ONLINE ESCAPE ROOM DAN VR JOB INTERVIEW SIMULATOR

CELC presents

From Essays to Interviews: Using Digital Innovation to Teach Communication

Dr. Umi Kalsom Masrom

Wednesday, October 1, 2025, 3:00 - 4:00pm | CELC Hybrid Room

Abstract

Preparing students for study and work requires supporting them in developing both academic and professional communication skills. In academic writing, learners must master processes such as planning, drafting, and constructing evidence-based arguments. This session will showcase the use of an online escape room to make the learning more interactive and engaging.

On the professional side, the focus is on workplace readiness, especially in areas such as job applications, interviews, and meeting skills. The session will also demonstrate how Virtual Reality (VR) technology can be used to simulate job interview experiences, providing students with a safe yet authentic environment to practise and refine their communication. Together, these examples show how technology-enhanced practices can be applied to enrich both academic and professional communication, helping students build confidence and competence across contexts.
