Behind every grain lies a story.
Where the life and variation of the wood create true authenticity.

Oak is more than just a material – it's a tribute to the natural and the unpredictable. At BODAHL, we select wood with a lively character: pronounced grain patterns, structural variation, and rich tones that give each piece a unique expression.

When you choose a piece of furniture in Oak, you choose a natural material that reflects the forest, the earth, and timelessness itself. You can expect variations in tone, natural imperfections, and small knots – not as flaws, but as signs of authenticity and life.

Freedom to create

Concept 4 You, gives you the freedom to create a dining table that perfectly fits your home, your style, and the way you live. Choose from a wide range of sizes, shapes, materials, and finishes to create a table that is uniquely yours.

Built around the idea of Concept 4 You focuses on personal choice and flexibility. It has been developed to meet the needs of modern living, combining practical function with a clean, timeless look.

Presenting

Rossda

Designed by Morten Georgsen

Rossdale is more than a table. It is the result of a design journey where function, materials and aesthetics are balanced to create something truly unique. A table that feels solid yet light, strong yet refined.

Morten Georgsen
NO NONSENSE DESIGN

”We believe in the power of simplicity. We design functional pieces, with perfect proportions and without superfluous elements, always seeking beauty in the essential. Our vision is to create timeless design that connects with people, from iconic furniture to innovations such as the first extendable marble table. We prioritize human needs over prestige, collaborating with leading brands and making our mark on global design.”

Rossdale is designed around the moments that happen at the dining table, everyday meals, long conversations and special occasions. Its balanced shape and warm material expression make it a natural centrepiece in the dining room.

Rossdale Highboard

The collaboration with Morten Georgsen brings a clear sense of proportion, detail and identity to the collection. Rossdale reflects a design approach where aesthetics and usability are developed together.

Rossdale table top / Grib leg / Deems 360° swivel chair

Ceramic takes centre stage

With Rossdale, ceramic becomes a defining part of the design. The surface brings depth and visual character, while the dark metal base creates a strong contrast and gives the table a clear architectural presence.

Ceramic top: Nebula brown

Rossdale table top / Cross leg / Cobham 360° swivel chair

Designed from every angle

Rossdale is not only about the first impression. From the rounded table top to the sculptural base, the elements work together as one complete expression. Strong enough to be noticed. Balanced enough to live with.

Rossdale is more than a table. It is the result of a design journey where function, materials and aesthetics are balanced to create something truly unique.
