STRATA TRUST COMPANY

Understanding custodial fees

STRATA Trust Company is a directed custodian. We administer, report, and process transactions for self-directed retirement accounts, but we do not provide investment advice or endorse investments or sponsors. Annual custodian fees are billed according to your account anniversary date and cover the upcoming year.

Some fees are established by independent service providers and invoiced by STRATA as a convenience to the accountholder. While self-directing your retirement account, you may encounter the following fee types:

Annual fees

Ongoing custodial fees based on account tier and assets held.

→ Charged at different times during account opening and annually thereafter.

Processing fees

Transaction-based fees for purchases, sales, and other account transactions.

→ Charged when buying or selling investments or submitting a transaction request.

Service fees

Optional service fees such as check processing or paper statements.

→ Charged at the time service is requested.

Account management tips

Annual billing

Annual fees are invoiced on the 15th of the month preceding your account anniversary. Invoices are delivered based on your communication preferences.

✓ Enroll in AutoPay to simplify payments and help prevent missed or delayed fees.

Account activity

Processing and service fees are due at the time of the request. Payment methods are selected on the service request form and applied during processing.

✓ View all transactions in the Activity tab of your account portal.

Payment preferences

Manage or update your payment method (credit card or available cash balance) by submitting STRATA's Fee Payment Authorization form.

✓ Prevent processing delays by keeping sufficient uninvested cash on hand to cover fees.
