BRINGING CLEAN WATER AND THE GOSPEL TO INDIA

"Whoever drinks the water I give them will never thirst." — John 4:14

Across India, millions of people lack access to clean drinking water. In many rural villages, families must walk 10 to 20 miles every day to find water for drinking, cooking, and washing. Women and children often bear this burden, spending hours carrying heavy containers of water back to their homes. The water they find is frequently contaminated, leading to disease, poor health, and ongoing hardship.

Yet beyond the physical need for water is an even greater spiritual need. Millions throughout India have never heard the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Entire villages remain without a church, pastor, or Christian witness.

CICM International's Living Water Project seeks to address both needs by providing clean water and sharing the hope of Christ.

Our goal is to drill 100 WELLS throughout India at a cost of $2,000 PER WELL, for a TOTAL PROJECT COST OF $200,000.

These wells will provide safe, reliable drinking water to communities that have little or no access to clean water while creating opportunities for evangelism, discipleship, and church planting.

God has already provided a tremendous blessing for this ministry. Through the generosity of a faithful donor, CICM has received a deep-water drilling machine capable of drilling up to 600 feet underground. This strategic gift allows us to reach reliable water sources in regions where shallow wells often fail, especially during times of drought. It also enables us to drill wells more efficiently and expand our impact across India.

Every well represents far more than a source of water. It becomes a gathering place where relationships are built and communities experience the love of Christ. As local pastors, evangelists, and church planters serve these villages, they have the opportunity to share the Gospel with people who may be hearing about Jesus for the very first time.

A single well can transform an entire community. Families gain access to clean drinking water, children spend more time in school instead of collecting water, health conditions improve, and communities experience renewed hope. Most importantly, people are introduced to Jesus Christ, the Living Water who alone satisfies the deepest thirst of the human heart.

Throughout His ministry, Jesus met physical needs while pointing people to eternal truth. CICM's Living Water Project follows that same example by demonstrating God's love through practical compassion and Gospel proclamation.

We believe these 100 wells will impact thousands of lives physically and spiritually. Our prayer is that many people will come to faith in Christ, new churches will be planted, and entire communities will be transformed through the power of the Gospel.

YOUR PARTNERSHIP CAN HELP MAKE THIS VISION A REALITY. Together, we can provide clean water to those who are thirsty and introduce them to Jesus Christ, the source of Living Water.
