Natural light isn't always enough for healthy plant growth – especially during colder months, when the days are shorter, and sunlight is scarce. That's when our specialized lighting can help your indoor plants thrive!

Science agrees

Research confirms the effectiveness and benefits of using specialized lighting for plants. Kobi Light products, specifically designed for houseplants, create the ideal conditions for healthy and consistent growth.

What is PPF?

The performance of plant lights is not measured in lumens but in PPF (Photosynthetic Photon Flux), which indicates how much plant-usable light the lamp emits. The more $\mu\text{mol/s}$, the better for your plants!
