Letter from the Director of Advancement

Dear Country Day Families and Friends,

What an incredible year! Amidst the challenges of the Covid-19 pandemic and despite health and safety protocols preventing many of our community members from visiting campus, you rallied in support of our students and faculty. The year witnessed record giving to the Country Day Fund, more than $250,000 donated to the Guardian Fund to offset pandemic costs, and the launch of a project to renovate our stadium facilities. And those are just a few of the notable highlights!

The Country Day Fund – the cornerstone of our annual fundraising – had a stellar year, surpassing our ambitious annual fundraising goal of $1,000,000 and setting a new record for gifts received. It was heartwarming to see families rally in support of our teachers and staff on "Superhero" Match Day in November, raising over $385,000 in a single day. CountryDate, our annual fundraising gala in March, pivoted to a virtual format and contributed a further $210,000 to the fund. The year was rounded out with Giving Day in May, cementing the success of the Country Day Fund. Your generous support was particularly meaningful in a year when our teachers worked harder than ever, managing hybrid learning environments, reinforcing safety protocols, and investing countless hours in their own professional development. Thank you for supporting their efforts!

With alumni and parents reaching out to support the school as the Covid pandemic took hold, we launched the Guardian Fund in September 2020 to mitigate pandemic-related costs. The fund raised over $250,000 in six months! With the combination of these funds and the generous gifts we received to the County Day Fund, we were able not only to rise to the challenges triggered by the pandemic but excel in a year when many other schools struggled. We are deeply grateful to the families who so determinedly supported us – you are among the silent heroes behind Country Day's success this year.

For anyone who has been a visitor to campus in recent months, particularly through the summer, you cannot fail to notice this year's big capital project: the substantial renovation of our stadium and installation of a synthetic turf field. While this

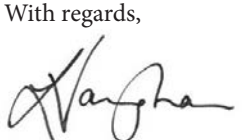

$3.75-million project has been many years in the making, we are sincerely grateful to the group of donors who stepped forward to fund this project and see it to completion in time for the start of the 2021-22 school year. Cincinnati Country Day School has been built almost entirely by generous donations from our community, and this project is a wonderful example of the difference that can be made when our families bring their passion and commitment to bear. Their generosity will benefit our students today and strengthen the school for generations to come.

Aside from bricks and mortar infrastructure, the school's financial security is underpinned by its endowment. The school's total endowed funds stood at over $32 million on June 30, 2021, having benefitted from strong market growth and over $750,000 of new funds in the year. Growth of our endowment remains a critical priority for school leadership. While our invested funds are substantial by any measure, our total endowment lags that of competitor schools. With the annual draw from the endowment supplementing the operating budget, this places CCDS at a relative disadvantage that we must continue to address. One important area of focus over the last 12 months has been the relaunch of our planned giving society, The 1926 Society. Members of this society, the majority of whom are devoted alumni, have made a commitment to a planned gift to the school. Many of these gifts are ultimately directed to the school's endowment and will serve to strengthen CCDS as we move into our second century.

In closing, this year has given me many moments of pause to reflect on the strength of our community and its generous support. "We stand together, strong in our devotion" has never been truer than in a year when Country Day faced some of its greatest operational challenges. On behalf of our students, faculty, and staff, please accept my sincere thanks.

With regards,

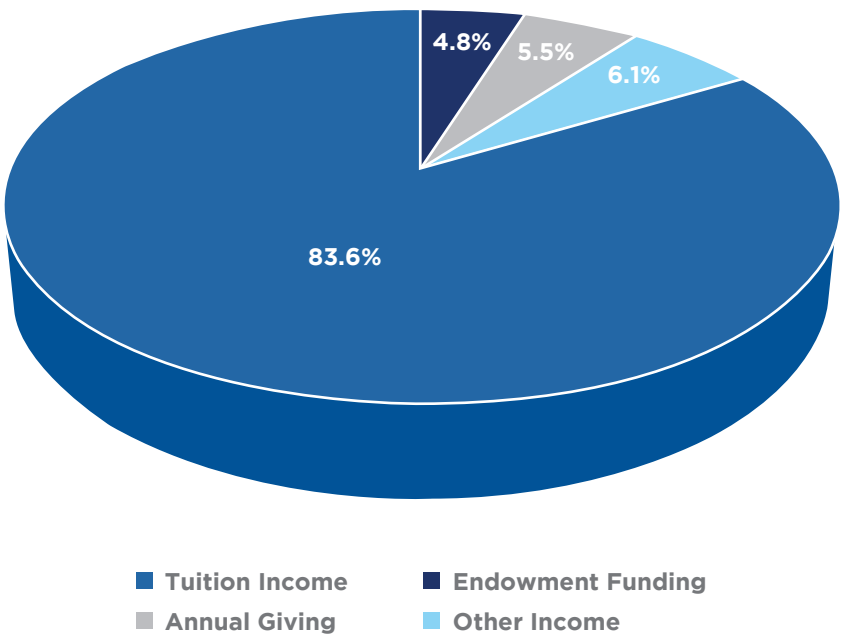

Louise Vaughan, Director of Advancement

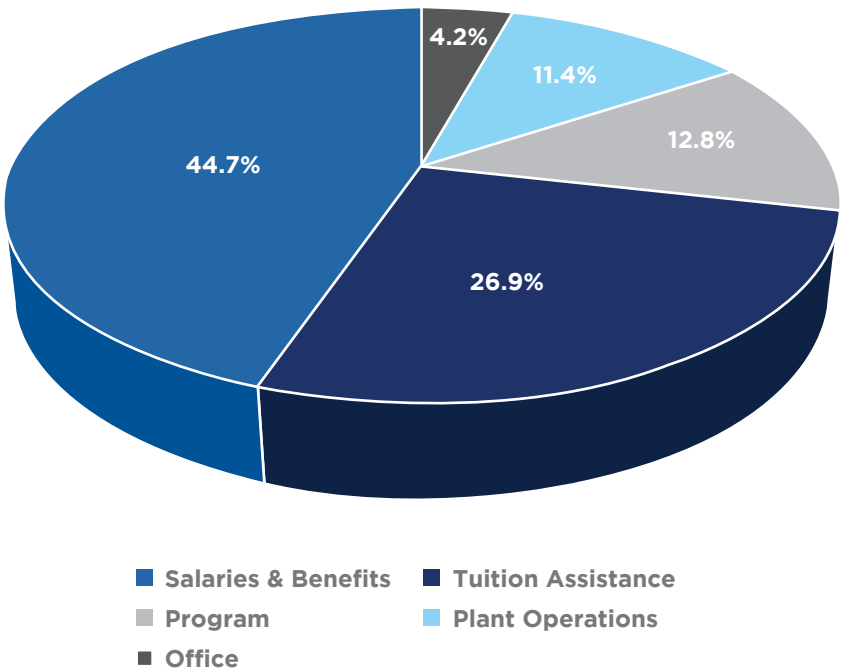

Financial Information

(Fiscal Year 2020-2021)

Revenues

Expenditures

In addition to being a most unusual year due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the 2020-21 school year was marked by strong fundraising, tight control of operational costs, and enhanced investment in facility and technology operations, including mechanical upgrades, Pre-K bathrooms and kitchen renovations, and computer devices for all students in grades K-4.

A net tuition income shortfall versus the 2020-21 budget (set before the pandemic emerged) – driven by curtailed early morning and after-school programs, and pandemic-driven weakness in pre-primary enrollment – was partially offset by strong new student enrollment. The overall revenue shortfall – primarily due to net tuition and a minimal summer camp program – was offset by operational expense savings and generous annual giving support. In a year when other schools experienced severe operational disruption and extended periods of closure, Country Day reaped the benefit of strong community support and tackling the pandemic head-on.

The Country Day Fund

The Country Day Fund supports every aspect of the Country Day experience: program enrichment, small class sizes, professional development of faculty and staff, our wide range of athletic, arts and extra-curricular activities, and much more. Over 900 donors made gifts to the Country Day Fund in 2020-21. Gifts ranged from $10 to over $25,000. Some made single gifts, while others spread their giving as monthly payments through the year. No matter how you gave, thank you for your support! Individuals who made gifts to support the mascot change are included in the list of donors below.

"This is my family away from my family. I know every person, their middle name, their sibling, and even their favorite food. I love being surrounded by the people I have grown up with. My class gets along so well, and I will miss them all so much. I know when I leave here it won't be like that anymore."

"I feel it is important to give flowers to the living. I think about how I got to where I am today, the exceptional faculty who were so passionate and always took extra time to sit down with me and work with me. There is nothing greater than knowing you can pass on the gift of education to those who may not be as fortunate as others."

Guardian Fund

The Covid-19 pandemic is a challenge unlike any that Country Day has faced in its almost 100-year history. The Guardian Fund raised over $250,000 in the 2020-21 school year and helped our school rise to the challenges triggered by the pandemic and excel in a year when many other schools struggled to find their footing.

Endowed Funds

The foundation for the school's ongoing financial security is provided by the school's endowment, comprising more than 65 individual funds. These funds are built by cash gifts made to the school over many decades. On June 30, 2021, the school's total endowed funds were valued at $32,105,591. This represents a 22% increase over the year, reflecting both strong market returns and over $750,000 of new funds. The following donors made gifts to the fund shown.

The 1926 Society

The 1926 Society recognizes individuals who make a planned gift to CCDS through bequests, trusts, or annuities. These individuals know through firsthand experience the power of a Country Day education and have chosen to give back so that others in turn can benefit. We are deeply appreciative of their commitment. Their contributions will change students' lives forever and strengthen the school as it moves forward into a second century.

1926 Society Spotlight

Gordon ’67 and Motoko Deane

Gordon ’67 is a lifer at Cincinnati Country Day School, who enrolled in 1954 when his father, William R. Deane, moved from New York to Cincinnati to be closer to family in Indiana and to commence his long tenure teaching upper school math at Country Day.

While Gordon never returned to Cincinnati after getting his BS in physics from Oberlin College and a MS in environmental science from Harvard, he resumed his lifelong commitment to Country Day as an Annual Fund contributor starting in 1986.

For Gordon and Motoko, it’s all about giving back and making the world a better place. “As a teacher’s son, I was blessed with free education at a great school for 13 years,” Gordon writes. “Which I calculate cost around $10,000 in then-current dollars but was priceless in terms of what it gave me as a foundation.”

For his 50th reunion at Country Day, Gordon served as the cornerstone, along with Craig Maier ’67, to challenge their classmates to contribute to the Richard O. Schwab ’67 Middle School Fund and to name the middle school office in Dick Schwab’s honor.

Recently, Gordon informed Country Day that the school is named in Motoko and his trust documents for a significant six-figure sum. As Gordon explained, “If both of us were to perish tomorrow, 80% of our estate goes to charity. We cannot use the money when we are gone, so funds should go where they are needed and good work can continue. With luck, we can live long enough to make that a seven-figure sum.”

The funds would become part of Country Day’s endowment and be used to establish a scholarship fund for students with financial need, with preference given to those students whose parents did not receive a college education.

To make the world a better place, Gordon is still actively developing renewable energy projects and serves as board chair of the National Tropical Botanical Garden, the only garden in the United States with a Congressional Charter. He also serves on the board of Brain Chemistry Labs, looking for causes and treatments for neurodegenerative diseases like ALS, Alzheimer’s, and Parkinson’s. Motoko has served on the board of Oberlin College for 10 years and on the board of the South Shore Conservatory, the largest community arts school in New England, for 16 years. Their good example continues through their two daughters, who take active roles in fundraising for their alma maters.

Country Day is grateful for its alumni, parents, past parents, grandparents, and faculty that recognize the value that is provided from a great education and continue to give through life, and – like with the Deanes – after life.
