ROBUST CONSTRUCTION

Aluminium is renowned for its strength and durability. It is lighter than steel yet incredibly strong. At Alidoor, we use 2mm thick aluminium for both the outer and inner skins, making it an ideal material for secure door panel construction. Our door panels are built to withstand force and resist tampering. Additionally, all our glass is 24mm double-glazed, tempered safety glass, providing excellent noise reduction and security. With Alidoor door panels, you can have peace of mind knowing your doors are a reliable defense against potential intruders.

Our 28mm Alidoor panel features a high-density EPS fire-retardant core. The 2mm aluminium skins provide maximum protection and durability. The 24mm double-glazed, warm edge tempered safety glass units in our Alidoor door panels ensure that your door is not only secure and safe but also thermally efficient. For enhanced security and durability, consider upgrading your Alidoor door panel to a full core of moisture resistant MDF.

Because at Alidoor we have the most advanced CNC machinery we router in the the door skin so the inserts sit flush with the aluminium,unlike our competitors that just glue the insert to the aluminium.
