

ASK EXPERIENCED PRACTITIONERS

Association of Arbitrators (Southern Africa) NPC

Webinar, 1 October 2026

presented by

RENEWABLE ENERGY DISPUTES AND, IN PARTICULAR, THE SPANISH RENEWABLE INVESTMENT TREATY CASES

Join the Association of Arbitrators \(Southern Africa\) NPC for this webinar, presented by MCMS Limited, and hear from one of the UK's leading dispute resolvers as he examines investor-state treaty arbitration, with a particular focus on the Spanish renewable energy cases, as part of the Association's ongoing mission to provide regular upskilling opportunities for everyone interested in Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR).

ABOUT THIS WEBINAR:

Matt Molloy explores the growing area of investment treaty disputes in the renewables and clean energy sector, with a particular focus on investor-state arbitration and the Spanish renewable energy cases. He considers how changes to tariffs, subsidies and government policy can trigger claims by international investors, the key treaty protections available, and the impact of significant developments in EU law on energy-related arbitration. The session also looks ahead to the evolving disputes landscape as governments seek to balance the energy transition and net-zero commitments with their obligations to international investors.

ABOUT OUR PRESENTER:

Matt Molloy Founder and Co-Director of MCMS Limited:

Matt is a highly experienced dispute resolver with a background in construction and engineering. He is the founder and co-director of MCMS Limited, established in 1996, and has since been appointed in more than 1000 disputes as adjudicator, arbitrator, mediator, expert determiner, and as a member of conflict and dispute avoidance panels and boards. Before becoming a full-time dispute resolver, Matt began his career in quantity surveying and contract management before undertaking his legal training and being called to the Bar of England and Wales in 2001. His appointments have involved disputes worth up to £110 million both in the UK and internationally, across sectors such as energy and process engineering, transport infrastructure, hospitals, education, housing, and hotels and leisure. He has extensive experience with all major standard forms of contract, including FIDIC and NEC, regularly resolving disputes involving highly complex technical and legal issues. Alongside his professional practice, Matt contributes to the development of dispute resolution through teaching and examining. He is currently also a part-time PhD student at Queen Mary University of London, undertaking research into international law and arbitration and, in 2024, he co-authored his first book, Adjudicating Construction and Engineering Disputes.
