Chanel Philosophy

Mara Cappelletti

This is the story of a woman who rewrote the rules of fashion with her philosophy and her legendary maison – Chanel. Gabrielle 'Coco' Chanel forever changed the way women dress, move and perceive themselves. As a uniquely empowered female couturier, she created a timeless style, giving life to garments and accessories that are now among the most recognizable in our cultural landscape. Chanel Philosophy is a visual exploration of Chanel's impact on womenswear, as well as the designer's innovative vision of accessories and jewelry, areas where she showed a level of daring far above that of any traditional jeweler at the time. Through archival materials, historical models and exclusive interviews, this book unveils the secrets of a luxury practical and timeless elegance.

Cool Mothers

An Appreciation of Style

Terry Newman

Some mothers are punk. Others are hippies, chic power dressers or free-spirited bohemians. Many resist labels altogether. These richly illustrated pages offer a joyful celebration of our mothers' clothes and how their style choices – practical, political or deeply personal – left a lasting imprint on the culture around us. Cool Mothers: An Appreciation of Style places maternal style exactly where it belongs: at the center of fashion history. A jacket, a handbag, a hairclip, a bracelet worn every day for decades... these details define our mothers as women of their time, subtly revealing the person beyond the role of motherhood, what they resisted, what they embraced, and how they balanced selfhood with responsibility. Perfect for mothers, fashion lovers and anyone interested in the rich intersection of motherhood, identity and dress. Featuring such distinctly stylish mothers as Angela Missioni, Elizabeth Taylor, Josephine Baker, Princess Diana, Vivienne Westwood, Courtney Love and many others.

A chic and witty celebration of what our mothers wore and how their style choices reflected, challenged and shaped the world around them.

London. In Fashion

Pierre Toromanoff

London is the most diverse of all the great fashion megacities, drawing from a vast palette of cultures, artistic disciplines and historical references to produce some of the world's best loved and most influential trends. From the flappers of the 1920s to the swinging '60s, from punks and new romantics to the 21st-century modes of sustainability and representation, the storied British capital has made a habit of crystalizing youthful rebellion by wearing its identity on the outside. Home to Vivienne Westwood, Burberry and Palace, iconic stores like Harrods, Harvey Nichols and Selfridges, as well as some of the most famous fashion streets on Earth, including Carnaby Street, King's Road, Savile Row and many more. London. In Fashion is an unmissable opportunity to walk among London's trendsetters without leaving your own home.

Guía Domingo: Tacos Monterrey

Pedro Reyes. Edited by Nicholas Meehan,
Alberto Rassam

Guía Domingo: Tacos Monterrey is the fourth volume of a project born to celebrate one of Mexico's most powerful shared rituals: tacos. In a city shaped by fire, work, and character, taco culture takes on a distinct identity—direct, generous, and deeply rooted in tradition. This volume explores Monterrey through its taquerías through vivid photography and engaging prose: places defined by mastery of the grill, respect for the tortilla, and a relentless pursuit of flavor. Each selection reflects not trends, but substance—legacy spots, new voices, and tacos that speak clearly of where they come from. Built through careful research and close collaboration with the city's taco community, this book lives at the intersection of food, photography, design, and culture. More than a guide, Guía Domingo: Tacos Monterrey is a record of how Monterrey eats, gathers, and expresses itself—one taco at a time.

The Architecture of John Russell Pope Selected Works: Houses

John Russell Pope. Text by Royal Cortissoz

John Russell Pope is one of America's most famous architects, responsible for many major works, including the Jefferson Memorial, the House of the Temple and the West Building of the National Gallery of Art. This book, The Architecture of John Russell Pope, Selected Works: Houses, is the first volume of a two-part monograph, to be followed by a volume on public buildings. Made in association with the ICAA, this is a lavishly illustrated study of Pope's extraordinary house designs, often inspired by classical European architecture, standing proudly among his achievements as the crown jewels in many of the USA's most vaunted ZIP codes. Houses include: the residence of Ogden Mills, Woodbury, Long Island; Moses and Edith Taylor's Glen Manor House, Portsmouth, Rhode Island; Charlcote House, built for James Swan Frick in the suburbs of Baltimore; the now lost Oak Hill mansion, Jericho, Long Island; and Brodhead-Bell-Morton Mansion (aka Morton House) in the exclusive Logan Circle area of Washington DC.

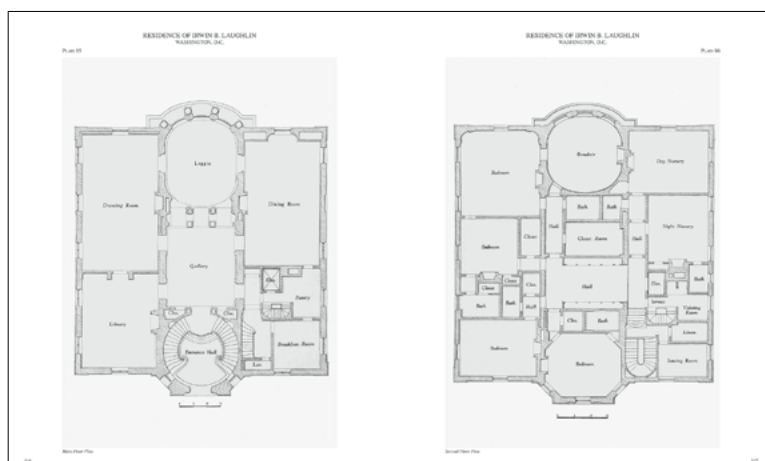

The highly anticipated first volume of an essential, two-part monograph, covering the buildings designed by John Russell Pope, one of America's most famous architects.

Coastal Villas Luxury Living on the Gulf Coast

Geoff Chick

This gorgeous publication presents a collection of luxurious villas designed by Geoff Chick & Associates in the tradition of timber-framed vernacular style of Florida's nineteenth- and twentieth-century architecture. From minimalist retreats poised on the edge of the surf to sprawling family homes nestled among pine forests, these residences are a poetic reinterpretation of the Gulf Coast's vernacular through a contemporary architectural lens. Presented as a large-format hardback book, Coastal Villas: Luxury Living on the Gulf Coast is a celebration of architecture tailored to the Gulf Coast's complex interplay of delicate ecosystems, relentless sun, and occasional hurricanes.

Wild Comfort Contemporary Homes in the Wilderness

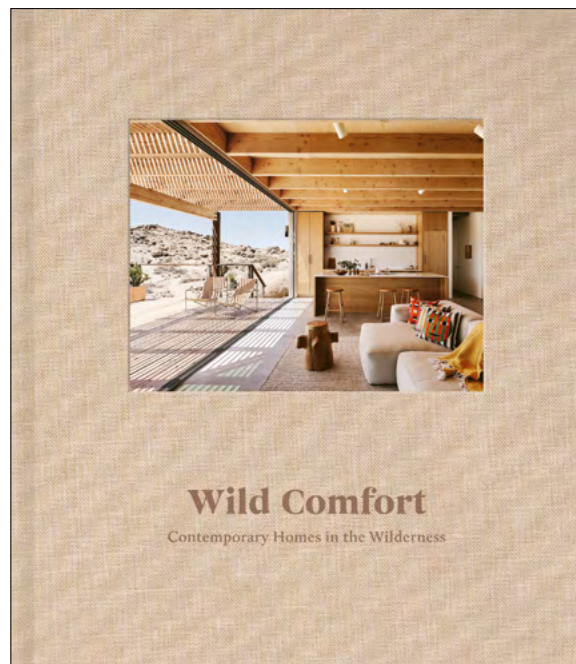

Jim Olson, FAIA. Edited by Images Publishing

Wild Comfort: Contemporary Homes in the Wilderness showcases thirty exceptional residences in some of the world's most breathtaking and unspoiled natural landscapes. Designed by leading architects, the houses range from minimalist cabins to luxury residences, each offering a place of refuge within the vast wilderness. Perched on rocky archipelagos, enshrouded in dense forests, and nestled in sun-scorched deserts, these homes are exposed to the elements. Yet each is sensitively designed to blend with the environment and withstand their unique conditions. Wild Comfort celebrates architecture in harmony with nature.

Old Westbury Gardens

Days of Grace on Long Island

Clive Aslet

Old Westbury Gardens: Days of Grace on Long Island honors the life and legacy of the house that Jay Phipps built to woo his English love, Dita Grace. In his efforts to secure her hand in marriage, he promised to recreate the world of elegance, gardens, and dogs that she had known in Sussex. She said "Yes"—and the rest is Westbury. Designed in 1906 by English connoisseur and family friend George Crawley, the house was furnished with British antiques and craftsmanship, with gardens planted under Dita's discerning eye. Of the hundreds of mansions built on Long Island around the turn of the twentieth century, Old Westbury Gardens is now unique—the only one preserved in its original condition. In 1959, Peggie Phipps Boegner generously placed Old Westbury Gardens in trust, in memory of her mother, Dita, so that the public could enjoy the place where she herself had been so happy. Maintained to the highest standards of authenticity, it is now a showcase of architecture, horticulture, and the decorative arts.

A unique exploration of Old Westbury Gardens, tracing the creation and preservation of one of Long Island's most important historic estates.

Old Town Style Inside Alexandria's Most Beautiful Historic Homes

Robert F. Weinhaven

Step beyond Old Town Alexandria's historic brick facades and gas lamps to discover a world of timeless architectural beauty in Old Town Style. This comprehensive volume showcases over 40 extraordinary period homes, from a rustic Colonial Sea Captain's house to an elegant Federal townhome and a transformed 18th-century bank turned private residence. Many featured homes are published here for the first time, offering an intimate look into Alexandria's best-preserved historic treasures. Blending personal renovation stories, decorating insights, and rich historical context, the book provides lasting design inspiration while emphasizing architectural preservation. Acclaimed photographer Erik Kvalsvik's vibrant full-color images reveal diverse interior styles—from Jacobean and early American to mid-century modern—and highlight intricate exterior details. Intimate glimpses of secret walled gardens add enchantment. Written by Robert F. Weinhaven, Jr., president of the Historic Alexandria Foundation, and his Book Committee, Old Town Style celebrates one of America's most beautiful historic towns and the passionate stewards preserving its legacy.

Discover America's past through the historic homes of Alexandria, Virginia, in this evocative tribute to timeless architecture and design.

1925-2025. Cent ans d'Art déco

Anne Monier Vanryb

On the occasion of the centenary of the Exhibition of Modern Decorative and Industrial Arts in 1925, this catalog celebrates one of the major design styles of the 20th century. Protean and elusive, this movement brings together a range of modern forms, patterns, materials and techniques used by designers such as Jean Puiforcat, Maurice Marinot, Suzanne and René Lalique, Pierre Chareau, Jacques-Émile Ruhlmann, André Groult and others. Through eight essays, this groundbreaking catalog covers the many incarnations of Art Deco, from its beginnings in the 1910s to its contemporary reinterpretations. It draws on a rich iconography that showcases Art Deco masterpieces from the collections of the Musée des Arts Décoratifs and others, through magnificent full-page reproductions and previously unpublished details. Monet

Marianne Mathieu

With exhibitions around the world and extensive media attention, the centenary of Monet's passing in 2026 will be celebrated with due fanfare; and this luxurious book is a fitting and timely accompaniment, covering all of Monet's key works in a beautifully presented, large-format monograph. Claude Monet, who remains one of the world's best-known and beloved artists, spent 70 of his 86 years with paintbrush in hand, drawing strength from constant renewal from reinvention. He embodied the beginnings of Impressionism, then defined it. Few artists have enjoyed such longevity or demonstrated such inventiveness. Monet traces this career, drawing on a rich iconography that includes the 'must haves' as well as lesser-known and sometimes surprising works.

A sumptuous, large-format monograph in the centenary year of the artist's death, one of the key figures of modern art.

Painting the French Riviera

Kenneth E. Silver, Richard Thomson, Aymeric Jeudy, Belinda Thomson, Marilyn McCully, Heather Lemonedes Brown, Jean-Louis Andral, William H. Robinson, Ann Dumas

The Mediterranean coast of France witnessed the rise and development of modern art over a century, from Cézanne in the 1860s to Matisse, Picasso and Klein in the 1950s and 1960s. These artists and the many more featured here discovered an inexhaustible source of inspiration in this storied region, whose glittering, languid sea stretches out towards the far horizon beneath brilliant azure skies. Published to accompany an exhibition at the Royal Academy, London, from 2 October, 2026 to 31 January, 2027, moving to the Cleveland Museum of Art from March, 2027.

Pierre Bonnard and His Dogs

Stéphane Guégan

Pierre Bonnard and His Dogs offers a fresh perspective on the painter's work through the central place his dogs held within it. Present in his photographs, drawings, and paintings—from his Nabi beginnings to his final years in Le Cannet—they accompanied both his artistic journey and his private life. Drawing on rare sources, Stéphane Guégan shows how these companions shaped Bonnard's vision: they animate his compositions, disrupt perspective, and bring movement, tenderness, and moral reflection. As the fourth title in the Amigos Forever series, it sheds new light on one of the most sensitive painters of the twentieth century and reveals how, through his dogs, Bonnard reflected on creation, freedom, and the vital connection uniting all living beings.

Aston Martin Bulldog The World's First Hypercar?

Simon de Burton

The Aston Martin Bulldog is a car that should never have existed. It was conceived as a concept car in the late 1970s with the hope that it would go into production as the first road car capable of breaking the 200-mph barrier. They missed that speed due to lack of space and the car never entered production. Instead, the sole prototype spent the next 40 years bouncing from one owner to another, gradually deteriorating in condition. That is, until 2019. Hundreds of never-seen-before photographs from the Aston Martin Archive, as well as new photography by experienced car photographer Amy Shore, chronicle the lifecycle of this incredible car.

Iconic Car Museums

Yan-Alexandre Damasiewicz

Iconic Car Museums invites you on a journey along the 25 most beautiful car museums in the world —from intimate private collections to vast manufacturer museums, from single-brand shrines to institutions telling the full history of the automobile. Each museum is a place that elevates cars to works of art and, in each museum, architecture is an integral part of the experience. Through striking photographs, you will discover iconic cars, visionary buildings and the stories that connect them. These museums are not just collections, they are temples in which engineering, design and emotion come together.

Porsche Rebels Legends Reborn as Restomods

Bill Schwartz

Porsche Rebels: Legends Reborn as Restomods presents the best of the best from the exciting world of reimagined and customized Porsches. Showcasing 30 elite brands with over 100 models, with premium photography, this timely volume reveals one of the most dynamic trends in the global automotive industry. The restomod boom represents a cultural shift to bespoke automotive artistry. Fusing classic models with cutting-edge technology requires an almost impossible level of creativity and workmanship. The resulting builds are configured to shine as brightly on today's roads as the original models did in their own time, frequently testing every technical limit imaginable. As refined as the machines themselves, this definitive roll call of restomods is perfect for petrol-heads, Porsche enthusiasts and every other ilk of car lover.

Superyacht Inside the world's most incredible superyachts

Peter Martin

From the bay of Saint-Tropez to the remote waters of Antarctica, a new generation of superyachts is reshaping the culture of contemporary seafaring. Through sculptural exteriors and meticulously conceived interiors, Superyacht reveals the extraordinary skill and artisanship elevating every element of these floating residences: the cabins and salons, spas and beach clubs, staterooms and terraces. Unfolding through sumptuous photography, the story is told through in-depth interviews with the world's leading design studios, including Nuvolari Lenard, Winch Design, Sinot, Liaigre and Raymond Langton; interior designers such as Bryan O'Sullivan and M2atelier; and master shipyards including the Ferretti Group, Feadship, Tankoa, Sanlorenzo, Damen, Admiral and Lürssen. A beautifully produced edition with over 300 large-format images, Superyacht is the definitive survey of the aesthetics and ambitions driving the new era of luxury yacht design.

Superyacht is the definitive photographic bible of the world's most incredible superyachts, told through interviews with the designers and shipyards that create them.

The Essence of Ferrari Unfolded

Arianna Previtera

Ferrari — a symbol of Italian artistry, innovation, and unrelenting pursuit of excellence. Since Enzo Ferrari founded the brand in 1947, the Prancing Horse has stood not just for performance, but for a way of life defined by style, emotion, and craftsmanship. The Essence of Ferrari: Unfolded celebrates this spirit in all its forms — from the sculpted curves of the 250 GTO and LaFerrari to the precision engineering that turns mechanical movement into poetry. Through breathtaking photography and insightful storytelling, the book explores the DNA of Ferrari: design, speed, sound, and the people who live for them. It delves into the creative worlds of designers, drivers, engineers, and dreamers, capturing how Ferrari continues to merge technology and beauty in perfect harmony. Beyond the racetrack, the book unfolds Ferrari's cultural impact.

The Essence of Porsche 911 Unfolded

Sharon Kleinman

For more than six decades, the Porsche 911 has been more than a car — it is a cultural symbol of design, performance, and passion. From the first sketches in Stuttgart to the modern GT3 and Turbo S, the 911 has defined what it means to drive, to create, and to feel. The Essence of Porsche 911: Unfolded takes readers on a visual and emotional journey through the legacy of this timeless machine. With stunning photography, insightful essays, and stories from designers, engineers, and enthusiasts, the book explores what makes the 911 unique — its sculpted lines, air-cooled heritage, racing DNA, and unmistakable silhouette. It is a tribute to precision and emotion in perfect balance — the fusion of art and mechanics that only Porsche can achieve. From the racetrack to the open road, from vintage classics to the latest innovations, every page celebrates the 911 as more than an automobile — it is a living legend.

The Genius of Rei Kawakubo: The woman who founded Comme des Garçons

Terry Newman

In The Genius of Rei Kawakubo, author Terry Newman celebrates a designer that is revered as the most avant-garde and experimental in the world. Having created a fashion label that is a global inspiration and one of the few independent brands still run by its founder, Rei Kawakubo infuses her designs with the philosophies of Mu-Ma and Wabi-Sabi to create clothes that are truly special. Beginning with Kawakubo's early days when she began developing her brand in Japan, The Genius of Rei Kawakubo goes on to look at her principles of anti-fashion and the art of imperfection, including seminal design details from some of her key collections. With chapters on Kawakubo's collaborations with other designers, her shops, perfumes, and lots more, this book presents the brand and its founder in all its glorious detail.

Yumi Katsura

The Fairy Godmother of Japanese Fashion

Cori Coppola, Kristin Coppola

Yumi Katsura could be the greatest fashion designer you've never heard of. One of the world's bestselling luxury wedding-dress designers, as well as a celebrated couturier, she was venerated in her native Japan as a cultural icon and an inspirational business leader. Among her most celebrated pieces are a paper 'washi mode' dress housed in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, a vestment worn by Pope John Paul II and a diamond-laden wedding gown ranked among the most expensive of all time. This beautifully illustrated biography tells the story of the woman who single-handedly created Japan's modern wedding industry, turning centuries of tradition on its head. Written by Cori Coppola – producer of the acclaimed documentary House of Cardin – with co-author Kristin Coppola, this lavish fashion biography is a must-have for critics, connoisseurs and couture fans.

A long overdue—and authorized—illustrated fashion biography on one of Japan's most celebrated wedding couturiers.

Gered Mankowitz: Photograph

Gered Mankowitz, foreword by Annie Lennox

Gered Mankowitz is among the most important, prolific and hard-working photographers of the last century. Timed for release on the eve of his 80th birthday, Photographs is his most comprehensive book yet, encompassing 65 years of an illustrious career from 1960-2025, with classic, rare and never-before-seen imagery. Mankowitz made a name for himself in London's burgeoning Swinging Sixties scene, working with Marianne Faithfull, The Rolling Stones, Jimi Hendrix. With accompanying text from the photographer, a natural storyteller, Gered Mankowitz: Photographs reveal an artist in constant conversation with his medium, adapting his craft and remaining relevant in an ever-evolving industry.

One of the most important photographers of the last 65 years reveals the stories behind his celebrated images in his most comprehensive collection yet.

America's Hometown Movie Theaters Please Remain Standing

Benita VanWinkle

For more than 40 years, Benita VanWinkle has traveled the country photographing hometown movie theaters and drive-ins built before 1965 as part of her ongoing documentary project Please Remain Standing—a visual appeal to preserve these historic treasures. VanWinkle has recorded the astonishing range of these iconic structures, from repurposed Quonset huts to grand movie palaces. An impressive 512 full-page photographs, selected from the thousands VanWinkle has made to date, document 395 present and former movie theaters and drive-ins and conjure a time when Americans embraced the communal experience of going out to the movies—a few hours in which shared laughter and tears unite strangers.

A Sea of Stillness Scenes from Italian Shores

Raf Maes

Entrepreneur Raf Maes is a talented photographer and a devoted lover of Italy. During his travels along the coasts of Amalfi, Sicily, and other stunning corners of the peninsula, his Leica is always around his neck. What Maes's eye perceives, he captures in a way that is uniquely his own: dreamlike, slightly mysterious, and framed to reveal not everything, only the essence. Light always plays the leading role. This beautiful photo book brings together his finest images. There is little text, though each location is identified in a separate section at the back, making the book not only a visual journey, but also a source of inspiration for your next trip to Italy.

The Story of the America's Cup 1851-2024

Ranulf Rayner, Tim Thompson

The America's Cup has been the world's most prestigious yacht race for over 170 years. This beautifully illustrated and fully updated new edition tells the story of the cup from its inception through to the most recent race, held in 2024. Named in 1851 in honor of the first winner (New York pilot, 'America'), the Cup was dominated by American yachts for well over a century. With a painting of each race since 1851, by marine artist Tim Thompson, and detailed descriptions of the boats involved, The Story of the America's Cup 1851-2024 is an elegant, insightful celebration of a storied contest.

The New York City Street Tree Tarot

Matthew López-Jensen

New York City has 700,000 street trees. These trees are asked to work harder than others, doing more with less. They provide shade, absorb stormwater, create microclimates, and dampen loud urban sounds. Like still lifes, they symbolize larger ideas and profound histories. Eight years in the making, The New York City Street Tree Tarot deck can be used like any other tarot deck. However, users are encouraged to interpret the cards in their own way as they read the accompanying texts and guide words. This allows them to develop new patterns and ways of interacting with the iconography. For fans of tarot, nature, environmental science, and New York City.

Motherhood

Nell Frizzell

The fourth title in the growing Pocket Primers series, Motherhood brings together 60 bite-size topics under this particular subject. For so much of history, motherhood has been sidelined as cozy and domestic, yet motherhood shapes our societies and shared futures, whether or not we have children ourselves. From the science of breastfeeding to the politics of care, abortion rights to reproductive futurism, this book unpacks the drama, humor, history and controversy behind what it means to be a mother today.

111 Places in Women's History in Washington DC That You Must Not Miss [Revised Edition]

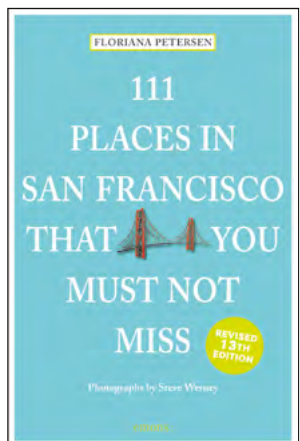

Kaitlin Calogera, Rebecca Grawl. Photographs by Cynthia Schiavetto Staliunas

As the District of Columbia evolved into one of the world's top tourist destinations, women emerged as pioneers and a town created to house the federal government matured into a gilded city affluent in feminist culture. This book records the legacies of these women and encourages readers to explore their names on headstones, street signs, and buildings, while also discovering where hidden history is unmarked.

Britain's Best Saunas

Lucie Grace

Saunas are replacing the pub as Britons' favorite pastime. They can be found everywhere, from rugged Pembrokeshire coastlines and Scottish islands to inner-city car parks. Some are so traditional, they could have been plucked from Helsinki; others put an innovative – and distinctly British – spin on things, with saunas in repurposed horseboxes and pub backrooms. Many are new, boasting dynamic community events (sweaty yoga, anyone?); some are as old as Britain's heritage spa towns. This book explores the very best of them.
