To the Class of 1980:

You will graduate into a new decade, one which will bring challenges to all of you. There are a plethora of problems demanding to be solved. You will need all of your energy and creativity to help us solve them. As you face this prospect, beware of simplistic solutions and short cuts. The problems are complex and require clear thinking, hard work and patience. Hopefully, all of these qualities have been required of you during your years at Phoenix Country Day School.

Good luck and I look forward to seeing you at the Annual Alumni parties.

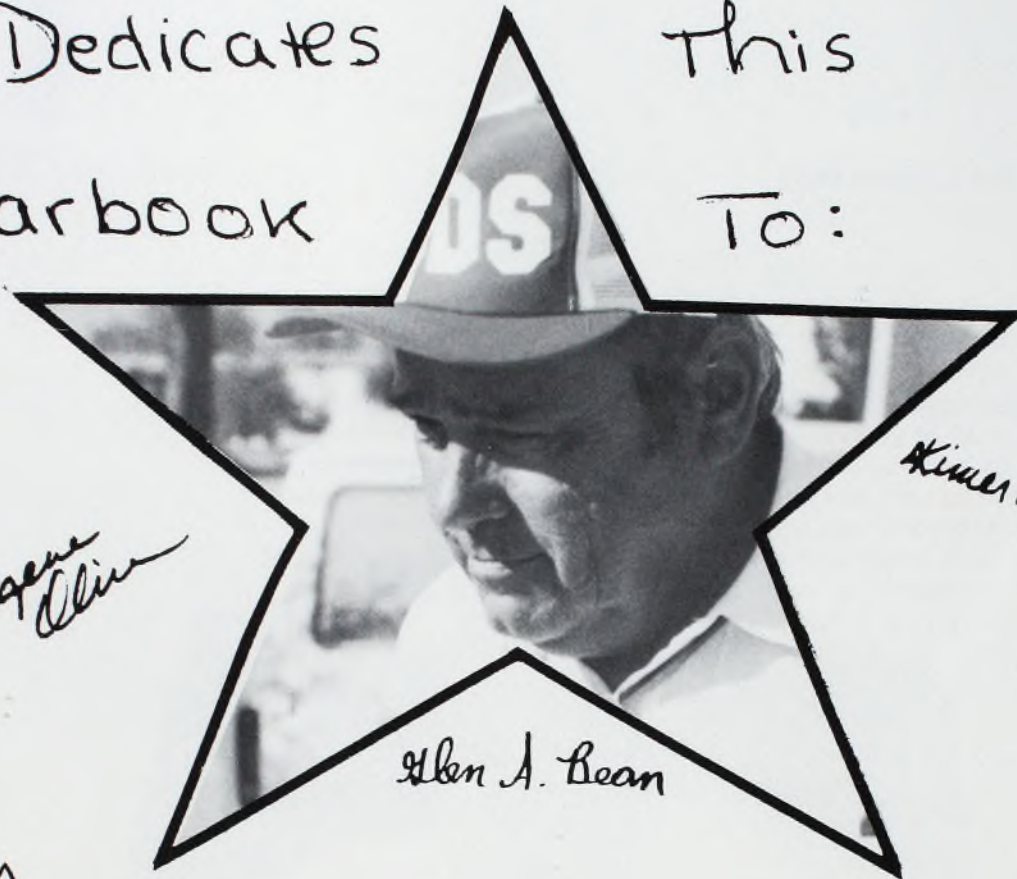

Sincerely,

Joel C. Monell

The time has come for closing books
And long last looks must end,
And as I leave I know that I Am leaving my best friend;
A friend who taught me right from wrong,
And weak from strong, that's a lot to learn.
What can I give you in return?
If you wanted the moon I would try To make a start, but I would rather give My heart "To Sir, with love."

Those awkward years have hurried by.
Why did they fly away?
Why is it, Sir, children grow up
To be people one day?
What takes the place of climbing trees,
And dirty knees in the world outside?
What is there for you I could buy?
If you wanted the world I'd surround it
With a wall. I'd scrawl these words
With letters ten feet tall, "To Sir, with love."

Douglas P. Dalglish

Peace demands solutions, but we never reach living solutions; we only work towards them. A fixed solution is, by definition, a dead solution. The trouble with peace is that it tends to punish mistakes instead of rewarding brilliance.

Any path which narrows future possibilities may become a lethal trap. Humans are not threading their ways through a maze; they scan a vast horizon filled with unique opportunities. The narrowing viewpoint of the maze should appeal only to creatures with their noses buried in the ground.

I watch the little children play, and I don't want to say goodbye.
 Just for a moment we hug, and tears well up in my eyes.
 Then they return to the sandbox, not knowing the sorrow in my heart.
 I understand the carefree world of little children,
 I slip away there myself.
 A place where time has no meaning, and you only exist between hellos and goodbyes.
 Now, as I turn and watch the faces,
 I know that I will miss the laughter.
 But, one day they will understand, why the time between goodbye and hello seems forever.

To Kimer and Lisa,

The river twists and turns, bending to become unified and whole. The uneasy sound of thunder, then a crack of lightning steals across the sky, and the river grows. Maturing and moving in many directions.

Every now and then, the calm of a pool appears, followed by rapidly flowing waters. The river becomes a sea.
 A sea of time and substance,
 A sea of thought and concern
 A sea of understanding and
 A sea of life, to hold in our hearts always.

Though much is taken, much abides; and though WE are not now the strength which in old days Moved earth and heaven, that which we are, we are; One equal temper of heroic hearts, Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will To strive, to seek,
 to find and not to yield.

Lord Alfred Tennyson

Remember me when I am gone away,
Gone far away into the silent land;
When you can no more hold me by the hand,
Nor I half turn to go, yet turning stay.
Remember me when no more, day by day,
You tell me of our future that you planned;
Only remember me; you understand
It will be late to counsel then or pray.
Yet if you should forget me for a while
And afterwards remember, do not grieve;
For if the darkness and corruption leave
A vestige of the thoughts that once I had,
Better by far you should forget and smile
Than that you should remember and be sad.

What can I say to someone who has meant so much?
Someone who has shown the true meaning of respect, caring, and laughter.
How about... I love you, friend.

Take the lilies and the Lace

All the willow winding paths
Leading up and outward
This is what I give
This is what I ask you for Nothing more.

To Mom and Dad:
Joy, Sympathy, Support, and Abundant Love.
These are the beautiful gifts you give,
asking nothing in return.
Though you can no longer protect me, please find comfort in the knowledge that you have well prepared me
for what is yet to come.
I am proud of you,
I respect you, and I love you with all

In the sand at the shore in the sunshine I saw
 Some children constructing a castle.
 Its fortified turrets, its drawbridge and all
 Suggested a haven from hassles.
 Retreat to your castle, your magic sand castle,
 Where things that you wish will come true.
 Illusions and daydreams, pipe-dreams, and schemings
 The things that you wish, you can do.

When things get too tough, and you've had just enough,
 And you think you can't take one thing more,
 Just think of that day, that relaxed summer day
 In the sand in the sun at the shore.

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded.

ACTIVITIES

THE ADVISORY BOARD

Mr. James Bruning, Mr. Robert Wilson, Susan Lively, Karla Earnhardt, Matt Gregory, Jeff Weiss, Susan Pitre, Robert Ranucci, Stuart Frische, and Stan Casselman.

The Advisory Board opened an account through the office, that any organization can contribute to. The money is being saved until enough is accumulated to finance a student lounge. It is hoped that clubs and classes will make an effort to raise extra money through their activities, and contribute to this account. The board is also continuing the traditional softball tournament in May.

The P.C.D.S. Spanish Club, consisting of Upper School students, has been instrumental in sponsoring the famous Taco Festival each spring and selecting the Taco Queen. The Spanish Club also sponsors a trip for members each year to a site of hispanic historic interest. Spanish Club members can be seen running about the campus throughout the year raising funds for their projects. The most recent of which was a candy sale for a trip to California.

NEW HORIZONS

During March of each year, Upper School students and faculty participate in the New Horizons program. New Horizons offers our students a unique two weeks. The program focuses on four areas- the Shadow Program of career internships and community service, wilderness exploration, national and international travel, and a selection of alternative on-campus courses. New Horizons emphasizes learning-by-doing. The program seeks to enhance student's self-esteem and self-confidence; increase their independence, responsibility, and motivation; and add to their awareness and appreciation of learning as a life long process. Paul Schweikher directs New Horizons and specifically monitors the Shadow Program. Robert Wilson coordinates the wilderness outings. James Bruning plans the international travel, and James Roof oversees the on-campus courses.

This year, New Horizons was highlighted by a one-week Congressional seminar in Washington D.C., backpacking the Grand Canyon and Bryce and Zion National Parks, a natural sciences tour of the west coast, and a museum tour from Los Angeles to San Francisco.

TRAP AND SKEET

The P.C.D.S. Trap and Skeet program was the first in the state of Arizona to be granted Varsity status. Since its inception in 1973, many P.C.D.S. students have been introduced to this popular lifetime sport.

All participants must complete a firearms training program prior to entering formal competition. P.C.D.S. shooters over the years have distinguished themselves in local, state and national competition.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

This year P.C.D.S. participated in the 18th annual Arizona Model United Nations session held on February 8th and 9th at the University of Arizona. The AMUN program is designed to provide a forum where students may experience international diplomacy through simulation, to increase awareness of other cultures and peoples, to better understand the foreign policy of our own government, to better understand the purposes, principles and functions of the United Nations, to provide experience in public speaking in an international political forum, and to provide an opportunity to meet students from other parts of Arizona in an intellectually, stimulating environment.

Founded in 1963, the AMUN has provided a rewarding educational experience for thousands of high school delegates representing schools throughout the state. This year, twenty-two students represented Iran and India.

The soccer team began its season losing the first 2 out of 3 games. After having a change of coach, the team spirit seemed to hav diminished. The team went on to win its next six games in a row, under their new coach, Rolf Micola, and the rest of the season continued successfully, ending with an exceptional winning record. In post-season play, P.C.D.S. played Judson for the A.A.I.A. Championship, but lost 5-3. The supporters of the soccer team were greater in number, than ever before.

The Volleyball Team has become a group of talented girls with the help and support of Georgia Buelow. The team went to the championships with a 6 wins and 8 losses record. The girls spirit is shown on and off the court with a 110% effort (as Buelow would say). The senior class volleyball players wish the rest of the team "good luck" and a possible championship without us!

The Girls' Varsity Softball Team began their season with a come-from-behind victory against Western Christian. The final score was 22-17. Midway through the game, P.C.D.S. bats came alive while the defense made sterling plays in the field. Congratulations on a fine start!

I believe that every right implies a responsibility, every opportunity, and obligation, every possession, a duty.

J.D. Rockefeller

To make no mistakes is not in the power of man; but from their errors and mistakes the wise and good learn wisdom for the future.

PLUTARCH

Whatever else you do or forbear impose upon yourself the task of happiness; and now and then abandon yourself to the joy of laughter.

M. Ehrmann

The grand essentials to happiness in this life are something to do, someone to love, and something to hope for.

Joseph Addison

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded."

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause, who at best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who, at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those timid souls who know neither victory or defeat.

-Theodore Roosevelt

PHOENIX COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL
KINDERGARTEN
1968

And a woman who held a babe against her bosom said, Speak to us of Children.

And he said:

Your children are not your children.

They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself.

They come through you but not from you,

And though they are with you yet they belong not to you.

You may give them your love but not your thoughts,

For they have thoughts of their own.

You may house their bodies but not their souls,

For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.

For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth.

The archer sees the mark upon the path of the infinite, and He bends you with His might that His arrows may go swift and far.

Let your bending in the archer's hand be for gladness;

For even as He loves the arrow that flies, so He loves also the bow that is stable.
