Tanya Gordon

Alongside my real estate expertise, you may need support from other professionals for your home-related projects. In Durham Region, I recommend our network of trusted home service providers and businesses—covering everything from repairs and renovations to cleaning services, lenders, and more.

These recommendations are based solely on reliability and positive experiences from myself and others—I do not receive any compensation for suggesting them.

Our trusted community partners are chosen for their excellent customer service and proven industry expertise. We keep this list current to ensure you always have access to top-quality providers. If you ever have feedback—positive or negative—about any of these partners, we welcome it. Providers who consistently receive poor feedback are removed from the list.

As a local business, we value supporting and collaborating with other businesses across Durham Region. By working together, we strengthen our communities and help make the places we all call home even better.
