StainlessLite Plus Indirect Unvented Cylinder

The indirect range has a high efficiency corrugated tube coil which is connected to a conventional boiler to heat the cylinder of water. The coil's corrugated design gives much faster recovery times than can be achieved with plain tube coils.

All models have a temperature and pressure relief valve which is factory set at 6 bar and 95 degrees Celsius.

StainlessLite Plus Heat Pump Range

The Gledhill StainlessLite Plus Heat Pump is an unvented stainless steel hot water cylinder built for air- or ground-source systems. Available in 180L to 400L capacities (including a 475mm Slimline model for retrofits), it features a multi-pass corrugated coil to maximise heat transfer at typical heat pump temperatures.

To prevent legionella, it incorporates a 3kW immersion heater to boost stored water above 60°C, minimising direct grid electricity use. It comes supplied with standard controls, expansion devices, and a drain valve.

EnviroFoam Vented Copper Indirect Combination Cylinder - BICOM05

1251IND4618

The Gledhill BICOM05 EnviroFoam Indirect 1200 × 450 Combi is a high-performance hot water cylinder designed for use with a boiler or indirect heat source. Featuring high-density EnviroFoam insulation, it minimizes standing heat loss and delivers excellent energy efficiency.

Measuring 1200mm high by 450mm in diameter, its compact design fits space-restricted installations while maintaining reliable output. An efficient indirect coil ensures fast heat-up times and consistent hot water delivery. Factory insulated for long-term durability, it suits both domestic and light commercial applications.
