NORTH NORFOLK STUDIOS 2026

How to use this guide

This guide contains details of all artists and artist groups taking part. Each artist entry is listed according to which of the 14 North Norfolk areas they are in, which are marked on the map on pages 4-5.

This year we have over 170 artists taking part who each have a unique ID number. With this unique number, you can find out more about them and see a lot more of their work on our website www.northnorfolkstudios.co.uk Scan the QR code bottom right and it will take you straight to our website.

From Saturday 23 May to Sunday 7 June all studios are open from 10am-5pm unless otherwise stated.

Simply select which artist or artists you want to visit, check when they're open and make your visit. There's no need to book in advance unless you are a large group or would like to check the studio's accessibility.

@northnorfolkstudios
North Norfolk Studios

Accessibility
Studios with wheelchair and easy access are marked with the recognised wheelchair symbol. Further details of access can be found on our website.

Please remember that as most studios are private and not usually open to the public, it is unlikely you will have access to toilet facilities or wheelchair-accessible toilets. For any particular needs, we suggest phoning ahead to the studio you wish to visit.

North Norfolk Studio areas
We've divided North Norfolk into areas numbered 1-14.

Each area has a more detailed map on its introduction page showing where each artist is located. This is followed by all the artists showing in that particular area, in numerical and alphabetical order.

what3words
If studios are particularly difficult to find, artists have included a what3words reference in their directions which can pinpoint a studio to within a 3 metre square. These references are shown as ///lunged.sulk.enchanted.

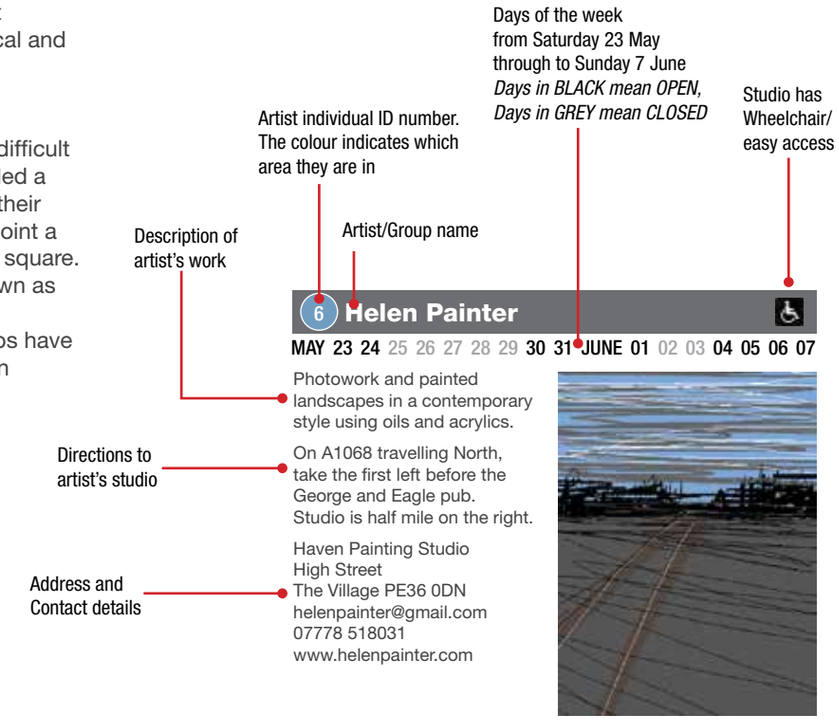

You'll also find all studios have what3words references on our website.

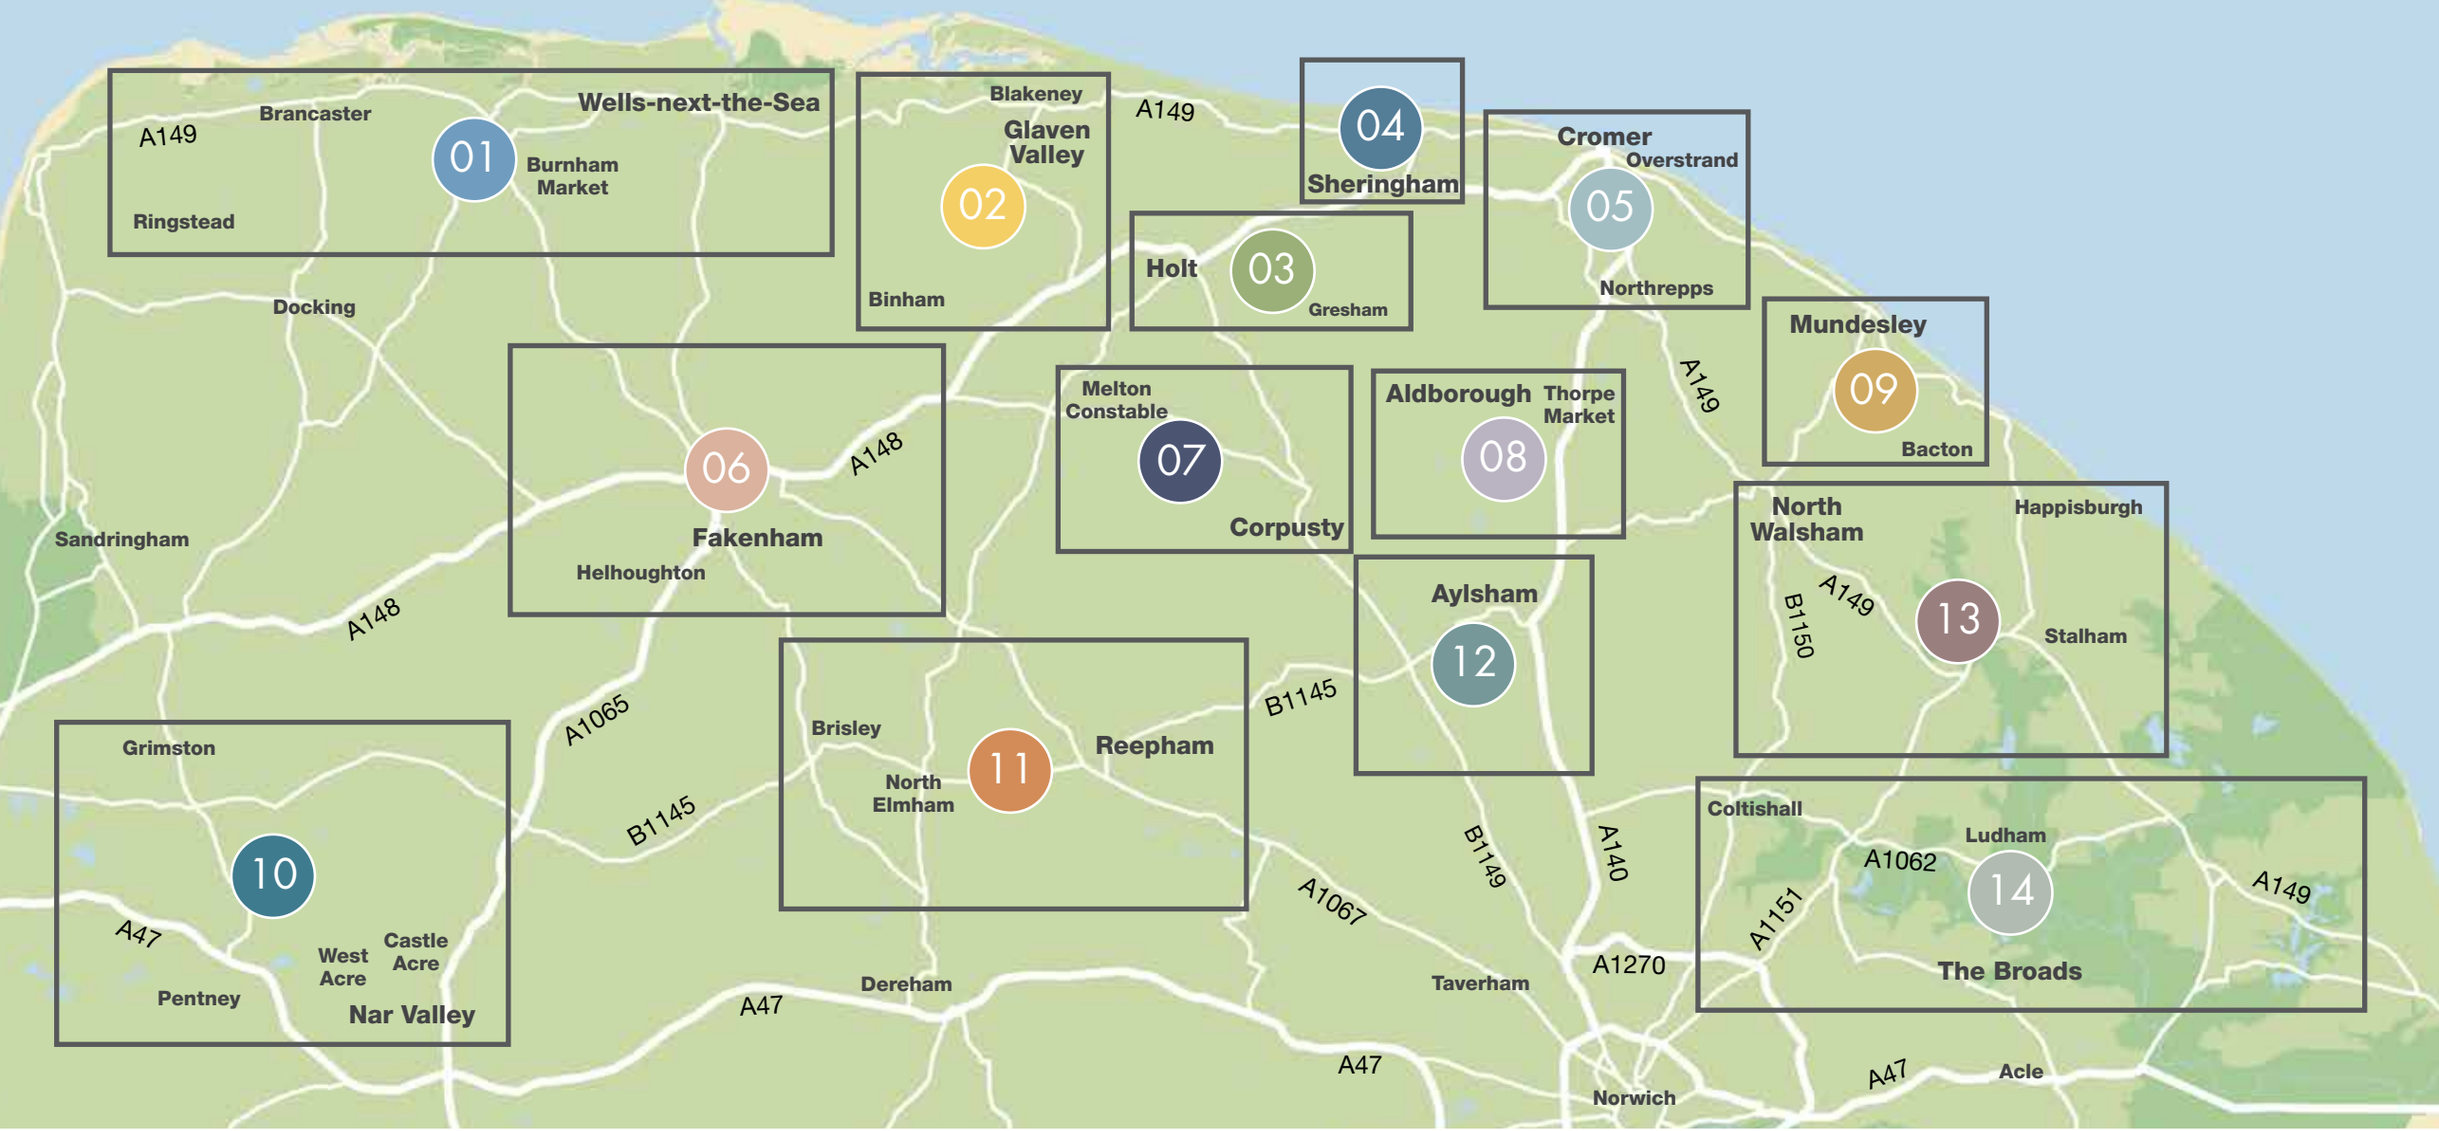

Art Trails
Many artists group together to form Art Trails. Trail maps are usually available at participating studios.

Check before you visit
Studio opening times are 10am to 5pm on the days that they are open but there are always unforeseen circumstances.

For the most up-to-date or for more detailed information, we strongly advise to check our website before setting out on your visit or alternatively, call the artist.

www.northnorfolkstudios.co.uk
You'll find much more information and see much more work from each artist on our website where there are detailed individual maps guiding you to each artist.

Welcome to the beautiful west North Norfolk coast. Stretching from peaceful Ringstead through to bustling Wells-next-the-Sea, this stunning stretch of coastline is a brilliant backdrop for 11 open studios. You'll find yourself inspired by the art, the rolling salt marshes and vast vistas.

There are 4 artists showing a mix of skills in the village hall next to Ringstead's Gin Trap Inn. And while you are in the village, while not visit The Garage Studio Art Gallery? As you travel east there's a studio stop at scenic Brancaster followed by Burnham Market, an affluent village where an Architect's practice has opened its doors.

Wells-next-the-Sea, a vibrant town with a picturesque harbour, has 5 open studios dotted around. Artists here show a mix of disciplines including ceramics, sculpture, painting, contemporary textile work and metalwork. And there's plenty of cafés to stop off for coffee.

In close by Wighton, visit the fabulous Alfred Cohen Musem opened in 2023 and do come back for the contemporary North Norfolk Exhibition Project (NNEP) from July 2, on for a month and established since 2000.

The Glaven Valley is a joy to explore. Rolling fields, meandering rivers and pretty villages like Stiffkey, Cley-next-the-Sea, Blakeney and Wiveton offer endless scenic nooks for a stroll or a photoshoot. There are 11 open studios to visit, offering a varied selection of arts.

If you pop into Glandford Barns to visit the Allen Hall Gallery, you’ll find 3 other artists’ studios open, along with shops and cafés. This is a stretch of coast and countryside shaped by wide skies, flint churches, creeks and marshes.

Alongside browsing art, there are some lovely walks in the area. Why not cross the marshes at Cley or Blakeney, walk along the River Glaven or try the Blakeney Freshes, a 5.6km trail specifically for viewing birds like marsh harrier or geese? With many pubs and cafés dotted throughout serving up hearty food, local ales and great coffee, this is a perfect area to explore.

Holt is a perfectly sized Georgian market town with some lovely independent shops, including bookshops and galleries, so it's a great base for a wander before, during or after your studio visits. Pop into a cosy café for a flat white and homemade cake, or treat yourself to lunch at one of the town's many friendly pubs.

There are 4 studios in the town and another 4 in the surrounding area with a broad range of contemporary work including mixed media, painting, photography, as well as decorative and functional ceramic items.

The surrounding North Norfolk countryside is as inspiring as the art itself. Whether you're a practising artist yourself, a local or just visiting on holiday, these open studios are a brilliant way to connect with the area, meet makers face to face and soak up some serious artistic good vibes.

The 15 studios around Cromer and Overstrand are just the ticket for a colourful long weekend or day out by the water's edge, offering a broad range of painting practices along with makers involved with clay, copper, silver and enamel. While you are here, why not take a stroll along the stunning cliff-top paths that link Cromer and Overstrand? The whole area is dog friendly and the views across the sparkling North Sea are magical.

The area offers a lively cultural heart, blending traditional seaside character with a flourishing contemporary arts scene. Galleries include The Garden House with 3 artists showing in North Norfolk Studios and The Point on the seafront to the east. Cromer Artspace on the Prom to the west has a rolling programme of contemporary exhibitions throughout the year. And if you need lunch, there's Fino, Cromer's award winning, short menu restaurant and wine bar. Yum.

THE
CONTEMPORARY

Independent Art Gallery, Cromer, Norfolk

We aim to celebrate and showcase the best of British contemporary painting through curated exhibitions.
The Point Contemporary is located a stone's throw from the beach and named after those ever-shifting, liminal places and points where land meets sky and sea meets shore.
It also represents our aesthetic in terms of Art, where the boundaries of representation and abstraction meet through highly individualistic and painterly expressions.

Fakenham is a bustling North Norfolk market town set along the River Wensum with a vibrant Thursday market, independent shops and plenty of character to enjoy alongside our open studios. There are a total of 21 studios in the area showing a wide range of traditional and contemporary arts, with 5 artists showing in the primarily medieval Helhoughton All Saint's Church, 3 in Tatterford and 6 in the small and quiet village of Stibbard.

You'll find inspiration everywhere: charming village lanes and peaceful footpaths that make the surrounding countryside a joy to explore and creating a rich setting for artists and makers to share their work. Pensthorpe Natural Park offers nature trails and a lovely café, with the added bonus of 2 artists showing here. Enjoy!

Open studios around Corpusty offer a brilliant excuse to explore a patch of countryside that's rich in inspiration and charm. Take a stroll through peaceful lanes and leafy footpaths, soak up views over the fields. Corpusty Mill, set beside the twinkling River Bure that winds through the area, is a particularly picturesque spot, while nearby woodland and riverside walks offer moments of calm. Find Corpusty's village green, a pleasant and tranquil spot to pause before visiting studios - there are 3 in the village. You'll also find the Dukes Head pub opposite the green which has operated on this site since 1794.

Just a short drive away you'll find 5 more studios - a total of 8 in this area - displaying a wide variety of work. There are 2 studios in Briston which has The Three Horseshoes and The Explorer pubs, plus shops and a post office. Also in the area is Edgefield where you'll find The Pigs, known for its traditional British pub food.

This slice of North Norfolk has something to delight every visitor.

Welcome to the Aldborough area, a lovely backdrop for North Norfolk Studios. It is the perfect place to explore the art of 8 local artists and makers showing a wide range of contemporary skills including mixed media, felting, woodwork, cold cast bronzes, painting and printing.

Wickmere, a short drive, has 4 artists showing in one space. It is a quiet, rural village known for its tranquil atmosphere, picturesque countryside, historic charm and narrow winding lanes. It also has a notable Saxon-founded church with a classic Norfolk round tower, which is closely linked to the Wolterton Estate.

If you head east and are still in the mood for seeing more art after visiting the 2 studios in Thorpe Market and 2 artists in Erpingham, The Gunton Arms, a highly acclaimed art filled gastro pub in historic parkland with roaming deer, is nearby on the A149. A welcome stop for refreshment, here you'll find works by Tracy Emin, Damien Hirst, Lucian Freud, Paula Rego, Frank Auerbach and many more.

If you're heading out to the Mundesley and Trunch area for this year's open studios, you're in for a treat. The perfect excuse to explore this beautiful, quieter stretch of coastline and countryside are the 7 studios here - think salty sea breezes, sandy beaches, fish and chips and hearty full english breakfast.

Showcasing a wide range of disciplines, including painting, ceramics, print making, sculpture and jewellery, North Norfolk Studios is as much about connection as it is about creativity. Visitors are encouraged to talk with artists, learn about their processes and gain a deeper understanding of the work on display. Whether you are a collector, a casual browser, an aspiring artist yourself or simply curious, come and be inspired.

The Nar Valley showcases 14 artists working across a wide range of contemporary and traditional disciplines. Set along the Nar Valley the trail winds its way through the wide vistas of Blackborough End in the west, to Pentney and along the chalk stream eastward to East Walton, West Acre and onto the charming historic village of Castle Acre. From Castle Acre, it's a short drive to see the artists in Grimston.

If you enjoy walking, the Nar Valley offers many opportunities: The Nar Valley Way is a 33 mile long walking route meandering along the River Nar from King's Lynn to Gressenhall. For the less adventurous, The Queen's Platinum Jubilee or West Acre Way route takes you on paths through the West Acre rewilding or circular routes around Castle Acre and the Priory.

A perfect backdrop for a visit, think charming market town of Reepham with 18th century houses and the famous three churches in one churchyard. A trail will take you through alleyways and to secret locations. Continue via quiet country lanes to other studios via pretty villages while the River Wensum winds gracefully through, providing a haven for wildlife. If you like walking there is the 12-mile Wensum Way which runs from Gressenhall to Lenwade or try Marriot's Way (a former railway line).

What makes open studios special is the celebratory atmosphere - informal, friendly, with artists keen to share their work. And if something catches your eye, there are original pieces, prints and cards and other handmade items available to buy.

There are 7 studios open in Aylsham and nearby villages, showing traditional and contemporary disciplines from painting, mixed media, upcycling materials, pottery and more - plenty to experience.

Aylsham makes the perfect base for exploring - a thriving creative community set within one of Norfolk's most historic and picturesque market towns with independent shops, good cafés and that relaxed North Norfolk feel - all the ingredients for a really enjoyable day out. The National Trust Blickling Hall is just nearby with parkland offering the perfect place to take a walk with or without your canine friend.

Open studios are wonderfully informal. There's no pressure - just browse, ask questions, and soak up the atmosphere. North Norfolk Studios offers a warm welcome, creative energy and plenty of inspiration.

146 BRANCHING OUT

OPEN
MAY • Saturday 23 and Wednesday 27
JUNE • Tuesday 02 and Saturday 06

With trees at the heart of this collaboration, we four, Jane West, Sue St John, Fran Bradshaw and Sue Andrews, have been inspired to explore branches of our imagination in textiles, ceramics and basket making.

Exhibited around a tree sculpture, our individual pieces create a celebration of trees, using natural materials grown and gathered. In Branching Out we are having fun bringing our creative ideas together for the first time.

Our work is as much about the process of finding out as it is about the finished product.

The Broads, one of the UK's most celebrated wetland landscapes, provide a stunning backdrop for visiting open studios, with big skies, winding waterways, peaceful villages and plenty of scenic spots to pause along the way. Many visitors turn it into a relaxed day out, mixing studio visits with a riverside walk, a café stop or a bit of exploring off the beaten track. You could investigate the nature reserves in the area such as How Hill or Bure Marshes, where there is a lovely boardwalk through the marshes and along Cockshoot Broad.

There are 9 studios open, with artists on hand to chat about their work, share inspiration and sometimes even demonstrate their working techniques. Practices include weaving, ceramics, needlework, mixed media, jewellery and painting, so there is much to peruse in this area.

Whether you're an art enthusiast, a curious browser or simply looking for something a little different to do, North Norfolk Studios offers a lovely excuse to discover this unique part of Norfolk.
