“Preparation is the difference between managing risk and being overcome by it.”

First-class resilience, response, and training, delivered by professionals.

From preparedness to response, we provide the expertise you can rely on.

Greater resilience, stronger teams, reduced risk, and measurable results.

About Us.

Sector 3 Group was founded by senior leaders from the fire and rescue, emergency medical, and high-risk industry sectors. Between us, we bring decades of operational experience in the UK Fire and Rescue Service, RAF Fire Service, military deployments, emergency medicine, and specialist rescue operations.

Our mission is simple - to provide dependable Resilience, rapid Response, and expert training to clients who can't afford to get it wrong. Our vision is to be the trusted partner for organisations across the UK seeking high-quality operational cover, specialist rescue, and training services.

Our values define us:

- Readiness – We prepare thoroughly so we can deliver when it matters.
- Integrity – We keep our word, act transparently, and earn trust.
- Excellence – We set high standards and meet them every time.
- Collaboration – We work alongside clients as part of their team.

"We've built a team with deep operational credibility. Our clients rely on us not just for what we can do, but for the confidence that we'll be there when they need us most." - Paul Bowyer, Director, Sector 3

Prehospital & Trauma Training

For those employed in high-risk sectors like construction, oil and gas, security, mining, or the fire service, holding a FREC 3, FREC 4, or Immediate Emergency Care (IEC) qualification is highly advantageous. These fields face a greater likelihood of workplace incidents, and having a trained first responder on hand can significantly improve the management and outcome of any emergency scenario.

At Sector 3 Group, we use realistic, scenario-based simulations to create an engaging and immersive learning experience. By replicating real operational situations, learners gain a solid understanding of the skills being taught. This approach allows them to apply their knowledge in a safe, supportive environment, preparing them for the real-world challenges they may face.

QA Level 3
First Response
Emergency Care

FREC 3

Throughout the course, you will acquire the competencies outlined in the PHEM skills framework at descriptor level D.

Additionally, you will gain practical experience in administering emergency oxygen, managing trauma patients, identifying major illnesses, and other vital competencies.

The Quallsafe First Response Emergency Care (FREC 3) (Level 3 RQF) is a five-day, nationally recognised and regulated qualification ideal for those working or volunteering as first responders. It is particularly relevant for firefighters, industrial fire teams, police officers, and medical personnel operating at events or in high-risk workplaces. This includes roles such as Emergency/Community First Responders, Door Supervisors, Close Protection Operatives, and Security Guards.

It is equally suited to personnel in high-risk environments such as the military, power stations, manufacturing, agriculture, and large-scale industrial or commercial sites.

Optional additional modules are available - including supraglottic airways, nasal naloxone, blood glucose monitoring, Pentrox, and Entonox - but can only be delivered where there is a genuine operational need and an appropriate clinical governance framework in place to support ongoing competence.

QA Level 4
First Response
Emergency Care

FREC 4

Throughout the FREC 4 course, you will develop advanced skills as outlined in the PHEM skills framework at descriptor level E. This course will enhance your abilities in managing complex trauma patients, advanced airway management, administering emergency medications, and dealing with major illnesses.

The Quallsafe First Response Emergency Care (FREC 4) (Level 4 RQF) is a nationally recognised and regulated qualification for those looking to advance their first responder skills. It is ideal for firefighters, industrial emergency response teams, medical personnel, and security professionals working in high-risk sectors such as oil and gas, power generation, manufacturing, construction, and the military.

Building on the foundations of FREC 3, this course develops the ability to manage complex casualties and incidents in high-pressure environments. Learners achieve the competencies set out in the PHEM skills framework at descriptor level E, including advanced airway management, trauma care, administration of emergency medications, and the management of major illnesses.
