Materials are the foundation of every great interiors scheme, and each brings its own unique qualities: the tactile warmth of brick, the natural grain of timber, or the gleam of polished metal. In Materialist, renowned stylist and author Hilary Robertson first considers the beauty of Stone, Wood, Concrete, Plaster, Ceramic, Fabric, and Tile—their distinctive traits, the variety of finishes available, and how they can transform your home. Hilary then steps inside 15 remarkable interiors, all defined by the creative and expressive use of materials. Emerald-green zellige tiles add bohemian flair to a Moroccan riad. In London, an interior designer has blended the original architecture of her Victorian villa with Brutalist raw oak and concrete surfaces. And a writer's eco-friendly retreat in New York's Hudson Valley uses plywood, cork, corrugated metal, and even straw in its innovative construction. Filled with amazing original photography, Materialist is an inspiring guide to the building blocks of home.

• Vogue's Key Interior Trends Set to Define 2026 include burl wood furniture (Google searches have increased 5,000% in a month), textile wall hangings, and tactile metalwork.

• "Expect to see richer, more tactile finishes, patterns, and layering" in 2026, says interior designer Cortney Bishop in Good Housekeeping.

• Hilary is a bestselling author: her previous books Monochrome Home (ISBN 978-1-84975-613-6), Nomad at Home (ISBN 978-1-78879-245-5), and Inside Stories (ISBN 978-1-78879-700-9) have combined sales of 78,000. She has a loyal Instagram following of 29k (@hilaryrobertson).

A-list interior designer Kathryn M. Ireland opens the door to her inviting home in California and reveals the insider secrets of her creative process. Built for a silent-film star in the 1920s, the Spanish Revival house in Santa Monica holds many stories. Kathryn was determined to preserve the building's architecture and honor its history as a gathering place for writers, musicians, and creatives. Kathryn began by simply listening to the house and salvaging many of its original features. Then it was time for her to create her signature layered look, using her own fabric designs and art and furniture from her former homes. A hand-painted bed from India, an Arts and Crafts desk from London, a Suzani wall hanging—these beloved pieces had lived with her through many previous chapters and soon found their places in this new setting. Throughout the book, which explores each room in turn, Kathryn explains her approach to decorating via moodboards, sketches, floorplans, and photographs. She also asks the experts for their advice on subjects such as buying antiques and hanging art. Tricks of the Trade is a reflection of everything Kathryn has learned over more than 30 years, born from a lifelong love affair with textiles, color, and the way fabrics bring rooms to life.

• Kathryn M. Ireland is consistently named one of Elle Decor's A-List designers and has been included on AD's list of the 20 Most Famous Interior Designers Working Today.

• Layering fabrics, art and antiques is Kathryn's signature style, and Good Housekeeping predicts that "refined layering will define interiors in 2026"—"creating your own original look through careful curation."

• Kathryn M. Ireland has 82k followers on Instagram (@kathrynmireland).

KATHRYN M. IRELAND

She starred in Bravo TV's Million Dollar Decorators, has an online course with Create Academy, and her line of fabrics is distributed across the globe. Bohemian Modern

ISBN: 9781788797702
160 pages (FSC paper) | 250 color photographs

Publication: July 2026

The Bohemian Modern home is a place where creativity, individuality, and a bold mix of color and pattern meet in a modern environment. Whitewashed walls and polished concrete floors are brought to life by vibrant rugs and wall hangings, a cozy rattan chair suspended from the ceiling, and a jungle of house plants. The style gives a nod to 70s chic, with its use of shagpile rugs, Swiss cheese plants, and macramé, but it stands firmly in the present day by boldly contrasting those elements with sleek modern art and polished concrete work surfaces. Emily Henson starts by taking a look at the different facets of the look: pattern and color, textiles, handmade pieces, living with houseplants, and collections and display. She offers up styling tricks to use at home and timely ideas for recycling and reuse. Next, a series of case studies take a closer look at free-spirited and creative homes and the people who live in them. From a restored barn in Morocco to a converted parking garage in the Netherlands, Emily shows that any home can have Bohemian Modern style.

• Searches for "70s home decor" have soared by 277%, according to lighting brand Dowsing & Reynolds, and Good Housekeeping reports that "the macramé trend shows no signs of slowing down."

• Fits the current vogue for Scandi maximalism, with locations including a family home in Denmark filled with colorful kilims and global vintage finds. Homes & Gardens defines this trend as "all about layering, storytelling and adding joy to spaces."

• Emily Henson is a successful interiors stylist with 26k followers on Instagram (@lifeunstyled). She is the author of Modern Rustic, Life Unstyled, and Be Bold with Colour & Pattern.

Inspired by nature and classic Scandinavian design, Naturally Nordic interiors show how you can bring the natural world into your home whether you live in the country or the city. Use colors, textures, and details to create a home in which to unwind—a retreat from the rest of the world. Chapter one, Forest, takes inspiration from the outdoors with rich colors combined with traditional patterns and features, such as log burners, wood paneling, and woven rugs. Chapter two, Graphical, is reminiscent of striking exposed landscapes: think whitewashed ceilings, rugged stone surfaces, and black features softened by cozy, soft furnishings, fresh plants, and flowers. Chapter three, Homestead, introduces warmer hues with painted wood and cozy textiles, furniture, and collectibles. Finally, Waterside creates an oasis of calm with reclaimed wood, cool tones, and accessories made from rattan, cotton, and wool. The stunning photography for this book takes in locations across Scandinavia and the United States, and all evoke an ideal, rural life, adapted to modern living.

has a 20-year career as an award-winning bartender, barista, chef, bar operator, and writer, which has taken him to 90 countries and over 400 distilleries, culminating in over 400,000 books sold. He has co-founded eight award winning bars and restaurants in the UK, and delivered seminars and tastings at every major drinks festival around the world. He is the author of the bestselling Curious Bartender series of books for Ryland Peters & Small. See www.curiousbartender.com for more details.

In his latest book, master mixologist, best-selling author, award-winning bar owner, popular podcaster, and emerging distiller Tristan Stephenson turns his gaze to vodka, featuring 20 classic and modern vodka-based cocktails. His journey begins in the historic home of vodka, the so-called "Vodka Belt" of north-eastern Europe, where he uncovers the fables and ancient production techniques of a spirit inextricably linked to the identity of these heartlands. But vodka has broadened its boundaries and traveled into Asia, North America, and Australia so Tristan shines a light on 40 of the most exceptional vodka operations in the world, many with extraordinary histories and characters as memorable as the spirits they produce. It wasn't until the 1990s that super premium vodka was born, the success of which continued in the 21st century as consumers began to prioritize quality and craftsmanship. Vodka seems destined to continue its march onward and upward, adapting and evolving to suit consumers' changing tastes. But one thing that hasn't changed is vodka's versatility as a cocktail base.

FIONA BECKETT
is a well-known food and drink journalist, a contributor to Decanter magazine, and, until recently, The Guardian's wine columnist. She is the author of 25 books including The Wine Lover's Kitchen and Fiona Beckett's Cheese Course, has her own food and wine pairing website (matchingfoodandwine.com) and best-selling Substack 'Eat This, Drink That, Live Well' with over 19k followers.

If you've ever tasted a food you love with a wine that matches it perfectly, you'll know that the combination of the two can be even better than the food or wine on its own. Expert author Fiona Beckett imparts her extensive knowledge in this collection of essential tips and advice. Simple pointers such as "match the wine to the sauce, not the basic ingredient" and "take into account what else is on the plate" will introduce you to a new world of taste sensations. In this indispensable book, more than 100 mouth-watering recipes are organized into superb themed menus, many of which are accompanied with recommendations for the ideal wine to partner them. Classic dishes sit alongside the intriguingly original, and light options are featured as well as more indulgent delights. Try any of the suggested matches such as Leek and Blue Cheese Quiche with Hazelnut Pastry with a dry white Pinot Blanc, Seared Tuna with Tomatoes and Gremolata with a chilled dry Rosé, or Thai-style Beef with Tomato and Herb Salad with an aromatic Alsace Riesling. In addition, a section devoted to cheese and wine pairing offers sometimes surprising suggestions on what to drink with your favorite cheeses, a chapter on choosing wine by style, practical tips on decanting, glassware, and equipment, and a useful glossary of wine terms.

- Choosing wine to serve with food is a perennially popular subject—specific matches and at-a-glance food and wine matching guides ensure you get it right every time.
- The pairing of cheese and wine at parties seems like a modern trend, but historians believe it may date back thousands of years.

LAURA SANTINI
is a food writer and gastropreneur who burst onto the food scene in September 2009 with her debut book Easy Tasty Italian, which won her the coveted Best First Book Award at the Guild of Food Writers Awards in 2010. She is the author of Umami, also published by Ryland Peters & Small.

When it comes to eating fresh and delicious food—pasta is the ideal choice. This book includes over 70 recipes, from authentic Italian classics to vibrant and contemporary dishes. A plate of pasta is one of the most satisfying things in the world—whether coated in a rich tomato-based ragù, doused in a fragrant herb pesto, or smothered in creamy carbonara sauce. Pasta has many merits: it is inexpensive, quick to make, and works both as an everyday staple or a dinner party showstopper. Laura Santini's approach is that the heart and soul of each dish is down to the sauce. The dishes are divided into Quick and Easy with simple stunners such as Pepper & Parmesan and Lemon Artichoke Pesto. Vegetables and Fungi comes next with an umami-rich Wild Mushroom Ragu. Following this is Fish & Seafood with a simple Salmon Carbonara as well as luxurious affairs like Asparagus and Scallop. In Meat and Poultry are Best-ever Meatballs and Spicy 'Nduja Sausage. Flip to the Creamy and Cheesy chapter to find earthy Gorgonzola & Walnut and zesty Saffron & Courgette.

- From midweek staples to dinner party treats, there is a fresh and satisfying recipe for every occasion.
- Discover the Italians' three key secrets to making perfect pasta!
- Italian-born Laura Santini is an author with one foot in the rich culture and heritage of Italian cooking, and another in the truly modern understanding of methods and ingredients popular with home-cooks today.

In a world full of trivial annoyances and a slow, steady drip of irritations, it can be hard to find a way to stand out. To elevate your ability to be spectacularly annoying demands focus, courage, determination, and creativity. Lucinda Wilde's witty book will show you how to master the art of being incredibly irritating with a hilarious collection of over 150 ways to infuriate anyone and everyone, no matter what the occasion. Bored at home? Quietly change the passcode for the Wi-Fi and enjoy the chaos. Eating out? Always reject the first two tables offered, then change your mind and go back to one of them (preferably after ordering your food). Flying? Wait until the person next to you has their tray table down and covered in food and drink before deciding you need to use the bathroom. Covering work, home life, relationships, birthdays, nights out, and plenty more, this laugh-out-loud book is the perfect antidote for when the exasperations of life get a bit too much.

- The small size format makes it a great stocking filler or Secret Santa gift.

- Packed with entertaining witticisms, making it an appealing book to return to again and again.

- Pranks and practical jokes continue to be popular, with TikTok, YouTube, and Instagram featuring millions of prank videos and compilations.

LUCINDA WILDE
was thrown out of a perfectly good school for being caught in possession of an alternative mindset, but found an outlet for her passion for the written word in London, working with The Women's Press and Quartet Books. She has penned several volumes of poetry, a stage play, the book Run with the Wolves, and the collection Wayward Words: Poems and Midnight Musings (as Deborah Maxim). She lives in Devon, UK with her family.
