IN THE BEGINNING

The Gospel of John opens with the same phrase as the book of Genesis... in the beginning. A mystery is about to be unveiled in the telling of John's story. Another beginning. "Behold the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world," John cries when he sees Jesus walking towards the river to be baptized. Then the Spirit descends on Jesus like a dove and stays there.

Is it the dawn of a new creation, or is God revealing that He has never forsaken His creation or humanity in the first place? In the beginning, in BOTH beginnings, Jesus was there. (John 1, Hebrews 1, Colossians 1).

We love before-after stories, don't we? The world was a mess, so God called for a do-over. Only, that is not what happened. The world is still a mess. The miracle of it is that God spoke into the mess. He joined the mess, fully human and fully divine, to say, "I know what it's like to be you; and I'm still me." Still, there is dynamic movement in the story, a fulfillment, a changing of seasons. Isaiah said the former things would pass away, and God would do a new thing. And so He did.

John's prologue, verses 1-14 of chapter one, is a brilliant moment in the Bible where we are shown great and hidden things that we have not known, as promised in Jeremiah. (Jeremiah 33:3)

I guess God shows us what we need to know when we need to know it. I love the tease of it all, how the Spirit keeps us seeking and waiting in breathless suspense. Like the guy in Mark's gospel who said, "I believe; help my unbelief," many of us come to trust because we were brave enough to doubt...and be honest about it.

I think everyone who believes in Jesus is a walking miracle. To believe takes courage, conviction, and surrender to something, to SOMEONE beyond comprehension; yet He is as close as a whisper. When life gets hard, when the world's mess crashes in on your peace, when fear chases your thoughts in relentless pursuit, that's when you learn that your faith goes much deeper than nostalgia. I hope you were taught to love the Lord in your "formative years," but ultimately your faith must become your own (John 4). How beautiful then, when we come together as a miracle called church, to participate in the new beginning God is still bringing about through us – one holy heart at a time.

May the Spirit descend on you like a dove today...and stay there.

2 Corinthians Sustained by Grace

As many of you know, we publish a daily Bible reading calendar each month in the newsletter. These readings invite us to spend time with God and strengthen our daily walk with Christ. The October 21st reading especially resonated with me: "We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed" (2 Corinthians 4:8—9).

I kept reading. Verse 16 spoke even more deeply to my heart: "So we do not lose heart. Even though our outer nature is wasting away, our inner nature is being renewed day by day." What a comforting promise. We may grow weary in body, carry burdens no one sees, or struggle to understand what is happening around us. Yet God is still at work within us, renewing the strength that circumstances cannot supply.

Paul does not pretend that faith removes suffering. He names the affliction, the confusion, the rejection, and the blows. Perhaps that is why these words feel so personal. We know what it means to feel pressed on every side. We have prayed through tears and wondered how we would take the next step. But our suffering does not mean God has abandoned us. His presence reaches into the very places where our own strength runs out.

The glory belongs to God. Earlier in this chapter, Paul describes the light of God's glory shining in the face of Jesus Christ and reminds us that this treasure is carried in fragile clay jars (2 Corinthians 4:6—7). We are those fragile vessels. The power that sustains us comes from our faithful Father. Even through our cracks, His love can shine, offering someone else a glimpse of His mercy and hope.

Our hope rests in Jesus, God's risen Son. The cross reveals the depth of His love; the empty tomb declares His victory over death. The God who raised Jesus will also raise those who belong to Him (2 Corinthians 4:14). Because Christ lives, our present troubles cannot have the final word. We can trust Him with the things we cannot yet understand.

And we have received the gift of the Holy Spirit. God's Spirit dwells within us, comforts us, guides us toward truth, and helps us pray when words will not come (Romans 8:26). Day by day, the Spirit draws us closer to Christ and renews our hearts. Sometimes that renewal comes quietly: enough peace for this moment, enough courage for one conversation, enough faith to begin again.

Our salvation is God's gracious gift through Jesus Christ: "For by grace you have been saved through faith, and this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God" (Ephesians 2:8). We do not have to earn His love by appearing strong. We come to Him in faith, bringing our weakness and trusting the Savior who gave Himself for us.

So let us keep opening our Bibles, opening our hearts, and walking with Jesus. Whatever today holds, may we give glory to the Father, rejoice in His risen Son, and welcome the renewing work of the Holy Spirit. We may be afflicted, but we are held. We may be weary, but we have hope. In Christ, we do not lose heart.

The 66th book of the Bible

Jesus Christ's ultimate victory over evil

Chapter Outline

Revelation 1:1–3:22: Called to Faithfulness

Jesus appears to John and sends messages to seven churches, offering encouragement, correction, and promises. Believers are called to repent, remain faithful, and listen to the Spirit..

Revelation 4:1–8:5: God's Throne and the Worthy Lamb

Heaven worships God, and Jesus, the slain and risen Lamb, opens the seven seals. Amid suffering and judgment, God hears His people's prayers and promises them salvation.

Revelation 8:6–14:20: Warnings and Spiritual Conflict

The trumpets announce judgments, while visions of the dragon and beasts reveal opposition to God. Believers are called to endure, reject deception, and remain faithful to Jesus.

Revelation 15:1–20:15: Judgment and Christ's Victory

The bowls reveal God's judgment, Babylon falls, and Christ triumphs over evil. Satan is defeated, the dead face judgment, and God's justice prevails.

Revelation 21:1–22:21: All Things Made New

God establishes a new heaven and earth and dwells with His people, ending death, mourning, and pain. The New Jerusalem reveals eternal life in God's presence, and Jesus promises to return.

"He will wipe every tear from their eyes. Death will be no more; mourning and crying and pain will be no more, for the first things have passed away." Revelation 21:4

SYMBOLISM & IMAGERY

— THE LAMB — REVELATION 5:6–14 —
Jesus Christ, our sacrifice and risen Savior.

— THE DRAGON — REVELATION 12:3–17 —
Satan, deception, and opposition to God.

— THE NEW JERUSALEM — REVELATION 21:1–22:5 —
God dwelling with His people forever.

The Lamb — Jesus Christ

The Lamb standing as though slain symbolizes Jesus' sacrifice and resurrection. His victory brings redemption and reveals God's power through self-giving love.

The Dragon — Satan and Deception

The great red dragon represents Satan, who deceives the world and opposes God's people. Its defeat reminds believers that evil cannot overcome God's ultimate purpose.

The New Jerusalem — God Dwelling with His People

The holy city, river of life, and tree of life portray restored creation and eternal fellowship with God. Death, sorrow, and pain give way to healing, light, and everlasting life.

Did You Know?

FACEBOOK ~ PAYPAL GIVING FUND

A simple way to support Music City West on your birthday is to ask friends and family to make a donation to Music City West instead of giving you birthday gifts.

Many nonprofits provide a donation page where contributions can be made directly in honor of your birthday, ensuring the funds go straight to Music City West.

This turns YOUR celebration into an opportunity to make a positive impact while supporting our Church.
