KICK CANCER

PEP RALLY AND 5K RUN

IN REMEMBRANCE OF TONY WILENCHIK

RALLYING IN SUPPORT OF CANCER RESEARCH

The 18th Annual Kick Cancer Pep Rally & 5K Run, held on March 7, brought the Schertz community together once again for a powerful morning of support, remembrance, and hope. Despite the uncertain forecast, the weather cooperated just in time, allowing the event to go off without a hitch.

This year's race welcomed 467 participants who came out to run, walk, and stand united in the fight against cancer. A strong showing from SCUCISD once again highlighted the community's involvement, with the Patriot Roadrunners bringing the largest team with 103 members.

The Clemens High School Cheer team brought incredible spirit and enthusiasm to the Pep Rally. Participants also enjoyed a lively group warm-up by our very own recreation specialist, Amie Stevens, that helped get everyone energized and ready to hit the course.

The event, which began in 2009 to honor the courageous battle of former Schertz City Councilmember Tony Wilenchik against stage-4 Leiomyosarcoma cancer, has now generated over $227,500 in total donations toward the cause and has grown into a beloved annual tradition. It continues to serve as a beacon of hope and solidarity for those affected by cancer while demonstrating the impact a community can make together.

This year, the event was made possible thanks to the generous support of our Iron Sponsors, Schertz Cibolo Emergency Clinic and H-E-B, whose continued commitment plays a key role in the success of Kick Cancer each year. We are also incredibly grateful to our t-shirt sponsors — Rapid Plumbing, Schertz Bank & Trust, Blue Bonnet Palace, GVEC, Orange Theory, and Renewal by Andersen— whose contributions helped bring the event to life and support the fight against cancer.

Thanks to the support of participants, sponsors, and community members, more than $10,200 was raised this year for the UT Health San Antonio MD Anderson Cancer Center to help advance cancer research. We are truly thankful for the generosity and enthusiasm of our community, whose continued support allows this meaningful event and tradition to thrive each year.

Schertz Parks and Recreation Shines at TRAPS Annual Institute and Expo

THE SCHERTZ PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT RECENTLY MADE A STRONG SHOWING AT THE TEXAS RECREATION AND PARK SOCIETY (TRAPS) ANNUAL INSTITUTE AND EXPO IN CORPUS CHRISTI, HELD FEBRUARY 10–13.

The event brought together over 1,000 park and recreation professionals from 170 cities across Texas to share ideas, learn best practices, and celebrate excellence in the field.

During the conference, the Schertz parks maintenance crew showcased their skills in the highly competitive State Maintenance Rodeo. Competing in six of the seven events, the team brought home multiple awards:

Other rodeo events included Backhoe Operation (Ian King & Robert Dobratz), Irrigation Assembly (Ian King & Diego Martinez), and Plant and Weed Identification (Steven Lovelace).

The department also earned the following awards:

- Class IV Gold Medal Award for Department Excellence
- Class IV Arts and Humanities Award for Monster's Vale Collegium

STATE MAINTENANCE RODEO AWARDS

WINNERS	AWARDS
Truck and Trailer: Cole Moody & Steven Lovelace	3rd place
Zero Turn Mower: Ray Tyquiengco	3rd place
Nail Drive: Cole Moody	4th place

Schertz staff also contributed to the conference as presenters. Cassie Paddock and Sydney Paredes shared their expertise, and the city's Emergency Management Coordinator, Brandon High, presented a session on emergency preparedness for parks and recreation professionals.

Schertz Parks and Recreation staff volunteered more than 50 hours during the conference and provided event support in a variety of ways. Team members served as CEU monitors and room hosts, Sydney Paredes served as the Institute Volunteer Coordinator, Kat Scheel assisted on the Awards Committee helping to grade submissions, Jared Montney served as the Irrigation Assembly judge at the State Maintenance Rodeo, and Lauren was re-sworn in as Central Region Director while also serving as a Texas Mentor.

The Schertz Parks and Recreation Department's participation in TRAPS underscores their commitment to excellence, leadership, and professional development, reinforcing their dedication to providing high-quality services and programs for the Schertz community.

Schertz Recognizes April National Days, Weeks and Months

APRIL OFFERS MANY OPPORTUNITIES TO RECOGNIZE THE PEOPLE, PROFESSIONS, AND CAUSES THAT STRENGTHEN OUR COMMUNITY. THE CITY OF SCHERTZ IS PROUD TO HIGHLIGHT THESE OBSERVANCES AND ENCOURAGES RESIDENTS TO JOIN US IN SHOWING APPRECIATION AND RAISING AWARENESS THROUGHOUT THE MONTH. BELOW ARE THE APRIL 2026 RECOGNITIONS:

Child Abuse Prevention and Awareness Month

This observance focuses on strengthening families, promoting child safety, and preventing abuse and neglect. Go Blue Day will be observed on Friday, April 3. Residents are encouraged to wear blue to show support for children and families in our community.

National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week

APRIL 12 – 18

This week honors the dispatchers who serve as the first point of contact during emergencies. Their calm voices and quick actions play a critical role in public safety every day.

Month of the Military Child

This month recognizes the sacrifices and unique challenges military children experience while supporting their families and our nation. Purple Up for Military Kids Day will take place on Wednesday, April 15. Wearing purple is a meaningful way to recognize the strength and resilience of military children, especially in a community that proudly supports military families.

Animal Care and Control Appreciation Week

APRIL 12 – 18

Join us in recognizing our Animal Services team for their dedication to protecting pets and promoting responsible pet ownership in Schertz. The month also includes Adopt a Shelter Pet Day on April 30, highlighting the many animals available for adoption.

Volunteer Recognition Day

APRIL 20

We recognize the volunteers who generously give their time and talents to support City programs, events, and initiatives, including those who serve on City boards and commissions.

Administrative Professionals Week

APRIL 19 – 25

This week honors the administrative professionals across City departments who help keep operations running smoothly. Administrative Professionals Day is also celebrated on April 22.

National Library Week

APRIL 19 – 25

See more about National Library Week on pages 10 – 12.

National Crime Victims' Rights Week

APRIL 19 – 25

This week recognizes the accomplishments of the victims' rights movement and the progress made in supporting victims.

Sexual Assault Awareness Month

This month recognizes the resilience of survivors and encourages community support. Residents can participate in Denim Day on Wednesday, April 29.

Residents are encouraged to participate by wearing the designated colors, sharing messages of support, and thanking those who make Schertz a strong and caring community.

Celebrating Women in Public Service

In honor of Women's History Month, the 2nd Annual Women's Appreciation Luncheon was held on Wednesday, March 18 to celebrate and recognize the incredible women serving in public service across our region. Women from the City of Schertz, City of Cibolo, SCUCISD and the surrounding areas came together for an afternoon of connection, recognition and appreciation.

The event, made possible by premier sponsors Schertz Bank & Trust, Linebarger Attorneys at Law and Physicians Premier ER, along with other sponsors, provided an opportunity for attendees to enjoy lunch while engaging in meaningful conversations centered on leadership, service, and the impact women make in their communities each day.

The luncheon served as a reminder of the vital role women play in shaping strong, connected communities through their dedication and leadership. We are grateful for the many women who serve, lead, and inspire across our cities and schools, and we are proud to celebrate their contributions.

Honoring a Career of Service: Patrolman Bill Freeman Retires

The Schertz Police Department recently honored the retirement of Patrolman Bill Freeman during a ceremony held on February 26, celebrating nearly 20 years of dedicated service to the community. Known for his experience and commitment to mentoring others, Freeman leaves behind a lasting impact on the department.

Freeman joined the Schertz Police Department in April 2006 following a distinguished 20-year career in the United States Air Force, where he achieved the rank of Master Sergeant. During his time with Schertz, he served in numerous roles including Patrol, Field Training Officer, Negotiator, School-Based Law Enforcement Officer, K9 Handler, and Mental Health Officer. A Master Peace Officer, he was respected for his professionalism, leadership, and dedication to training the next generation of officers.

The City of Schertz and the Schertz Police Department extend their sincere appreciation to Patrolman Freeman for his years of service and wish him all the best in his well-earned retirement.

Find Your Joy at the Schertz Public Library

AS NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK RETURNS APRIL 19 TO 25, 2026, THE SCHERTZ PUBLIC LIBRARY IS INVITING THE COMMUNITY TO DO EXACTLY WHAT THIS YEAR'S THEME ENCOURAGES: FIND YOUR JOY.

By DEVAN CHRISTENSEN

For some, that joy is a quiet moment with a book. For others, it is the laughter of a toddler at storytime, the strategy of a chess match, the comfort of a quilting circle, or the confidence that comes from learning to navigate new technology. At the Schertz Public Library, joy shows up in countless ways every day, shaped by each person who walks through the doors or logs on from home.

Library Director Lizzi Bertoia says that is the beauty of this year's theme. "There really is something for everyone, and finding joy at the library can look different for everybody." On any given day, she sees patrons reading the newspaper, working on a puzzle, exploring in the children's area, building skills on the computers, or connecting with staff and neighbors. "That freedom to discover, to choose your own path, and to find meaning in your own way is what makes the library such a vibrant, essential part of the community."

For Senior Librarian Joshua Romero, who leads Adult Services, joy is deeply personal. "'Find Your Joy' means finding something that lights you up inside. Something that puts a smile on your face and a sense of excitement in your eyes," he said. That spark might come from a longtime quilting group that has grown into a circle of friendship and support, or from a newly launched chess program that brings players together across generations. Romero is proud to offer the library as a place where others can gather, learn, and connect over a shared interest.

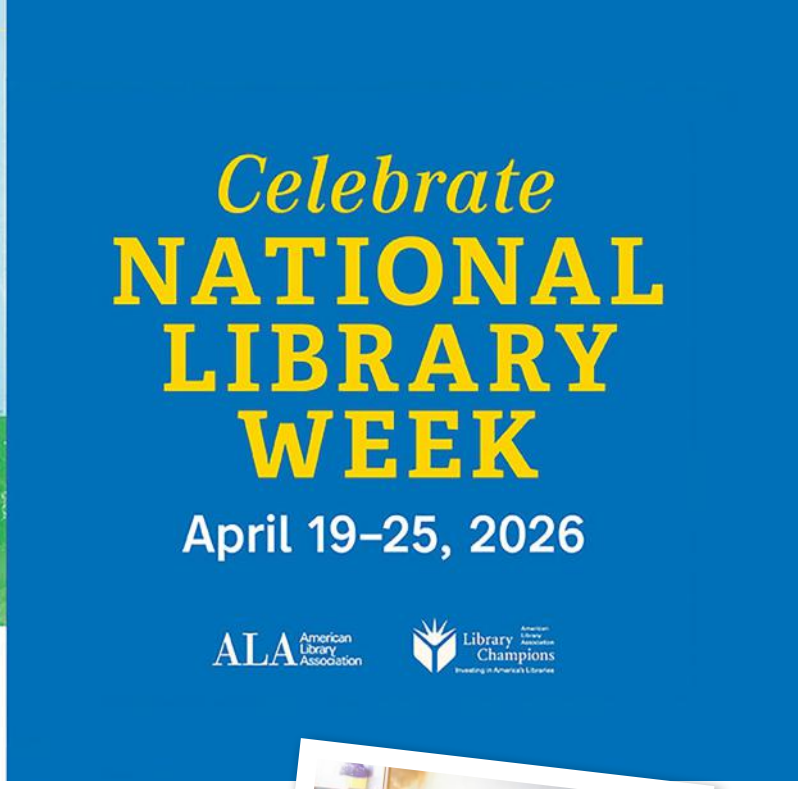

In Youth Services, Senior Librarian April Toman sees joy from the very beginning of life. "The 'Find Your Joy' message highlights what libraries truly are today; welcoming, vibrant spaces filled with creativity, discovery, and connection," she said, challenging the outdated stereotype of libraries as quiet, passive places. For her, joy is visible in babies bouncing during storytime, toddlers "cooking" in the play kitchen, children experimenting with science, and teens laughing together with their peers.

Toman is especially proud of the library's reading initiatives, including the Summer and Winter Reading Challenges, the year-long Extreme Book Nerd Challenge, and the 1000 Books Before Kindergarten program. While summer reading originally focused on preventing learning loss over summer break, today these programs are designed to build lifelong reading habits and create shared family experiences. She is also excited about the library's new designation as a Family Place Library through a grant from the Texas State Library and Archives Commission, which will strengthen early childhood programming and create interactive, play-based learning spaces for children ages 0 to 3.

Joy at the library is not limited to in-person experiences. Senior Librarian Steph Barbosa-Wynn, who leads Virtual Services, sees it in everyday moments. "No matter what you are interested in, the library has something to discover. Joy looks different on everyone," she said. Sometimes that joy happens with a library card and a smartphone—downloading an eAudiobook for a road trip, streaming a movie at home, or completing an online course. Other times, it's found flipping through pages in a cozy corner of the building.

Barbosa-Wynn is particularly excited about the library's growing collection of eResources, which support lifelong learning at every stage. From financial research tools and tutoring platforms to language learning programs and professional development courses, the digital library extends far beyond the building's walls. One of the newest additions, Fiero Code, teaches coding skills to learners of all ages and helps build digital literacy and problem-solving abilities that translate to the classroom and the workplace.

The impact of these services is often seen in small but powerful moments. Toman recalls a patron who arrived near closing time, worried because her home internet was down and she needed to complete something important. When she learned she could check out a mobile hotspot, "you could see the relief wash over her," Toman said. "Sometimes what we offer isn't just convenient, it's essential."

Barbosa-Wynn witnesses similar transformations during tech help sessions. Many patrons arrive feeling intimidated by technology and unsure of where to start. They leave with greater confidence and understanding. "Libraries matter because we provide patient, judgment-free support," she said. "We empower people with knowledge and confidence to improve their daily lives."

Bertoia sees those stories repeated across the library. "Every day, people turn to the public library for answers, direction, and encouragement," she said. "In every interaction, libraries help bridge gaps and open doors."

That commitment to access will soon expand even further with the addition of a new mobile outreach vehicle funded through a 2026 Texas State Library and Archives Commission (TSLAC) Special Projects Grant. The vehicle will bring books, programs, technology support, and resources directly into neighborhoods and community spaces, ensuring that residents who cannot easily visit the building can still experience everything the library has to offer.

Behind every service is a team that finds joy in the work itself. For Toman, it is the relationships she builds with children and families. For Romero, it is connecting with patrons and seeing a program bring people together. For Barbosa-Wynn, it is being part of those "aha" moments when someone realizes they can do something they once thought was out of reach. For Bertoia, it is sharing the possibilities the library holds and watching someone's face light up when they discover what has been waiting for them all along.

If it has been a while since your last visit, the message from the Schertz Public Library team is simple: you are always welcome. Whether you are looking for a book, a class, a quiet space, a new skill, or a sense of community, there is something here for you. This National Library Week, visit, connect, explore, and find your joy.

> "Libraries matter because we provide patient, judgment-free support. We empower people with knowledge and confidence to improve their daily lives."
> — STEPH BARBOSA-WYNN

HOW LIBRARY PATRONS Find THEIR Joy

To celebrate National Library Week, we asked folks to share what brings them joy at the Schertz Public Library.

"Checking out books so we don't have to buy them, playing computer games, finding homeschool resources, and gathering with our homeschool friends at the monthly Homeschool Huddle—plus this was the first library to accept our self-published children's book, Momma, Why Do We Homeschool?"

– Kamika Raby, Nehemiah (10), Malachi (8) and Elijah (4)

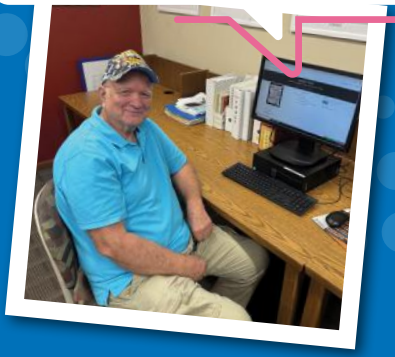

"We find joy in the camaraderie and shared interest of the poetry group that meets monthly at the library.

– Cathy Martson, Chris Billings, Cathy Wilkes

"Knowledgeable staff, well-laid out building design, the fact that there is a space dedicated to genealogy research, Texana history, and a genealogy group.

– Jim Clair

"Coming to Mahjong every Tuesday and spending quality time with my friends.

– Jann Steed

"I consider the Schertz Library a second home. I read all my newspapers, financial magazines, and books here every day.

– Marx Lim

"The camaraderie of all the people who attend the Sew Let it Bee Quilt Group—it is like a family. I also find a lot of joy seeing the happy kids coming out of storytime with their craft projects.

– Charlotte DesRoches

"Joy is the ultimate gift from interesting people you meet, places you go and things you see, hear and read. All of these can be found at the Schertz Library.

– Janice Waddy

Infrastructure Projects Moving Schertz Forward

INVESTING IN INFRASTRUCTURE HELPS ENSURE SCHERTZ REMAINS A SAFE, RELIABLE, AND GROWING COMMUNITY.

By DEVAN CHRISTENSEN

From maintaining neighborhood streets to upgrading utilities and building new public safety facilities, the City continues making improvements that serve residents today while preparing for the future.

Maintaining safe and reliable streets remains a key priority. Through the Street Preservation and Maintenance Program (SPAM), Schertz takes a proactive approach to maintaining roadways, addressing deterioration, and extending pavement life.

Between July 1 and December 31, 2025, the Streets Maintenance Division completed significant routine maintenance across the city. During that six-month period, crews repaired 473 potholes, addressed 41 reported street issues, placed more than 823 tons of asphalt, and completed nearly one mile of crack sealing in the Willow Grove Estates neighborhood. Preventative maintenance like crack sealing helps keep water out of pavement and slow deterioration.

Several larger street rehabilitation projects are also underway.

The 2024 SPAM Rehabilitation Project in the Dove Meadows and Silvertree neighborhoods includes concrete replacement, pavement repairs, and roadway improvements to restore aging streets and extend their lifespan. Final paving and restoration work, including topsoil and sod replacement in construction areas, is expected to be completed in early spring as weather allows.

The Maple Drive SPAM Rehabilitation Project is also underway. The west end of Maple Drive will receive surface street work, the middle section will undergo full roadway reconstruction, and the eastern portion and Randolph Avenue intersection will receive targeted concrete and pavement repairs.

In Buffalo Valley South, crews are replacing aging water and sewer lines before reconstructing the roadway. Most underground utility work is complete, and crews are finishing roadway preparation and curb replacement before paving begins.

Looking ahead, design work is nearly complete for the 2025 SPAM Rehabilitation Project, which includes improvements in the Kramer Farms neighborhood. Once finalized, the project will move into the bidding process before construction begins.

Planning is also underway for the 2026 SPAM Program, which will focus on resurfacing streets in Woodland Oaks, Horseshoe Oaks, and Fairway Ridge. Additional resurfacing work is planned for Savannah Drive, along with new crosswalk improvements on Savannah Drive and within the Homestead subdivision to improve pedestrian safety.

Additional coordinated infrastructure work is planned in Northcliffe Country Club Estates and Schertz Forest, where street rehabilitation will be paired with water and sewer line replacement.

Beyond roadway improvements, construction activity has begun on Fire Station No. 4, located at 17355 Wiederstein Road. Site clearing has been completed, and crews are actively moving dirt and preparing the site for construction.

Additional drainage and water and wastewater infrastructure projects are currently in design or expected to begin construction soon.

Residents may also notice several transportation projects underway in and around Schertz led by the Texas Department of Transportation to improve mobility and safety on major state roadways.

For updates on City projects, visit Schertz.com/CIP. Information on state transportation projects can be found at TxDOT.gov, or by following the Texas Department of Transportation (San Antonio) on Facebook.

Schertz Hometown Harvest

Experience the best of local flavor and community spirit at the Schertz Hometown Harvest Farmers Market on Saturday, April 4 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Pickrell Park. Featuring fresh, locally grown produce, handmade goods, and delicious food from area vendors, the market is your one-stop shop for all things fresh and unique. Whether you're shopping for your weekly groceries or looking for a fun outing, Hometown Harvest is the perfect place to connect, shop, and explore.

Ed-Zoo-Cation & Nature Discovery Series

Mark your calendars for Saturday, April 11 and join us at Crescent Bend Nature Park for a morning packed with outdoor adventure and wild discoveries. This month, Nature Discovery and Ed-ZOO-Cation will take place on the same day, creating one exciting experience perfect for curious kids, nature lovers, and zoo animal fans alike.

Families will explore the park alongside Texas Master Naturalist volunteers, who will talk about What's Blooming, while zoo representatives dive into the fascinating world of Texas horned lizards—learning about their connection to carpenter ants, their unique history, and their important role in our ecosystem. Plus, don't miss special live animal appearances that bring the zoo right to the trail. Join us at 9:30 a.m. at the first parking lot near the restroom building and trailhead for a fun, free, and educational morning in the great outdoors.

Growing Green in Schertz

Supporting Local Nurseries This Earth Month

AS SCHERTZ CONTINUES TO GROW, SO DOES THE COMMUNITY'S COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY, BEAUTIFICATION, AND SUPPORTING LOCALLY ROOTED BUSINESSES.

This Earth Month is the perfect time to recognize the role local nurseries and agricultural businesses play in shaping the city's landscape, economy, and quality of life. From residential neighborhoods to commercial developments and public spaces, Schertz's green industry supports thoughtful growth while strengthening the local business ecosystem.

Among these valued contributors are Mortellaro's Nursery, Casa Verde Farms, and Paul's Desert, three locally connected businesses that help supply the plants, materials, and expertise that enhance development, landscaping, and sustainable living across the region.

Featured Businesses

Mortellaro's Nursery

16946 IH 35 North, Schertz, TX

Mortellaro's Nursery has been a trusted part of the regional green supply chain for decades, serving homeowners, contractors, and developers with trees, shrubs, and landscape materials suited for Central Texas conditions. Established in 1956 by Joe and Lucille Mortellaro as a small backyard nursery, the business evolved from Joe's original produce delivery operation into a large-scale horticultural enterprise that now supports projects throughout Texas.

Over the years, the company has grown through strong family leadership and long-term employee dedication, eventually expanding operations to include large cultivation acreage and a major Schertz location along Interstate 35. Today, their Schertz facility combines sales, shipping, and corporate operations under one roof, surrounded by display gardens that showcase a wide range of plant material. By providing locally grown and regionally acclimated plants, Mortellaro's supports construction, housing growth, and community beautification, key components of a thriving and attractive city.

Casa Verde Farms

7791 FM 482, Schertz, TX

Casa Verde Farms reflects the agricultural foundation that continues to be an important part of Schertz's diverse economy. Founded in 1970 by Rusty Crowley, the farm began with a vision of growing tomatoes and terrariums before expanding into a full-scale operation producing seasonal color plants, annuals, perennials, succulents, shrubs, and specialty selections for landscapers and plant professionals.

A true family-oriented business, Casa Verde has built its reputation on long-term relationships, experienced management, and a team of dedicated employees, some of whom have been with the company for over 30 years. Now located in Schertz since 2019, the farm continues to propagate many of its plants on-site using specially formulated soil and regionally focused growing practices that result in hardier, more climate-adapted products.

Paul's Desert

200 Schertz Parkway, Schertz, TX

Paul's Desert brings a unique specialty focus to Schertz's green economy by offering cacti, succulents, and drought-tolerant plants that align with water-conscious landscaping practices in Central Texas. What began as a personal hobby for founder Paul, while he was running his heating and air conditioning business, quickly grew into a full-time passion after he joined the San Antonio Cactus and Xerophyte Society in 1990.

Despite setbacks, including the devastating Flood of 1998 that destroyed much of the nursery's inventory, the business was rebuilt through community support and determination. Alongside his wife Lisa, Paul expanded the nursery, traveling across the Southwest to source rare plants, pottery, and unique items while building lasting relationships with customers and plant enthusiasts. By promoting drought-tolerant and climate-appropriate landscaping options, Paul's Desert supports sustainable development practices that conserve water, reduce maintenance needs, and enhance long-term environmental resilience for homes and businesses alike.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ROOTED IN SUSTAINABILITY

The Schertz Economic Development Corporation recognizes that a resilient local economy is built on diverse industries, including agriculture and the green sector. Businesses like Mortellaro's Nursery, Casa Verde Farms, and Paul's Desert demonstrate how locally owned enterprises can support development, preserve community character, and promote environmentally responsible growth.

As Schertz continues to expand, supporting local vendors ensures that growth remains balanced, attractive, and community-focused. This Earth Month, choosing to shop locally is more than a seasonal gesture; it is an investment in a greener, more sustainable, and economically vibrant future for Schertz.

National Work Zone Awareness Week

April 20–24 marks National Work Zone Awareness Week, a nationwide campaign to encourage safe driving through roadway work zones. This year's theme, "Safe Actions Save Lives," reminds drivers that their choices behind the wheel directly impact the safety of others. With ongoing projects across Schertz, including road resurfacing, sidewalk repairs, and other infrastructure improvements, protecting our Public Works crews and contractors is more important than ever.

As you travel through work zones, please keep these key safety tips in mind:

- Slow Down: Speeding is a leading cause of accidents in work zones. Follow posted speed limits to protect workers and yourself.
- Stay Alert: Keep your eyes on the road and avoid distractions like mobile phones. Work zones often require sudden stops or lane changes.
- Give Space: Allow plenty of room between your vehicle and construction workers or equipment.

Behind every cone and barricade are dedicated team members working to keep our city moving safely. Your patience and caution help ensure everyone gets home safely.

Behind the Badge: Schertz Youth Police Academy 2026

GIVE YOUR CHILD A SUMMER EXPERIENCE THEY WILL NEVER FORGET WITH THE SCHERTZ POLICE DEPARTMENT'S YOUTH POLICE ACADEMY.

Give your child a summer experience they will never forget with the Schertz Police Department's Youth Police Academy.

For years, this highly anticipated program has been a favorite in our community, and spots fill up fast every single year. If your child is curious, motivated, and ready for something exciting and different this summer, this is it.

Open to youth ages 11 to 17, the Youth Police Academy gives students a behind-the-scenes look at law enforcement through hands-on activities, live demonstrations, and real-life scenarios. Participants will explore patrol procedures, crime scene investigations, internet safety, and leadership skills while working directly with Schertz police officers.

Students will also meet officers from specialized units and learn how important decisions are made in high-pressure situations. It is not just about police work. The academy builds confidence, strengthens communication skills, encourages teamwork, and reinforces personal responsibility. These are tools your child can use in school, sports, and everyday life.

This program has been a proud tradition for the Schertz PD for many years, and the demand is always high. Registration opens April 2, and families are strongly encouraged to apply early.

Applications can be picked up at the police department during regular business hours or downloaded at schertz.com/jracademy. The application deadline for both classes is May 22.

Class Dates:

- June 22 – 26 (ages 11 – 13)
- July 6 – 10 (ages 14 – 17)

For more information, call (210) 619-1264 or email akraft@schertz.com.

Schertz Historical PRESERVATION COMMITTEE

"Planning for Prosperity: The Early Decisions That Defined Schertz"

During the 1950s and 1960s, Schertz's leaders recognized that the rapid growth of San Antonio, combined with the presence of Randolph Air Force Base, created tremendous potential for prosperity. At the same time, they understood that if Schertz was going to benefit from those favorable circumstances, it would require thoughtful planning and decisive action.

That first critical step came in October 1958, when Schertz officially incorporated. Incorporation created the framework necessary for intentional growth and long-term planning. Following incorporation, the City's first mayor, Herbert P. Thulemeyer, and the initial city council were elected. Together, they began operating under a city charter drafted by a citizens commission led by Attorney Joe Stulb, who reflected that without incorporation at that pivotal moment, Schertz would not have been able to expand its city limits in the years that followed.

City leaders at the time were keenly aware of the risks of remaining stagnant. They understood that without growth, Schertz could eventually be encircled—by San Antonio to the south, east, and west, and by New Braunfels to the north. Such a scenario would have severely limited the city's economic prospects, particularly its employment opportunities and tax base. Incorporation provided local control over governing affairs and likely protected Schertz from being overshadowed by outside pressures, especially from San Antonio.

As an incorporated home rule city, Schertz gained the authority to annex adjoining territory extending one mile beyond its existing city limits and to exercise control over the extra-territorial jurisdiction (ETJ) an additional mile beyond that. Ultimately, Schertz secured seven miles of territory along Interstate Highway 35, the primary north-south corridor connecting San Antonio with destinations to the north. Annexation efforts in the early 1970s doubled the city's size within just two years and increased its population by 20 percent. Within four to six years, the city boundary extended north along IH-35 to the city limits of New Braunfels. Later, in 1986, expansion efforts pushed the southern boundary to Interstate Highway 10.

However, acquiring land alone does not guarantee success. For Schertz to truly grow and prosper, it needed both businesses and residents—and the right balance between the two. At the time of incorporation in 1958, the population of Schertz was estimated to be just over 5,000 residents.
