RETREAT

WELCOME TO ISSUE #36

There's a quiet kind of anticipation that comes with travel—the moment the last zip on your suitcase closes and the world outside your door feels just a little bigger. This issue is dedicated to that feeling.

In these pages, we journey from secluded shores where mornings taste of sea salt and citrus, to cities that come alive under a canopy of neon and starlight. We slip into suites where every detail feels designed just for you, dive into pools that seem to spill into the horizon, and meet the creatives whose work captures the essence of a destination in a single frame.

We begin in Bali, where days are framed by emerald rice terraces and the slow rhythm of island life. From there, we follow the sun across the globe—slipping into breezy silhouettes along the shores of Greece, and embracing barefoot elegance on the beaches of Hawaii.

Consider this your passport to moments that feel suspended in time: a stolen hour by the water, an evening wrapped in the hum of a foreign street, the kind of view you'll carry with you long after you've left.

Here's to chasing beauty in every corner of the world—and finding it in the details.

Happy travels!

PLAY

THE COOL SIDE OF ROMANTIC

This season, beauty takes a quieter turn—sophisticated, romantic, and rooted in the kind of color story that feels more like a mood than a moment. Inspired by a dusky palette of Eclipse navy, warm Rum Raisin, moonlit neutrals, and misty Blue Granite, this edit captures the softness of twilight with just the right hint of edge.

These aren't your typical nudes—they're deeper, richer, and unexpectedly modern. From barely-there bone shadows to bold raisin lips, each tone tells a story. Think velvet finishes, soft sculpting, and hues that flatter every sun-kissed skin tone.

Let this be your beauty escape: tonal, touchable, and timeless.

ECLIPSE

Deep navy with inky undertones

For a sultry gaze that smoulders after sundown

Skip basic black and reach for navy instead. Whether smudged along the lash line or layered as a cream shadow, Eclipse brings intensity without harshness – bold but wearable, especially with bronzed skin.

Retreat Recommends:

- Gel liners in midnight blue
- Navy mascara for a subtle switch-up
- Indigo cream shadows with soft shimmer

RUM RAISIN

A rich, wine-meets-brown neutral

Lips like crushed berries under candlelight

Rum Raisin is the new red—moodier, deeper, and with that perfect mix of sultry and sophisticated. It's the lip shade you'll wear all season, from beach bar nights to rooftop dinners.

Retreat Recommends:

- Creamy satin lipsticks in raisin & burgundy
- Glossy stains in plum hues
- Lip liners in cocoa and wine

MOONBEAM

Soft pearl meets ivory beige

Lit-from-within skin with zero glitter required

This is highlight, refined. Use Moonbeam shades to sculpt and softly illuminate without shine – just diffused glow, like skin at golden hour. Perfect with minimal eye and lip.

Retreat Recommends:

- Cream-based highlighters in pearl
- Skin tints with a moonlit finish
- Ultra-light finishing powders in bone or ivory

ILIA, Super Serum Skin Tint SPF 40, $48

ICONIC LONDON, Radiant Concealer & Brightening Crayon Duo, $29

DIOR, Forever Nude Radiant Filter, $52

VICTORIA BECKHAM, Reflect Highlighter Stick, $42

BLUE GRANITE

Soft grey-blue with a lavender haze

A cool tone reimagined for warm weather escapes

Unexpected and ethereal, Blue Granite brings a dreamy wash to eyelids or nails. Try it solo or pair with bronze tones for a coastal-modern contrast.

Retreat Recommends:

- Grey-lavender eyeshadow pots
- Slate-toned pencils for subtle smoke
- Sheer polish in dusty indigo

Single Eyeshadow, $26

CLINIQUE, All About Shadow

MERIT, The Minimalist Perfecting Complexion Foundation and Concealer Stick, $38

RMS BEAUTY, Master Radiance Base, $40

STILA, Glisten & Glow Liquid Eye Shadow, $25

ANTIQUE WHITE

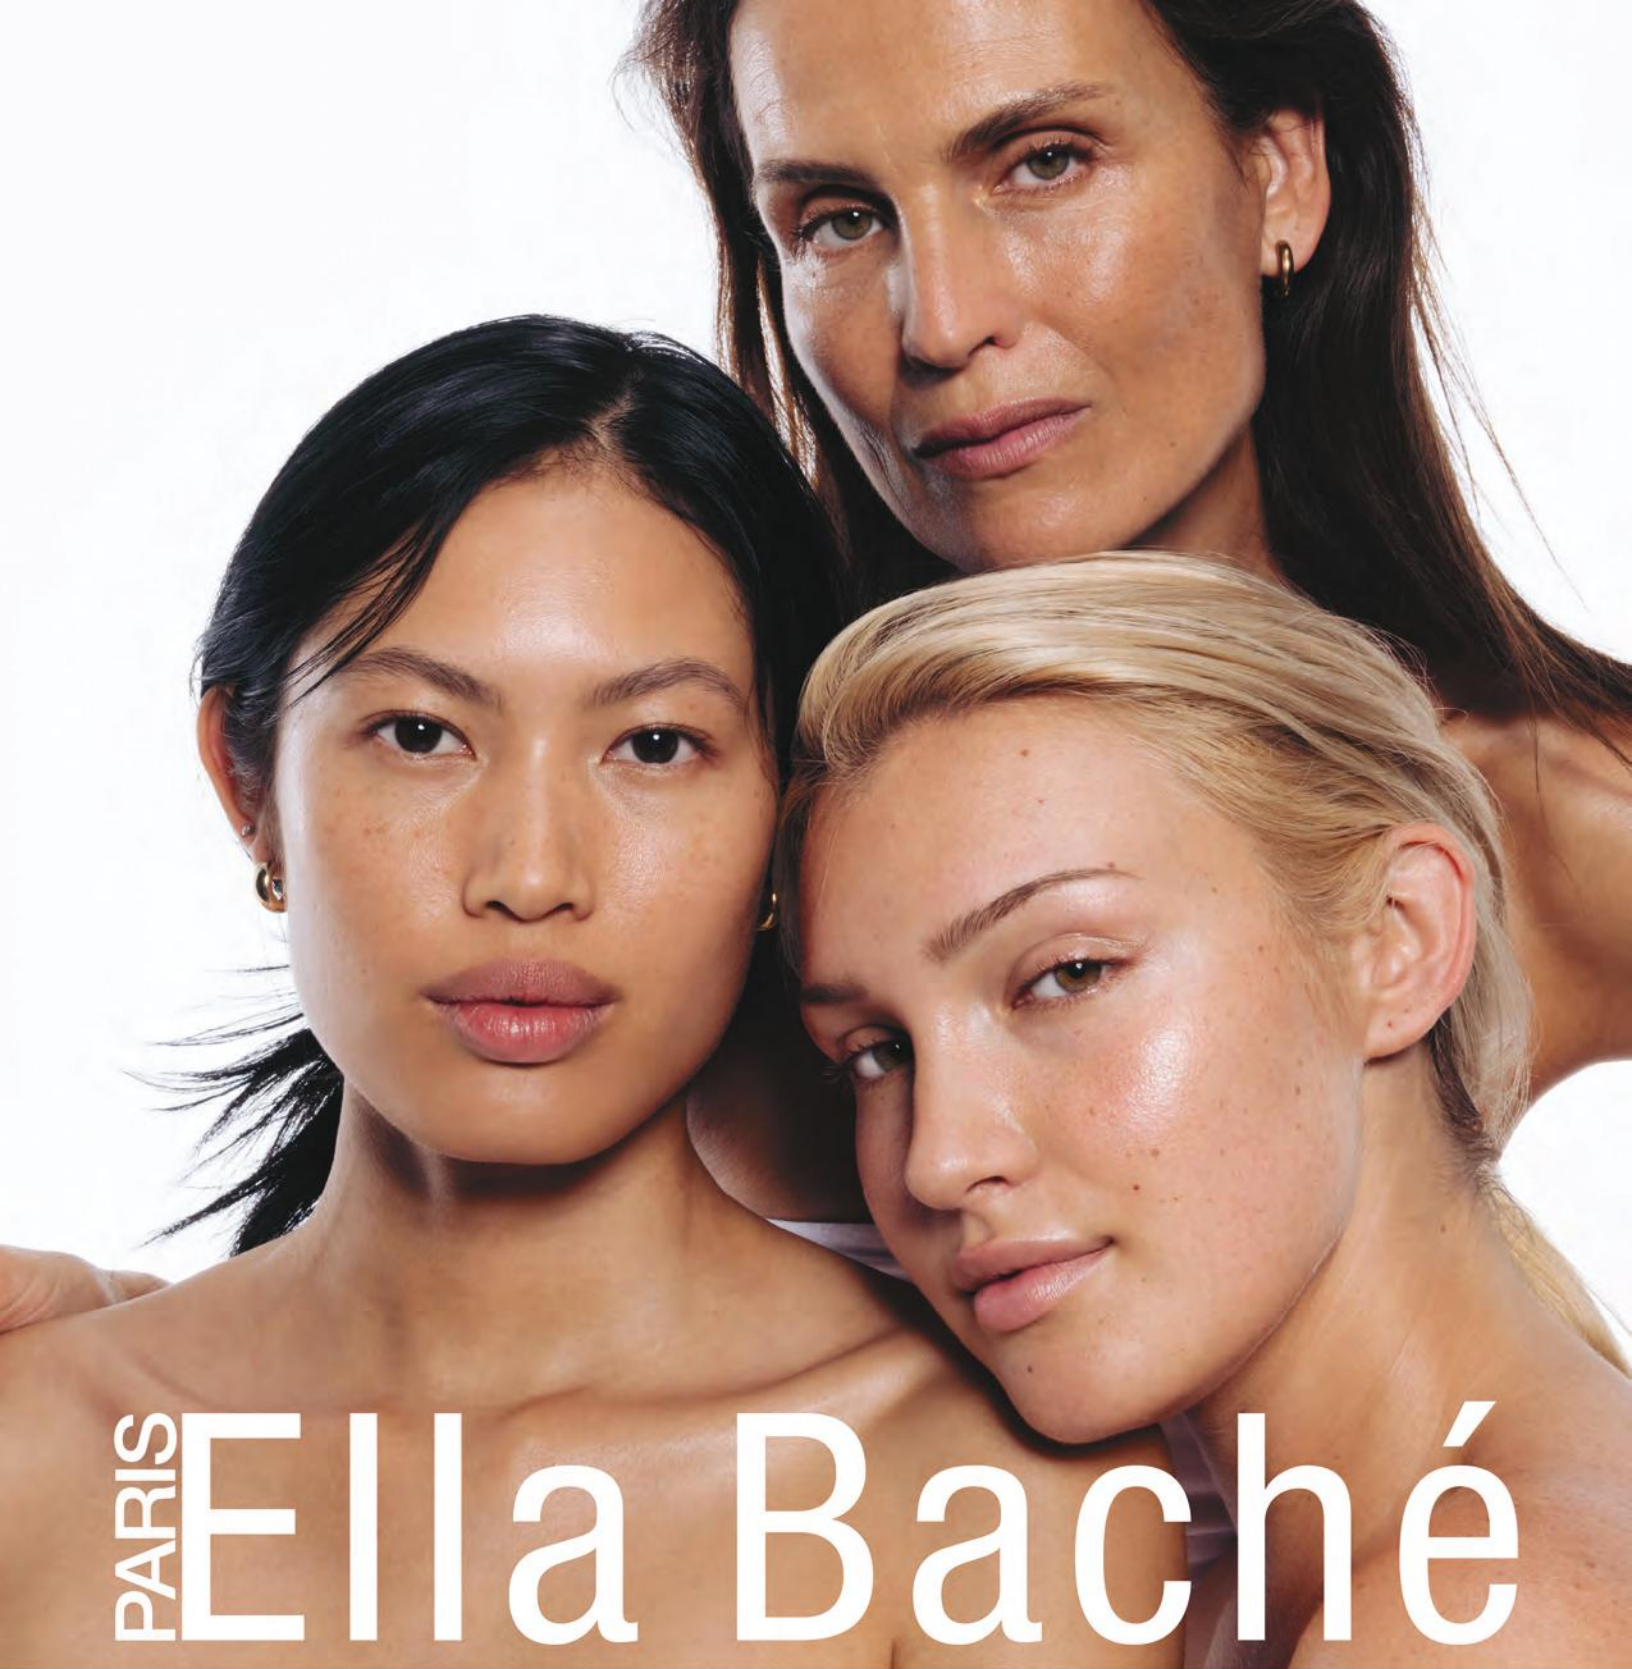

Barely-there bone and ivory

The ultimate base tone for soft sculpting

Elegant in its restraint, Antique White offers contrast, brightness, and versatility. Use it to lift the inner corners of the eye, dust under brows, or layer on lids for a clean, modern finish.

Retreat Recommends:

- Matte ivory eyeshadow
- White or vanilla eyeliner
- Cream highlighters with a matte base

BEAUTY

Luminous Layers

THE ART OF VACATION SKINCARE

A SMARTER, LIGHTER WAY TO CARE FOR YOUR SKIN WHILE YOU TRAVEL.

There's a quiet confidence in the woman who arrives radiant. Not just glowing from the sun or sea, but from a skincare routine that's intentional, efficient, and entirely edited. Vacation beauty doesn't ask for more—it asks for better.

This is where luminous layering comes in: a simplified, sensorial way of caring for your skin—no 10-step rituals, no over-packing—just lightweight textures, climate-smart ingredients and a bit of glow that moves with you.

Pre-Flight Prep

Good skin travel starts before takeoff. Exfoliate gently the night before, follow with a hydrating mask, and layer your favourite serum under a calming moisturiser. Think of it as giving your skin a cushion, especially if you're flying long-haul.

Editor's Tip: Avoid active ingredients like retinol or acids the night before travel. Stick with hydration and barrier support.

1. PAULA'S CHOICE, Youth-Extending Daily Hydrating Fluid, $393
2. AESOP, Immediate Moisture Facial Hydrosol, $27
3. BIODERMA, Sensibio H2O Micellar Water, $6
4. LANEIGE, Water Sleeping Mask, $32

In-Transit Essentials

Minimal products, maximum impact. A face mist keeps you refreshed mid-flight, while a lightweight serum hydrates without overwhelming the skin. A multi-use balm—for lips, hands, cuticles—is your secret weapon in dry cabin air.

Carry-on Ready: 3 TSA-sized staples. A mist, a serum, and one product that does it all.

1. TATCHA, Dewy Serum, $34
2. SUMMER FRIDAYS, Jet Lag Skin Soothing Hydration Mist, $22
3. DIOR, Luxury Travel Balm, $63

Destination Routine

Whether you're checking into a beach villa or city hotel, your skincare should adjust with you, not compete with your itinerary. Morning means a gentle cleanse, a hydrating or brightening serum, and a mineral SPF. At night, double-cleanse if you've worn SPF all day, then follow with a nourishing serum or light oil and a calming moisturiser.

Keep it clean, keep it consistent. The skin performs best with a few good products used well.

1. OLE HENRICKSEN, Truth Serum, $56
2. FARMACY, Green Clean Makeup Removing Cleansing Balm, $39
3. SUPERGOOP!, Glowscreen Sunlighter Glow & Protect Stick SPF 45, $32

Post-Sun Recovery

After a day in the sun (even with SPF), your skin needs to reset. Reach for a gel or cream mask with calming ingredients, and layer a rich balm at night to lock in moisture. Redness, tightness, or flaking? That's your cue to scale back and soothe.

Vacation Hero: A travel-sized calming cream with barrier support – perfect for sun-exposed skin or too much wind and salt.

1. TRUE BOTANICALS, Everything Rescue Balm, $38
2. FACILE, Barely There Lightweight Moisturizer, $25
3. LA MER, The Revitalizing Mist, $95

The 5-Piece Edit

Your vacation skincare capsule, reimaged:

- Gentle cleanser
- Morning serum (hydrating or brightening)
- Broad-spectrum SPF
- Evening oil or cream
- Multipurpose balm

1. Avène, Eau Thermale Avène Gentle Milk Cleanser, $22
2. TRILOGY, Everything Balm, $22
3. Caudalie, Hydrating Serum, $52
4. VACATION, Super Spritz SPF 50 Face Mist, $8
5. NUXE, Multi-Purpose Dry Oil, $32

Glow Goals

SKIN, SCIENCE, &
JET-SET BEAUTY

Photography by Rocky Barnes

From the clinic to the runway—and the perfect selfie—Dr. Kate Jameson embodies the effortless allure of radiant skin. Founder of Youth Lab, Australia's premier medical-led aesthetic clinic, she has mastered the art of balancing science, luxury, and indulgence to create results that are transformative yet undeniably natural. In an era dominated by filters and fleeting trends, Dr. Kate offers something rare: a thoughtful, evidence-based approach to beauty that celebrates individuality, subtlety, and timeless glow.

We sat down with Dr. Kate to explore her philosophy, favourite treatments, and the jet-set skincare rituals that keep her—and her clients—looking luminous around the globe.

SCIENCE MEETS LUXURY

"I've always been fascinated by the intersection of science, wellness, and aesthetic medicine," Dr. Kate explains, seated in her sleek, sunlit clinic. "I wanted to create a space that delivers results while fostering education, transparency, and trust. It's about empowering clients with knowledge and tailored care—helping them feel confident at every stage of life."

Youth Lab is more than a clinic; it is a philosophy. Every consultation is designed to understand not just the skin, but the lifestyle, ambitions, and aesthetic goals of each client. "Beauty isn't just a procedure—it's a journey," she says.

A CLINIC THAT REDEFINES AESTHETICS

"What sets Youth Lab apart is our commitment to integrity," Dr. Kate continues. "Every treatment is rooted in medical expertise and evidence-based practice. Our practitioners are educators as much as clinicians. We focus on long-term skin health over short-term trends, and every plan is fully personalised."

From clinical consultations to the state-of-the-art technology in the treatment rooms, Youth Lab exudes precision and care. Here, each decision is informed by research, results, and a deep respect for the skin's natural rhythm.

THE ART OF EFFORTLESS RESULTS

When it comes to injectables, Dr. Kate's ethos is subtlety. "The best results are the ones people don't notice—fresh, rested, and like the best version of yourself," she says. Current favourites include biostimulators such as Sculptra, skin boosters like Polynucleotides and Profhilo, and nuanced volume restoration in the mid-face, jawline, and temples.

"Clients want results that are natural, long-lasting, and require minimal downtime," she notes. "It's not about looking different; it's about looking effortlessly radiant."

FIRST-TIMERS: GUIDANCE FROM THE EXPERT

For newcomers to aesthetics, Dr. Kate is clear: "Do your research, choose a medically-led clinic, and book a consultation. Aesthetics is a journey, not a quick fix. Long-term planning with a practitioner who listens is essential for safe, beautiful results."

She emphasizes patience. "Transformative results aren't instant—they build over time. Understanding the process allows clients to invest in their skin rather than chasing trends."

INNOVATION INFORMED BY KNOWLEDGE

Every device and treatment at Youth Lab is backed by science. "We don't invest in gimmicks; we invest in what works," Dr. Kate explains. "Education is central. We show clients real results, explain the 'why,' and focus on transparency. When clients understand the science, they can make informed decisions and feel empowered."

This commitment extends from energy-based therapies to laser treatments. "These technologies stimulate collagen, tighten skin, and improve texture, complementing injectables beautifully. They're perfect for clients in their 30s and beyond seeking non-surgical rejuvenation."

TAILORED SOLUTIONS FOR EVERY CONCERN

Dr. Kate takes a layered approach to common skin concerns:

- Pigmentation: BBL and Halo lasers deliver dramatic yet natural results.
- Acne: LED therapy, Dermapen4, and prescription skincare target problem areas without harsh downtime.
- Signs of ageing: Skin boosters, energy-based therapies, and subtle injectables work in harmony for a refined, youthful appearance.

"Energy-based therapies, in particular, are transformative," she adds. "They complement injectables over time, building results gradually and naturally."

LONG-TERM GLOW: THE PHILOSOPHY

For Dr. Kate, radiant skin is a lifelong commitment. "Consultations are the first step," she says. "Treatment plans combine at-home skincare, in-clinic therapies, and staged interventions. Regular reviews allow us to adapt as the skin evolves. Clients are partners in the process."

Her approach is holistic, considering lifestyle, travel, and wellness. For jet-setting clients, she often tailors regimens to combat environmental stressors—from plane cabins to sun-drenched resorts—ensuring skin stays hydrated, protected, and luminous no matter the destination.

DR. KATE'S PERSONAL SKINCARE RITUAL

Even with a busy schedule, Dr. Kate maintains her glow with a pared-back, high-impact routine. Her favourites include Polynucleotide and Profhilo skin boosters, the Halo laser annually, and Healite LED treatments monthly. "Injectables are minimal, natural, and part of my routine," she says.

For travellers, she recommends simplicity and versatility: "Hydration, SPF, and multi-functional products are essential. The goal is effortless radiance—products and treatments that enhance what you already have without overcomplicating your routine."

BEAUTY BEYOND THE CLINIC

Whether navigating red carpets, private jets, or luxury resorts, Dr. Kate Jameson proves that radiant skin is achieved not through extremes, but through understanding, restraint, and science-led care. Her philosophy blends clinical precision with a luxe sensibility, offering a guide to modern beauty: invest in your skin, embrace subtlety, and always prioritize long-term results.

Because the ultimate glow, she reminds us, is the one that feels effortless.

COLOUR THEORY

Photography by Robyn Damianos

There's a quiet confidence in the way colour travels. It doesn't scream for attention—it whispers elegance, exudes mood, and evokes memories of sun-drenched mornings and starlit escapes. This season, forget loud prints and fleeting trends. Instead, we're drawn to a palette that speaks volumes in hushed tones: charcoal smoke, faded seashell, marigold light, Mediterranean teal, and dusty rose. Consider it the new language of travel fashion—chic, considered, and effortlessly wearable.

Rose Mirage

The Unexpected Romantic

Feminine but not fussy, this vintage-inspired blush hue belongs in every beauty bag. Slick on a creamy lipstick in dusty rose, or sweep a rosy shadow across sun-kissed lids. For fashion, think gauzy dresses, crinkled cotton sets, or a sheer blouse that catches the breeze. It's romance, reimagined.

Balance is key. Choose two neutrals as your base—charcoal and cream—and weave in color through accessories, statement pieces, and beauty essentials. A marigold silk scarf. A teal pedicure. A rose-hued lip stain that carries you from beach bar to candlelit dinner.

Teal Tides

Blue, But Make It Moody

Deeper than turquoise, softer than navy—this sea-washed teal is the secret to effortless coastal glamour. A slinky swimsuit, breezy linen cord, or ocean-toned eyeliner adds subtle drama. Pack it for your next island escape or seaside soirée—this shade is made for salt air and slow mornings.

For the modern nomad, jet-set style begins with elevated basics. Charcoal greys paired with soft, sandy neutrals give airport looks a tailored edge. Think structured blazers, oversized cashmere wraps, and the perfect wide-leg trousers, paired, of course, with creamy leather sneakers and oversized sunglasses. This duo is your passport to understated cool.

LIV WALKER'S NEXT CHAPTER

Photography by Veronica Sams

She first caught our attention under the sun-soaked skies of Love Island USA Season 6, arriving as the season's inaugural bombshell and instantly igniting the villa with confidence, charisma, and a dose of big-sister wisdom. But Olivia "Liv" Walker isn't just another reality TV alum riding a wave of fleeting fame. The 23-year-old Sydneysider, ordained minister, and self-confessed Disney devotee has emerged as a rare kind of star—equal parts unfiltered humor, emotional intelligence, and genuine heart.

You were the first bombshell to walk into the villa—and instantly a fan favorite. Looking back, how did that moment shape the way you carried yourself through the season?

Coming in as a bombshell definitely set the bar as first impressions matter! I made a conscious choice to stay real from that moment on. It taught me that confidence isn't loud, it's honest. So I leaned into my true self and was ready for whatever the villa threw at me.

From emotional support to comic relief, you wore many hats in the villa. What version of yourself are you most excited for people to see in Beyond the Villa?

You haven't seen the full picture yet! There were more laughs, silliness, and off-script Liv. Beyond the Villa gives me space to show that multi-faceted energy.

You're an ordained minister and a Disney superfan—two very unexpected facts. What do those sides of you say about who you are beyond the screen?

I mean... I like to keep people on their toes! Being ordained is kind of my party trick. I'm always ready to officiate a wedding when needed. And Disney? That's just me never letting go of my childhood.

There's a radiant confidence to you that doesn't feel rehearsed. Where does that inner strength come from, and how do you keep it intact under pressure?

I keep it solid with routines that serve me like skincare and fitness, but mostly it comes from knowing who I am. Once you realize self-validation beats anything external, the pressure doesn't get to you as much. And yes, a little bronzy glow from a good spray tan helps too.

You've been lovingly dubbed the "big sister" of Love Island—was that role something you naturally stepped into, or did it surprise you?

A bit of both! I didn't plan on being the villa's "big sis," it sort of happened because that's just how I am. I'm protective and nurturing. In the villa, emotions were high and I'm the type who shows up when people need a pep talk or honest advice. "Big sister energy" I take as one of my favorite compliments.

With over 2 million followers and counting, your online presence feels just as real as your in-person charm. How do you stay grounded as your platform grows?

I lean on my crew, my friends and my family. They keep me real. And I step back when I need to. I post from my heart. Seeing a comment and reminding myself that the internet only captures a piece of the full story helps me stay grounded.

If you could write a love letter to your 16-year-old self, what would it say?

Ooh—first, I'd give her a massive hug. Then I'd say: "Stop being so hard on yourself. You're doing better than you think. Keep being weird, don't dim your light, and please ditch the orange spray tan. Life's about to get way more fun than you imagined—hang in there."

What's one thing the cameras didn't capture about you that you wish more people knew?

Honestly? I'm a bit of a grandma. Like, I'm happiest in my pajamas, watching a funny movie with a cup of tea. The cameras caught all the glam and giggles, but not so much the side of me that's super low-key.

Style, sun, and steamy drama aside—what has being on Love Island taught you about female friendship?

Real female friendship? That it's everything. When women cheer each other on without competition, it's amazing. I learned that lifting people up is a form of love in itself.

You've proven you're not just a reality star—you're a storyteller, a connector, and a natural on screen. What's next for Liv Walker the brand, and Liv Walker the woman?

The brand is branching into lifestyle and media. I'd love to get more into hosting, collabs, etc. As a woman? I'm stepping into LA life, making memories and exploring a new side of myself. There's so much more to tell!

“*Stop being so hard on yourself.
You're doing better than you think.*”

BALI IN

THE ISLAND'S
MOST
STAYS

Bali has never been just a destination—it's a mood, a rhythm, a state of mind. Think jungle mornings wrapped in mist, cliffside sunsets that feel like they've been painted in fire, and villas so decadent they blur the line between dream and reality. From oceanfront playgrounds in Seminyak to soulful sanctuaries high above Ubud, these are the addresses rewriting the rules of island luxury—one infinity pool, one candlelit dinner, one impossibly chic escape at a time.

Mandapa, a Ritz-Carlton Reserve

WHERE BALI'S RIVER WINDS THROUGH LUSH SANCTUARY

Tucked into the verdant heart of Ubud, along the serene banks of the Ayung River, Mandapa, a Ritz-Carlton Reserve, is a sanctuary where luxury and nature exist in effortless harmony. More than a resort, it is a carefully curated village of private villas and residences, each framed by jungle, river, and the gentle cadence of Balinese life. Days here are measured in sunlight on the treetops, river murmurs, and the lingering aroma of frangipani; evenings are punctuated by sunsets that transform the river into molten gold. Mandapa is where intimate luxury meets cultural reverence, offering a retreat that feels simultaneously exclusive and profoundly connected to its surroundings.

STAY

Mandapa is a private haven that combines seclusion with seamless access to Ubud's cultural heartbeat. The resort is organized as a village, with open-air pavilions, rice terrace views, and riverside sanctuaries. Each cluster of suites and villas is designed for privacy, featuring its own gardens, pools, and river access. Guests can stroll along jungle paths, cross wooden bridges arching over the Ayung, and discover quiet lounges tucked among greenery.

The architecture balances contemporary refinement with traditional Balinese elements—soaring alang-alang roofs, teakwood accents, and stone sculptures complement clean lines and sophisticated furnishings. Interiors are crafted to frame the natural beauty outside: floor-to-ceiling windows invite light and river breezes, while private terraces provide secluded spaces for relaxation. Water features, lotus ponds, and lily-filled reflecting pools create a sense of serenity throughout the property.

Set amid Ubud's lush rice terraces, Mandapa offers more than aesthetic pleasure. The river is integral to the resort's identity, shaping pathways, dining experiences, and wellness offerings. Birdsong, rustling palms, and distant temple bells are constant companions. Mandapa's location offers a retreat from the bustle of Bali's southern beaches while maintaining proximity to Ubud's artisanal markets, galleries, and spiritual centers.

SLEEP

Mandapa's villas and suites are intimate sanctuaries, each designed with attention to both privacy and comfort. River Suites provide elevated views of the Ayung, with deep soaking tubs, private balconies, and interiors that merge sleek design with natural materials. Garden Villas feature lush courtyards, private pools, and open-air living spaces that make the outdoors feel like an extension of the villa.

For families or groups, multi-bedroom residences offer expansive layouts with interconnecting rooms, riverfront terraces, and infinity pools that seem to spill into the jungle. Mandapa Reserve Villas elevate luxury with multiple bedrooms, private dining pavilions, and dedicated butler service. Each villa is designed to feel like a standalone retreat, blending local craftsmanship with modern indulgence.

Even smaller suites maintain a sense of scale and intimacy, with private plunge pools, outdoor showers, and spaces curated for contemplation. Every stay emphasizes calm, privacy, and the subtle luxury of natural surroundings paired with exceptional service.

UPGRADE

Mandapa's signature villas are the pinnacle of riverside elegance. The Reserve Villas feature multiple floors, private gardens, and infinity pools perched above the Ayung. Imagine evenings spent in a sunken lounge with floor-to-ceiling views of the jungle, or mornings drifting in a pool as mist rises from the river below.

For larger gatherings, the Mandapa Estate Villas offer vast dining areas, multiple entertainment spaces, and terraces perfect for celebrations under the stars. Outdoor bathtubs, private yoga pavilions, and gardens filled with local flora create a retreat-like atmosphere, where the architecture blends into the river valley.

The villas are designed for both introspection and celebration—spaces where families can gather, friends can entertain, or couples can escape into privacy. Every detail, from hand-carved furniture to curated art, speaks to Mandapa's commitment to refined yet authentic luxury.

DINE

Dining at Mandapa is a journey into Bali's flavors, framed by the resort's riverside setting and elevated culinary philosophy. At Kubu, the signature restaurant, open-air pavilions overlook the Ayung River, connecting guests to nature as they dine. Seasonal, locally sourced ingredients are celebrated with modern techniques: seafood is freshly caught, vegetables are harvested from the resort's organic gardens, and traditional spices are reinvented with contemporary flair. Signature dishes, from turmeric-infused fish to delicate coconut panna cotta, balance authenticity with creativity.

In-villa dining offers intimate experiences, including floating breakfasts in private pools, candlelit dinners on riverside terraces, or personalized barbecues prepared with ingredients hand-selected from Ubud markets. Every meal is customizable, making dining both personal and indulgent.

The Reserve Bar & Lounge complements the culinary program, offering tropical cocktails, curated wines, and signature concoctions made with local fruits and herbs. Guests can sip a lemongrass martini or hand-pressed ginger mojito while watching the jungle fade into twilight.

Mandapa also hosts chef's table dinners, private tasting menus, and cooking classes, where guests learn Balinese techniques and culinary traditions firsthand. Seasonal events, riverside feasts under the stars, and wine-pairing evenings create social yet intimate experiences. Even casual snacks, from tropical fruit platters to chef-prepared picnic baskets, are elevated with intention and elegance.

SPA & WELLNESS

Mandapa's wellness philosophy is deeply rooted in Balinese traditions, combined with modern techniques and the serene riverside setting. The Mandapa Spa offers treatments in private pavilions overlooking the river, where massages, facials, and holistic rituals restore balance. Signature therapies include the Ayung River Journey, which blends aromatherapy, sound healing, and river-inspired hydrotherapy, and the Sacred Stone Ritual, which incorporates natural stones and local herbs for full-body restoration.

Wellness is both spiritual and physical, with guided yoga sessions, meditation in riverside pavilions, and wellness consultations that personalize treatments. Guests are encouraged to embrace mindfulness and connection to nature, integrating relaxation into every aspect of their stay.

PLAY

For leisure and adventure, Mandapa offers curated experiences that showcase Ubud's natural and cultural richness. Guests can embark on guided river treks, jungle hikes, or cycling tours through rice terraces. Helicopter excursions provide aerial views of the island, while cultural tours include visits to artisan villages, traditional markets, and sacred temples.

The resort also caters to more leisurely pursuits: riverfront lounges, tennis courts, and curated wellness activities allow relaxation, while family-friendly programs, from art workshops to interactive cooking classes, engage younger guests. Watersports on the Ayung River, including guided rafting, provide adventure within a safe and scenic setting.

The Ungasan Clifftop Resort

WHERE BALI'S OCEAN MEETS BAREFOOT OPULENCE

High above the wild, dramatic cliffs of Uluwatu, The Ungasan Clifftop Resort unfolds like a secret whispered between sky and sea. This is not a hotel in the conventional sense—it is a collection of sanctuaries, each villa a private universe unto itself. Life here moves at a languid pace, ruled only by the rhythm of the tides and the golden drift of Bali's sunsets. It is a place where days are as unhurried as they are unforgettable, where the line between indulgence and introspection blurs.

The Ungasan is less a resort and more a private village of serenity, designed for those who crave space and privacy without forgoing glamour. Unlike Bali's larger properties where guests convene around a single shared pool, here every cluster of suites and villas has its own pool and gardens, making it feel like the world belongs only to you.

Book three or more bedrooms, and the entire villa—sweeping lawns, cliffside bales, and panoramic terraces—becomes yours alone. The architecture is contemporary yet timeless, with Balinese influences woven into breezy open-air living spaces and interiors designed for languid afternoons.

Above all, what defines The Ungasan is its spirit. This is barefoot luxury elevated, where strolling from your infinity pool to your sunset terrace feels like the most natural rhythm of life. It is the art of living slowly and expansively, sipping cocktails with sand still between your toes, and rediscovering that luxury is not only what you see, but how deeply you feel.

SLEEP

Each villa and suite is a story, a mood, a chapter of The Ungasan's unfolding narrative. The One-Bedroom Garden View Suites, nestled within the lush Nora Residence, are intimate hideaways where nature frames every view. For those drawn to the horizon, the Ocean View Suites perch on cliff edges, offering vistas that stretch endlessly into the Indian Ocean. The Plunge Pool Suites are made for long afternoons in your own private water sanctuary, shared only with birdsong and sea breezes.

The multi-bedroom villas are destinations in themselves. Villa Ambar is a family dream, with interconnecting bedrooms, rolling lawns, and ocean views from nearly every angle. Villa Pawana is approached via a bougainvillea-draped pathway that seems to transport you straight into tranquillity; its curved infinity pool and cliffside bale are designed for quiet contemplation. Villa Tamarama channels a breezy colonial elegance with its whitewashed Hamptons styling, two swimming pools, and oversized bar begging for twilight cocktails.

For those who prefer a stage for grander indulgences, Villa Jamadara unfurls across the clifftop with a sunken lounge, outdoor baths, and an infinity pool spilling dramatically over limestone edges. Villa Santai Sorga, meanwhile, is a hacienda-inspired estate for entertaining, where the master suite occupies an entire floor and vast dining areas host glittering evenings with friends. Finally, Villa Chintamani is an ode to tranquillity—surrounded by water features and greenery, it feels like a temple to serenity itself.

UPGRADE

If luxury is measured in moments rather than possessions, then The Ungasan's signature villas are its crown jewels. Villa Jamadara, with its dramatic pool overhanging the cliff, is the very definition of cinematic living. Outdoor baths invite moonlit rituals, while the villa's vast spaces mean children can run free as adults sip cocktails under the stars. Villa Santai Sorga is ideal for grand gatherings—imagine long lunches on shaded verandas, intimate dinners in candlelit dining rooms, and lazy mornings spent drifting between infinity pool and clifftop bale.

But perhaps the most soul-stirring is Villa Chintamani, where the architecture dissolves into its surroundings. Water features ripple across courtyards, lush gardens frame every corner, and the villa itself seems to hum with peace. It is less accommodation and more sanctuary, designed for guests who want to retreat into a slower, more introspective rhythm.

DINE

At The Ungasan, dining is theatre—an expression of place and philosophy. Curated by acclaimed Australian chef James Viles, the culinary experience is rooted in sustainability, seasonality, and fire. At Waatu, every dish is born from flame: fish kissed by smoke, vegetables charred to perfection, meats grilled slowly over coals until rich with layered flavours. The restaurant itself is relaxed yet refined, the kind of place where you can slip in straight from the beach, barefoot and sun-dappled, and still be served dishes worthy of a fine-dining stage.

For those who prefer the intimacy of their villa, dining comes to you. A floating breakfast in your pool, a private barbecue prepared with ingredients you handpicked at Jimbaran Market alongside the chef, or an elegant candlelit dinner overlooking the horizon—these are experiences that elevate the everyday into something extraordinary.

And then there is Sundays Beach Club. More than just a dining spot, it is a barefoot paradise where wood-fired pizzas, ceviches, and cocktails arrive to the soundtrack of waves and laughter. Come for lunch and linger until the sun sinks into the sea, painting the sky in colours that no cocktail could replicate—though the bartender's passionfruit margarita comes close.

SPA & WELLNESS

Wellness at The Ungasan transcends the typical spa retreat—it is a philosophy, a spiritual journey set against the raw power of the Indian Ocean. At Amertha Wellness, treatments unfold in a clifftop sanctuary where ocean breezes sweep through rooms designed for indulgence. Massages, facials, and in-villa therapies pamper the body, but the true essence of The Ungasan's wellness offering lies in its spiritual depth.

The resort's Signature Spiritual Wellness Experience, guided by Balinese healer Guru Ji Bagus, invites guests to explore the possibility of finding calm within chaos. A second-generation healer with roots in traditional dance, chi practice, and ancestral rituals, Guru Ji Bagus has an unlikely muse: heavy metal music. For him, its raw energy mirrors life's turbulence—and through contrast, he teaches guests to embrace storms and discover serenity within them.

The journey includes a Sacred Energy Diagnostic, designed to realign your inner purpose with universal energies, alongside chakra bowl sound therapy and the deeply restorative Sacral Light Stone ritual, said to nurture compassion and emotional healing. To ground the experience, a refreshing cucumber facial draws on Bali's natural remedies, bringing renewal back into the physical body.

PLAY

For those who wish to play, The Ungasan is a kaleidoscope of possibilities. Lazy afternoons give way to movies under the stars on the lawn, where families gather with cocktails and blankets. Adventure-seekers can soar above the Bukit Peninsula on a helicopter tour, or dive into Bali's marine wonderlands with curated snorkelling and diving expeditions. White-water rafting takes you deep into the island's jungle heart, while golf at the clifftop Pandawa course offers fairways framed by the Indian Ocean.

Closer to home, guests can perfect their serve on the resort's tennis courts, work out in the fully equipped gym, or simply practice putting on the green before heading out to one of Bali's championship courses. Surf lessons—whether for beginners or seasoned wave chasers—complete the picture of a resort that is as playful as it is serene.

And for those who prefer experiences rooted in culture, the Balinese Melukat purification ritual at Sundays Beach is unmissable. Guided by Guru Ji Bagus, the ceremony is an act of cleansing and renewal, an offering to the sea that leaves you both grounded and uplifted.

Hotel Tugu Bali is a sanctuary of storytelling, where architecture and interior design coalesce to create a narrative that is uniquely Balinese. The property seamlessly blends dramatic design with intimate privacy, allowing guests to wander through lush gardens, secret courtyards, and reflective lotus ponds. Antique treasures—from ceremonial daggers to vintage Javanese textiles—are displayed alongside contemporary comforts, ensuring that every corner evokes wonder and discovery.

Set in Canggu, the resort is close to the island's famed surf beaches yet secluded enough to offer uninterrupted serenity. Villas float above water features or nestle within tropical greenery, creating a sense of privacy while maintaining a strong connection to nature. Open-air pavilions, romantic terraces, and shaded verandahs encourage lingering, whether it's over morning coffee or sunset cocktails. Each design element honours Indonesia's cultural richness while offering the understated luxury modern travellers crave.

The architecture varies across the property: colonial-era facades, intricately carved wooden doors, and bamboo rooftops are juxtaposed with Balinese temples salvaged from centuries past. This blend of artistry and history ensures that every step feels like a journey, and every space tells a story.

SLEEP

Puri Le Mayeur Villa is a dreamy single-story sanctuary floating above a lotus pond, celebrating the enduring love between Belgian painter Adrien-Jean Le Mayur de Merpres and his muse, Ni Polok. The villa features a private plunge pool, open-air dining pavilion, and an oversized hand-beaten copper tub, all designed to frame breathtaking sunsets.

The Walter Spies Pavilion transports guests to the early 20th-century art deco era of Java. Dedicated to the legendary German artist Walter Spies, the suite includes a four-poster bed, private plunge pool, and an outdoor dining pavilion surrounded by lush gardens and a sunken outdoor bath. Every detail evokes romanticism and artistry, allowing guests to immerse themselves fully in Bali's creative past.

For those who desire intimacy with a touch of indulgence, the Rejang Suite on the upper floors offers antique timber interiors, deep jewel tones, and a luxurious spa area with a sunken bath and private daybed. The Dedari Suite is tucked behind antique doors amidst tropical gardens, featuring a canopy bed, plunge pool, and open-air spa bathroom, creating a sanctuary of privacy and romance.

Each accommodation celebrates artistry, craftsmanship, and Indonesian culture, transforming a stay into a sensory journey. From the textures of hand-woven textiles to the scent of frangipani in the gardens, every detail is curated for maximum immersion.

DINE

At Hotel Tugu Bali, dining is storytelling through flavour. IWA Restaurant offers a culinary journey across the Indonesian archipelago, blending centuries-old recipes with contemporary techniques. Named after Kebo Iwa, a legendary Balinese giant child from 12th-century manuscripts, IWA invites guests to explore authentic flavours steeped in folklore, from smoked fish to richly spiced curries.

Ji Restaurant fuses ancient Japanese and Chinese culinary traditions, incorporating local Indonesian influences. Guests dine amidst intricate carvings and artful décor, where each dish reflects a chapter in the region's layered history. The menu is a delicate balance of past and present, honouring culinary traditions while offering a playful, modern approach.

Waroeng Tugu recreates traditional Javanese and Balinese home life. Guests enjoy authentic dishes in a casual hut-like setting, savouring hand-down recipes and condiments as they were prepared generations ago. Meanwhile, Bale Sutra 1706, a reconstructed Kang Xi period temple, serves Peranakan, Japanese, and Indonesian meals in a rare private-dining environment. Its antique treasures and centuries-old architecture make every dinner a dramatic experience.

The newly opened Kawisari Coffee Farm Shop & Eatery celebrates East Java's oldest organic coffee plantation, offering breakfasts, coffee breaks, Javanese high tea, and artisanal pastries alongside farm-to-table coffee and cocktails. For in-villa dining, guests can enjoy romantic candlelit dinners, floating breakfasts by the pool, or intimate barbecues in lush gardens.

Dining at Hotel Tugu Bali is less about sustenance and more about immersion, turning every meal into a story and every taste into a memory.

SPA & WELLNESS

Wellness at Hotel Tugu Bali intertwines cultural tradition with holistic care. The resort's Yoga & Spiritual Blessings programs harmonize body, mind, and spirit. Morning yoga on terraces overlooking tropical gardens is paired with meditation, prayer sessions, and cleansing rituals that channel Bali's spiritual energy.

The Ancient Jamu Tradition workshops introduce guests to traditional herbal remedies from Java, using roots, leaves, flowers, and barks passed down through generations. Guests learn to prepare drinks such as Jamu Kunir Asam, believed to aid digestion, boost vitality, and enhance wellness.

Holistic spa treatments, private plunge pools, and open-air bath rituals complement these spiritual offerings, creating a sanctuary where guests can both relax and reconnect. Whether it's a traditional massage or a restorative herbal session, each experience is designed to nurture the body and elevate the senses.

PLAY

Adventure and cultural immersion are at the heart of Hotel Tugu Bali. Guests can explore sacred sites on curated tours, from the majestic Besakih Temple and rice terraces of Sidemen to the Bali Aga village of Tenganan, renowned for its double ikat weaving. From the moment you arrive, the resort's exquisite attention to detail, thoughtful design, and tranquil surroundings invite guests to pause, breathe, and immerse themselves in Bali's unique artistry. With every corner reflecting the island's rich cultural tapestry, Alaya is where elegance and authenticity meet effortless comfort.

STAY

Set in the vibrant cultural heart of Ubud, Alaya Resort Ubud balances serenity with the spirited energy of its surroundings. The 106-room boutique property looks out over emerald-green rice terraces, an authentic reminder that Bali's rhythm still pulses through its landscapes even as Ubud evolves into a cosmopolitan hub of art, wellness, and cuisine. Alaya has been designed with a rare sensitivity to its environment—collaborating with local designers and artisans to create spaces that breathe with Balinese artistry.

Intricate wood carvings, handwoven textiles, and touches of volcanic stone blend seamlessly with contemporary elegance, giving the resort a warm but elevated aesthetic. Steps away from lively cafés, art galleries, and the famed Monkey Forest, Alaya offers the perfect base for those who want immersion in Ubud's cultural scene but a retreat-like calm once they return to the property.

SLEEP

Guest rooms at Alaya Ubud are thoughtfully designed sanctuaries, offering comfort layered with artistic charm. The Alaya Rooms, opening onto the rice terraces, are dressed in natural palettes and adorned with woven accents that root the space in its Balinese identity. For those wanting a little more indulgence, the Deluxe Rooms add an air of sophistication with curated artwork, polished wooden finishes, and balconies perfect for morning coffee as the village stirs awake.

The Suites are the crown jewel in everyday living, with separate living areas, customized stone bathtubs, and generous layouts that feel both refined and deeply personal. Each accommodation is enhanced with modern amenities—rain showers, luxury linens, in-room entertainment—but it's the quiet details, like fresh flowers and hand-carved furniture, that make them feel grounded in place.

UPGRADE

For travellers who seek the ultimate in Ubud-style living, the Alaya Suite delivers a residential feel with spacious interiors, a signature stone bathtub, and a balcony overlooking the surrounding rice fields. With a living room for lounging and bespoke touches from Bali's top designers, the suite captures the elegance of an urban loft while remaining rooted in the textures and spirit of the island. It's ideal for honeymooners or guests who want to extend their stay in a setting that feels more like a private villa than a hotel suite.

DINE

Food is an art form at Alaya, and nowhere is this more evident than at the Brasserie Restaurant. Overlooking rice paddies, Brasserie embodies the East-meets-West culinary philosophy, celebrating local flavours while embracing international influences. Mornings begin with a semi-buffet breakfast featuring seasonal fruit, artisanal breads, and à la carte specialties. By lunch and dinner, the menu transforms into a parade of inventive dishes crafted from farm-fresh ingredients—think delicate seafood with Balinese spice infusions or bistro classics reimagined with tropical produce. The setting itself, with seating for 90 and live music from Thursday through Sunday, turns a meal into an experience, blending Ubud's artistic soul with culinary finesse.

Beyond Brasserie, Alaya also curates intimate dining moments across the property. Guests can indulge in romantic dinners beneath the stars, enjoy poolside bites at the Bamboo Bar, or even embrace local culinary heritage with cooking sessions that highlight Bali's market produce and spice traditions. Each setting is designed not just for nourishment but for connection—with the land, the culture, and the people who bring each dish to life.

SPA

Wellness at Alaya finds its soul in the DaLa Spa, a tranquil sanctuary tucked beside a flowing river and rice terrace. Here, ancient Indonesian healing rituals meet modern spa philosophies, offering treatments that go far beyond pampering. Each of the six treatment rooms, named after exotic flowers, is designed with vintage-inspired décor, mood lighting, and aromatic oils that instantly transport guests into deep relaxation. Couples can indulge in side-by-side treatments, while solo travellers will find moments of pure renewal in rituals inspired by Bali's beauty traditions.

The spa goes beyond treatments with interactive elements—guests can join spa classes to learn about Indonesia's herbal healing legacy, blending fresh botanicals themselves before therapies. The Reflexology Lounge, cooled by natural breezes, and the Spa Terrace, which offers wholesome organic cuisine, extend the spa experience into a holistic retreat. Whether it's an afternoon massage or a day of detox and yoga, DaLa Spa feels like an immersion into Bali's therapeutic heritage.

PLAY

Alaya ensures that time spent beyond the resort is as enriching as the time within it. Guests are encouraged to explore local markets, embark on culinary quests, or visit nearby temples and art galleries that showcase Ubud's creative spirit. The property also curates in-house activities: yoga at the Bale for spiritual alignment, Jamu-making classes that revive Indonesia's herbal traditions, and tailored excursions through Ubud's surrounding villages and rice paddies. Evenings might be spent listening to live music at Brasserie or savouring an intimate candlelit dinner on the Spa Terrace. Alaya, in many ways, is both sanctuary and gateway—offering guests the calm of retreat alongside the thrill of exploration.

Alila Manggis

WHERE SEA MEETS SACRED MOUNTAIN
IN BALI'S UNTAMED EAST

In Bali's rugged east, where the coastline meets the dramatic rise of Mount Agung, lies a retreat that feels both elemental and refined. Alila Manggis is the quiet counterpoint to the island's busier shores—an enclave where sea breezes ripple through coconut groves, temples cling to volcanic slopes, and tradition is never far away. Here, the landscape takes center stage: a sweep of ocean framed by the island's most sacred mountain, creating a setting that feels spiritual, cinematic, and deeply restorative.

This is a place to wake with the sunrise, spend days alternating between exploration and repose, and end evenings by candlelight with the sound of waves on the shore. East Bali, with its mix of marine treasures and cultural landmarks, is less discovered than the south—yet that is its charm. Alila Manggis invites you to surrender to it fully.

Alila Manggis is a masterclass in understated elegance, its design rooted in Balinese tradition yet reimagined for contemporary travelers. The resort unfolds as a collection of thatched pavilions inspired by the Wantilan, or village meeting hall, giving the architecture a sense of cultural continuity. Every angle has been considered: the accommodations are set at 45 degrees to the beach, ensuring each one captures unobstructed ocean views.

The grounds are lush and uncluttered, with manicured lawns flowing toward the water's edge and an ocean-facing swimming pool that appears to spill into the horizon. Towering palms, lotus ponds, and fragrant pandan groves frame the resort, offering pockets of shade and serenity. This connection to nature is not accidental—it is central to Alila's philosophy of integrating luxury with landscape.

What sets Alila Manggis apart is its duality: it is both a seaside sanctuary and a gateway to some of Bali's most awe-inspiring cultural and natural experiences. The coral reefs and marine life offshore are among the island's finest for divers and snorkelers, while inland, Mount Agung and the temples on its slopes offer spiritual journeys of a different kind. Staying here means embracing both sea and slope, water and mountain, leisure and adventure.

SLEEP

Guest rooms at Alila Manggis are havens of tranquility, each one designed to maximize views of the sea while embodying a refined simplicity. Spread across two-story pavilions, they blend clean modern lines with local touches: teakwood accents, woven textiles, and vaulted alang-alang thatched roofs that breathe with the tropical air.

Floor-to-ceiling glass doors frame the horizon and open to private terraces or balconies, where mornings begin with the glow of sunrise and evenings end with the shimmer of moonlight on the waves. Inside, spaces are uncluttered yet deeply comfortable: king beds dressed in crisp linens, terrazzo floors cool underfoot, and bathrooms finished in natural stone.

The Deluxe Rooms on the upper floors offer particularly sweeping views across the Lombok Strait, while the Seaside Suites provide an elevated experience with spacious living areas and wraparound terraces perfect for dining, lounging, or simply watching the tide shift throughout the day. The atmosphere throughout is intimate, restful, and attuned to the rhythms of the sea.

UPGRADE

For those seeking the ultimate expression of space and seclusion, the Seaside Suite is Alila Manggis's most coveted accommodation. At over 1,200 square feet, it combines the feel of a private residence with the intimacy of a boutique retreat. The suite features an expansive living area, oversized windows that draw in ocean light, and a sweeping terrace for al fresco dining and stargazing.

Interiors are understated but refined, with rich teak furnishings, handwoven textiles, and curated Balinese accents that root the suite in its locale. The bathroom invites languor with a deep soaking tub and views of tropical greenery, while the outdoor terrace becomes a stage for sunrise yoga, private dinners, or simply uninterrupted quietude. With the ocean as a constant backdrop, this suite is less a place to stay and more a sanctuary to inhabit.

DINE

Food at Alila Manggis is a ritual as much as a pleasure, steeped in East Bali's culinary heritage. Seasalt, the resort's signature restaurant, sits on a lotus pond and serves dishes that span vibrant Indonesian flavors and Western classics, prepared with a focus on fresh, locally sourced ingredients. Breakfast here is a leisurely affair of tropical fruits and island-roasted coffee, while evenings invite candlelit dinners accompanied by the sound of the surf.

For an authentic cultural immersion, the resort hosts Megibung feasts, a traditional style of communal dining from East Bali. Platters of rice, satay, vegetables, and spiced meats are shared among family and friends, echoing ceremonies that have taken place in villages for centuries. It is convivial, festive, and deeply Balinese.

The Ocean Bar, meanwhile, offers a casual space for cocktails and light bites, positioned to catch the sea breeze and the changing hues of sunset. Each sip and each meal is designed to connect guests not just with flavors, but with the spirit of East Bali itself.

SPA

Wellness at Alila Manggis draws inspiration from the land and sea. Treatments are held in outdoor bales set within a pandan forest, with views stretching across the ocean. Here, the scent of pandan leaves mingles with sea air, creating a multisensory environment that is both grounding and uplifting.

Therapies range from traditional Balinese massages to rituals infused with local botanicals, all designed to restore balance and ease. Guests can surrender to full-body treatments accompanied by the rhythmic sound of waves, or opt for immersive wellness programs that incorporate yoga, meditation, and holistic practices.

The resort's Surya Yoga Shala is aptly positioned on the east coast to catch the first light of day, offering sunrise salutations with panoramic views of the ocean. These morning rituals set the tone for days steeped in calm and connection.

PLAY

Alila Manggis is as much a starting point for exploration as it is a destination for rest. The experiences curated here immerse guests in the culture, nature, and adventure of East Bali.

Cultural seekers can explore Lempuyang Temple, home to the famed "Gates of Heaven," or venture to Besakih Temple, Bali's largest and most sacred complex, dramatically poised on the slopes of Mount Agung. The nearby village of Tenganan introduces visitors to the Bali Aga way of life, including the intricate art of double ikat weaving known as gringsing.

For adventure, the surrounding seas offer snorkeling and diving in crystal-clear waters, while excursions include deep-sea fishing, sunrise treks to volcanic peaks, and cycling through terraced rice fields and quiet villages. Wellness seekers may join water purification ceremonies at Tirta Sudamala, connect with traditional healers, or participate in cooking classes at the resort's organic garden. Each experience is curated not just as an activity, but as an opportunity to engage with the rhythms of East Bali, where spirituality, nature, and tradition remain intertwined.

The ultimate escape is found in the resort's villas, which blend private, expansive terraces with infinity pools that appear to spill directly into the caldera below. These spaces are ideal for couples or small groups seeking uninterrupted privacy and immersive views.

Villas are meticulously designed with wellness in mind: indoor and outdoor living areas, plunge pools, and sun decks allow guests to move seamlessly between sun, sea, and shade. Handpicked furnishings and bespoke art add warmth to the contemporary framework, while smartly integrated technology enhances comfort without disrupting the aesthetic.

Morning swims are framed by caldera views, afternoons can be spent with cocktails on the terrace, and evenings offer unobstructed sunsets from private infinity pools. For those who wish to indulge in ultimate Santorini living, the villa experience combines the best of indoor elegance and outdoor grandeur.

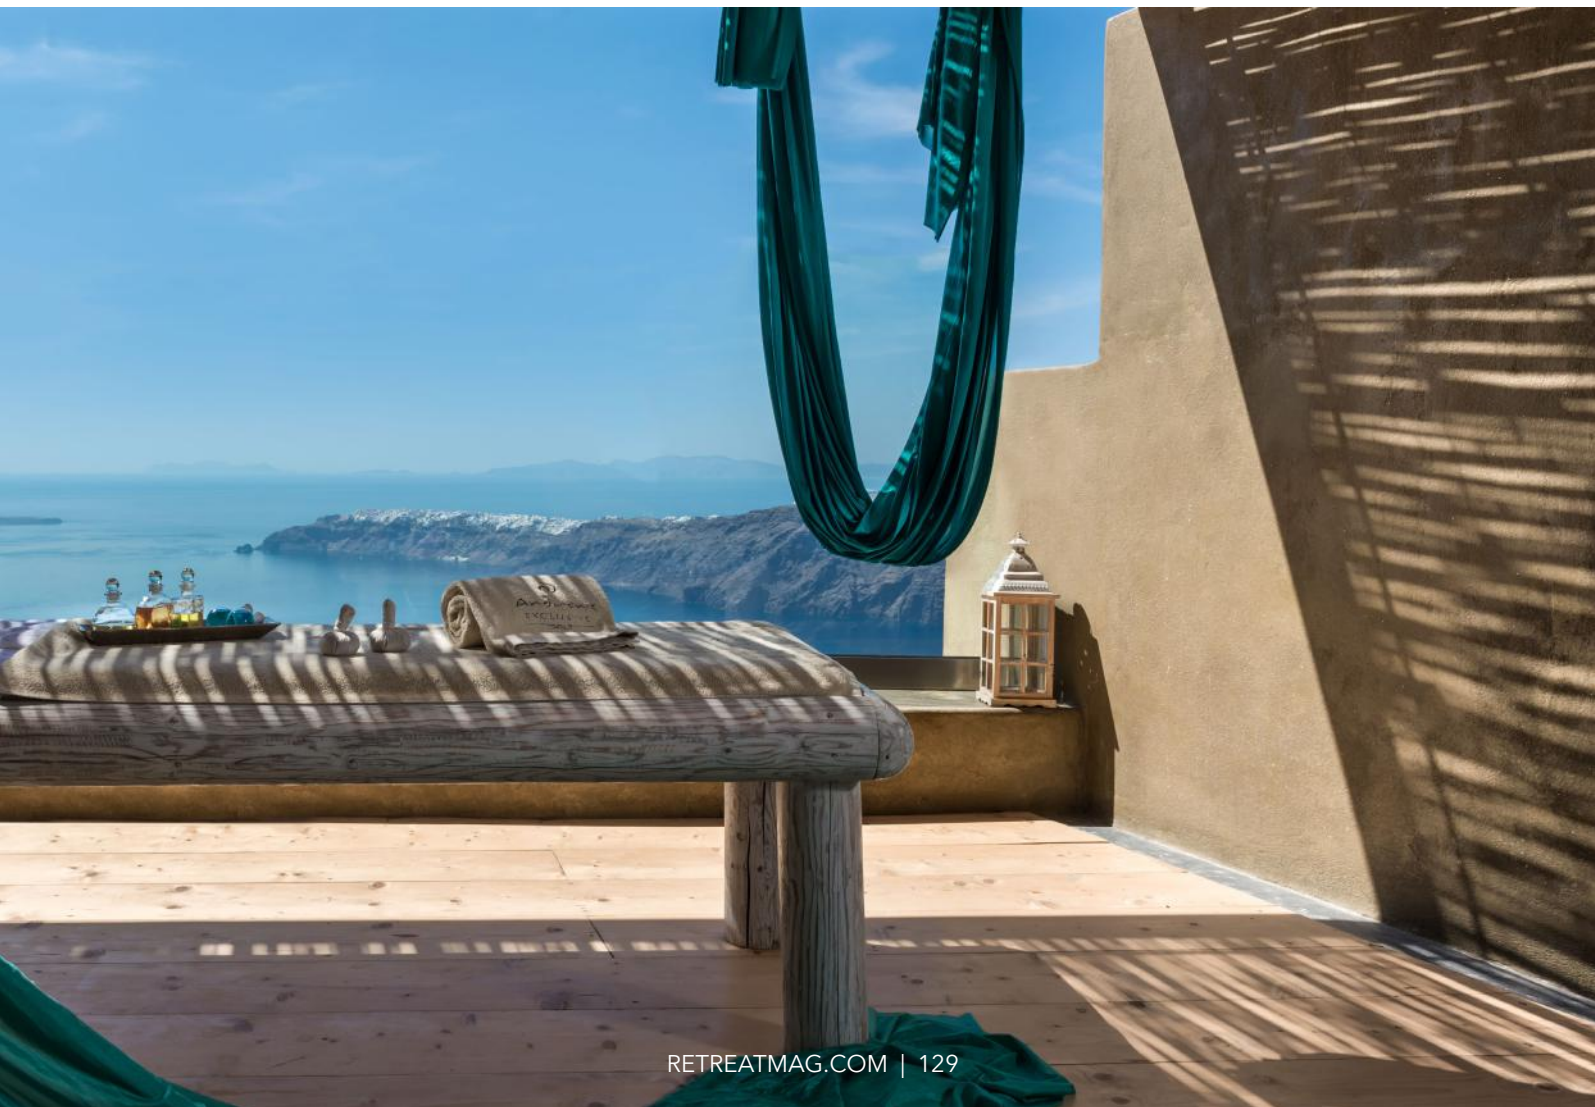

DINE

Culinary experiences at Andronis Concept are immersive and deeply tied to the island's heritage. Each plate is crafted to showcase freshness and vibrancy, balancing flavour with wellness. Sunset views from the terrace enhance the dining experience, creating a sensory journey that begins before the first bite.

The Harvest Haven garden is a living pantry, offering herbs, vegetables, and fruits that inform the menu daily. Guests can enjoy interactive culinary experiences, learning about local ingredients, traditional preparation techniques, and modern interpretations of Santorinian dishes.

Poolside dining adds another layer of indulgence. Seasonal barbecues or casual bites by the infinity pool provide sun-kissed afternoons filled with flavour and leisure. Evenings invite intimate dinners or group gatherings, where each meal becomes part of a holistic wellness experience.

The resort's culinary philosophy emphasizes balance, nutrition, and connection: meals are as much about community and joy as they are about taste. Breakfasts, light lunches, and vibrant dinners align with the resort's wellness ethos while allowing for indulgence and celebration.

THE HOTEL COLLABORATIONS REDEFINING LUXURY LIVING

Luxury, once defined by thread count and concierge access, is now being reimagined through curated collaborations that blend fashion, design, and destination. As the lines between style and travel blur, the world's most prestigious hotels are joining forces with iconic brands to create one-of-a-kind experiences. Picture a Lacoste pop-up in Paris, complete with crocodile-shaped desserts, or a sleek Riva Lounge in Mallorca channelling the elegance of Italian yachting heritage. It's not just a stay—it's a statement.

In a refined rendezvous of heritage and sport, Shangri-La Paris—once the private residence of Prince Roland Bonaparte—welcomes Lacoste for a chic summer takeover. Tucked away in the 16th arrondissement, the palatial hotel becomes a playground of taste and tennis, where elegance meets playfulness in a series of refined activations.

Within the hotel's manicured gardens, the Summer by Lacoste menu offers a whimsical nod to the brand's sporting roots, crafted by Shangri-La's esteemed culinary team. The pièce de résistance? A crocodile-shaped cake, delicately layered with raspberry and pistachio. For those wandering the Parisian streets, Le Pavillon Lacoste—a gleaming copper kiosk with direct access from Avenue d'Iéna—serves Lacoste-inspired street food with a couture twist, including tennis-themed waffles. It's a match point for Parisian style.

As the only Riva Lounge in Spain, Hotel de Mar joins a global jet-set circuit alongside Venice, Monaco, and Jeddah. For those craving a deeper dive into la dolce vita, a private Rivamare motorboat is available for bespoke day charters across the Mediterranean.

A nod to the hotel's affectionate local moniker, "El Chocolate," the collaboration delivers a visual feast of Ferretti's signature tie-dye prints, breezy silhouettes, and Italian elegance, woven seamlessly into the private beach, poolside lounges, and open-air dining. Will Meyrick's Culinary Storytelling

From the vibrant streets of London to the kitchens of Sydney and the beating heart of Southeast Asia, Will Meyrick has carved a career that blurs the line between chef, cultural explorer, and storyteller. Far from simply creating dishes, Meyrick approaches each culinary venture as a journey—listening, learning, and translating the essence of local markets and street food into elevated dining experiences. His passion lies in authenticity: understanding the people, the ingredients, and the traditions behind every plate.

With a portfolio spanning Indonesia and Australia, Meyrick's restaurants—from Mama San to Honey & Smoke, Billy Ho, Will St., Hujan Locale, and Buzo—are reflections of his philosophy: that food should be immersive, communal, and rich in story. Beyond the kitchen, he extends his craft through hands-on cooking classes, street food tours, and cultural immersions, ensuring that each guest not only tastes his creations but understands their origins. Meyrick's work exemplifies the power of cuisine as a lens through which to explore history, identity, and creativity.

MAMA SAN Seminyak

Mama San is a Bali institution, seamlessly blending the energy of street food with refined, contemporary dining. Interiors evoke 1920s Shanghai glamour, from plush green banquettes to dark timber walls and sparkling chandeliers, creating an atmosphere that is at once sophisticated and welcoming. Upstairs, the Mama San Supper Club offers a speakeasy-style escape, perfect for intimate dinners or private gatherings, where seasonal menus meet inventive cocktails in a moody, elegant setting. The restaurant has long been celebrated for its ability to fuse bold Southeast Asian flavors with a polished dining experience, drawing locals and visitors alike.

The culinary philosophy at Mama San is rooted in respect for the ingredients and techniques of traditional Asian cuisines. Each dish tells a story—whether a fiery Thai curry, a delicate Vietnamese roll, or a signature Indonesian creation—transporting diners across Southeast Asia with every bite. The attention to detail, from presentation to flavor layering, ensures that every meal feels both playful and precise, cementing Mama San's place as a destination for discerning travelers.

HUJAN LOCALE Ubud

Hujan Locale offers an intimate dive into Indonesian culinary traditions, set in the cultural heart of Ubud. The restaurant spans two levels, including a rooftop terrace that overlooks temples and the vibrant streets below. Hujan Locale celebrates the diversity of Indonesian ingredients through family-style share plates that balance authenticity with creative interpretations. Curries, stir-fries, and seasonal specials invite diners to explore flavors that are deeply rooted in local tradition while being thoughtfully modernized.

Beyond the food, Hujan Locale emphasizes the communal experience of dining. Guests are encouraged to share dishes, savor the layered flavors together, and engage with the stories behind each recipe. Meyrick's careful curation of flavors, textures, and presentation ensures that every visit feels like a journey through the archipelago, honoring centuries of culinary heritage while embracing contemporary innovation.

HONEY & SMOKE

Ubud

Honey & Smoke is an open-fire bistro that celebrates cooking over flame, a technique influenced by centuries-old Persian and Eastern Mediterranean methods. The 1920s train carriage-inspired design, complete with an external staircase and antique accents, evokes a sense of journey and discovery. Here, meats, vegetables, and flatbreads are infused with bold spices and fresh herbs, creating smoky, char-grilled flavors that transport diners to far-off kitchens and cultures.

The concept extends beyond food to experience, with every detail contributing to a narrative of exploration. Guests climb to the second-floor dining room, where views of Ubud's rooftops and temple spires meet the warmth of an intimate, speakeasy-style interior. The combination of theatrical design, open-fire cooking, and thoughtfully curated flavors creates a multi-sensory experience—one that feels at once nostalgic and inventive, grounding the restaurant firmly in Bali's dynamic culinary landscape.

BILLY HO Canggu

Billy Ho is Bali's playful Asian Boteco, located at the south end of Batu Bolong, offering a menu of small and large plates crafted for sharing. The concept celebrates communal dining and experimentation, pairing creative cocktails and a thoughtful wine list with dishes that reflect Meyrick's deep knowledge of Asian flavors. Guests can explore layers of taste, from delicate seafood preparations to rich, savory staples, each infused with inventive twists that surprise and delight.

The restaurant's atmosphere mirrors its culinary ethos: energetic, vibrant, and inclusive. Dining here is a social affair, where presentation and flavor converge to foster conversation and connection. Meyrick's touch is evident in every dish, balancing bold, authentic Asian flavors with playfulness and polish. Billy Ho is not just a meal—it is a celebration of flavor, culture, and culinary camaraderie in the heart of Bali.

BUZO Seminyak

Buzo embodies bold, contemporary Itameshi dining, blending Japanese precision with Italian soul. From wood-fired pizzas and handcrafted pasta to sushi rolls bursting with umami, the menu is a showcase of cross-cultural technique and creativity. Signature cocktails complement the dishes, offering unexpected flavor pairings that enhance the dining experience. The space itself is sleek and modern, reflecting the sophisticated yet approachable nature of Meyrick's culinary vision.

The restaurant thrives on its balance of familiarity and surprise, inviting diners to explore new textures and flavors while appreciating classic craftsmanship. Each bite is carefully composed, reflecting the meticulous attention to detail that defines Meyrick's approach across all his ventures. Buzo is a space where culinary artistry meets casual sophistication, providing a memorable journey through fusion cuisine that is bold, thoughtful, and entirely satisfying.

WILL ST., PERTH

Western Australia

Will St. brings Meyrick's philosophy closer to home, celebrating Western Australia's bountiful produce and waters with an Asian-inspired approach. The restaurant emphasizes clean, precise flavors, showcasing the best of local ingredients with the subtle infusion of Asian techniques. With a focus on simplicity and storytelling, each dish highlights provenance, freshness, and balance.

The experience at Will St. is both intimate and engaging. From thoughtful plating to seasonal menus, the restaurant embodies Meyrick's commitment to real food, real people, and real flavors. Whether sampling local seafood or crafted signature dishes, diners enjoy a seamless narrative of land, sea, and culture, reflecting the chef's dedication to authenticity and creativity. Will St. is an elegant, grounded exploration of flavor that feels unmistakably Meyrick in every bite.

A WARDROBE OF WANDERLUST

Step into the world of Lulu Zagame, where fashion is more than adornment—it’s an escape, a journey, a love affair with artistry. Designed for the modern muse who moves through the world with an air of effortless glamour, Lulu Zagame pieces transcend trends, offering a wardrobe steeped in timeless elegance and hand-touched craftsmanship.

Each collection begins in Melbourne, where Lulu—artist, designer, and storyteller—hand-illustrates every piece, infusing it with a dreamlike sense of adventure. The magic continues in India, where artisans meticulously bead and embroider each garment, preserving age-old techniques while embracing sustainable practices. The result? Fashion that feels as indulgent as it is intentional.
