Spiderweb Taco Dip

This layered party dip combines beans, seasoned sour cream, guacamole, salsa and cheese beneath an edible spiderweb. The spider is made from olives. The disappearance of the dip will be entirely rea

OCW Recipe Collection

Spiderweb Taco Dip

Ingredients

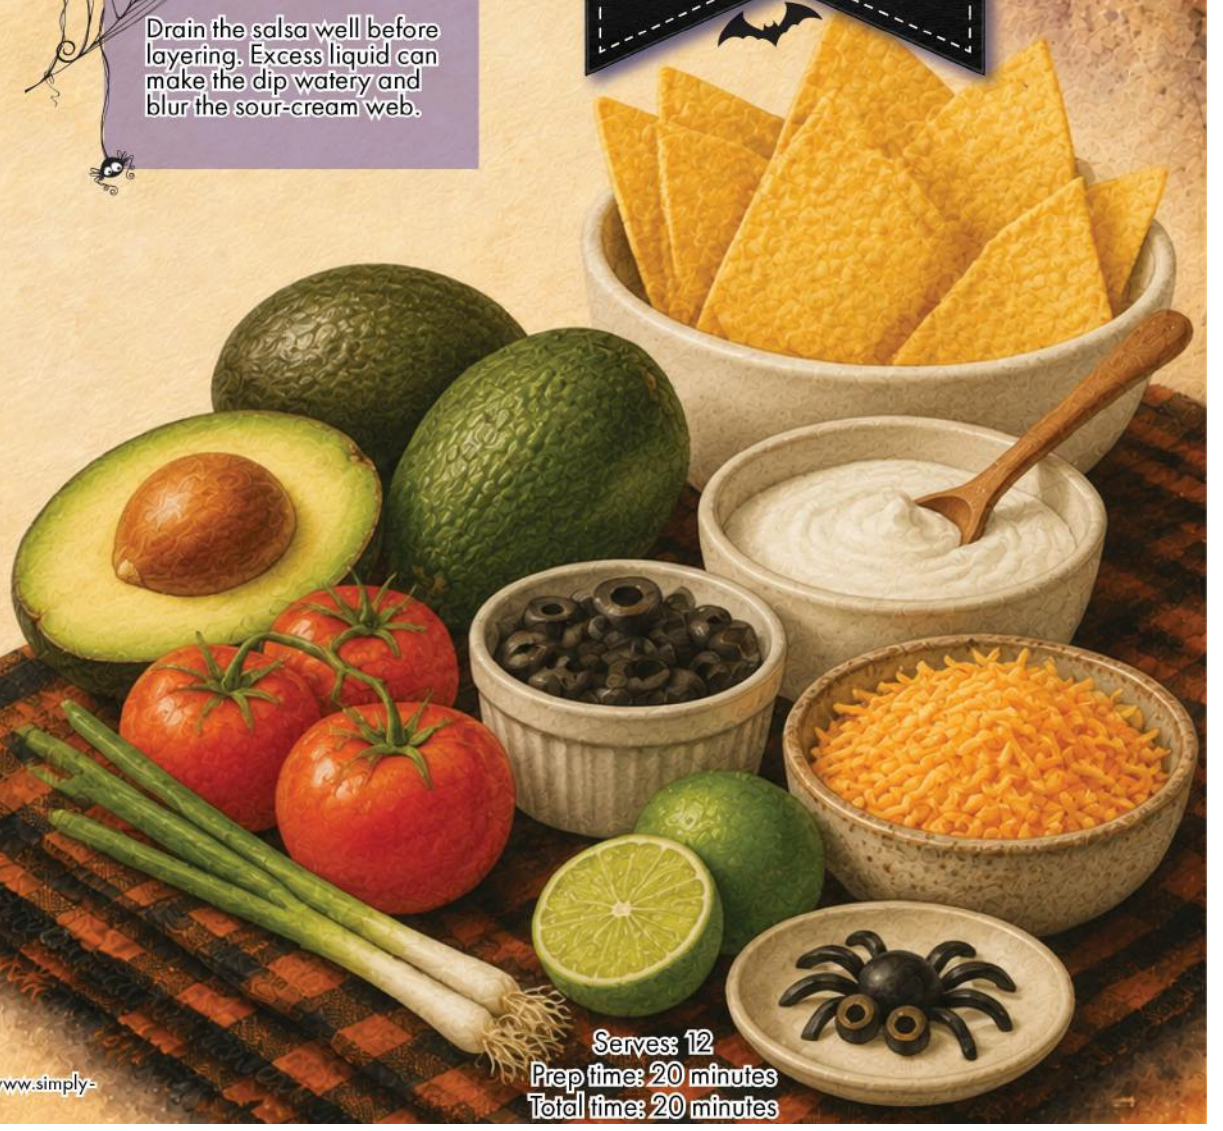

1 16-ounce can refried beans
1½ cups sour cream, divided
2 tablespoons taco seasoning
1½ cups prepared guacamole
1 cup thick salsa, drained
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
½ cup diced tomatoes
¼ cup sliced green onions
¼ cup sliced black olives
2 whole black olives
Tortilla chips, for serving

OCW KITCHEN TIP

Drain the salsa well before layering. Excess liquid can make the dip watery and blur the sour-cream web.

Directions

1. Spread the refried beans evenly in a 9-inch round serving dish.
2. Combine 1 cup of the sour cream with the taco seasoning. Spread it over the beans.
3. Carefully spread the guacamole over the seasoned sour cream.
4. Spoon the drained salsa around the outer edge. Add the cheese, tomatoes, green onions and sliced olives around the rim.
5. Place the remaining ½ cup sour cream in a piping bag or zip-top bag. Snip off one corner.
6. Pipe several circles of sour cream over the guacamole. Beginning in the center, drag a toothpick outward through the circles to create a web.
7. Make the spider using one whole olive for the body and part of the second olive for the head. Cut the remaining olive into thin strips for the legs.
8. Refrigerate until serving. Serve with tortilla chips.

Recipe adapted from Halloween Spiderweb 7-Layer Dip by Simply Happenings.

By Anesa K. Chastain Jones - Advertising Insights with Anesa
Oklahoma's Choice Weekly

If you haven't visited Oklahoma's Choice Weekly online lately, we have a lot to show you.

Our new website and app bring together the things OCW readers look for: auctions, businesses, classifieds, community events, recipes, and the latest edition. We've built a place where you can browse the paper, explore a business, find an upcoming sale, and discover something you weren't expecting along the way.

The weekly digital edition remains at the heart of it. Open the latest issue or revisit previous editions, with more of OCW just a click away. Our Auction Hub helps readers explore upcoming sales and connect with auction companies. The Marketplace organizes classifieds so visitors can browse jobs, equipment, services, property, and more. Featured business pages offer room to learn about the people, products, and services behind the advertising.

For Oklahoma's agricultural community, our new Farm & Ranch Hub brings together hay and forage, livestock, machinery, rural property, fencing, and farm services. It gives readers a focused starting point for the things they need to keep their operations moving.

There's plenty to explore beyond the marketplace, too. Our Community section connects readers with events, the Recipe Collection, Hunt Oklahoma, and tribute pages honoring loved ones, cancer fighters, survivors, and caregivers. New Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas pages add seasonal activities, holiday events, shopping inspiration, interactive coloring pages, and Letters to Santa.

OCW Network adds audio and video to the experience, creating additional ways to hear from businesses and explore what they offer. Advertising Insights provides practical ideas for business owners, while our advertising pages and Client Portal make it easier to explore options and connect with our team.

What does all of this have to do with advertising? Quite a bit.

People visit with different interests and different needs. Someone checking an auction might also need a trailer. A reader browsing holiday events may be planning dinner, shopping for gifts, or looking for something to do close to home. Bringing those interests together creates opportunities for businesses to be discovered in the course of everyday life.

That is the purpose behind the work we've put into this website: make OCW useful, easy to explore, and worth returning to.

Our new app puts that experience on your phone's home screen. It's free to add and opens the same current content as the website, giving readers quick access wherever they have an internet connection. If you have the older OCW app, be sure to add the new version separately.

Together with our weekly digital edition, monthly printed publication, and social media promotion, the website and app give businesses more ways to build a connected advertising plan. The right combination depends on what you're promoting and who you want to reach.

We're proud of what we've built, and we invite you to explore it. Read an edition. Browse the marketplace. Find an event. Meet a business. You might come for one thing and find several reasons to return.

Visit oklahomaschoiceweekly.com and add the new OCW app. Ready to put your business in the mix?

OCTOBER / BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

Every story matters.

For those in treatment. For those living beyond it.
For those living with metastatic breast cancer.
For the people we remember and the families beside them.

Awareness is a beginning. Action matters all year.

A pink ribbon can start a conversation. Let it lead to a screening appointment, a question about a change, or a practical offer of help. Breast cancer affects real people in our communities, and support should last beyond October.

01 / MAKE A SCREENING PLAN

Know when to go.

For women at average risk, the U.S. Preventive Services Task Force recommends a mammogram every two years from ages 40 through 74. Screening looks for cancer before symptoms appear. [1]

Your personal history, family history and other risk factors may call for a different plan. Ask your clinician when to begin, how often to screen and whether additional tests are appropriate. Discuss the benefits and possible downsides of screening. [1, 2]

Already noticed a change? Tell your clinician promptly. Do not wait for your next routine mammogram. [3]

02 / PAY ATTENTION TO CHANGES

Know your normal.

Contact a healthcare professional about a new or unusual breast change, including: [3]

- A lump in the breast or underarm; thickening or swelling.
- Skin dimpling, redness, irritation or flaking.
- A nipple that pulls inward, or discharge other than breast milk.
- A change in breast size or shape, or breast pain.

These changes can have causes other than cancer. Getting them checked is how you find out. Some breast cancers cause no symptoms. [3]

You do not have to do this alone.

Information. A ride. A meal. A listening ear. Support can take many forms.

03 / SHOW UP FOR SOMEONE

Make the offer specific.

Try “Can I bring dinner Tuesday?” or “Would a ride to your appointment help?” Listen without trying to fix every feeling. Follow their lead about visitors, updates and privacy. Keep checking in after the first rush of concern.

04 / TAKE THE NEXT STEP

Bring your questions.

Ask: When is my next mammogram due? Does my family history change my screening plan? What happens if a result needs follow-up? Write down your questions and make sure you know how and when you will receive results.
