CONTENT MARKETING

– The Perfect Tool to Promote Your Business

Traditional banner advertising on SecurityWorldMarket.com offers an excellent opportunity to strengthen your brand and increase visibility for your company and products.

But why stop there?

With our complementary Content Marketing solutions, you can effectively communicate the unique benefits of your products and services – engaging your target audience in a more informative and impactful way.

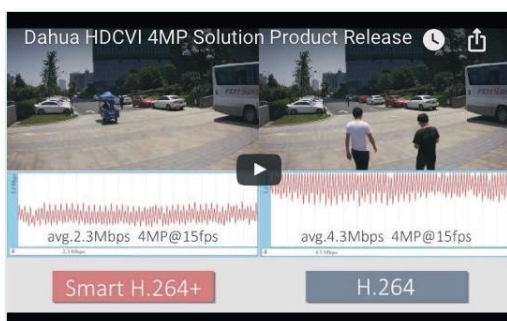

Advertisement opportunities

Video-in-News – Add-on service for Company Hyperlink Package subscribers

Video-in-News is a semi-content marketing add-on available to all subscribers of the Company Hyperlink Package (€590/year).

For an additional €260 per year, SecurityWorldMarket.com enables you to publish a video clip instead of a static image alongside a news item based on your press release. A video dramatically increases engagement and visibility – helping your message stand out and creating significantly greater impact.

Price: €260/year

Native Content

Native Content refers to advertisements presented in the form of editorial-style articles. This format enables advertisers to communicate a more comprehensive message than is possible through traditional company profile listings or banner advertising.

The Native Content article is featured in the daily news flow on the website. Upon request, it can instead be displayed in the upper-right section of the page, separately from the regular news flow.

Each native article includes:

- A compelling headline
- A short introduction
- 1–5 images

When readers click on the article, they are taken to the full story.

Your Native Content article remains in the news flow on the SecurityWorldMarket.com homepage throughout the entire four-week advertising period, ensuring sustained exposure and long-term visibility.

Price: €3,000/4 weeks
