DEAR friend,

We just crested over our 40th year at Off the Beaten Path. The year was a great one and took us to a number of nostalgic places as we looked back through time, appreciating the good fortune we have to do what we do each day.

Looking forward, our focus is on our reason for being – to partner with you to create lifelong memories through travel. Doing this every day fills us with a great sense of accomplishment and gratitude and inspires us to dig deeper, ever in pursuit of the essence of what makes travel so impactful – so vitally important – to life.

In this year's catalog, we have endeavored to explore the artistic elements of travel. We landed on The Art of Going as our creative muse. This concept moves beyond the logistical and speaks to the existential value of travel. Unlocking this value in your life happens when you make the decision to go – to commit to discovery and to open your mind to the great prospect of what is to come.

So, enjoy the pages that follow. Among them, you will find adventures to familiar destinations closer to home – the Rocky Mountains, Desert Southwest, Pacific Coast, and Alaska – as well as immersive and beguiling locales that are farther afield – Australia, New Zealand, Türkiye, Croatia, Morocco, Botswana, Patagonia, Costa Rica, Peru, and more. As always, each journey is distinctly OBP.

At our core, we are committed to something far greater than travel – the pursuit of that moment, miles from home, when you are stirred deeply and changed permanently.

Join us this year, off the beaten path. We look forward to going together.

Wishing you all the best in travel and life,

Cory T. Lawrence
President & CEO

OUR PROMISE TO YOU

THE ART of going

2 Returning to camp by mokoro in Botswana; Birdwatching on New Zealand's pristine Ulva Island; Traveling deep into Denali's backcountry

PUTTING THE HEART OF THE TRAVELER in the soul of the place

The Art of Going is not simply arriving in a new destination; it's the discovery of self that happens along the way. Going removes the realities of your day-to-day to cultivate another part of your being – a part filled with curiosity. The Art of Going inspires intrigue in liminal spaces as much as location and an eagerness to engage in conversation, relish learning, and to seek rhythm over rush.

As you loosen your grip on what's known, a new you is naturally crafted with each step, each smile, each insight, each encounter, each illumination; all because you are going. That alchemy begins to mold you the moment you step off the beaten path and remains long after you return – most times, forever.

This artful way of moving through the world is shaped only by your inquisitiveness and wonder, not by checking items off of a "must see" list. Your journey fundamentally changes when it is guided by this awareness. At its core, The Art of Going asks you to uncover an expanded view – to consciously alter and enrich your life's story.

The art of travel is found where you go. The Art of Going is found in you.

GOING is the destination

High above Alaska's vast wilderness; Theresa, OBP Director of Trip Operations, admires a Turkish tradition; Geological wonders along a Yellowstone boardwalk

No Road Left to Reach Going is the Destination Arrival Dissolves

A journey is measured not by “sights and sites” but by “insights and insides.” It’s who you become at the thresholds, transitions, tastes, tilts, and the in-betweens. It’s daring to depart. It’s escaping life, for life not to escape you.

“Going is the destination” quietly argues that just making the decision matters – that there is nothing more profound than moving through the world. The miles, the memories, the metamorphosis – this is where meaning lives. You’re not moving toward something greater down the line, you’re cultivating contemplation. The going isn’t leading you somewhere. It is the destination.

The pull of takeoff on a remote Alaska runway, sipping Costa Rican coffee, hooves echoing on an ancient cobblestone street, the boarding announcement for your flight, choosing green or red sauce in a New Mexico diner. Going is the Destination.

Choose to GO this year, off the beaten path.

WHY
Off the Beaten Path

Immersed in Peruvian village life; Desert Southwest canyon explorations

People ask how we differentiate ourselves from other companies in the Adventure Travel realm. Our answer is simple: it's for you.

Our Bozeman, Montana office is filled with people whose focus is you. To this end, we spend our days seeking out rich, inviting, and compelling experiences to share, locations to discover, and local stewards to introduce you to. Every detail considered and every experience designed is to create moments that last a lifetime.

Connecting You

We can't wait for you to interact with our friends and feel deep, multi-layered connection to the place you are visiting – whether it's a chef teaching you how to prepare Baja dishes to the soundtrack of his favorite Latin tunes or a Montana naturalist's enthusiastic mid-hike stop to explain the importance of bison on the landscape.

Options for Your Travel Style

Whether you want to join a group of brand-new travel friends on a Small Group Adventure or explore with your nearest and dearest on a Private Custom Journey, our many years of experience means that each step is intentional, each encounter rooted with a sense of place, and every path shaped with you in mind.

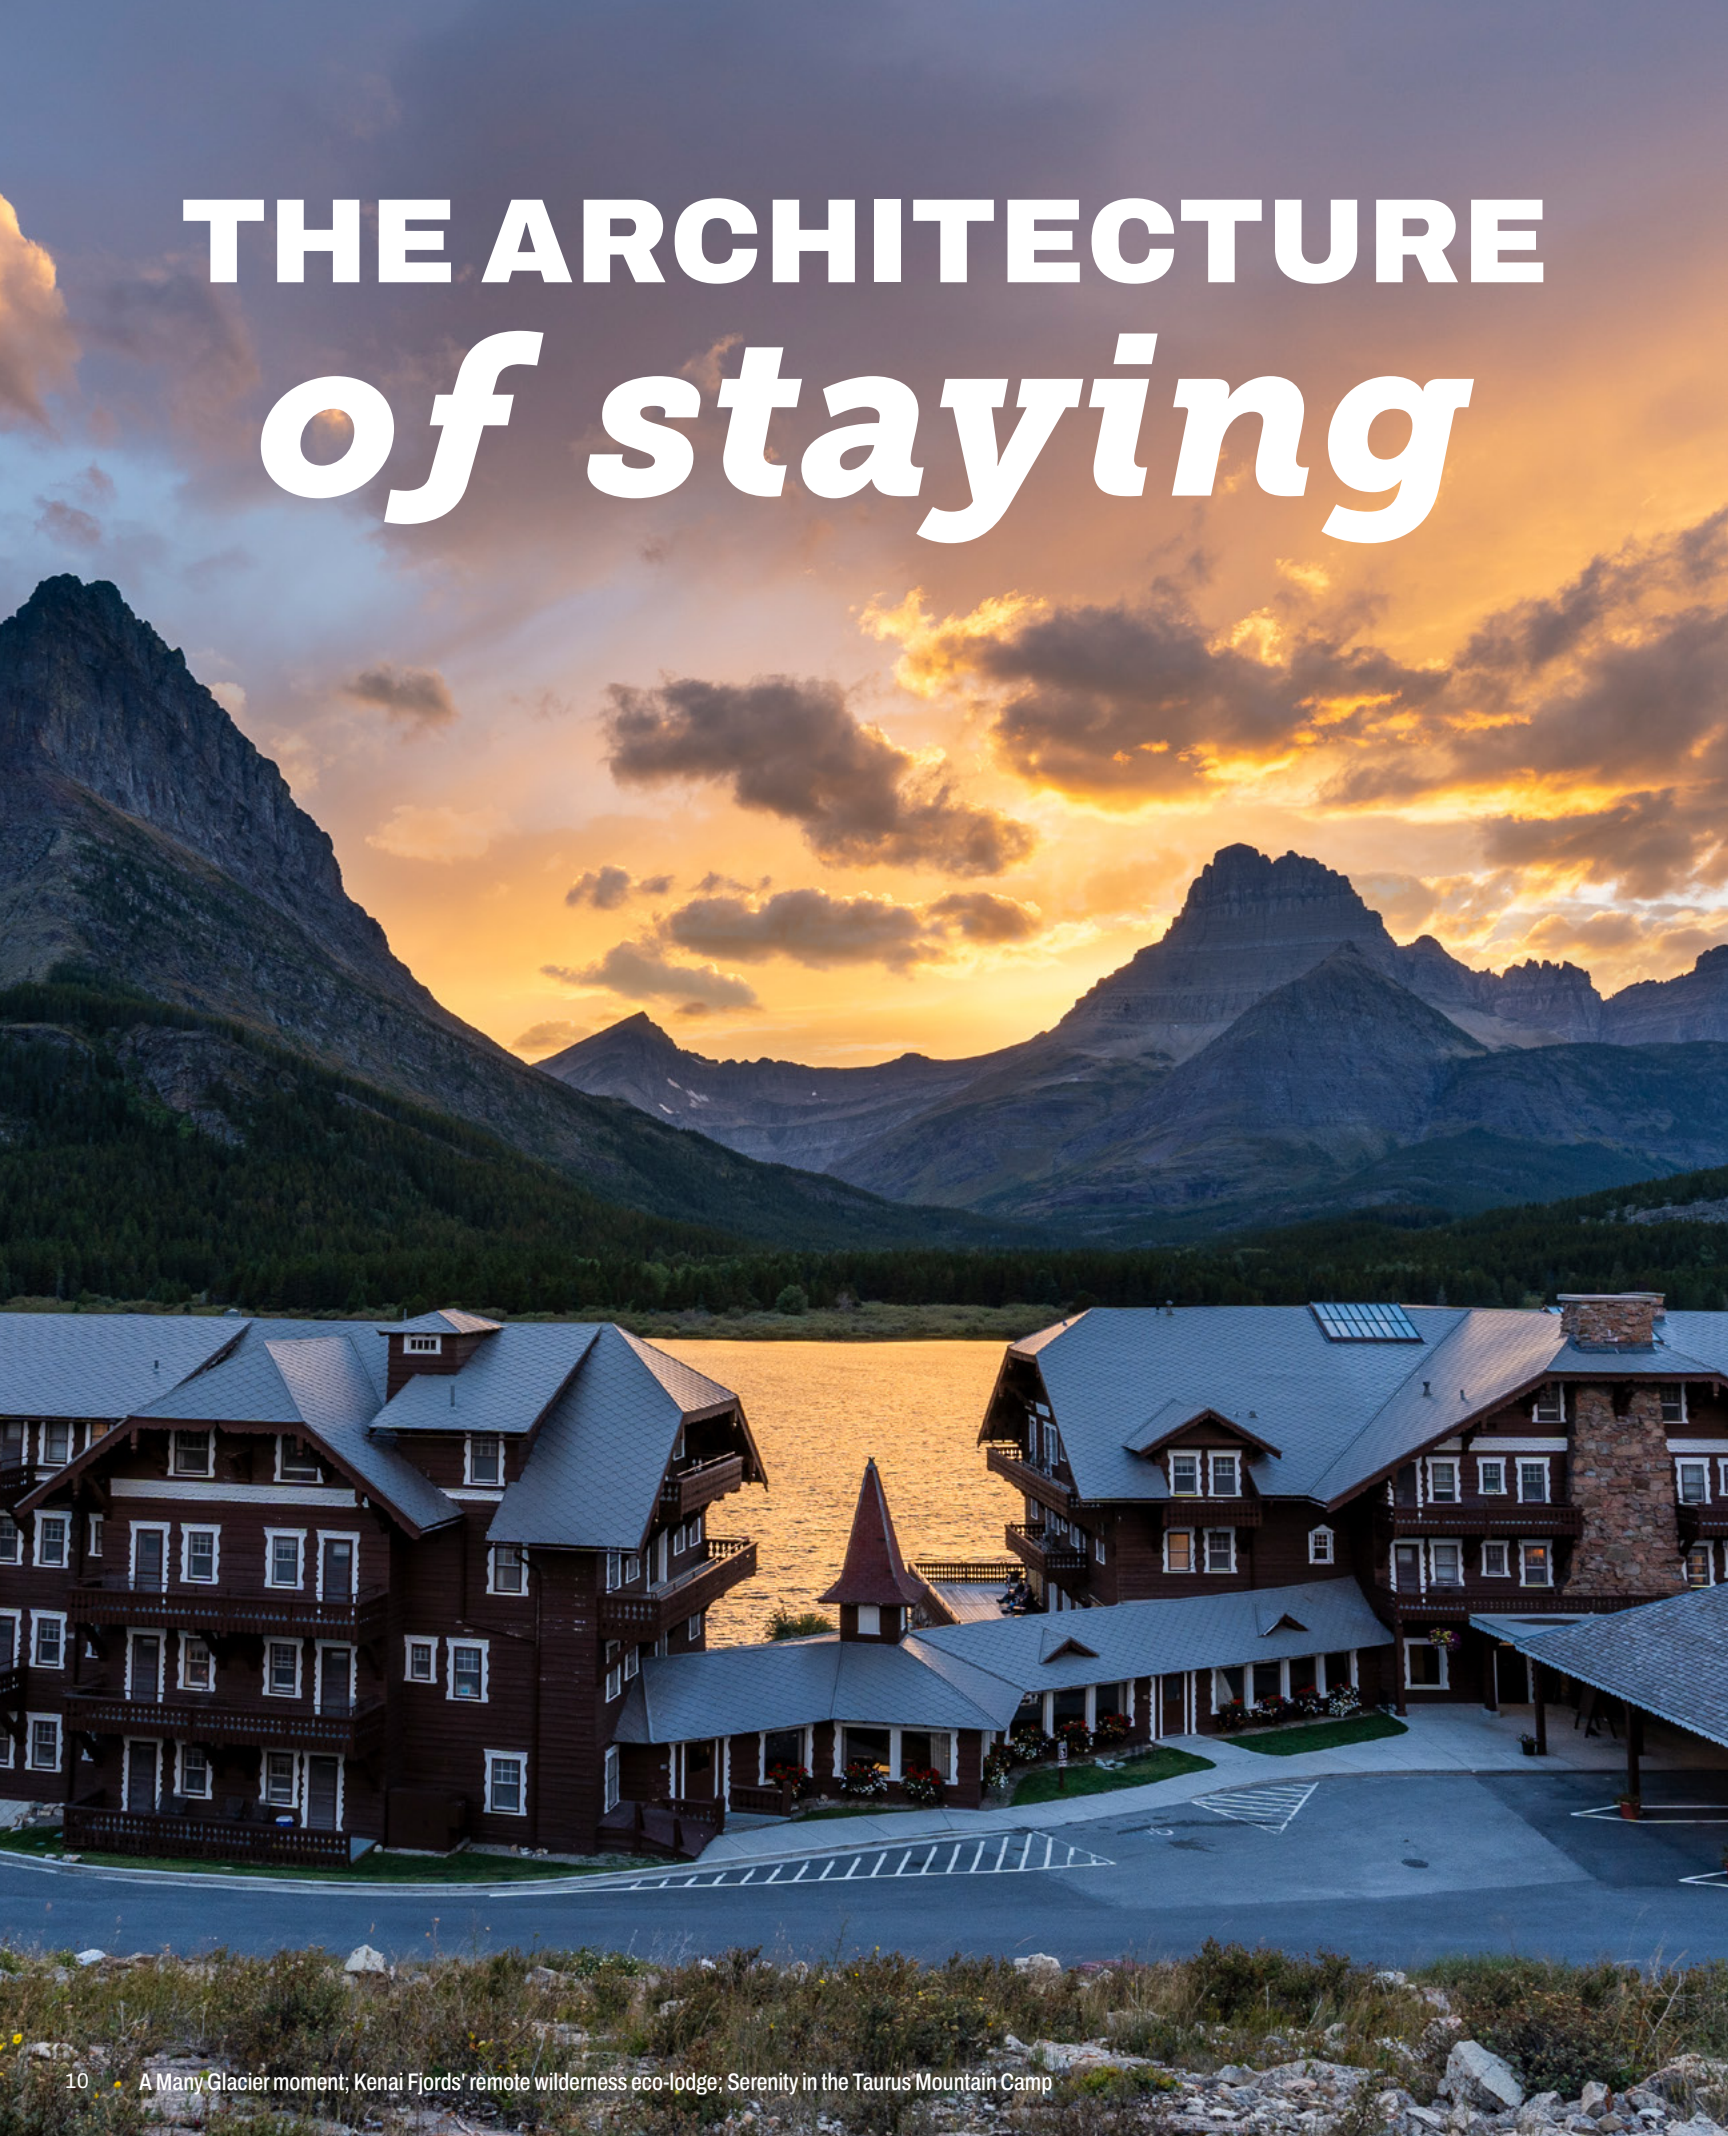

Earning Your Trust

For over four decades, we've been in the business of travel artistry, design, and curation. We work each day – through our experience and relationships – to deliver quality and consistency in your travels so your experience is truly unique.

Your Travel Partner for Life

Our intention as your partner in travel is to put you in a place – in a location, in a state of mind – that leaves you changed, and to join you on the journey from who you are to who you will be after your next adventure. Sharing The Art of Going with you – that's our goal, our mission, and our great joy.

THE ARCHITECTURE of staying

A Many Glacier moment; Kenai Fjords' remote wilderness eco-lodge; Serenity in the Taurus Mountain Camp

It's not just checking in; it's fully inhabiting a place.

Check in – to a room, to a casita, to a backcountry lodge, to a state of mind, to what you came so far to see. We aim to take our travelers to the soul of a place, and every stay is an integral part of that journey.

Each Off the Beaten Path itinerary is carefully crafted to include distinctive lodging that shapes how our travelers experience a place – molding the moments between movements with comfort, belonging, and a true sense of place. Whether you are spending the night on an island in the Adriatic, near thundering Victoria Falls, in the heart of Yellowstone, or riverside with views of the Cascades, we choose accommodations that carry the imprint of their landscape, their history, their proprietors.

An exceptional stay is when The Art of Going becomes the art of belonging.

THE PRACTICE of connecting

David Alder unveils the landscape on Essence of Yellowstone and Grand Teton; OBP safari guide, Lazi Moalosi, shares his intimate knowledge of Botswana's Okavango Delta; Branka Dajak readying the group for a hike in Croatia

Our guides are fundamental to the Off the Beaten Path travel experience.

They are artisans of discovery, professional connectors, and are truly passionate about each destination. They don't just guide you along the right roads or trails, they fully immerse you with their deep knowledge and interpretation – turning travel discoveries into lasting perspectives.

Whether they teach at Montana State University or were a national park ranger or worked with the Navajo Nation's school system, your guide's curiosity and excitement for each place is infectious. She'll get on the ground to describe how a grizzly eats wild blueberries. He'll spread out his beloved collection of maps to explain how geological forces shaped the region. They bring out the evocative, the emotional, the deeper meaning of a destination.

Real human insight is at the heart of The Art of Going, because your journey is only as vivid as the people who shape it.

THE RHYTHM of roaming

Hiking Northern Italy's stunning Dolomites; Istanbul market explorations; Swimming with gentle giants in the Sea of Cortez

As you explore the world with OBP, you'll find yourself participating in real moments rooted in a genuine sense of place.

Authentic, localized, out-of-the-ordinary experiences leave indelible marks and strike at the heart of what makes Off the Beaten Path unique.

We have good reason to believe travel becomes meaningful when it is felt, not only observed. Meals prepared in homes where recipes are inherited, not written down. Markets that move to their own rhythm. Everyday rituals that happen whether or not anyone is watching. It's about slowing down, noticing the details, and engaging with the people that call each destination home.

Spend a morning volunteering with a local coral gardening program in the Sea of Cortez. Pause to watch fishermen casting from the Galata Bridge before wandering into the heart of Istanbul's vibrant old city. Stargaze under a clear Saharan sky to the serenade of Berber musicians. Spot a wolf on a snowy Yellowstone mountainside.

The Art of Going isn't measured in miles, but in the impressions that echo for a lifetime.

THE LANGUAGE of place

A traditionally-dressed San hunter gestures during a bush walk near Botswana's Boteti River; Taking in the magic of Machu Picchu; Letting the desert beauty sink in OBP's respect for people and their heritage is not an added layer; it is both foundational and transformational.

A place is defined by its local culture, food, craft, language, architecture, rituals, and everyday rhythms – and is special because of it. Learning, immersing, and being a thoughtful steward is at the center of every OBP trip. Well-intentioned, open interactions with locals and honoring the off the beaten path places and spaces that we share with our travelers is our highest priority – in fact, it is the cornerstone of everything we do.

Whether you're treading lightly through the natural world or sharing stories with someone in their homeplace, you'll find yourself filled with gratitude. These serendipitous moments of enrichment and connection are what we believe The Art of Going really is.

When your explorations are guided with care and shaped with understanding, experiencing living culture and heritage will leave you changed – and the world better.

Exploring a destination more deeply through active exploration is a part of every OBP journey.

Your days of discovery might include hiking or kayaking, riding a ferry to Isle Royale or a boat cruise across one of Glacier National Park's stunning lakes, donning crampons to get out on an ancient Alaskan glacier or exploring American Samoa's colorful coral reefs with a snorkel and fins. This is why our Energy Index was created – for you to be able to quickly discern activity levels on every Small Group Adventure.

Still curious about a specific trip's elevation gain, difficulty, pace, or alternate activities? Call us! Our goal is for you to explore the world, off the beaten path.

If you choose a Private Custom Journey, no index is necessary because the activities will be custom tailored to you and yours.

for curious travelers

Join a small group of like-minded travelers on a remarkable adventure that has been tailor-made to connect you with the best, most memorable, elements of place, led by experienced and personable guides, and with all the details taken care of. Set out on lush Olympic Peninsula hikes, spot lions on safari in the Okavango Delta, or come face-to-face with the impressive Perito Moreno Glacier. Every element has been carefully curated so there are no sacrifices – only deeply affecting surprises.

Small Group Size

In order to fully experience a place, small group size is paramount to The Art of Going. Departing with as few as 2 and capped at a maximum of 8 to 16 travelers, our small group adventures are nimble and accommodating.

Superlative Guides

Leading each group of intrepid travelers is a deeply knowledgeable and enthusiastic guide. OBP guides know where they are going and immerse you into the surrounding landscapes – from helping you spot a toucan in a Costa Rican cloud forest to explaining the geological and cultural forces shaping Canyonlands National Park.

Imaginative Itineraries

Our journeys are designed with the curious traveler in mind and with the knowledge that travel is more than moving from place to place – it should be a carefully composed experience, designed with intention, style, and attention to detail. Each itinerary is a work of art, thoughtfully curated for lasting memories.

Memorable Accommodations

We know lodging has hit the mark when it moves beyond being just a night's rest and becomes a transformative part of the experience. Spend a night on the water in Fiordland National Park, sleep overlooking the sparkling Mediterranean Sea in southern Türkiye, or explore Denali from your backcountry cedar cabin's doorstep.

ON YOUR OWN, but not alone

Planning Private Custom Journeys has been our signature service since our founding in 1986, and getting our travelers out into the world and hearing how the journey changed them is our greatest joy. When you travel with us, you'll find yourself at the intersection of where the heart of the traveler meets the soul of the place, off the beaten path.

How It Works

Just like art, travel is unique to each person. So, your custom travel planning begins with a phone call to get to know you and understand your goals, special interests, and aspirations for the trip: luxurious or rustic; full of historic stops or animal viewing; hiking or boating. With this new understanding, our own artists – geographically focused Travel Designers – will get to work, not just booking hotels, activities, guides, and transfers, but also making sure your journey is intimate, connected, uniquely you, and authentic to each destination. Along the way, you will discuss the architecture of the trip – making tweaks and changes as needed – until the itinerary is complete.

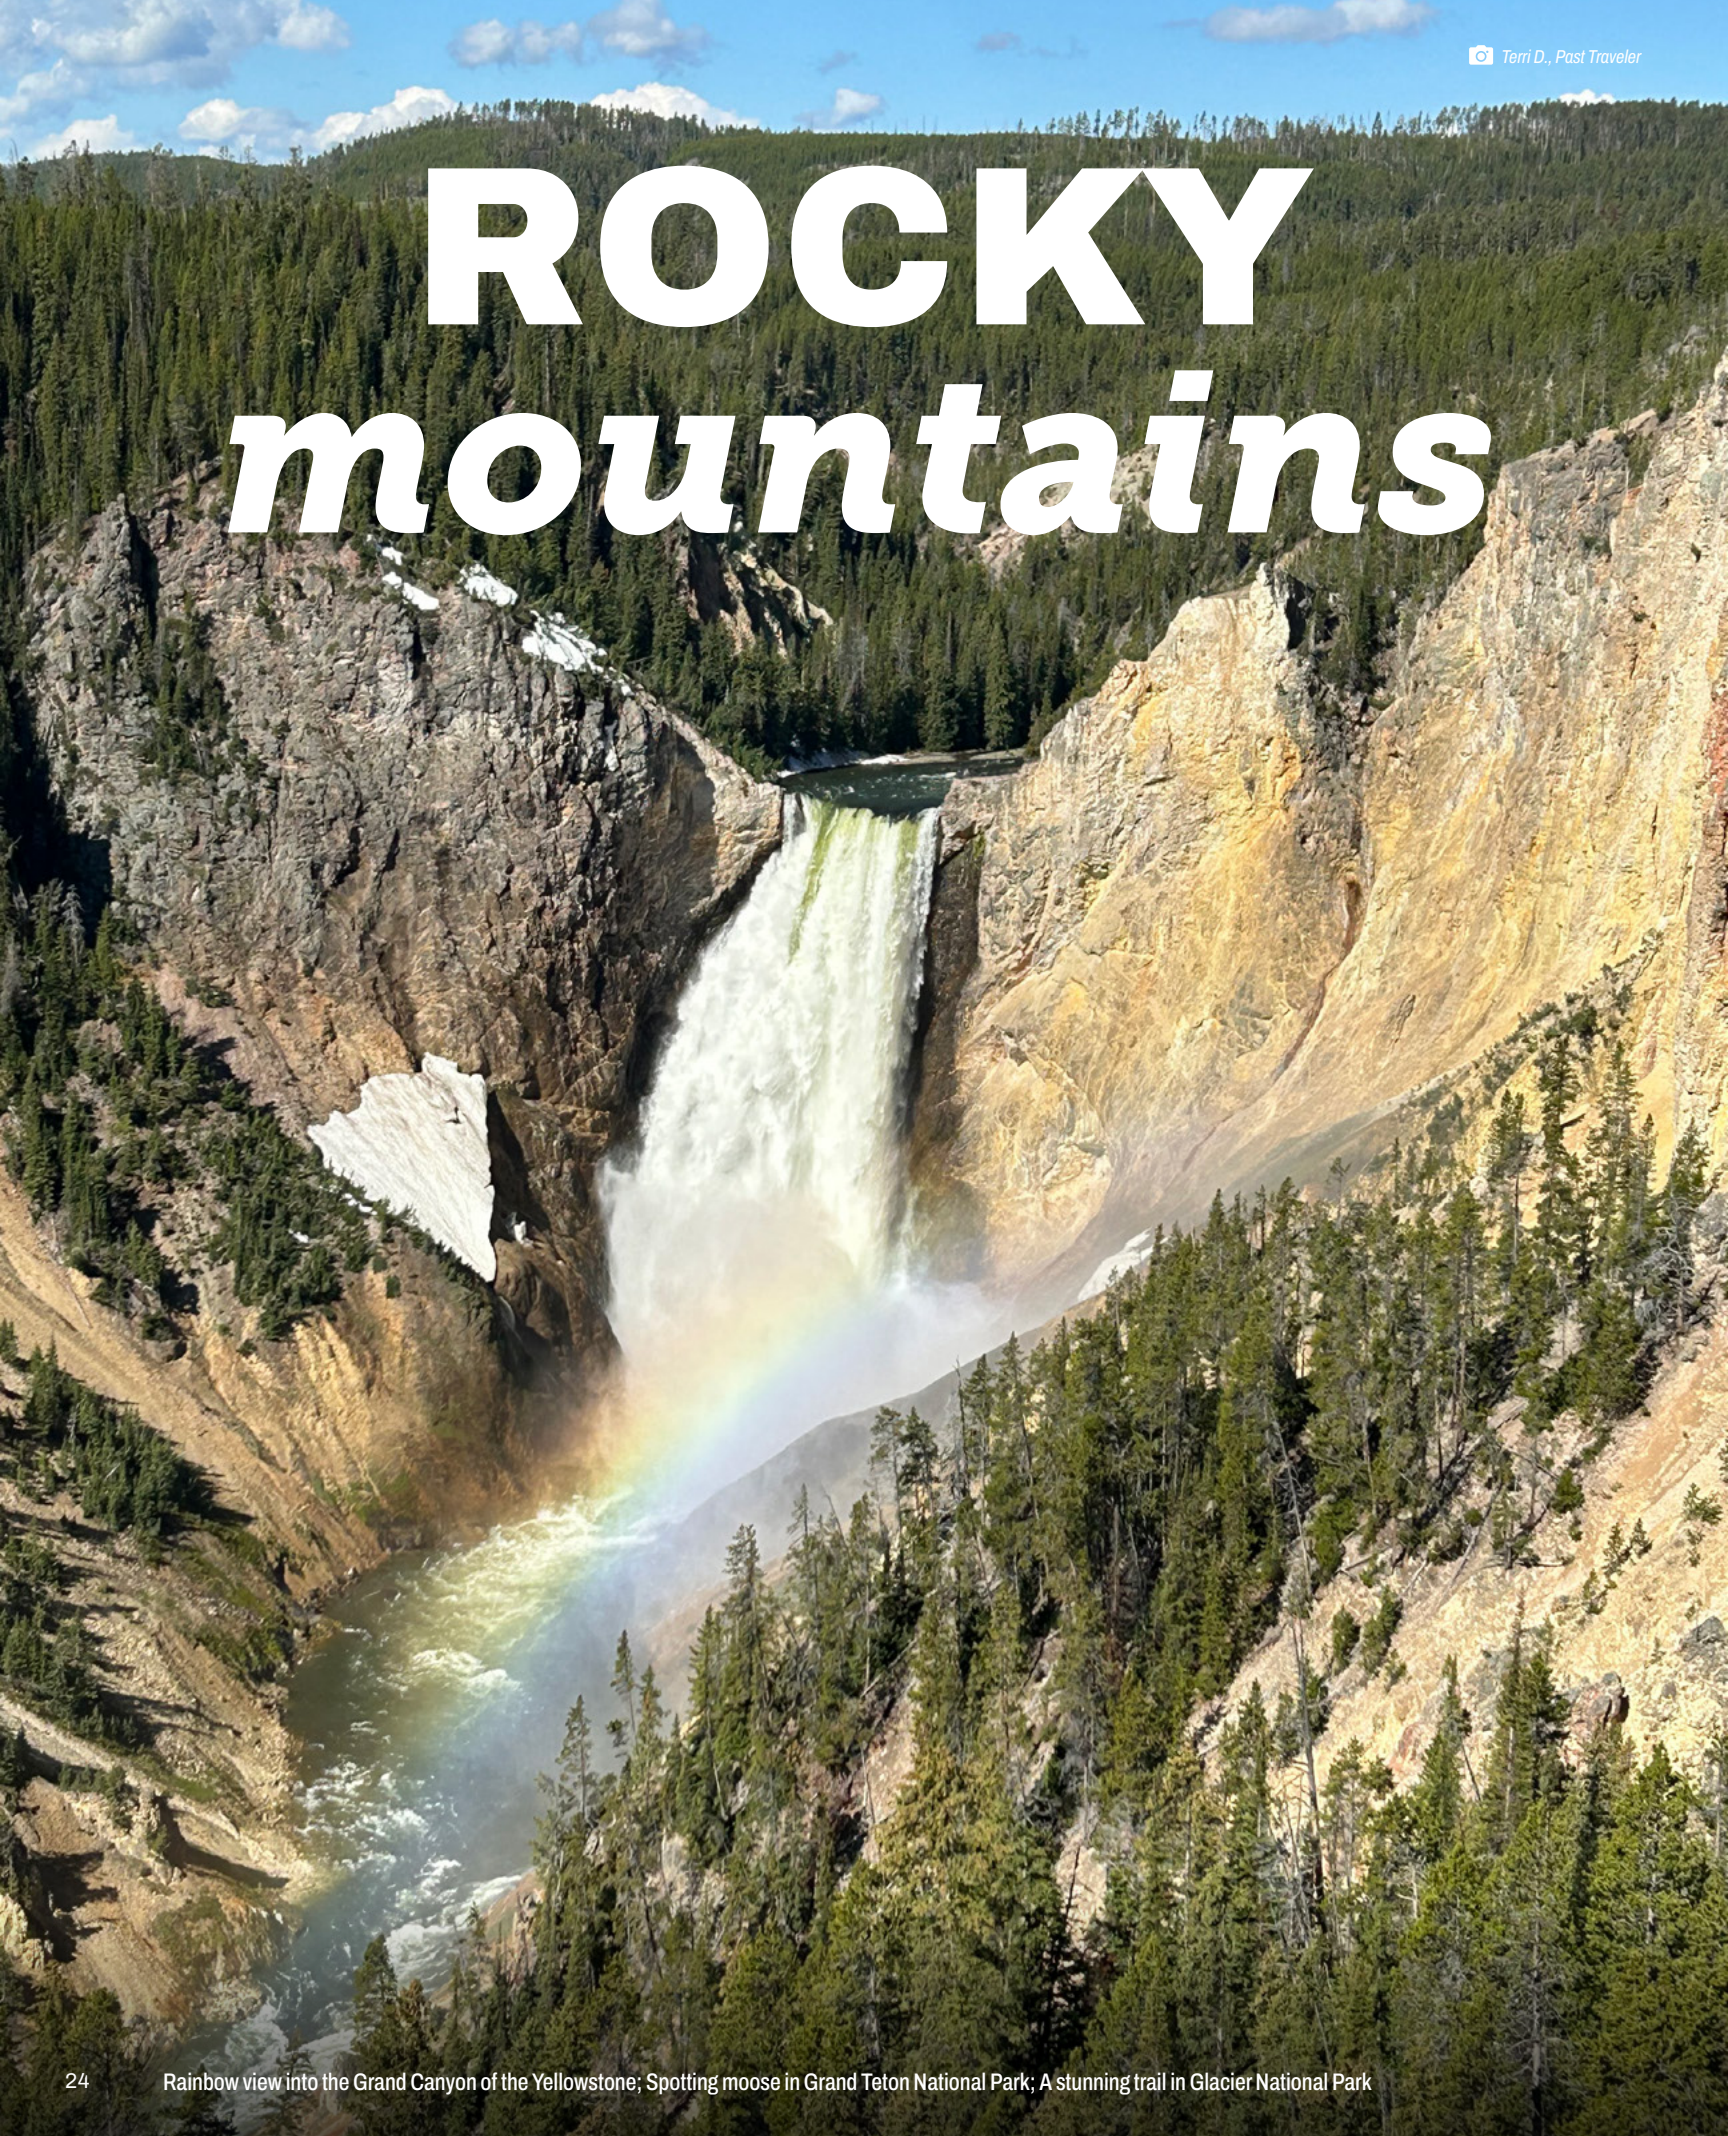

Your Journey Guidebook

Since our start, Journey Guidebooks have been a constant companion for OBP travelers. This personalized, custom-published travel guide includes specifics – like your hiking guide's contact information, driving directions between towns, and coordination for checking in at your lodge. It's also full of our insider information like trail descriptions, notes on natural and cultural history, and ideas on where to find an amazing meal. In short, this book is the perfect backseat driver.

Savor Your Time

This is the heart of The Art of Going – luxuriating in every moment along the way, from choosing where to go to bidding a destination adieu. When you leave all the planning and doing to us, all that's left to do is focus on taking it all in and letting the serendipity and magic of moving through the world take over.

ROCKY mountains

Rainbow view into the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone; Spotting moose in Grand Teton National Park; A stunning trail in Glacier National Park

STEAMING GEYSERS, SOARING SUMMITS, and sweeping horizons

This is our home turf, where it all started – planning transformative journeys that are deeply connected to the place and the people that call the Rockies home. Float on a pristine waterway as it snakes through a vast valley. Feel the power of geysers erupting. Follow a naturalist guide on a stunning hike though a glacial-shaped landscape. Stop at a diner for a slice of huckleberry pie. It's all here.

Walk back in time at the Little Bighorn Battlefield with a historian at your side. Spot wildlife – bison, elk, pronghorn, wolves, bears, and more – moving across Yellowstone's Lamar Valley. Hike with a local Blackfeet guide in the Badger-Two Medicine Area of Glacier.

Go off the beaten path, in the Rockies – our beautiful backyard will leave you changed.

"Land of Many Stories"
TIMELESS TÜRKİYE

TEA:
a portait of Türkiye

Everywhere you go in Türkiye, you will be invited to share a cup of tea. Usually served in tulip-shaped glasses known as “ince belli” that sit snuggly in the palm of the hand, tea is an open door. Served morning, noon, and night, before and after a meal, the drink is a reason for coming together, an offering of peace, a moment of stillness in a turbulent world. Every cup of tea is a chance to hear and to be heard, to share a smile, to share a life.

In Türkiye, tea is a portrait. And the portrait is theirs.

In the Taurus Mountains, trace the missionary journeys of the Apostle Paul and hike Roman roads through ancient forests to cities where columns and amphitheaters still stand. You’ll drink tea with shepherds near Kesme, tending flocks of sheep and herds of goats in the way of biblical times. Watch a tea kettle boil on an open fire as women prepare gözleme, the traditional Turkish flatbread filled with feta cheese and herbs, cooked on blackened iron to smoky, crisp perfection.

In Istanbul, circle the Hippodrome where chariot races entertained tens of thousands, gaze upon Byzantine frescos of Christ in Hagia Sophia, and listen to the call to prayer echo from the minarets of the Blue Mosque. Bathed in neon light and breathing the ocean air from the Sea of Marmara, sip tea on the streets of Kumkapı after a meal of meze, calamari, and fresh bream. Share tea in the bustling alleys of the morning market in Konya, among the spice merchants, the fruit vendors, the fishmongers, purveyors of all kinds.

In Cappadocia, take flight before dawn in a hot air balloon and float in ethereal silence as the sun spills across a landscape adrift in a dream. Explore a labyrinth of caves and cathedrals carved into the hillsides of Ihlara and wander beneath fairy chimneys in the Red Valley. You’ll dine late into the evening with new friends and warm your hands with a cup of tea in the brisk evening air looking out at the lights of the city.

Like Türkiye itself, tea brings together continents and cultures, people from near and far, moments and memories. From rooftops in Karaköy to port towns on the Mediterranean, from the Black Sea to Mount Ararat, tea is a common language, a mosaic in a cup.

With tea, there is always a story.

THE GEOMETRY of journey

The Art of Going is the space between who you are and who you will be – after you adventure, connect, and discover out in the world. We believe travel in our unique OBP style can change your life, and the communities you visit, for the better – and we are grateful each and every day that this is the work we do.

From our home office in Bozeman, our dedicated team arranges unforgettable travel all over the world, including some exciting new adventures! OBP is introducing a first-of-its-kind group journey through all eight of Alaska's National Parks. This spring, Melisa returned from Türkiye and remarked that "it was the most profound trip of my life!" And, an old favorite returns, a memorable exploration of Isle Royale and the Great Lakes Northwoods.

Our work is a privilege and we are grateful for the opportunity to do it everyday.

RESPONSIBLE travel

The places we visit are special because of their daily rhythms, deep traditions, reverence for history, and the landscapes that surround them. In every destination, it is important that we are respectful and travel with understanding, gratitude, and in a way that is beneficial to the community and its people. Traveling with genuine curiosity and care creates a better world.

In an effort to lessen our impact, we will be investing 1% of our revenue to benefit the communities our travelers visit in ways that will positively impact them the most. Additionally, all OBP journeys and our day-to-day office operations are part of a carbon offset program to equalize investment in alternative energy proportionately. By using FSC®-certified 100% post-consumer recyled paper in this catalog, together we are saving the following resources:

- 50,660 gallons of water
- 266 million BTU of energy
- 2,159 pounds of solid waste
- 50,110 pounds of carbon emissions
- 633.23 fully grown trees

We look forward to 40 more years of respectful travel, off the beaten path.

PRICING

Small Group Adventures – Prices for Small Group Adventures detailed in this catalog are per person and are based on double occupancy. We work hard to maintain the rates we publish, but reserve the right to adjust them should our own journey-related costs change materially. Although price changes rarely occur, you can always verify pricing with one of our travel advisors or at www.offthebeatenpath.com. We accept personal checks, wire transfers, and most major credit cards.

Single Travelers – We encourage solo travelers to join Small Group Adventures and for those who do, and occupy a single room, a single supplement fee will apply.

Family Pricing – Families love our trips – and we love to have them. To encourage this, we offer the following discount for children under age 18 sharing a room with a family member(s) paying full price: 10% discount if sharing a room with one person; 25% discount if sharing a room with two people.

Make it Private – We have many travelers who prefer to take over one of our Small Group Adventure departures exclusively for their own group. Call our office at 800-445-2995 and speak to one of our Travel Advisors about making a departure exclusive to your group. Tell us about your group and give us your preferred dates, then we'll determine if those dates are available, and if any pricing differences apply. Payment and cancellation terms will vary depending upon the details of your trip and will be covered with you at the time of booking.

What's included in the price of your Small Group Adventure – Trip pricing includes all lodging, activities, baggage handling, transportation and return airport transfers, permits, entrance fees, most meals (a handful of trips include one or more meals "on your own" – see itinerary for details), speakers, and professional guide service from the commencement point of your trip. Not included are trip interruption/cancellation insurance; costs associated with travel to and from the point of trip commencement; separately identified on-trip airfare; alcoholic beverages; end-of-tour gratuities (not required but strongly encouraged and customary); telephone calls; laundry service and other personal expenses; expenses incurred due to inclement weather or other acts of God; altered river, road, or trail conditions; sickness; flight delays; or unforeseen security issues.

In general terms, trip pricing for Custom Journeys is conveyed in one, per-person amount and includes accommodations, pre-arranged activities and guided experiences, itinerary development, travel planning services, support services while traveling, and your deluxe pre-departure package featuring your personalized Journey Guidebook, maps, and detailed regional information. As this service is tailored to your specific interests and needs, we are not able to provide itemized detailing of individual costs. Trip pricing does not typically include travel to and from the point of trip commencement, on-trip transportation, rental car charges, meals (except those included as a part of lodging or activities and guided experiences), or gratuities, although exceptions to this will occur should specific requests be arranged in the planning process.

Note on Photography

The majority of the photos in this catalog were shot as original content expressly for OBP by OBP, by our in-country travel partners, or by past travelers who elect to share their memories with us. Our brand promise of authentic experiences extends to our photography – while we do occasionally use stock images, we will never use AI-generated imagery, and look instead to capture moments as they are being experienced by photographer and traveler, together.
