Hello . My name is 손민서 I'm a first_year middle school student. I like watching dramas and movies. I wrote this story because i wanted to share the importance of time. Thanke you for reading my book. I hope you enjoy it.

Haru is playing a game in her room

That evening, Haru couldn't fall asleep easily, worried about tomorrow's math test

Meanwhile, Haru found a twinkling clock on her desk.

The magic clock was called “Tico” and Haru was sent back to this morning because of Tico

Haru started studying for tomorrow's math test as soon as she returned to that morning

As time passed, it was the next day and Haru took the test with confidence.

The result of the examination was very satisfactory.

Haru drew up a plan as soon as she returned home.

It said : precious time, let's not put off what we have to do
