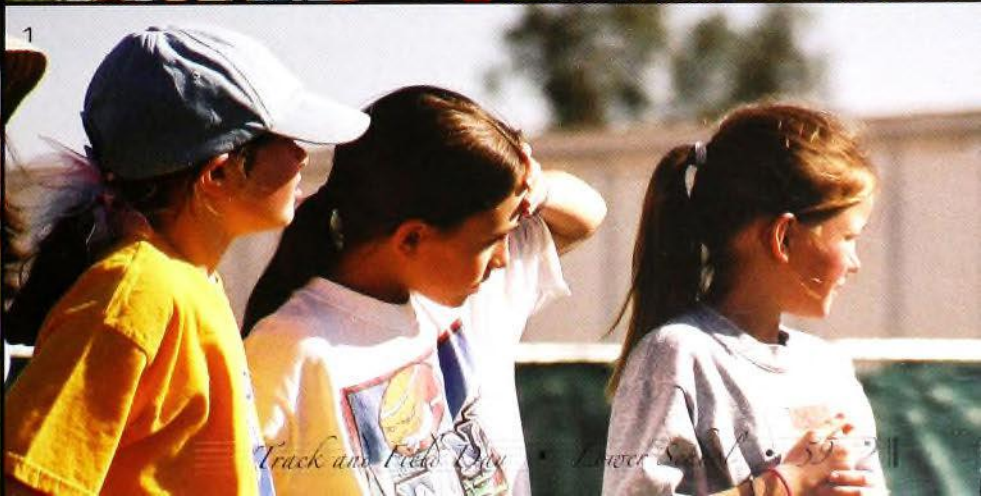

Track and Field Day

"Running all the time..." - No Doubt

Track and Field Day allows the Lower Schoolers to take a day off from academics and show their athletic skills on the field.

1. Sydney Portigal, Charlotte Aaron, and Jennelle Norem take a short break to watch their classmates.
2. Cal Kendrick leads his tug-of-war team to victory.
3. Ariana Sokolov and Alex Tam run their own races.
4. Brendan Burke jumps over the hurdle as Adrian Moreno takes one for the team behind him.

Middle School

"You're in the middle of the ride..." - Jimmy Eat World

The Middle School serves as the bridge between the Lower and Upper Schools, but it is much more than that. The Middle School is a vibrant community, a home for developing young minds. Beyond the diverse academic program, Middle School students have the opportunity to participate in a variety of exciting electives, from archery to bowling to candle-making. After-school sports, such as basketball, lacrosse, and volleyball, give students a chance to have fun, develop sportsmanship, and "Pursue Victory with Honor," while community-service opportunities allow the students to give something back. The Middle School puts students well on their way to success!

"Round, round get around I get around..." - The Beach Boys

The PCDS Middle School is always full of excitement. Whether they are participating in Student Council, expressing their boundless imaginations in the art room, or lending a helping hand during a community-service project, Middle School students are hard-working and creative. Their activities and experiences prepare them for the rigors and excitement of Upper School life.

Academics

"My future's so bright, I gotta wear shades..." - Timbaland

Middle School academics provide an opportunity for students to learn new, exciting material and to develop necessary study skills. From learning to solve algebraic equations in math and studying geology in science to exploring many different cultures and events in History, Middle Schoolers catch the first glimpses of the exciting academic adventure that they will embark upon in the future.

1. Seventh graders work diligently together on a class activity.
2. Freya Mehta concentrates on her research in science class.
3. Whitney Bowers relaxes while working on homework.

Community Service

"Everybody needs a helping hand..." — Andy Cox

The PCDS tradition of Community Service continues in the Middle School, where students frequently spend Fridays on trips to improve the community. The premier event of Middle School service is the Thanksgiving Turkey Drive, a cross-division campaign to provide Thanksgiving dinners for underprivileged families through St. Mary's Food Bank. The event, like other Middle School Community Service projects, is supported by the Student Council. Middle School Community Service furthers the development of the PCDS community by instilling in students a sense of responsibility for others. The students learn that they can have fun and help the underprivileged at the same time.

1. The fifth grade class gathers supplies for the needy.
2. Cardboard boxes full of food are ready to be delivered to the St. Mary's Food Bank.
3. Jackie Chang helps wrap gifts during the holiday season for the underprivileged.
- 4.. Daniel Dozier and a fourth-grade student make holiday cards.
- 5.. Alex Hosmar, Ryan Gaines and the Mr. Eriksen the PCDS Eagle stand watch over the turkey collection during the annual turkey drive.

Athletics and Electives

"Gonna make it happen..." - Mariah Carey

The Middle School is a place known for more than just its outstanding academics. On Friday afternoons, students take part in a variety of electives, designed to broaden horizons and have a good time with friends. The athletics program in the Middle School offers students a chance to get out and improve their physical well-being, all the while pursuing victory with honor.

All athletic photos contributed by CrasePhoto

Electives

"Everybody's looking for something..." - The Eurythmics

Middle School is not all work and no play. Each Friday, students participate in a wide variety of activities and explore a diverse range of interests outside of the classroom. Testing archery skills with a bow and arrow, demonstrating their artistic side with candlemaking and sewing, playing games with Mr. Alcott, and participating in team sports are just a few examples of the exciting options students pursue during the Friday elective period.

1. Joe Schornak and Dylan Heinritz look over their sketches in their Fanstastic Lands Elective.
2. Alex Gonzales and Jonathan Osborn test their card skills with Mr. Alcott.
3. Philip Rody constructs a beautiful candle in the Bubble and Wicks Elective.
4. Nicole Bassoff and Danielle Lee work diligently on their embroidery.
5. Middle schoolers aim their bows and prepare to shoot arrows during the Archery Elective.
6. In the Pet Elective, Danika Worthington hugs her canine friend.
7. Christina Arregoces works on a sketch during the Art Galore Elective.

3. Adrian Reiter catches the lacrosse ball and prepares to score.
4. Alex Sylvester fights for the football on the field.

Upper School

"Leader of the pack..." - The Shangri-Las

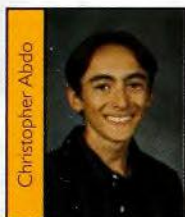

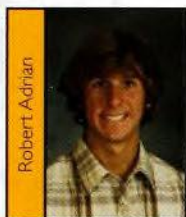

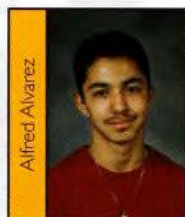

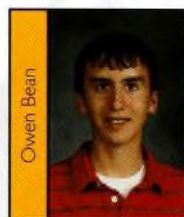

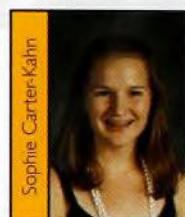

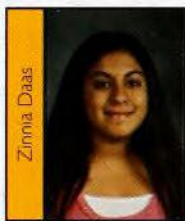

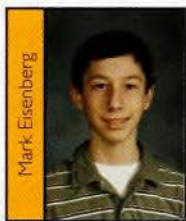

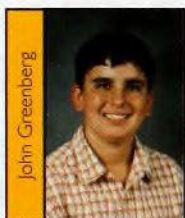

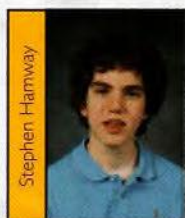

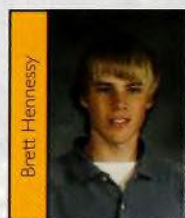

The Upper School is the final crescendo of the great symphony that is PCDS. As is any great piece of music, it is composed of many different parts. Each student contributes to the Upper School as each note contributes to the piece of music as a whole. The Upper School is a community of scholars, but it is also a community of musicians, athletes, writers, artists, and humanitarians. The tune of the Upper School is like that one song that meant something special then and will stay in your memory forever.

"Save the best for last..." ~ Vanessa Williams

Senior year, the last hurrah for high school, is a time meant for fun. From taking leadership roles in clubs and sports to relaxing in the quad, seniors do it all.

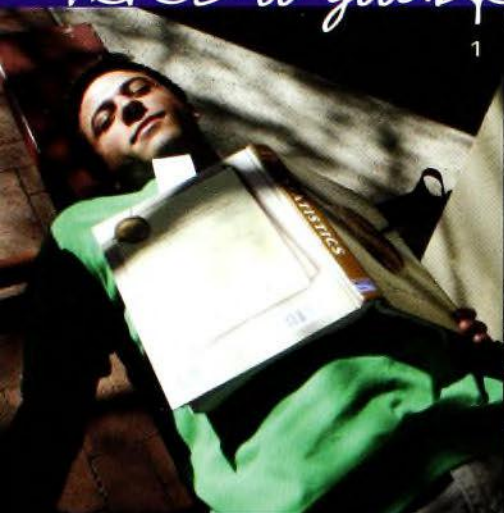

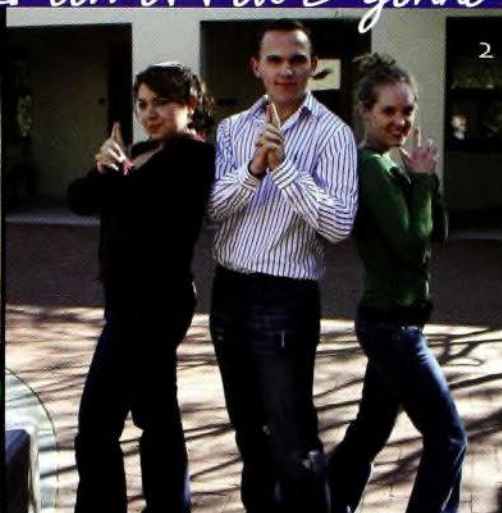

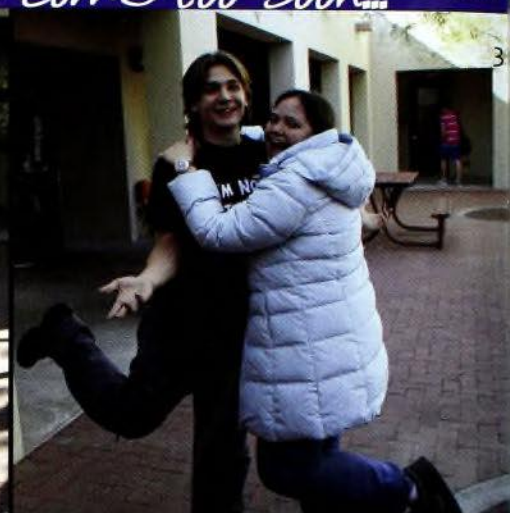

Senior year begins with claiming parking spaces the night before school resumes in August and ends with graduation in June. In the time in between, seniors savor their high-school experience, give senior speeches, and enjoy off-campus lunches all the while. The best way to enjoy senior year varies from person to person, but it is indisputable that cherishing the moment is always at the heart of senior year.

Senior Life

"Here's to goodbye, tomorrow's gonna come too soon..." ~ Eve 6

1. Joel Fineman studies very conscientiously for his math test.
2. Becca Hirsch, Grady Wieger, and Brittany Bonfield defend the quad from hostile intruders.
3. Josh Johnson and Alex Heuser are happy to see each other.
4. Alex Martelly and Julie Bauer get ready to take advantage of their off-campus privileges by driving to get some lunch.
5. Talia Sherman does what she does best: chow down.

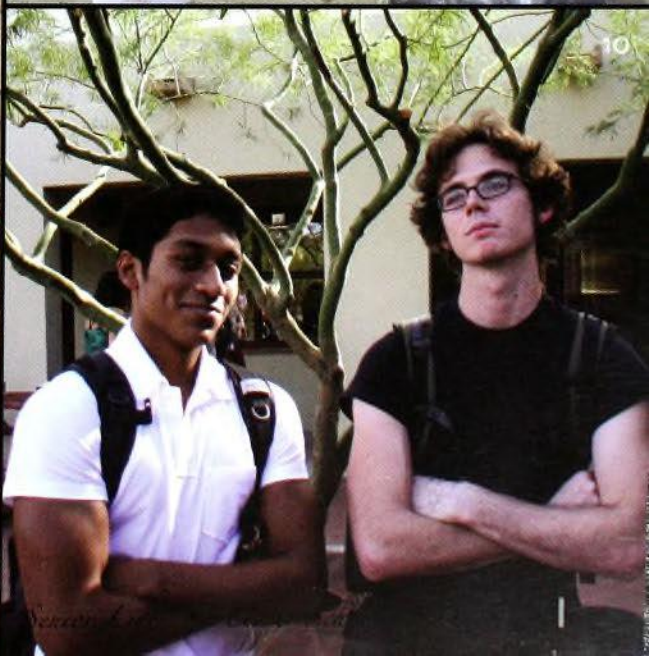

6. Dathan Hamann, Mandy Baum, Jessie Baum, Courtney Van Cott, and Fowler Brown try to interpret what Scott Griffen is drawing on the table.
7. Mara Kaufman relaxes for a second during her free while pondering her post-senior future.
8. Drew Teer performs his award-winning dive—in the middle of the quad.
9. Michaela Flynn signs out to go to lunch.
10. Anand Jayachandran and Tommy Maloney play bodyguards to the student body.

Time Warps

"If I could turn back time..." ~ Cher

Nick Barranco: This all-American soccer star is currently training with the USA soccer team for the 2014 World Cup. ... Julie Bauer: A prominent public-relations specialist, Julie is dating an investment banker in Santa Barbara. ... Mandy Baum: Mandy has become a world-renowned connoisseur of Caesar salads and an accomplished food journalist. ... Jessie Baum: Jessie currently ranks as the top gossip columnist in the Los Angeles area. ... Sagan Beder: Another All-American athlete, Sagan golfs with her elite business partners and is starting her own management corporation. ... Brittany Bonfield: Brittany owns and manages New Orleans's hottest night club and frequents the singles hot spots. ... David Bracher: The youngest Nobel-Prize winner ever, David currently heads the biological research division at Stanford University. ... Chloe "Bambi" Brandon: Animal murderer by day and animal saver by night, Chloe owns and operates a successful emergency pet clinic. ... Fowler Brown: Fowler has begun his sixth sci-fi novel and his popular space-traveling trilogy is being adapted into a movie. ... Stephanie Suzanne Caughlin: Suzie teaches English and Feminist Studies at the Claremont Graduate school; she has authored one juicy romantic novel so far, which includes bits of her own experience in Europe. ... Emily Colvet: This style guru is the fashion editor of Elle magazine; she has never been spotted in the same outfit twice. ... Joey Cordes: This farm boy takes time out of his busy work schedule as the X-Games coordinator to relax with his friends on his ranch in the Midwest. ... Rebecca Dias: A winner of the Teacher of the Year Award, Rebecca has kept herself busy by educating impoverished children in the United States and Mexico. ... Kira Dillard: Kira recently became the marketing director for Marc Jacobs; when asked why she chose to work for a clothing designer instead of a Fortune-500 company, she replied, "Other companies? Their employees only wore black—how dull!" ... Eric Eisner: Even though his plan to take over the world failed, Eric has engineered the latest digital technology used in all cell phones. ... Will Fielder: An all-around nice guy, Will is the chief test driver at the Porsche manufacturing plant in Germany. ... Joel Fineman: Joel, this page's author, owns a multimillion-dollar plastic surgery practice and is a successful journalist. ... Michaela Flynn: Michaela's groupie rampage and party-hardy lifestyle is slowing coming to an end as she settles down with her two children. ... Scott Griffen: Scott, newspaper mogul, has revolutionized the publication industry with his bilingual newspapers and his political activism; he currently guest lectures at Stanford University and lives in Palo Alto, CA. ... Daniel Haddock: Already an American hero and an Olympian, Dan has begun to slaughter the competition in the business world on Wall Street. ... Dathan Hamann: Dathan heads an organization designated to preserve and understand Chinese culture. ... Alexandra Heuser: Alex is currently the ambassador to China...oops, I mean Japan. ... Becca Hirsch: Becca is a devoted wife and organizes the Jew Crew, an ultra-cool Jewish youth group, and although she is 38, married, and has eight children, she still parties and travels to Israel with these teenagers. ... David Hunt: David, a.k.a. Mr. Morals, after a short cross-country tour with his band, pioneered a morality hotline for crucial assistance and guidance. ... Anand Jayachandran: This ex-body builder and ex-portfolio manager enjoys long drives in his expensive cars. ... Joshua Johnson: Josh will be awarded the Medal of Honor for his heroic work in the Armed Forces, so keep your eye on CNN for the ceremony. ... Michaela Johnson-Clague: Michaela has found success by merging a pharmacy and a five-star Italian restaurant. ... Mara Kaufman: Mara is the publicist and fashionista for a hard-rock band. ... Neel-Preet Khanuja: After quitting public speaking, Neel is trying out her luck with palm reading.

... Ian Krupar: Ian teaches business theory at Wharton and has all of the different versions of Corvettes, beginning with his high-school hot rod. ... Annie Lee: Although David was the youngest ever to win the Nobel Prize, Annie was the first to map the complete human genome. She currently teaches in Harvard's graduate program. ... Caitlin Lisa: Caitlin writes her weekly column for the Chicago Sun Times over bowls of Captain Crunch while listening to Christmas music year-round. ... Kathryn Lorentzen: With two homes, one in France and one in New England, this businesswoman owns a film company and is rarely seen in public. ... Ben Lupinetti: Ben acts in a new Broadway musical called Walnut, an enticing story about a man and his walnut tree. ... Shannon Malone: Shannon recently garnered the coveted post of NBC anchorwoman and has started her own Oprah-like talk show to discuss and solve all of her own issues. ... Tommy Maloney: Tommy was awarded garbage man of the year by Waste Management; he has also dabbled in independent films. ... Alexandre "Frenchy" Martelly: Frenchy created his own French cheese and wine empire and is determined to populate the world with small Frenchies and Francescas. ... Kera McClelland: After listening to the voices in her head, Kera wins a Tony Award for her amazing performance in a remake of Wicked. ... Courtney McConnell: Since she spent so much of her teenage life in Phoenix, Courtney is working on a massive reconstruction and upgrading of the south Phoenix community; she also owns several Walgreens' and Target stores. ... Elizabeth McGavock: Liz owns several Motel 6s in some very sketchy neighborhoods. ... David Packer: David is still the epitome of chillness. ... Emily Rector: Emily, equestrian extraordinaire, continues to sweep all of the horse show competitions she enters. ... Caytlin "Cat" Reese: Cat continues her mission to spread the Anime phenomenon. ... Alexandra Reinbold: This famed Chanel spokeswoman has begun a massive organization called TWIRL, Trophy Wives In Real Life. ... Emerson Reiter: Emerson writes rave literary criticism for the New Yorker and teaches at Columbia. ... Emma Robbs: Emma snagged the part of Ophelia in a remake of the movie Hamlet; she is plotting a takeover of the world with the English Navy. ... Felisia Sainz: Lisi has adopted the cause to spread multiculturalism and random acts of spontaneity, a.k.a. hugs. ... John Schupbach: John is the president of the Southern League of Trophy Husbands (SLOTH) and a successful entrepreneur with a chain of fried-chicken restaurants. ... Katherine Victoria Einstein Senzig: After a short stint off-Broadway, Katie has been married for eight years and has nine children. ... Talia Sherman: Talia frequents the plastic surgeon's office and works in a hotel in Las Vegas. ... Bryan Silverman: Bryan is a traveling rock star, reviving classic rock and the groupie phenomenon. ... Sophie Stenson: Sophie is a leading specialist of dermatology and the majority of her high-school classmates come to her for help. ... McGarrett Sutherland: McGarrett has become a scientific marvel as his laptop has become an additional appendage, which does not work well with his polar-bear outfit. ... Andrew Teer: Drew has brought back the trend of the Speedo, while being the new spokesperson for Q-Tips. ... Sandra Theis: Sandy was unable to come to our ten-year reunion because she was busy organizing a German invasion of the French Riviera. ... John Tierney: John is a Republican spokesperson and works in the Department of Agriculture. ... Tracy Thomas: Tracy has recently filled the spot vacated by Hugh Hefner as the eternal bachelor. ... Kaitlynn Tse: After getting passionately connected to her Asian heritage, Kaity has begun an exclusively Asian nightclub. ... Courtney Van Cott: Courtney has put the Libertarian Party in power from her sheep ranch in California. ... Stephen Vrla: Stephen has become a world-renowned pilot, but his greatest contribution will always be the Stephen Vrla Method of Factoring Equations. ... Corey Wade: Corey, a.k.a. Mr. Safety, is the manager of a platinum rock band reminiscent of Nine Inch Nails. ... Grady Wieger: After being named GQ Man of the Year, Grady founded a real estate empire in California. ... Kris Wielunski: Living in a small cabin in Montana, Kris is in the midst of founding his own leftist political party since the Democratic party was too conservative for his tastes. ... John Wolfe: John, an All-American golf champion, has been busy with his night-club lifestyle. ... Christopher Yee: Chris is the editor of the opinions section in the New York Times. ... James Yurka: James skateboards on the X-Games circuit and has gained a reputation as one of the most reclusive skaters.

Upper School Activities

"Everybody's workin' for the weekend..." - Loverboy

The Upper School bustles with activity every day. There is no shortage of events to sharpen mind, body, and spirit. Students can be found studying hard in the classroom, performing in or watching a theater production, lending a hand to community-service activities, and taking part in one of the many clubs that abound on the Upper School campus. It is these activities--combined with Upper School students' endless enthusiasm for them—that maintain the lively notes of our vibrant Upper School.

Athletics

"We are the Eagles, mighty mighty Eagles..." - PCDS CHORUS

It is in athletics that the true PCDS school spirit always shows its face. In all sports, both men's and women's, the teams compete with the greatest passion and sportsmanship. The PCDS student-athlete plays sports not for a scholarship or to go pro, but for a genuine love of the game. Playing for pride and respect of self and school, the PCDS student-athlete can always be counted on to play his or her heart out and to leave everything on the floor. Performing honorably in victory and humbly in loss, our athletes can always walk away with their heads held high.

Athletics Around the Quad

"Get on your feet..." - Gloria Estefan

Varsity athletics may be the big draw, but around the Upper School quad students are always active, playing everything from hacky sack to foosball and turning the grassy lawn into a field ripe for frisbee and football.

1. Joey Cordes, Dathan Hamann, and Alex Martelly watch as Duncan Deng busts out his hacky sack moves.
2. Ryan Nelson and Brandon Norem show that the fact that football isn't offered as a sport in the Upper School won't stop them from throwing one around during their free periods.
3. Ben Shanken and Jake Swokowski show their competitive streaks on the foosball table.
4. Dathan Hamann smoothly throws the frisbee into Courtney Van Cott's outstretched hands.
5. John Lake-Laubach and Brandon Norem watch as Aravind Swaminathan reaches for the ping-pong ball that Ryan Nelson slammed across the net.

Acknowledgements

It has been a long year. We didn't really know what yearbook was all about when we started in August. Our being copy editors really doesn't compare to our being in charge of the whole thing! We would never have been able to complete the yearbook (much less start it) had it not been for everyone who has helped and supported us over the past few months. First and foremost, we owe our greatest thanks to our favorite yearbook advisor: the ebullient Katie Stein, otherwise known variably as Meredith, Rhonda, and Beth. Our relationship was a little rocky at times, but we could not have asked for anyone better. Not only is she an amazingly talented graphic designer, but also someone with whom we honestly enjoyed spending time (except when it was rocky). Her humor, assertiveness, quirkiness, piercing laughter, unfailing positive attitude and good cheer (and peanut-butter M&Ms) kept us sane when we needed it most. Thanks, Katie, for giving up your evenings, mornings, and workdays to help us complete this yearbook, and for going above and beyond the job description to make it all work. We couldn't have done it without you, and we are truly glad we did it with you.

We are eternally indebted to our liaisons in the Lower School, Mrs. Bigley and Mr. McKean. We would like to thank Mrs. Bigley for her wonderful pictures, constant advice, and ceaseless flexibility in helping us to complete the Lower School section. We are also grateful to Mr. McKean for helping us to identify all those cherubic Lower School faces. Thank you also to Mrs. Manna in the Lower School office for allowing us to constantly barge into the office, and to all of the Lower School faculty whom we may have startled into giving us names and directions.

In the Middle School, we would be nowhere if it were not for the guidance of Ms. Treadway and her extraordinary cheerfulness. From helping us with names, to providing us with pictures, and to organizing the Middle School Yearbook Club, Ms. Treadway did it all—and always with a smile on her face, even when we became annoying (which we probably were on several occasions). Thanks Ms. Treadway!

This acknowledgements page would be dreadfully incomplete if we did not extend our most sincere gratitude to Nancy Crase for all of her amazing athletic pictures as well as for the senior-class photo. She managed to take stunning pictures all the while graciously running around helping us to make sure we made our deadlines. Thank you for everything, Mrs. Crase! We would also like to thank Mrs. Kiltz in the athletic department for supplying us with the names of all the Middle School athletes. Thank you to Mr. Reese for providing us with technical advice (and candy); and for providing us with; to Dr. Allison for her careful editing of many of our proofs; to Mr. Coon for assisting us with yearbook duties for the senior class; to Mrs. Sainz for supplying us with pictures and information; to Madame Wielkoszewski and Mrs. Anderson for donating pictures to us; and especially to Mr. Schweikher for keeping us company and in good humor when we came to work on the weekends.

“Pants!!” ~ “Hello my seester” ~ MS Outgrowth ~ My iPod just went bust ~

We would also like to thank Mrs. Risley and Mrs. Kolbet in the Communications Office for allowing us to use their cameras and pictures on occasion (and for letting us steal Katie away from her job). We are also extremely grateful to all of the Division Heads—Mrs. Thompson, Ms. Olson, and Mrs. Thommen—for their support and for writing their lovely pieces in the yearbook. And a big thank-you, of course, to Mr. Campbell, for his advice and supreme knowledge. Thank you also to the IT Department for taking the time to install our new software and keeping the system running.

To all of the students who gave their time to the production of this book, we are very grateful. Thanks to Courtney Van Cott, Fowler Brown, and John Tierney for writing such marvelous text and for putting those annoying little numbers on the pictures. Thank you to Laura Reahard and Clare Burnham for greatly assisting us with technical matters and layout. We would also like to thank all of the students who took pictures for this year's yearbook: McGarrett Sutherland, Jessie Baum, Phil Matos, Thais Moraes, Lauren Motzkin, Sam Debold, and Natalie Swinford. Thanks to Ben Shanken and John Schupbach for their photo contributions as well. Thank you also to Joel Fineman for writing the Senior Time Warps as well as the Senior Class Dedication. We are also grateful to Mrs. Anderson, Ms. Edwards, and Mrs. Risley for their contributions to the book's text. Thank you also to Chris Yee, Eric Eisner, and Lizzie Burton for keeping us company at very late hours in the computer lab. And thanks to Finn Wilkins for allowing us to use her colored markers!

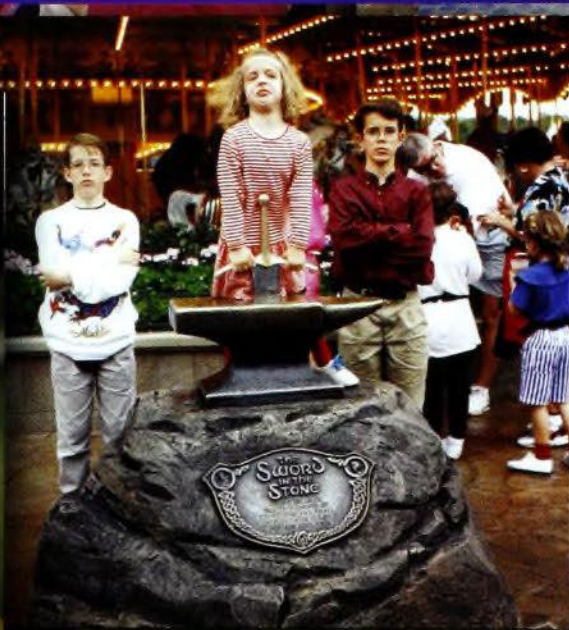

And finally, last but most certainly not least, a huge thank you to the effervescent Dale Thompson for his understanding, humor, and tremendous dedication to us and to our yearbook. Thanks for pulling us through! And also to Reed, Lindsay, and everyone else at Taylor Publishing we owe our very sincere thanks for their assistance.

One final thanks to everyone and we hope you enjoy your 2006 Yearbook!

Dear John,
It seems like just yesterday that you first set off to school.
Who could have known that it would be so great, or that it would have gone by so quickly?
We wish you happiness and success for the future. You make our world a better place.

*With love always,
Mom & Dad*

THE ADVENTURE IS JUST BEGINNING ALEX..

GO, HAVE FUN, AND REMEMBER...

HOME IS NEVER FAR.
