Which way? Your Way!

Welcome to the fifth edition of Which Way? Your Way! the Devon Training Provider Directory 2026-27.

Brought to you by the Devon and Cornwall Training Providers Network (DCTPN), in partnership with Devon, Plymouth & Torbay Careers Hub, this Directory will help you learn about the options that are available to you.

We are a not-for-profit, charitable organisation, that works with training providers across the region, including Universities, FE Colleges and Independent Training Providers. In addition, we work closely with other key stakeholders from across the post-16 education, training and skills sector. We aim to raise awareness of the opportunities available to young people, to demystify the complex pathways that are on offer and to provide an effective and impartial signposting service.

The Training Providers featured in this Directory offer a wide range of training and skills from Apprenticeships to Leadership and Management, from Entry Level through to Degree Level, from accredited to non-accredited training, and everything in between. We have supported more than 10,000 young people into Apprenticeships over the past year.

For many young people thinking about their next steps can be a difficult and confusing time. We hope that this Directory will provide clear, impartial information, giving you the opportunity to consider the best route for YOU!

Sharron Robbie MBE
Chief Executive Officer, DCTPN

Provider access legislation:

Use Which Way? Your Way! to ensure your school is compliant

The updated Provider Access Legislation came into force in January 2023 and mandates schools to provide opportunities for all young people to explore all the pathways available.

The Skills and Post-16 Education Act 2022 sets out new requirements on the number and types of encounters schools will need to deliver for their pupils with providers of technical education or apprenticeships

The legislation specifies schools must provide at least six encounters with approved providers of apprenticeships and technical education for all their students:

- Two encounters for pupils during the 'first key phase' (year 8 or 9) that are mandatory for all pupils to attend
- Two encounters for pupils during the 'second key phase' (year 10 or 11) that are mandatory for all pupils to attend
- Two encounters for pupils during the 'third key phase' (year 12 or 13) that are mandatory for the school to put on but optional for pupils to attend

This new legislation will become a key mechanism to further help learners understand and take- up, not just apprenticeships, but wider technical education options such as T-Levels and Higher Technical Qualifications.

Please contact your local Careers Hub team for more information or support via careershub@devon.gov.uk

V Levels

STAY TUNED!
COMING 2027

V Levels... a new route into vocational pathways...due to launch September 2027. These exciting new qualifications, which will be equivalent to existing Level 3 qualifications, will allow young people to explore their career options by enabling them to experience a specific sector such as IT, Early Years & Finance.

V Levels will combine academic learning (as in A Levels), technical skills and industry work placements (as in T Levels), and practical learning (as in BTECs). Each V Level is equivalent to one A Level and can be studied in a variety of ways, e.g. you may decide to study two subjects at A Level and undertake a V Level alongside them. V Levels aim to create a joined-up, high-quality pathway that bridges academic study and practical skills.

Who can study V Levels?

The first learners able to study V Levels will be young people who were in Year 9 during the 2025–2026 academic year. The courses will be rolled out, initially, in three core subjects: education, accounting and finance, and digital systems and data. More subject areas will follow over time.

What do they consist of?

V Levels are different to T Levels (which require studying a single large vocational area), as they are the size of one A-level. This allows young people (16-to-19-year-olds) to "mix and match" them with other routes and qualifications e.g. A Levels or other V Levels.

Studied over two-years V Levels will combine external exams with substantial non-exam assessment (coursework or practicals) to ensure a mix of theoretical knowledge and practical competence. V Levels include attached industry work placements with employers playing a role in assessment, and perhaps project setting.

V Levels focus more on hands-on project work and applied content rather than purely exam-based assessment.

Where can they take you?

A key role for V Levels will be their use to support progression onto higher study, higher technical training or Apprenticeships. They aim to provide structured routes into several post-16 destinations, including:

- University degrees (designed for HE progression)
- Higher or degree Apprenticeships
- Direct skilled employment

By studying V Levels you will gain:

- Practical skills and knowledge needed for your future career
- Flexibility to combine different subjects
- Qualifications that are recognised by employers, universities and higher education institutions

Keep an eye on the DCTPN website and on the Gov.UK Education Hub for more information and updates on V Levels as their launch date gets nearer.

Discover Your Future

Explore Apprenticeship Opportunities with the New Devon & Cornwall Apprenticeship Vacancies Map

Choosing your next steps after school or college can feel overwhelming, but it doesn't have to be.

To make things simpler, we have launched a brand new interactive online map to help young people across Devon and Cornwall explore the latest Apprenticeship vacancies in a clear, accessible and engaging way.

Whether you already have a career in mind or you're just starting to explore your options, this resource gives you everything you need to make confident, informed decisions about your future.

The map brings Apprenticeship opportunities to life by showing real time vacancies across the region.

Each vacancy pin opens detailed information about the role, including what the Apprenticeship involves, the salary, the skills you'll develop, and key information about the employer. You can see exactly where the job is based, what the workplace is like, and what progression routes might be available.

If something catches your eye, you can go straight to the employer's application page with just one click. You can also apply for the vacancy – super easy to use, so take a look!

Although designed with young people in mind, we think the map is going to prove incredibly valuable for parents, carers, careers leaders, work coaches and teachers too. Instead of searching through multiple websites or trying to make sense of scattered information, the map brings everything together in one place.

It helps those supporting young people to have more informed conversations about career choices, travel options, earning potential and long term goals.

For young people who prefer learning by doing, Apprenticeships offer a powerful alternative to full-time study.

They allow you to earn a wage, gain hands on experience and work towards a recognised qualification at the same time.

NEW INTERACTIVE VACANCIES MAP

The map makes it easier than ever to explore opportunities, compare roles and discover industries you may not have considered before — from engineering and construction to digital, health, business, hospitality and more.

Most importantly, our map gives you control. You can explore at your own pace, revisit roles that interest you, and build a clearer picture of what your future could look like.

Whether you're planning your next steps or simply curious about what's out there, the interactive Apprenticeship map is a brilliant starting point for shaping your career journey across Devon and Cornwall.
