Permenant Lifting Magnet

PERMANENT LIFTING MAGNETS

Pro Bearing permanent lifting magnets are designed to ensure maximum safety and efficiency when handling ferromagnetic loads.

Manufactured using high-performance magnetic materials and a robust steel housing, they provide strong and consistent holding force without requiring any electrical power supply.

The mechanical activation system allows for easy, fast, and safe operation, reducing handling time and improving productivity.

Each model is engineered according to safe working load (SWL) requirements and tested for heavy-duty industrial applications such as machine shops, steel fabrication, warehouses, and production facilities.

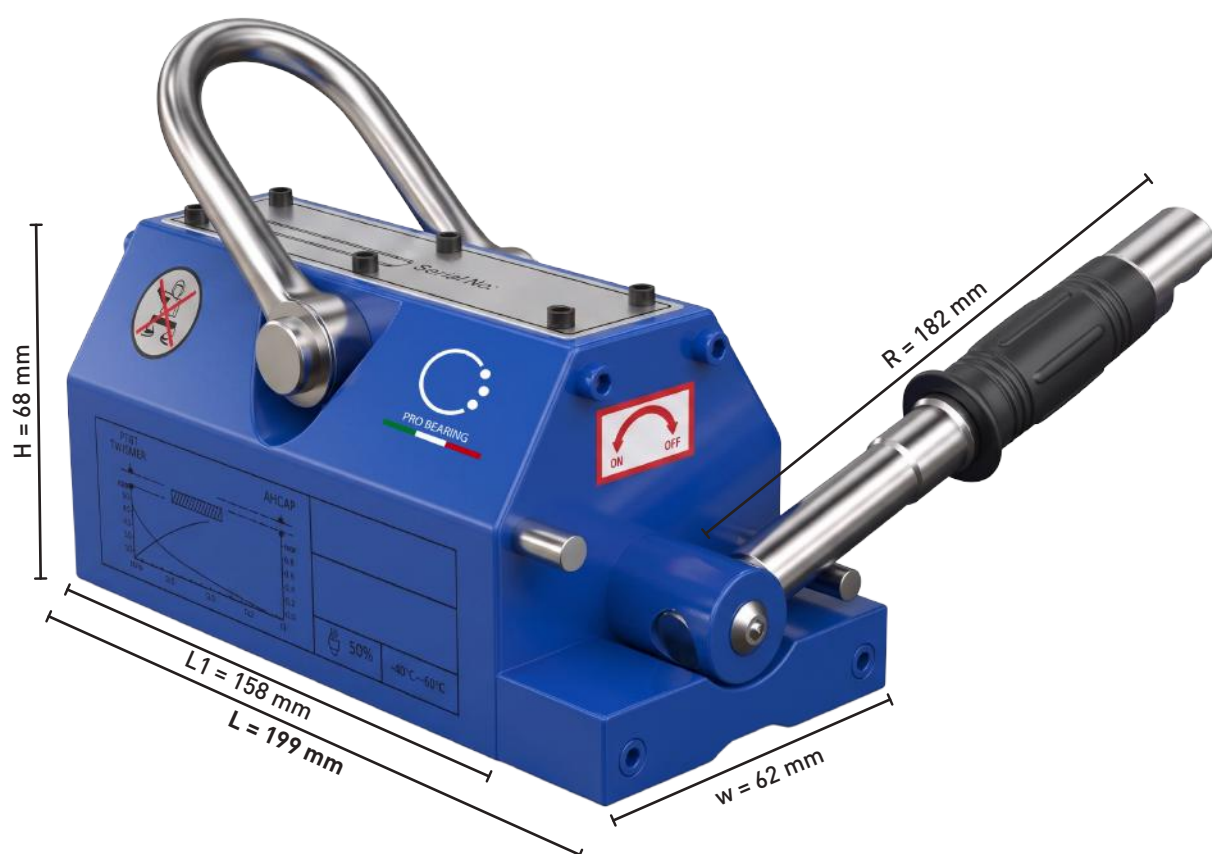

Main features:

- No electrical power required
- High magnetic force and operational reliability
- Compact and durable construction
- Safe on/off activation mechanism
- Designed in compliance with industrial safety standards
