

COMPLIMENTARY

Seasonal 'Birds, Local RVers & RV Travelers

Today's younger, more active RVers and seasonal 'birds are more recreation-oriented, desiring to 'Get Out' and enjoy the many Things to Do, Places to Visit, and Explore Arizona's vast outdoor recreation playground. As a result, our popular Arizona State RV Travel Guide, in print and digital format, www.azrvguide.com, has served the RV industry for over twenty years, has been re-branded to Arizona RV Outdoor Life, in order to accommodate their interests. Now, it also serves outdoor adventurers interested in Arizona's abundant variety of outdoor recreation services, outfitters, and suppliers within the magazines nine user-friendly Regions.

The RV industry is the largest entity in the outdoor recreation industry, so additional recreation services not only compliments RVing, it offers seasonal nesters places to enjoy day trips and extended adventures throughout Arizona. With more emphasis toward tourism, prime attention has been given to Visitor Centers within each Region — as they offer valuable information on what's available within their local area. And, they offer these resource magazines for free handout throughout the year.

Inserted are special interesting feature articles with unique finds throughout our Grand State, including:

- Get Out! Enjoy a variety of unique recreational opportunities with descriptive photo listings.
- Information on Digital Passports are available on a mobile device by Arizona Office of Tourism (AOT) for easy access to explore for hidden gems.

- Experience Glamping by camping in luxury at a variety of remote sites. Unplug from urban life at a posh location within Arizona by enjoying a luxury safari tent, yurt, or a vintage trailer. Enjoy a feature article by American Glamping Association comprised of owner members and those offering related services.
- Enjoy Historic Hwy 88, known as the "Apache Trail" just east of Apache Junction with a variety of attractions, a Museum, and unique eateries before it becomes a rugged dirt road (four wheelers only) to Lake Roosevelt, then south to Globe/Miami and return on scenic Hwy 60 to Gold Canyon and Apache Junction.
- And ... so much more!

Whether you stay a day, week, month, or longer, enjoy Arizona's diverse landscape including a high desert in northern Arizona & White Mountains, or low desert, from Phoenix south, each offering a variety of attractions, hiking trails for different experience levels, all appreciated by today's active RVer, seasonal resident, and outdoor recreation seeker.

We invite you to come, stay, and get out to experience our Grand State's incredible playground. There's something for everyone ...

HOW TO USE THE GUIDE

The 2026 Arizona RV Outdoor Life magazine provides descriptions and details about listed RV parks or resorts, services & recreation resources organized by region, within the state. It also includes visitor centers, local attractions and outdoor recreation services.

The Arizona map on the next page shows how the state is divided into user friendly color-coded regions. Go to the region you're interested in and browse each park or resort, services & recreation resources to find out what they offer and how to contact them directly. If a park is not listed, contact the area Chamber of Commerce or Visitor Center for updated information.

Special attention has been taken to list the Visitor Centers and Chambers within each Region for ease of contact to obtain more detailed, current information within their area.

The Arizona Office of Tourism (AOT) provided special cooperative marketing funding, enabling rural non-profit tourism entities to promote their local services.

Some of the advertisers are local, some offer services and supplies statewide. So view the entire contents of this magazine and its Business Directory to be sure to see it all!

Apache Junction Rodeo Event Center

Set against the breathtaking backdrop of the legendary Superstition Mountains, with Four Peaks and the Goldfield Mountains in view, the Apache Junction Rodeo Event Center is perfectly situated for equestrians, outdoor enthusiasts, and nature lovers alike. This 20-acre facility is home to beloved community traditions such as the annual Lost Dutchman Days, Early Day Engine & Tractor Show, Ben Johnson Days, and more — making it a true centerpiece of Apache Junction.

The site currently features a fully equipped rodeo arena, covered bleachers, restroom and concession facilities, and ample parking. As we continue to invest in the future of this site, the first phase of improvements includes upgraded infrastructure, ADA-accessible sidewalks and parking, and a permanent shade structure to make every visit more comfortable. These enhancements ensure that the Rodeo Grounds remains a vibrant, welcoming place for both participants and spectators.

In the meantime, the Rodeo Event Center remains open for rentals, including private and group use of the lighted arena. Please note that some areas will be temporarily closed during construction until Summer of 2026. Current activities at the center include ATV safety courses, 4-H programs, concerts, and a wide variety of equestrian events, with even more concerts and rodeo-style events expected in the near future.

CAMP IN LUXURY: Glamping

UNPLUG FROM URBAN LIFE AT ONE OF THESE POSH ARIZONA SITES

This type of camping is grabbing the spotlight in leisure travel. Short for “glamorous camping,” glamping pairs traditional outdoor lodging with five-star fittings, guest service, dining and amenities. It is a step up from tent camping, using luxury tents, classic Airstream campers fitted out with modern conveniences and tiny backwoods cabins with upgraded amenities. In other words, it is an outdoor experience, but with all the comfort and luxury of a first-class hotel. Gen X and millennial couples with a double income can enjoy a night or two outdoors in luxury without the higher cost of owning or renting an RV.

The concept of glamping is not new — luxurious tent-living or similar camping accommodations have existed for some time. Approximately eight years ago, the concept caught on with young professionals escaping the fast pace of urban life by disappearing into an isolated, quiet nature setting while enjoying a luxurious, comfortable experience.

Also called “boutique camping,” “comfy camping” or “posh camping,” today it features unique structures such as bell tents, pods, safari tents, yurts, tepees, vintage trailers and tree houses. One new glamping site consists of a float tied to a dock for those who desire a floating experience.

Colorful Quirky Clifton

As the County seat of Arizona's least populous county, Clifton, Arizona, "Where the Trail Begins" offers an unbeatable combination of thrilling history, a remarkably well-preserved turn of the century downtown and 'real' outdoor adventure. With its fate tied to the mining industry, Clifton's history has been marked by dramatic cycles of boom and bust. So many fortunes won and lost gave the town its unique character. As nearby communities of Old Morenci and Metcalf were erased by the expansion of the Morenci copper mine, Clifton was preserved, leaving a remarkable testimony to its heyday as a Victorian-era mining boomtown.

The historic downtown Chase Creek Historical District was constructed on narrow Chase Creek Blvd, along Chase Creek. Even though Chase Creek Blvd may be a small place to visit, this street stands at the edge of a town that figured prominently in Southwestern history. With access to water, a railroad, and with the smelter, it became the mining districts main hub. With its 24-hour saloons, gambling halls and bordellos, it quickly earned an unsavory reputation as one the wildest camps in the West, second only to Tombstone. After fires in the early 1900's destroyed many of the wooden buildings, all structures thereafter were built with brick, in a Territorial architecture known in Arizona. Many of these clustered buildings are unrestored with a faded look, some are well preserved, housed with a variety type of merchants. Enjoy the Historical Chase Creek Walking Tour and explore these delightful owner operated shops.

Tunnel hewn from rock on Scenic Hwy 191

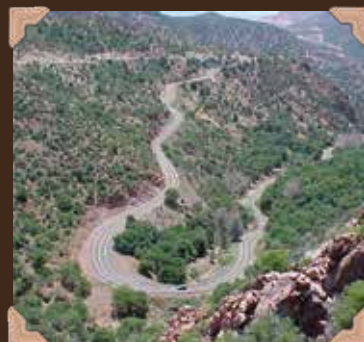

Historic Clifton Train Depot is now the Town of Clifton's Visitors Center, with friendly volunteers to answer questions on places to see, things to do and other valuable information, so you can make the most of your visit. This historic train station was built in the 1910's and is still an iconic piece of architecture today. 100 N Coronado Blvd, Clifton AZ.

County Court House

The Coronado Trail National Scenic Byway - U.S. 191 - starts at Clifton, AZ, and climbs to 9,000 feet at Springerville, AZ located in the northeastern White Mountains area. With more than 200 switchbacks and steep nature, it offers stunning views along the way.

The Arches on Chase Creek, stand alone, as they are remnants of the Lyric Theater, destroyed by fire in the 1960's. In its day the Lyric offered entertainment to the gentle population, and to the rough miners.

Historic Copper Head Locomotive sits next to the Clifton Jail. This Porter steam locomotive was the first operational railroad in Arizona. It was brought to Clifton in parts by wagon train.

Clifton Cliff Jail is the original town jail, blasted from solid rock and built into the side of the cliff in 1881. It was the most unique incarceration facility in the U.S.

ACCESS TO MEDICAL TOURISM through Cochise County

Medical tourism is international travel for the purpose of receiving medical care. While traveling through Arizona, access to international medical, dental, or pharmaceutical services is easy as there are several destinations that border our neighbor, Mexico. Patients engage in medical tourism, in Mexico, because medical care and procedures, including surgery, as well as dental care can be performed at relatively low cost. Medical care procedures, cosmetic procedures, dental care and pharmaceutical services are available at an average savings that range between 30% - 70% of the cost compared to services in the United States.

Agua Prieta (A.P), Sonora, Mexico, which borders Douglas, AZ, is an excellent resource with its expanding and affordable medical, dental, and pharmaceutical services. The Douglas – Agua Prieta border crossing is simpler than most other crossings in Arizona. Several options for medical, dental, and pharmaceutical services are within walking distance of the U.S./Mexico border at Agua Prieta. Before engaging in medical tourism, we recommend you research before retaining any services.

After you've wintered in the East Valley, you'll know about its convenience to shopping in Mesa, Apache Junction, Gold Canyon and other local communities. Sports abound in Mesa, Tempe and Phoenix. Only a short drive east are breathtaking mountain vistas, history and the great Old West fun along Apache Trail.

It all starts in historic Downtown Mesa, heading east on Main Street which turns into Apache Trail east of Higley Rd to the center of Apache Junction. It turns to the northeast, becoming historic SR 88 continuing into Tonto National Forest. You can really tell that you're out of the city, on the real Apache Trail. Continue east to visit the Superstition Mountain Museum, Goldfield Ghost Town, Lost Dutchman State Park, then at Canyon Lake, relax on The Dolly Steamboat cruises and stop in Tortilla Flat for some local color. Restrictions apply on a portion of the newly opened trail. See article in this region for more detailed information.

Of course, there's lots to do and explore throughout this region to keep you active. Come stay in a local RV resort so you can enjoy many urban and outdoor activities.

Exploring the Timeless

Beauty of Historic SR 88

Your Gateway to Recreation

After a much-anticipated reopening, historic state route 88 (SR 88), known as the Apache Trail, has once again become a central pathway for outdoor enthusiasts, history buffs, and road-trippers alike. Winding through some of the most breathtaking landscapes in the region, SR 88 offers a journey back in time, blending rugged history with access to modern recreation. When embarking on your journey, the City of Apache Junction serves as the breathtaking gateway to this scenic adventure. Nestled at the base of the Superstition Mountains, Apache Junction offers visitors a blend of Old West charm and modern amenities, making it the perfect starting point for exploring the Apache Trail.

For many, SR 88 is not just a route — it's a destination in itself, showcasing Arizona's geological wonders, diverse wildlife, and access to unparalleled recreational opportunities. From the shimmering lakes to the mysterious mountains, here's why this historic road is a must-visit for your next adventure.

A Journey through Time: The History of SR 88

Apache Trail is part of the National Forest Scenic Byway system originally constructed as a supply route for the Roosevelt Dam in the early 1900s, the backbone of Arizona's heritage. Its deep connection to Native American history, the settlement of the Wild West, and the growth of early Arizona communities make it a living museum.

Recently reopened after extensive renovations to repair severe damage after storms in 2019, SR 88 is now ready to welcome a new generation of explorers. The road itself is a tribute to the craftsmanship of early road builders. Narrow and winding, SR 88 offers travelers panoramic views of the surrounding desert and mountains. Its dirt road sections add a sense of authenticity, giving drivers the feeling of stepping back in time while remaining within reach of modern amenities. Travelers who aren't seeking the authentic explorer experience also have the option to alter their route, enjoying the scenic beauty but avoiding the historic rugged roadways that begin just past Tortilla Flat.

A Haven for Outdoor Enthusiasts

as visitors traverse through this gateway to the many attractions, eateries, and recreational venues along the scenic highway, from Apache Junction to Tortilla Flat. Must stops along the way include the Superstition Mountain Museum (#1), with 14 acres of exhibits to learn even more about the area and the famous Goldfield Ghost Town (#2), open all year, with a variety of activities including goldmining, railroad rides, horseback riding, mine tours and more.

Also along the Trail is the popular Lost Dutchman State Park. Several hiking trails lead from the Park into the Superstition wilderness and surrounding Tonto National Forest. Enjoy a weekend camping and experience native wildlife along the way. Farther east on the Trail, the narrow, twisting road winds down to the shores of the serene Canyon Lake, with its marina equipped with all sorts of water sports equipment to launch a boat, jet ski, or kayak. Visitors can also fish, camp, or just relax and enjoy the breathtaking scenery. Board The Dolly Steamboat (#3) and enjoy the area's most spectacular lake cruise around this pristine body of water. Often, you'll see wild goats or even eagles soaring over the cliffs nearby.

Back on the Trail, head to Tortilla Flat (#4), the last surviving stagecoach stop on the Trail. Enjoy an Ol' West burger with a cold drink, while sitting on a horse saddle barstool and finish with a famous Prickly Pear gelato.

Tour the Loop

For those adventurers desiring to continue, the highway soon becomes a dirt road as it winds east toward Roosevelt Dam. Before the restricted area by ADOT, Fish Creek Vista, mile post 222, is a turnaround, allowing vehicles to enjoy a large portion of this scenic drive. For the real adventurers, SR 88 is restricted from mile post 222, continuing east to milepost 223.5 at

Fish Creek Bridge, for use-only by high-clearance four-wheel drive vehicles and utility terrain vehicles (UTVs) — no trailers or RV's. For your SAFETY, all other vehicles SHOULD NOT attempt to travel through this section. The west bound traffic turnaround is near Reavis Trailhead Road, at milepost 227.6. USE CAUTION as SR 88 is a primitive dirt road between milepost 220-

229.2. Drivers towing trailers or boats to Apache Lake, enter SR 88 from the east at SR 188. A separate construction project to pave and make other improvements between Roosevelt and Apache Lakes, mileposts 243-229.2, can be closed nightly from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. Sunday through Thursdays.

Some side roads may be closed during construction. This separate project is expected to continue through 2025. We recommend everyone planning to cross the restricted area of SR 88, contact ADOT prior to traveling by visiting azdot.gov/SR88ApacheTrail, as conditions may change at anytime.

The next stretch of the Trail is winding and the scenery is grand. No journey along SR 88 would be complete without a visit to the Theodore Roosevelt Dam. Standing as a testament to early 20th-century engineering, the dam was one of the largest of its kind when it was completed in 1911. Today, it remains an impressive sight, with its massive structure blending into the surrounding landscape. At one time,

CANYON LAKE COURTESY OF SMILES1479

Roosevelt Lake was the largest man made lake. Today, it's number three in Arizona after Lake Powell and Lake Mead. The lake's purpose was flood control, generation of electricity, and managing water for irrigation. The result has been to turn the Arizona desert into fertile agricultural land. It's a haven for boaters, fisherman, jet skiers, swimmers, campers, and wildlife observers.

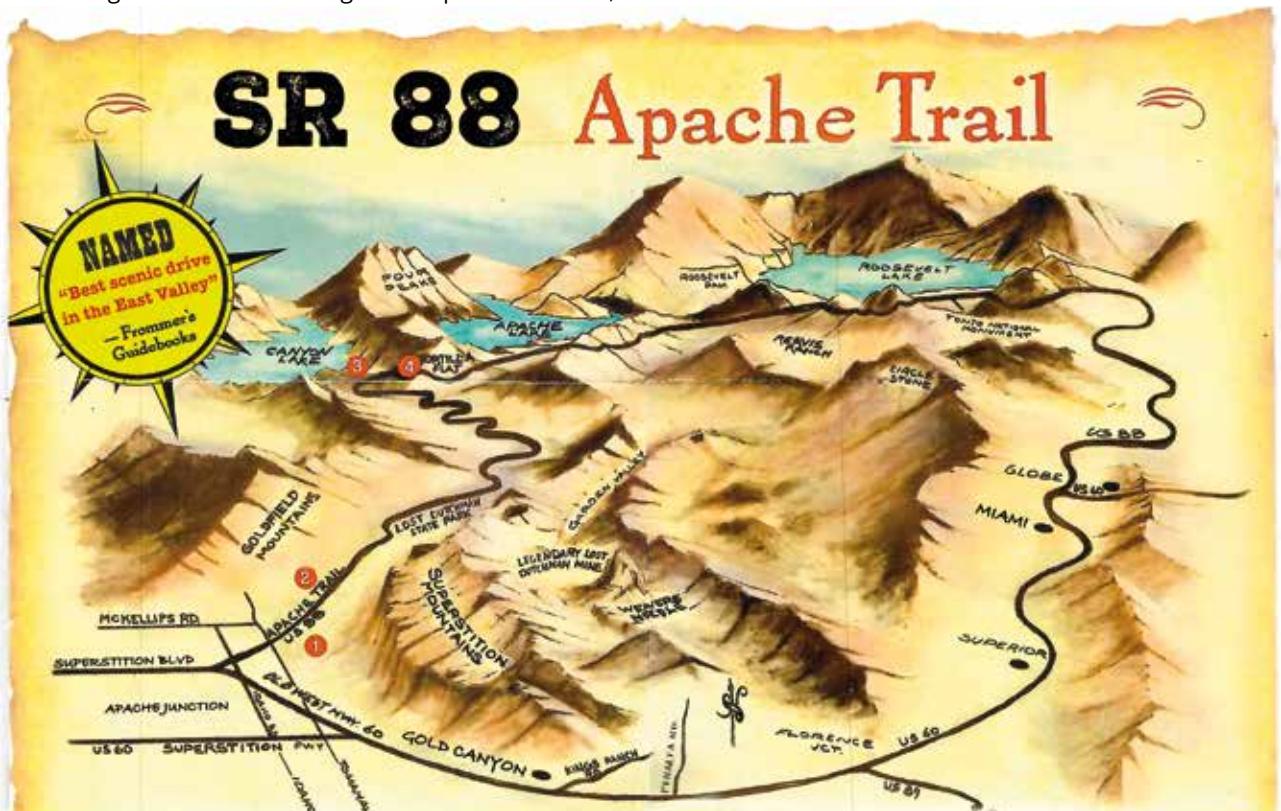

If you feel like staying for an overnight or longer, enjoy local campgrounds or smaller resorts.

The Apache trail ends at Hwy. 188, which heads north through Pumpkin Center to Hwy. 87 on to Payson, or south along the lake, past Tonto National Monument to Globe and Miami, two mining towns with plenty to explore. On your return to the East Valley on scenic US Hwy. 60, you pass the Boyce Thompson Arboretum State Park near Superior, a smaller mining town. Then, on through Gold Canyon and Apache Junction.

Driving SR 88 is an invitation to explore, to slow down, and to appreciate the quiet majesty of Arizona's wilderness. The mix of natural wonders, recreational amenities, and historical significance makes SR 88 a road trip that's not just about the destination, but the journey itself.

MAP IS NOT TO SCALE

Northern Arizona

Arizona's northern high desert covers almost a third of our state and is home to such American icons as the Grand Canyon, Historic Route 66, the red rocks of Sedona and the Eagles' famous corner in Winslow. Perhaps not as well known is Prescott—with its charming old-time vibe—the original territorial capitol of Arizona, quirky, art-filled Jerome and some of the most awe-inspiring scenery in the West.

There's a gigantic hole in the Earth! Its here in Arizona at Meteor Crater off I-40 in Northern AZ, between Flagstaff and Winslow, at exit 233. This is the worlds best preserved Meteorite impact site. Guided rims tours, incredible look-out points, Discovery Center & Space Museum, Collision! 4D Theater, Impact! The mystery of the Meteor Crater, a Gift & Mineral store and delightful RV Park next door.

The high season here is summer, when high altitude provides cool temperatures and plenty of reasons to go outdoors. Williams, west of Flagstaff, is a fun little town that is the starting point for the Grand Canyon Railway. Another great train ride is the Verde Canyon Railroad that leaves from Clarkdale, near Cottonwood, taking you on an unforgettable tour of the Verde Valley, as the early miners must have seen it.

Navajo and Hopi tribes share the land to the northeast, surrounding the wild, majestic Canyon de Chelly and Monument Valley.

Pinal County

Just far enough away from big city excitement, Casa Grande, between Phoenix and Tucson, is a welcome retreat for RVers seeking a more rural setting. Shopping and services are plentiful here, serving rural communities in this western “Golden Corridor” of Pinal County.

This area is not as well known, as most are in a hurry to travel between Tucson and the greater PHX area. A more agricultural area, Pinal County’s priority is to encourage economic development to enhance its income base and retain workers locally. Western Pinal County has three distinct areas — the Gila River and Ak-Chin tribes near Maricopa, just south of Chandler; Casa Grande, Coolidge and Florence southeast; and Eloy/Arizona City further south off I-10. The Casa Grande Chamber, Sunland Visitor Center in Eloy and community chambers of commerce offer information on where to explore and enjoy this western portion of the county.

West of Casa Grande near Stanfield is Shamrock Farms, with an excellent farm tour of this Arizona dairy products company. The Dwarf Car Museum is also nearby. Northwest of Coolidge is the Casa Grande Ruins National Monument, a prehistoric site built by the Hohokam. Production is underway at Lucid Motors’ new manufacturing facility in Casa Grande with its new electric car and trucks rivaling its nearest competitors. Eloy has become the largest sky diving center in the world, with experienced staff, excellent facilities, great weather and drop zone for skydivers of all skill levels. There are plenty of family-owned and operated eateries, excellent antiquing and a variety of unique finds in local stores. Come explore our hidden gems!

This sprawling intact ecosystem shelters a surprisingly diverse community of animals and plants in its 516 square miles, and includes miles of scenic roads and hiking trails for those yearning to explore the heart of the Sonoran Desert.

Located roughly midway between Tucson and Yuma, Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument encompasses an incredible diversity of Sonoran Desert plants and animals. All told, 28 species of cactus can be found throughout the park, including the namesake organ pipe, which is found almost nowhere else in the United States. This is wild country, fierce and full of secrets.

Within the national monument, Twin Peaks

Campground contains 208 sites (174 RV and 34 tent only sites). The campground includes water, restrooms, solar showers, grills, tables, and dump station. Hookups are not available.

OLD TUCSON UNVEILS A DOUBLE FEATURE OF Seasonal Magic: Nightfall & Yuletide

Old Tucson, the legendary Western film set and entertainment destination, is rolling out the red carpet for two of Southern Arizona's most anticipated seasonal experiences: the spine-tingling Nightfall and the heartwarming holiday spectacular Yuletide. Alongside these seasonal blockbusters, Old Tucson continues to offer immersive Western Experience events that celebrate the spirit of the Old West year-round.

Nightfall: Arizona's Haunted Western Town

From October 2 through November 1, Old Tucson transforms into a haunted frontier where nightmares roam free. Now in its 33rd year, Nightfall has become a Southwest tradition, drawing thrill-seekers with:

- Immersive haunted houses, scare zones, and mazes
- Live stunt shows, musical theater, and roaming performers
- Expanded food and beverage offerings, including themed cocktails and craft cuisine
- VIP "R.I.P. Passes" with skip-the-line access, exclusive seating, and premium perks

Yuletide: A Holiday Celebration with a Western Twist

Beginning November 29 through December 28, Old Tucson trades its ghosts for glittering lights and festive cheer.

Yuletide reimagines the historic town as a Victorian-style holiday village, complete with:

- Carolers, live shows, and storytelling
- Santa's workshop and family activities
- Holiday train rides and seasonal treats

Yuletide is included in the 2025 Old Tucson Season Pass, which also covers Nightfall, offering unlimited admission and exclusive benefits.

Western Experience Events: Living the Old West

Beyond seasonal spectacles, Old Tucson invites guests to step into the boots of the Old West with year-round programming that blends history, entertainment, and adventure:

- Hollywood-Style Stunt Shows
- Saloon Shows & Magic Acts
- Historical Tours & Ghost Tours
- Family Fun & Games

Nestled between Saguaro National Park and Tucson Mountain Park, Old Tucson remains a cultural landmark.

About Old Tucson

Founded in 1939 as a film set for Hollywood Westerns, Old Tucson has evolved into a premier destination for immersive entertainment.

If you're looking for water sports in the desert, you're sure to find some fun along the West Coast of Arizona. The Colorado River runs along this western border, providing life-sustaining water and recreation to all who visit. But there's much more to this area.

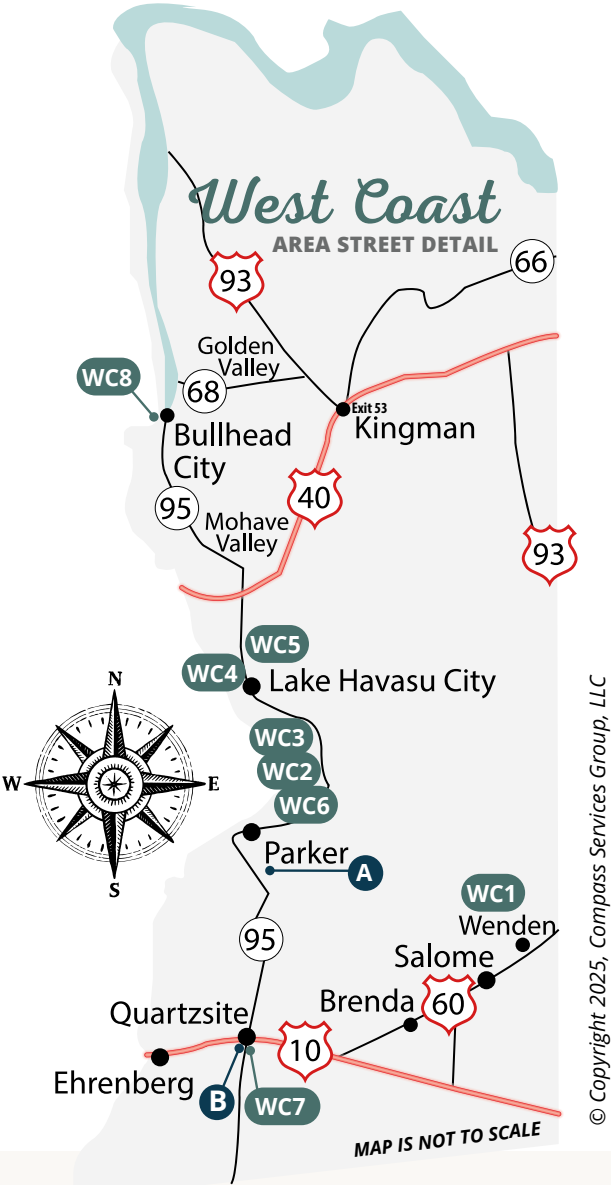

Near the northwest corner of the state is Kingman, the "Heart of Historic Route 66." More than 60 of Kingman's buildings are listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

North of I-10, Bullhead City, Lake Havasu City, Parker and Ehrenberg are havens to all who love water sports. Situated along the banks of the Colorado River, Lake Havasu City is famously the second home of the London Bridge, which spans the river. Parker has the only resort and casino on the river in this region.

A thriving hub of activity during the winter season, Quartzsite sits at the crossroads of I-10 and Hwy. 95 to points north and south. Its Sports, Vacation & RV Show is the largest in Arizona, with exhibits, shopping, repairs, upgrades and worthy workshops.

Historic Kingman

The Kingman Visitor Center, located on Route 66 in Historic Downtown Kingman, was recently recognized as the Best Route 66 Visitor Center in Arizona by Official Best Of America. It is easy to see why! The Kingman Visitor Center is always buzzing with activity, averaging 300 to 600 guests daily. Here, guests will find two gift shops immediately upon walking in the front doors – the Route 66 Gift Shop and the Kingman Visitor Center Gift Shop. In the latter of the two, we pride ourselves on offering predominantly USA-made products as well as handmade items from local artisans guests won't find in any other visitor center. Housed in the Kingman Visitor Center is the Route 66 Museum, which covers the chronological transportation history along Route 66 in Arizona, dating back to original Native American trade routes. It features life-sized dioramas, which really brings the stories of Route 66 to life. The downstairs portion of the museum is home of the world's only Electric Vehicle Museum, which explores over 100 years of electric vehicle history, dating back to 1909. The newest display in the Kingman Visitor Center is The Guardian Angel of Route 66 Exhibit. This project began with StoryFile, which is an interactive multimedia display visitors can use to ask a virtual Angel questions about Route 66 and his life, and he responds in real time. Featured in a special with Holocaust Survivors on 60 minutes in 2021, StoryFile is an interactive technology used for interviewing people even when they aren't present. It's been used in prestigious institutions, such as the Japanese American National Museum, and by celebrities like William Shatner. We wanted to use it to bring Angel, who has been interviewed by the media over 1,000 times, straight to the tourist.

Kingman Visitor Center front lobby and gift shop

From Brazil to Germany to Taiwan, and all over the rest of the world, international travelers prioritize Kingman as a stop on their Route 66 road trip. Featuring the iconic Route 66 Drive-Thru Shield, Kingman Postcard Mural, and 16 Tesla Superchargers, the Kingman Visitor Center offers an abundance of opportunities in addition to travel information for the Route 66 tourist.

Located in Kingman's historic Powerhouse, which provided electrical power to Kingman and area mines between 1909 and 1938, it offers free travel information for Arizona attractions and operates an all-American-made gift shop, focusing on products from the Southwest.

TAKE A ROAD TRIP ACROSS THE WHITE MOUNTAINS

by Roger Naylor

This high country route is Arizona's ultimate summer getaway. Traveling from Pinetop to Eagar on State Highway 260 serves as the perfect introduction to the White Mountains, Arizona's summer playground. The gentle paved highway sweeps past sparkling lakes, crosses trout-filled streams, and traverses meadows and forests on the flanks of mighty mountains. It's deliciously green in the summer and blazes with colorful leaves in the fall.

This is a land of elk and eagles, and twisting mountain roads pressed beneath a sprawling sky. Wolf howls interrupt the silence and wildflowers dance in each summer breeze. Easy side trips lead to the mountain hamlet of Greer, Sunrise Ski Park, which also offers a summer playground of activities, and Big Lake, wrapped in forest and lined with multiple campgrounds. At Big Lake, campers have the convenience of paved roads, showers, a dump station, but no electric hookups. Apache Trout, the largest campground, can accommodate vehicles 45 feet in length.

Yuma
AREA STREET DETAIL

From early days in Arizona's territorial history, Yuma was considered to be the gateway to California. A settlement was built along with a bridge over the Colorado River and history was made.

Today, Yuma is a bustling community that carefully preserves its history and offers a comfortable winter climate for RVers to enjoy. The river makes water sports and fishing convenient, and varied wildlife refuges, parks and trails offer great ways to get outdoor exercise. For indoor fun, there are nearby casinos, shopping and some historical attractions that demonstrate the role Yuma played in bringing commerce through Arizona.

Wellton, to the east of Yuma, is a smaller city with its own charms. There are plenty of small-town activities to keep you busy while you enjoy the mild temperatures.
