NOVEMBER, 1921.

Editorial.

Many things have happened since our last number appeared—not least among them our own holidays. The memorable visit of the King to the Northern Capital in June gave rise to the armistice, to which we have by now become thoroughly accustomed, just as we became accustomed to what preceded it. As to the future, although no one knows what it holds in store for us, yet much is hoped for from the Conference at present sitting in London.

We are approaching the third anniversary of that other and greater armistice when after four years of fighting, the world laid down its arms and offered up a silent prayer of thanksgiving for Peace. November 11th, this year, will have special significance for the school, as it has been arranged that the unveiling of our own war memorial shall take place after the annual Distribution of Prizes on that day. The memorial consists of a stained-glass window at one end of the Clock Room, with memorial tablets containing the names of 68 old boys who made the supreme sacrifice. The window has three lights, the height of the centre one having been specially raised to give greater effect. The centre window represents Victory, the side ones Justice and Peace. We shall give a fuller description in our next number.

It is not without some apprehension that we take up the editorial pen for the first time, and as we are still feeling a considerable vacuity in our "erasmian" region, we have a certain inclination to join the ranks of those of whom Gratiano says:

"That therefore only are reputed wise
For saying nothing."

Having nobly resisted this temptation, we would remind our readers that the functions of an editor are to edit, and not—according to popular belief—to write the whole magazine.

Lack of subject is the usual excuse offered for the literary and intellectual stagnation throughout the school; lack of interest is, perhaps, the real reason, yet without the support of the boys, the "Erasmian" cannot be, in the true sense, the school magazine.

Let us take this opportunity of congratulating our predecessors, E. J. Weinberger and I. E. Jones, on obtaining 1st place in Modern Languages and Classics respectively in the Sizarship Examination into Trinity College, held in June; and of wishing them a very successful college career. We have also to congratulate W. C. G. Proctor on winning a Sizarship in Mathematics.

The publication of the Senior and Middle Grade Intermediate results early in August came as a welcome relief to many boys, though we had to wait until the first week in September for the Junior Grade. The percentage of passes was extremely high; in the Senior Grade I. E. Jones obtained a Classical Exhibition and the medal for 1st place in Greek. D. B. W. Good and W. S. Glover also obtained Exhibitions in the Junior Grade. The marks will be found elsewhere.

Many boys are no doubt looking ahead to next June, rather than back to this year's sports, but as our last number appeared in March, this is the first opportunity we have had of reporting them. A detailed description will be found elsewhere.

The Swimming Gala was held in the Iveagh Baths on Monday, 3rd October. We were glad to see such a good attendance, and to feel that the whole programme was a great success. An interesting innovation was the life-saving race instituted at the suggestion of a distinguished old boy, Mr. S. W. Maddock, J.P., who presented a handsome prize. We hope it will be continued in the future.

J. C. Hopkins is to be congratulated on winning the School Championship; he is a swimmer of whom we expect to hear more. It will be remembered that during the summer he won the Liffey Race, beating some of the finest swimmers in Dublin.

The Gymnastic Display was held on May 13th, and was also well attended.

School Notes.

The School was re-opened after the Summer Vacation on Thursday, 1st of September.

Two new masters have come to us this term in place of Mr. Richardson and Mr. Small. Mr. W. B. Doak, B.A., of Trinity College, was Classical Scholar and Senior Moderator in both Classics and History, and besides winning many other distinctions, won the highest honour in his year by obtaining Classical Studentship. Mr. G. R. Butler was for many years a very successful Master at Tipperary Grammar School.

In June the following boys were awarded Scholarships:—
First Class: D. Mitchell, R. W. Reynolds, A. Cunningham, J. A. McKee. Second Class: H. Burchell, P. Begley, E. H. Maynard, W. H. L. Waddell.

The School has largely increased in numbers this term, and the Governors have agreed to the appointment of an additional Master, who will come on the staff next term.

We notice among the names of those who were placed in various events at the Athletic Meeting held a short time ago at Rathmines, in connection with the All-Sports Carnival, the names of the following boys:—

R. D. Stephens—1st place in Boys' 1,200 Yards (under 18).

M. W. d'Alton—1st place in High Jump (under 15), with a jump of 4ft. 7ins.; 1st place in Boys' 100 Yards (under 15); 2nd place in Boys' 300 Yards (under 15).

The High School relay team (E. M. Wright, W. Jolley, W. S. Cunningham, M. W. d'Alton) won the Senior 4-laps Relay Race (under 18).

OBITUARY.

J. D. WORTHINGTON (1902-6).

(Reprinted from the "Irish Times.")

The death has occurred at Framley (Surrey) Sanatorium of Mr. John D. Worthington, who during the war directed the Information Bureau of the Y.M.C.A. in the Rue Edward VII., Paris.

Mr. Worthington was a son of the late Mr. Samuel Worthington, of Dublin, and grandson of Mr. Robert Worthington, Salmon Pool, Dublin. Educated at the High School, Dublin, Mr. Worthington held an important appointment in London, which he relinquished for war service in 1914.

Mr. Worthington will be remembered with affection by thousands of Australian, New Zealand, and Canadian soldiers, whose comfort he assured on their ten-day "Paris leave." The hardships which awaited incoming troops during 1915-16 excited his sympathy, and after diligent searching for cheap, respectable hotels where the men could lodge, he risked his health in the icy draughts of the station waiting for trains with their war-weary soldiers.

Mainly due to Mr. Worthington's initiative, a service of motor lorries to meet the men on leave was organised. He also secured for them a hotel, the Florida, in the Boulevard Malesherbes. He organised motor car excursions for soldiers, and also was in part responsible for the opening of an English theatre where clever and amusing plays were given.

Football Prospects.

Although we shall miss many of last year's team, nevertheless we can hope for a very successful season. Eight of our old First XV. remain with us this season.

At a meeting of the Athletic Committee held in September the following were elected:—

Captain—M. BELL.

Vice-Captain—W. JOLLEY.

Hon. Secretary—R. P. McGARRIGLE.

Our full-back has already shown that he is capable of good tackling. He must not, however, allow himself to be brought down in possession of the ball, and also he must learn to get in his kick quicker.

Our three-quarters are showing good pace, and on the whole their tackling is good. The passing is, however, too "lobby," and they should remember to "cut through" if possible. Another great fault is holding on too long.

Our halves, if a little slow in getting the ball back, are very plucky, and have repeatedly saved us in the nick of time. They must not run so much, and should remember the duty of halves, which is to get the ball to their three-quarters.

Lastly we come to our forwards. Although they are light, they have a great amount of "go" in them, and already have shown that they can hold their own with any of the packs we have so far encountered. They must, however, learn the art of "heeling the ball clean" and not allow it to "stick" in the back row of the scrum.

The Intermediate Examinations, 1921.

The number of boys who passed is 35, the highest total obtained by the School since the Preparatory Grade was abolished. Eight boys passed in the Senior Grade, one with honours; ten in the Middle, four with honours; and seventeen in the Junior, three with honours.

In the Senior Grade, I. E. Jones obtained a Classical Exhibition, the medal for First Place in Greek, and First Composition Prize in Greek. It was unfortunate that the Sizarship Examination clashing with the Intermediate prevented him taking the whole of the Latin Examination, otherwise he would have done even better. In the Middle Grade, T. G. Squires won a prize in Classics. In the Junior Grade, D. B. W. Good obtained a Classical Exhibition, qualified for a prize in the Modern Language group, and won the Second Composition Prize in Greek; W. S. Glover obtained a Mathematical Exhibition, and qualified for a Science Exhibition. As these two boys are both a year under the qualifying age, we look to them to do well in coming years. Several boys who passed this year in the Junior Grade are eligible for distinctions next year, and if they work hard will certainly win them. We must point out that there were never so few Exhibitions and Prizes given by the Intermediate Commissioners as this year, and if no more are given next year there will be more merit in gaining them.

LIST OF BOYS WHO PASSED.

Full marks in each subject are 400, Except in Arithmetic, 200.

Marks on Honours Papers are in heavy type.

Physics and Chemistry count as one subject.

Athletic Sports.

Our Sports this year were held on Thursday, 30th June, at Lansdowne Road. The weather was brilliantly fine, the heat being intense, and the ground consequently over hard from the point of view of running. Nevertheless, great keenness was shown in all the events. There were in all 113 entries. Chief interest, as usual, centred in the struggle for the Challenge Cup and Cross for the highest number of points, presented by Mr. E. R. Moore. However, E. M. Wright gained an easy victory with 18 points, W. H. Jolley coming second with 13. W. S. Cunningham deserves special praise for winning the 440 yards, though conceding 5 yards to Wright; he also came second in the 220 yards. The Long Jump was won by Jolley with a jump of 17ft. 3½ins., thereby beating the longest jump at last year's sports by almost two feet. Jolley also won the Senior Hurdles, and came second in the High Jump.

The Mile was won by R. G. Mortier, who was somewhat of a dark horse. W. C. G. Proctor put up a very fine performance from scratch.

The prizes were very kindly distributed by Mrs. W. E. Thrift at the conclusion of the sports. Details:—

The High School Swimming Gala.

Our annual Gala was held on Monday, 3rd October, in the Iveagh Baths. The number of entries was quite up to the usual standard, and the gallery was well filled with visitors.

The School Championship was won rather easily by J. C. Hopkins, though D. B. W. Good fought manfully for three-quarters of the way.

The prizes were kindly distributed by Mrs. Thompson. Much of the success of the evening was due to the able management of Mr. Wyon and Mr. Evans. Details:—

Under 13 years (20 yards)—W. McKee, 1; D. Ewen, 2; T. S. Mason, 3. Ten competed. Won by a yard; two yards between second and third.

Under 15 (22 yards)—G. S. Sloan, 1; V. E. Maxwell, 2; T. S. Mason, 3. Seven competed. Won by half a yard; same between second and third.

Under 16 (44 yards)—D. B. Good (5), 1; J. C. Hopkins (scr.), 2; E. May (6), 3. Six competed. Won by a yard; half a yard between second and third.

Senior Handicap.—Final—W. I. Stafford (9), 1; E. N. Bardon (3), 2; R. P. McGarrigle (scr.), 3. Won by a yard; two yards between second and third.

School Championship (100 yards)—J. C. Hopkins, 1; D. B. Good, 2. Also competed—E. May and R. P. McGarrigle. Won easily by two yards.

66 Yards (open to Dublin Schools).—First Heat—R. W. Poots (scr.) and Morgan, dead heat; H. F. Case, jun., 3. Seven competed. Second Heat—J. Wallace, 1; Loughran (R.H.M.S.), 2; Rochford, do., 3. Won by one yard; two yards between second and third. Final—Poots, 1; Morgan, 2; Wallace, 3. Won by a yard; half a yard between second and third.

Old Boys' Race—R. Mather, 1; R. D. Stephens, 2. Four competed. Won by a yard; same between second and third.

Cricket Notes.

The cricket of the Senior Team this year was poor in comparison to that of other years. Of the eleven matches we played we only won three; truly a bad performance. We were chiefly handicapped by not having good bowlers.

Our Junior Team did exceedingly well this season. We succeeded in getting into the final of the Leinster Junior Schools Cup. To get to this stage we had to beat two of the strongest Junior Teams in Dublin, viz.: Earlsfort House School and Royal Hibernian Military School. As we had to play Masonic School in the final, we had not much chance of victory, since their Senior Team was practically the same as their Junior. Under the circumstances, however, we made a good fight.

We might here mention that G. Dodds was again chosen to play for the Leinster Schools Team.

In the Batting Averages we notice that Dodds is top with an average of 9.8. Bell and McGarrigle were respectively second and third.

Isaacson heads the Bowling Analysis with a good average 6.6. In the Junior Team the chief scorers for the season were Isaacson, Abbott, Morton, Taylor.

In conclusion, we wish to thank all those masters who umpired matches for us, and especially Mr. Evans, who greatly assisted us in picking the teams.

The Watchers on Gallipoli.

We have had great pleasure in reading "The Watchers on Gallipoli," a succession of sixteen short lyric and descriptive poems by a distinguished old boy of the School, Mr. G. Chester Duggan.

He describes every phase of the furious struggle for Gallipoli—the approach of the ships, the landing, the fierce onslaughts, the nights of suffering and the harvest of Death. Mr. Duggan has entered into the spirit of the glorious tragedy. Two of his brothers fell there. What strikes us greatly in these poems of Mr. Duggan is the directness of his narrative style:—

"By the deep sea ways
Passed the great ships of war, already they
Had quivered to the blast of guns."

"The wailing night
Was seared with flashes as in storm the sea-troughs glimmer white."

This directness is in many instances allied to a boldness and strong vividness of description:—

"The ripples of the water below the boat-keels sing
With memories of primrose banks and the fierce blossoming
Of gorse in June."

or

"A poppy field
Flushes the next gorge, and a lark
Hangs o'er it—a quivering spark
Upon an azure shield."

There is a glimpse of another type of description, harmonious, in calm contrast to the violence of the fight:—

"The wild thyme grows on the steep slopes,
And in the cool of night
Upon its scented leaves men lay,
Their weary faces, drawn and gray,
Until the morning light."

We could cite a number of instances to show that Mr. Duggan's style often shows a quick dramatic quality:—

"Lancashire Landing, Sedd-el-Bahr, beaches and bluffs that ring
With a fierce undying one day's spell, and an age-long glorying,
Where life was naught and death was life and men gave all to win
A hand's breadth on a barren coast to take their slumber in."

We should like to reproduce two verses which are characteristic of Mr. Duggan, the first one being one of the finest in the poem:—

"Cold the stars and cold the wind, cold the grey green waves
Breaking in the little bays, tumbling through the caves.
Night and day they listen, lying in their graves,
Hearing o'er them wild-sweet notes, elfin organ staves."

"March away, my brothers, past the graveyard-close;
Let your steps be soft as snow, or the wind that blows
Gossamer through autumn air. The dark winter strows
Hail upon their rough-wrought graves. Stir not their repose."

There is a spirit of sadness pervading the whole series of poems; there is an ever present remembrance of the care and love shown by the God who loves self-sacrifice; there is, in an outstanding degree, an appreciation of the best ideals which prompted the self-abnegation of our men. With the profound sadness of the final poem is mingled a note of hope:—

"For them the bars have vanished, the doors are open wide,
And they have seen their King go up, the bridegroom to the bride."

Levia.

An inspector demanded suddenly of the class, "Who wrote 'Hamlet?'"

One boy, breaking down under his stern eye when it was directed towards him, "Please sir, 'twasn't me!"

Shortly afterwards the inspector was relating the incident at a dinner party. One of the guests, a colonel, rubbing his hands, said, "Ha! ha! I shouldn't wonder if the little beggar hadn't done it after all!"

From the lower fourth—"Hors de combat"—"a war horse," and "poeta nascitur non fit"—"a nasty poet is fit for nothing."

It was a millionaire banker's birthday banquet. The fun was at its highest, when a lady cried out, "Oh! my pearl necklace has disappeared!"

Uproar followed, when suddenly the banker had a brain wave.

"We will place a salver in the middle of the room," he said, "lights will be extinguished, and the perpetrator of the silly joke will have an opportunity of restoring the missing necklace."

It was done, and the lights were turned on again. More uproar! The salver had disappeared!

Examining Admiral (to naval candidate)—“Now mention three great admirals.”

Candidate—“Drake, Nelson, and—I beg your pardon, sir, I didn't quite catch your name.”
