

A large, modern exhibition stand for Airbus, featuring a blue and white color scheme. The stand is shaped like a stylized 'A' and has the Airbus logo prominently displayed on its upper sections. In the center of the stand, a model of an Airbus A320neo aircraft is mounted on a white pedestal. The stand is surrounded by various informational displays, including a large screen showing flight information and several smaller digital screens. The background shows a large exhibition hall with a high ceiling and other booths, including one for the Pakistani Air Force. The floor is covered with a blue carpet.
