IMPORTANT RECIPE NOTES

When measuring in grams, some ingredients will be = ~ (about) & not exact

Oil Type	Smoke Point	Flavor	Best For	Substitute For Vegetable Oil?
Vegetable Oil	~400°F (204°C)	Neutral	Baking, frying, sautéing	Yes
Olive Oil	~375°F (190°C)	Light to strong	Sautéing, salad dressings, Mediterranean dishes	Mild olive oil only
Avocado Oil	~520°F (271°C)	Very mild, buttery	High-heat cooking, roasting, grilling	Yes

In Baking:

- Use avocado or light olive oil as a 1:1 substitute for vegetable oil in most baked goods (like muffins or quick breads).
- Avoid strong extra virgin olive oil in cakes or cookies unless the flavor complements the dish (e.g., citrus or rosemary cakes).

In Cooking:

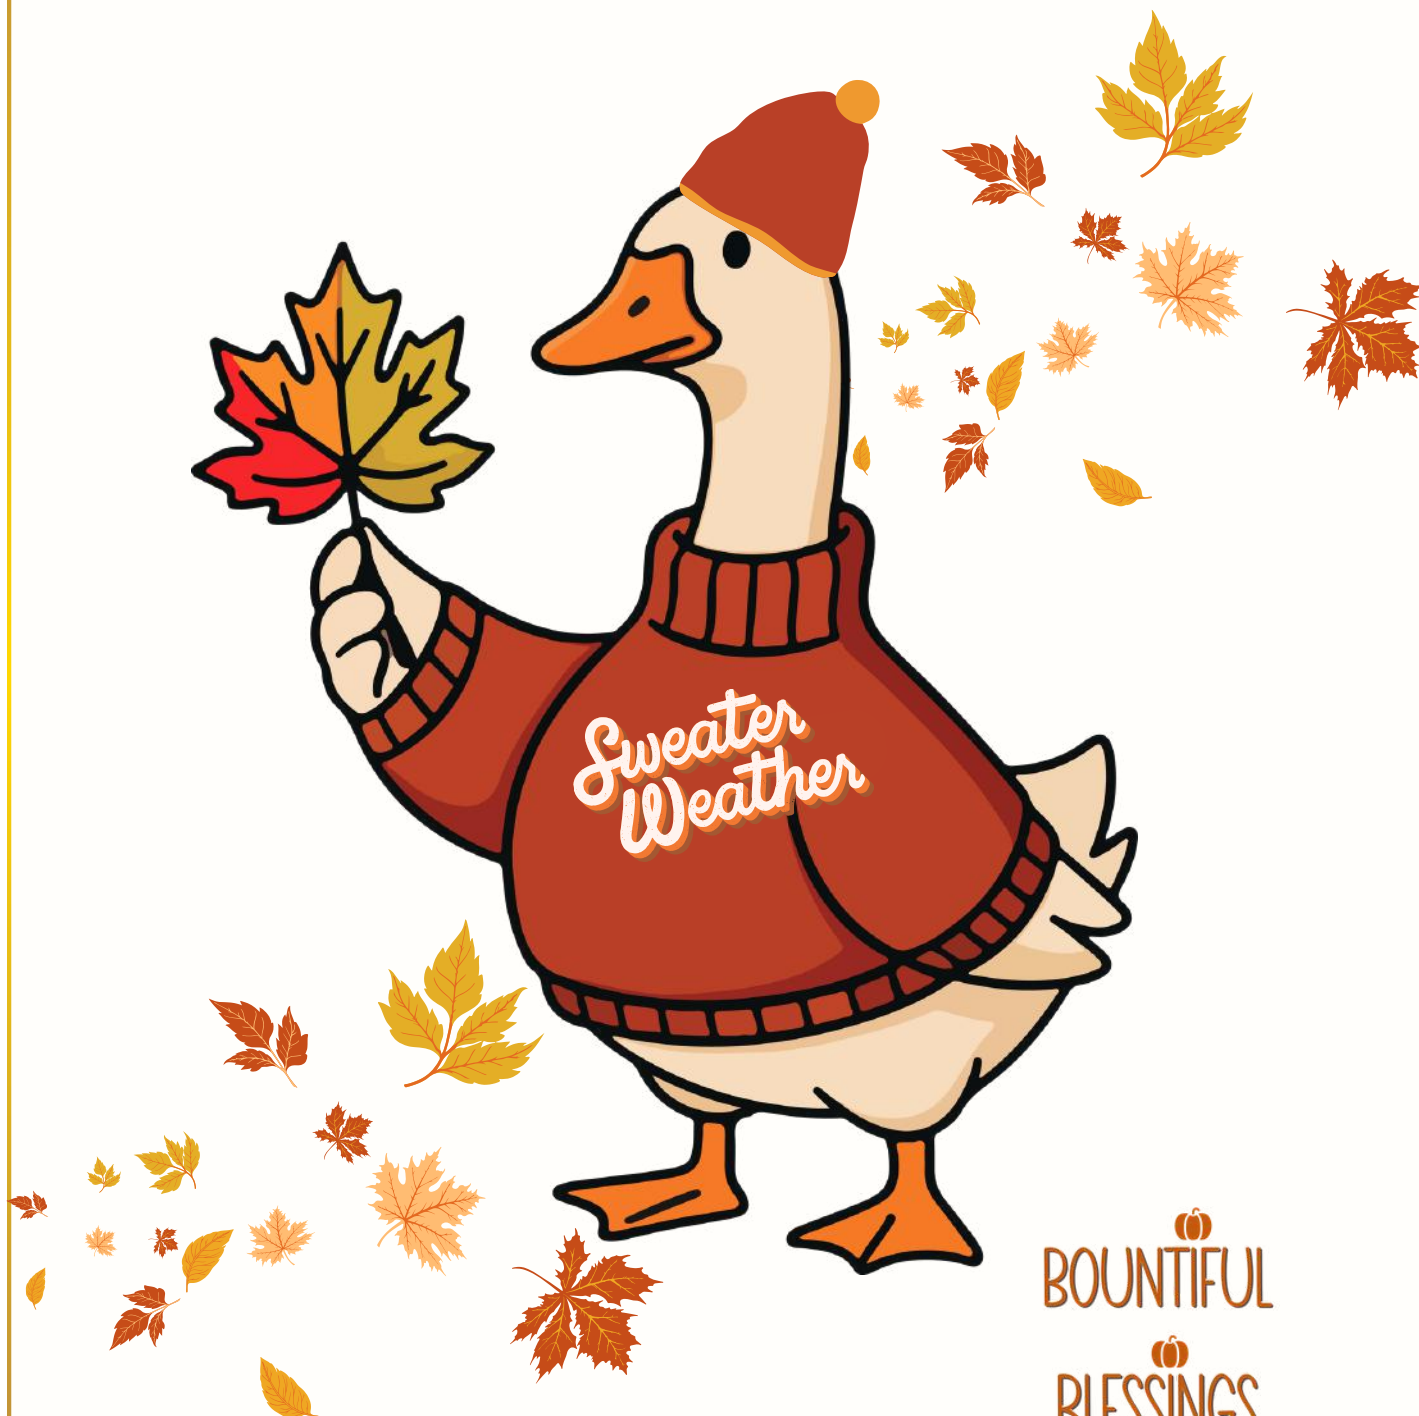

- Avocado oil is great for high-heat frying or roasting.
- Olive oil is better for medium-heat sautéing or cold dishes (dressings, dips).

Tips:

- If you want no flavor, stick with avocado or vegetable oil.
- For healthier fats, avocado & olive oil are better choices than most generic vegetable oils.
- In holiday recipes (like pies, casseroles), choose based on heat level & desired flavor.

RECIPE MEASUREMENT CONVERSION CHART

Teaspoon / Tablespoon to Grams

When measuring in grams, some ingredients will be $\approx$ (about) & not exact

Herbs vary by moisture & density, but here are average conversions:

Rule of thumb:

If substituting dried herbs for fresh, use 1/3 of the amount (e.g., 1 Tbsp fresh = 1 tsp dried).

Herbs (Fresh vs Dried) - by Tablespoon

- Fresh rosemary = 2.5 g (chopped)
- Dried rosemary = 1 g
- Fresh parsley = 3 g
- Dried parsley = 1 g
- Fresh sage = 1.5 g
- Dried sage = 0.8 g
- Fresh thyme = 2.5 g
- Dried thyme = 1 g
- Fresh basil = 2 g
- Dried basil = 1 g
- Fresh bay leaves = 2 g
- Dried bay leaves = 1 g

Small Quantity Ingredients (by 1 teaspoon)

- Baking powder = 4 g per tsp
- Baking soda = 5 g per tsp
- Cornstarch = 3 g per tsp
- Salt = 6 g per tsp
- Cinnamon (ground) = 2.6 g per tsp
- Nutmeg (ground) = 2.2 g per tsp
- Vanilla extract = 4.2 g per tsp

Small Quantity Ingredients (by 1 tablespoon)

- Coconut oil (melted) & Vegetable oil = 13.6 g per Tbsp
- Avocado & Olive oil = 13.5 g per Tbsp
- Butter = 14 g per Tbsp
- Maple syrup = 20 g per Tbsp
- Sugar = 12.5 g
- Flour = 7.5 g
- Cocoa powder = 7.5 g

IMPORTANT RECIPE NOTES

HERBS & SPICES – During the holidays, there's often a run on herbs & spices, so your store may run out! As soon as you're thinking about the holidays, check your pantry. Buy herbs, spices, & don't forget the vanilla extract too. Consider fresh herbs in the small containers – they last pretty well & add such a bright, fresh burst of color & flavor.

HOLIDAY PANTRY SPICES & HERBS

SPICES

- Pumpkin Pie Spice, Apple Pie Spice, Allspice, Allspice Berries, Ground Ginger, Ground Cloves, Whole Cloves, Ground Cinnamon, Cinnamon Sticks, Ground Nutmeg, Whole Nutmeg

Despite the name, nutmeg is not a nut! I prefer to zest whole nutmeg seeds & store them in the freezer. Only zest what you need for each recipe.

HERBS (Fresh or Dried)

- Rosemary, Sage, Thyme, Basil, Bay Leaves, Parsley
