FOR MODA

Hello, November!

Well, hello there, November! You're back so soon?!

It feels like we blinked, and suddenly the pumpkins are getting cozy, the leaves are putting on their annual spectacular color show, and we're reaching for our favorite sweaters. Wasn't it just summer a minute ago?

November has a way of sneaking in quietly, but we're welcoming it with open arms, warm colors, and, of course, plenty of quilting time!

A Month for Cozy Quilting

It's the perfect month to pull out those flannels, rich autumn prints, soft neutrals, and beautiful seasonal fabrics and start stitching something cozy.

And if you have a quilt project that's been patiently waiting in the 'someday' pile, November might just be the month to give it some attention. After all, there's no better feeling than settling in with a project you love while the wind rustles the leaves outside.

For me, I have been working on class samples, Quilt Show samples, and Christmas presents! Believe it or not, I have 3 homemade presents done!

I am looking forward to seeing what you are working on too!
Make sure to bring in your show and tell and share with the rest of us!

Cheryl

Brian's Favorite Things

Usually behind the camera. This month, he's taking center stage.

If you've watched our Saturday Lives, you already know Brian. He's usually the guy behind the camera, and he's also the one so many of you trust to keep your sewing machines running smoothly.

This month, Brian is stepping into the spotlight to share five of the everyday tools he reaches for while servicing sewing machines.

These are his tried-and-true favorites, and he's telling you exactly why he loves them.

BARB'S SNICKERDOODLES
+ A FREE APRON PATTERN

My sister Barbara is an amazing baker – if she is coming to any event, you can expect deliciousness. One of my favorites is her Snickerdoodles. So we just had to share the recipe!

Twice Baked Apron

Fabric requirements:
2 fabrics, ¾ yard of each
¼ yard for optional ruffle.

Download the Pattern ›

Barb's Snickerdoodles

3 cups flour
2 teaspoons cream of tartar
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup softened unsalted butter
2 large eggs
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

1. Whisk flour, cream of tartar, baking soda, salt and cinnamon together.
2. In a separate bowl, beat softened butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Gradually add the dry ingredients and mix until combined.
3. Roll dough into balls and chill for at least an hour. Overnight is fine, too.
4. Preheat oven to 350°.
5. In a separate bowl, mix 1/2 cup sugar and cinnamon (1–2 teaspoons, depending on how much you want). Roll dough balls in the sugar mixture, then place on parchment lined sheets at least 2 inches apart. They will spread when baking.
6. Bake for 8–10 minutes. They will be a little soft in the center, which is ok. Cool on cookie sheets for about 2 minutes, then transfer to a cooling rack.
